

THE PEOPLE'S PILOT.

VOL. III. ONLY $1.00 PER YEAR.

RENSSELAER, IND., FRIDAY, AUGUST 11, 1893.

No. 8

MONON TIME TABLE.

SOUTH BOUND.

No. 31—Mail and Express, daily.....10:40 A. M.
No. 3—Mail and Express, daily.....11:35 A. M.
No. 33—Milk Accom., daily.....6:21 P. M.
No. 3—Night Express, daily.....10:37 P. M.
No. 43—Local Freight.....2:50 P. M.

NORTH BOUND.

No. 36—Mail.....5:40 A. M.
No. 49—Milk Accom., daily.....7:57 A. M.
No. 8—Mail.....7:55 P. M.
No. 30—Mail.....3:27 P. M.
No. 46—Local Freight.....9:25 A. M.

The old Shanghai is being torn down.

Corn for sale at Dexter & Cox's.

For a good lemonade or milk shake go to Vick's.

Andy Yeoman's eldest daughter is down with the diptheria.

Baby carriages at Williams'. All styles.

Buy your threshing coal at Dexter & Cox's.

Regular services at the Tabernacle next Sunday.

Best grade of threshing coal at Dexter and Cox's.

Real bargains at Vick's in silverware, etc., while it lasts.

There are now gold mines in every country in Europe.

Dexter & Cox can sell you corn by the wagon load.

Price those laces at Mrs. Lecklider's. Cheap.

Katie Collins has returned from a visit to Indianapolis.

Subscriptions taken for any paper or magazine at this office.

You ought to see Vick's show case. It's full of nice things.

A daughter at Charley Robinson's Sunday evening.

Subscriptions for the Nonconformist taken at this office.

Bert Brenner is visiting friends at Mt. Ayr this week.

For a good smoke try the Crown Jewel cigar.

Silverware and jewelry at Vick's at prices that will surprise you.

The coming production of "The Lightning Express" is the talk of the town.

Vick still handles the celebrated Ruger's bread, seven loaves for a quarter.

President Cleveland's message to congress may be found on one of our inside pages.

Try a sack of our White Lilly flour.

W. R. Nowels & Son.

Closing out sale of summer stock of millinery at Mrs. Lecklider's from now on.

Lee Pyle, of Monticello, visited relatives in Rensselaer a short time Sunday.

FOR SALE CHEAP.—Two new first class Cottage organs. Enquire at Austin & Co.'s.

Elsewhere will be found the notice of the gravel road report and election.

Clarke keeps a complete line of watches and jewelry that are up to date.

Rev. Rhoades and family have returned from their Shelby and Johnson county visit.

Rev. I. I. Gorby and family, of Pekin, Ill., are visiting friends in Rensselaer.

Go to M. & A. Meyer for your stylish millinery and dress-making.

Orders for job work or advertising in Wheatfield may be left at Fendig's drug store.

The contractors are now at work drilling for gas again at Delphi near the fair ground.

Goods going at cost all through July and August at Mrs. Lecklider's. 50 percent off.

H. S. Hollingsworth, of Des Moines, Iowa, is the guest of George and E. L. Hollingsworth.

Don't forget that Clarke will sell you a watch, clock or piece of jewelry as cheap as any one.

Rev. P. E. Davis has been appointed postmaster at Wheatfield, vice W. H. Smiley, removed.

Jay W. Williams is still located at the old stand with the largest and finest stock of furniture to be found in this vicinity.

John Fisher, of Remington, was brought to Rensselaer Monday to serve thirteen days in the work house for drunkenness.

The 12-year old son of John O'Malley, of Remington, was kicked to death by a horse Tuesday of last week.

Governor Matthews has issued a proclamation designating Tuesday, August 22, as Indiana day at the World's Fair.

If those owing the PILOT will call and settle they will confer a great favor. Money is needed badly these hard times.

See Dr. Horton for first class dental work. Fillings inserted that will not leak and soon come out. Office over LaRue's.

You will make no mistake if you see Clark's stock and get his prices before buying anything in the jewelry line.

J. B. Tindle and family returned to their home at Richmond, Ind., yesterday, after a short visit with N. S. Bates and family.

The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Presbyterian church will give a lawn social Wednesday evening, August 16th, at Geo. Murray's. All invited.

To-day and to-morrow are the last days on which you can get the PILOT eight weeks on trial for ten cents. You should improve the opportunity.

Hettie Luckey, Murtie Tharp, Della Yeoman, Gertrude Green, Nellie Traugh and Lula Hawn, of Remington, are among the attendants at the normal.

The poultry market is very low this week. Dealers are paying 8 1/2 cents for spring chickens, 6 1/2 for hens, 6c for ducks and 10 cents per dozen for eggs.

The report of the viewers on the proposed gravel road was made to the commissioners this week, and an election was ordered for September 9th.

Aaron Holman died of consumption at his home in Hanging Grove township last Sunday. The remains were buried in the Osborne grave yard Monday.

Advertised letters: Sam T. Arthur, Jacob Andrews, Miss Mary Delaney, Mr. Samuel H. Hopkins, Mrs. Mary Linder, Mrs. Jane Pratt, Mr. E. C. Watson.

Will Schanlaub had the fingers of his right hand badly mangled in the job press of the Republican last week. It may be necessary to amputate some of the fingers.

Pensioners are now compelled to pay $1.00 on the hundred dollars exchange on their checks. This is a result of the fight between New York and Chicago on the money question.

A Chesterton man is in deep trouble. He bet $50 that he could find six widows who would marry him and now that he has succeeded he can not make them break the engagements.

Christie Vick and wife have returned from Chicago. The house in which Mr. Vick was employed is shut down for a month and he will remain here for that length of time.

If you wish to secure some fine standard bred trotting stock at a bargain you should attend the auction sale at the Remington fair grounds Thursday and Friday, August 24th and 25th.

An old people's meeting will be held at the Brushwood church in Union township, on Sunday, August 27th. Everyone is invited to come and bring full baskets. Meeting will last all day.

The Misses Comer have leased the Nowels House and have already taken possession. They have been successful as boarding house keepers and we bespeak for them success in their new undertaking.

We are positive that all goods at Leopold's must go at a great deal less than cost, as Mr. Leopold wishes to make an important change in his business. Call on him and secure, not small, but great big bargains.

Frank and John Osborne, Mrs. E. L. Clark, Mrs. J. F. Warren, Mrs. Chas. Spriggs and Mrs. A. W. Cole attended the funeral of their sister, Mrs. Hattie Onstott, at Rochester Tuesday. Other relatives present from Rensselaer were J. F. Warren, A. W. Cole, Mrs. Gertie Robinson and Carrie Clark.

One of our composers, in setting the recorder's statistical report last week, made the amount of the mortgages recorded as $1,487,132.83, when it should have been one million dollars less than that amount.

All persons that have purchased tickets for photos and wish me to make them for them, will please call before Aug. 20, as I will do no work after that date. Respectfully,

J. C. WILLIAMS.

Many of our trial subscriptions expire with this and succeeding issues. All such are respectfully invited to renew. The PILOT will be furnished as before at the low price of $1.00 per year, or less than two cents per week.

The poultry journals are favoring the idea of selling eggs by the pound instead of by the dozen, inasmuch as some eggs are fifty per cent larger than others. In justice to the hens that lay the big eggs, this certainly should be done.

The Monon is having a 6-inch well drilled near the depot. The water tank will be removed from the river to this well. The well at the river is dry and no water can be had at that point. Work on the new well is being pushed night and day.

J. E. Meyers, of the firm of Meyers Bros., of Kniman, was in town Saturday. He reports the farmers all busy in that section putting up wild hay. The hay is being baled and shipped out rapidly. Hands are scarce and wages good.

A Starke county farm fence is decorated with a sign which reads: "If any man or woman's cow or oxen gets into these oats his or her tail will be cut off as the case may be. I am a christian and pay my taxes but d—n a man who lets his critters run loose."

The G. A. R. Post is preparing to attend the national encampment at Indianapolis in a body. Between 60 and 70 members will attend. The post is growing and at the present time consists of 86 members in good standing. Five new members were mustered in last week.

The Monon is making arrangements to boom Cedar Lake as a resting place for its patrons attending the World's Fair. Visitors to the Fair can leave Chicago in the evening, get to the lake and be back to the Fair grounds by eight o'clock the next morning. Special rates will be given.

Wedding anniversaries are as follows: First, cotton; second paper; third, leather; fifth, wooden; seventh, woolen; tenth, tin; twelfth, silk and fine linen; fifteenth, crystal; twentieth, china; twenty-fifth, silver; thirtieth, pearl; fortieth, ruby; fiftieth, golden; seventy-fifth, diamond wedding.

One of the carpenters at the college fell the distance of eight feet Wednesday, and striking on his elbow the bone was driven out of the socket at the shoulder blade. It was a very painful injury and one that he will probably feel the effects of all his life. Dr. Loughridge is treating him at the Makeever House.

A crank was frightening ladies last Saturday by calling at houses and insisting on them buying a tract on "prevention of cruelty to animals," or what he claimed to be such. He was given the choice by the officers of working on the stone pile or getting out of town in a certain length of time. He chose the latter.

Dr. Man-o-wa, the herb specialist, treats all curable chronic diseases with wonderful success. He does not charge one man $5 per month for treatment and his neighbor $75 for the same kind of treatment, but has a regular price of from $3 to $8 per month, according to the case. This month he will treat all who may come at one half the regular price. See him at the Makeever House on Wednesday, Aug. 23.

The rain making experiment at Kentland last week did not prove to be true, as the following clipping from the Enterprise shows: "Last week a telegram was sent from this place to the Secretary of Agriculture asking that the government rain maker be sent to this county to try his experiments. Major Dyenforth replied that he had gone out of the business, but agreed to ship the apparatus here and let local talent fool with the elements as much as desired. The offer was declined, and the drouth continues."

The valuation of taxable property in the town of Rensselaer and Marion township that will be liable for assessment for the construction of gravel road is as follows: Assessment for 1893 in Marion township, $637,830; Town of Rensselaer, $923,325. Railroad assessment for 1892: Marion township, $177,315; Town of Rensselaer, $14,420. Total valuation, $1,752,590.

An event of importance will occur in Rensselaer to-night in the production of Ed. Anderson's great sensational play, "The Lightning Express." Among the vivid realisms are the illuminated city of Brooklyn, three railroad trains, two working waterfalls and a moon that gradually sinks behind the mountains. Several new and novel specialties are introduced into the performance.

Mr. O. P. Beam, of Reynolds, who disappeared so mysteriously a few weeks ago, has been found at Omaha, Neb., by the police of that city and his location reported to his family. He is said to be sound in mind and body but shows no disposition to return home at present. He started out to prospect for the purchase of a mill, and likely he has not found one to suit him yet.

The PILOT has quite frequently been asked lately what position it intends to take on the gravel road question. To these inquirers and others we will say that it intends taking no side in the discussion of the proposed road. Its columns, however, will be open to both sides and communications either for or against the road, if not too long, will be admitted to its columns.

Dr. Man-o-wa, the herb specialist, treats all curable chronic diseases with wonderful success. He does not charge one man $5 per month for treatment and his neighbor $75 for the same kind of treatment, but has a regular price of from $3 to $8 per month, according to the case. This month he will treat all who may come at one half the regular price. See him at the Makeever House on Wednesday, Aug. 23.

The rain making experiment at Kentland last week did not prove to be true, as the following clipping from the Enterprise shows: "Last week a telegram was sent from this place to the Secretary of Agriculture asking that the government rain maker be sent to this county to try his experiments. Major Dyenforth replied that he had gone out of the business, but agreed to ship the apparatus here and let local talent fool with the elements as much as desired. The offer was declined, and the drouth continues."

The questions as to who is the biggest boy in town was decided permanently by the arrival of No. 1 of engineer Hemphill's prospective flock, Saturday morning. The event for a time almost paralyzed Hemphill's organs of speech, and for once in his life he was in a position where he could not utter a satisfactory sound. He has since regained his normal faculties, and says that baby's a model for future generations.—Two Harbors (Minn.) Iron News.

An auction sale of standard bred trotting stock will take place on the Remington fair grounds Thursday and Friday, August 24th and 25th. Every animal will be sold without reserve or by-bid. The sale will be conducted by Col. W. F. Downing, of Lexington, Ky. A credit of 15 months will be given to purchasers. There will be some great bargains at this sale, and we advise all who are interested to attend. A catalogue of the stock will be mailed to those interested by addressing D. H. Patton or W. T. Tribby, proprietors, Remington, Ind.

The rain making experiment at Kentland last week did not prove to be true, as the following clipping from the Enterprise shows: "Last week a telegram was sent from this place to the Secretary of Agriculture asking that the government rain maker be sent to this county to try his experiments. Major Dyenforth replied that he had gone out of the business, but agreed to ship the apparatus here and let local talent fool with the elements as much as desired. The offer was declined, and the drouth continues."

The rain making experiment at Kentland last week did not prove to be true, as the following clipping from the Enterprise shows: "Last week a telegram was sent from this place to the Secretary of Agriculture asking that the government rain maker be sent to this county to try his experiments. Major Dyenforth replied that he had gone out of the business, but agreed to ship the apparatus here and let local talent fool with the elements as much as desired. The offer was declined, and the drouth continues."

The rain making experiment at Kentland last week did not prove to be true, as the following clipping from the Enterprise shows: "Last week a telegram was sent from this place to the Secretary of Agriculture asking that the government rain maker be sent to this county to try his experiments. Major Dyenforth replied that he had gone out of the business, but agreed to ship the apparatus here and let local talent fool with the elements as much as desired. The offer was declined, and the drouth continues."

The rain making experiment at Kentland last week did not prove to be true, as the following clipping from the Enterprise shows: "Last week a telegram was sent from this place to the Secretary of Agriculture asking that the government rain maker be sent to this county to try his experiments. Major Dyenforth replied that he had gone out of the business, but agreed to ship the apparatus here and let local talent fool with the elements as much as desired. The offer was declined, and the drouth continues."

The rain making experiment at Kentland last week did not prove to be true, as the following clipping from the Enterprise shows: "Last week a telegram was sent from this place to the Secretary of Agriculture asking that the government rain maker be sent to this county to try his experiments. Major Dyenforth replied that he had gone out of the business, but agreed to ship the apparatus here and let local talent fool with the elements as much as desired. The offer was declined, and the drouth continues."

The rain making experiment at Kentland last week did not prove to be true, as the following clipping from the Enterprise shows: "Last week a telegram was sent from this place to the Secretary of Agriculture asking that the government rain maker be sent to this county to try his experiments. Major Dyenforth replied that he had gone out of the business, but agreed to ship the apparatus here and let local talent fool with the elements as much as desired. The offer was declined, and the drouth continues."

The rain making experiment at Kentland last week did not prove to be true, as the following clipping from the Enterprise shows: "Last week a telegram was sent from this place to the Secretary of Agriculture asking that the government rain maker be sent to this county to try his experiments. Major Dyenforth replied that he had gone out of the business, but agreed to ship the apparatus here and let local talent fool with the elements as much as desired. The offer was declined, and the drouth continues."

Grain dealers estimate the Indiana wheat crop for this year at 45,000,000 bushels. Last year the crop was 50,000,000 bushels. Dealers say that the crop in Indiana is good in spots this year. Reports from all over the state are to the effect that a large proportion of farmers are holding their wheat for higher prices.

Kate Watson and Oris Ober, two clever dancers, and Harry Farrell, the comedy musical artist, are the leading specialty artists that appear in Ed Anderson's production, "The Lightning Express." Their specialties are new and novel and add greatly to the evening's performance. You should see them at the Opera House this evening.

Did you know there was one side of the chicken business, and one of the most profitable, that you have neglected entirely. Take our advice and make capons of all your cockerals, that is, the large growing ones, not big now, but those that will make large ones. The larger the better. If you can't do this work get some one who can. It will pay you.

We call special attention to an advertisement in this paper by Mrs. Rachel V. Thomas, of Cowarts, Ala., of a cure for hog and chicken cholera, which from what we can learn is a sure cure. Mrs. Thomas is a reliable lady, the daughter of one of the leading farmers of her county and the wife of one of the leading business men of her town. Give this remedy a trial.

The valuation of taxable property in the town of Rensselaer and Marion township that will be liable for assessment for the construction of gravel road is as follows: Assessment for 1893 in Marion township, $637,830; Town of Rensselaer, $923,325. Railroad assessment for 1892: Marion township, $177,315; Town of Rensselaer, $14,420. Total valuation, $1,752,590.

An event of importance will occur in Rensselaer to-night in the production of Ed. Anderson's great sensational play, "The Lightning Express." Among the vivid realisms are the illuminated city of Brooklyn, three railroad trains, two working waterfalls and a moon that gradually sinks behind the mountains. Several new and novel specialties are introduced into the performance.

Mr. O. P. Beam, of Reynolds, who disappeared so mysteriously a few weeks ago, has been found at Omaha, Neb., by the police of that city and his location reported to his family. He is said to be sound in mind and body but shows no disposition to return home at present. He started out to prospect for the purchase of a mill, and likely he has not found one to suit him yet.

The PILOT has quite frequently been asked lately what position it intends to take on the gravel road question. To these inquirers and others we will say that it intends taking no side in the discussion of the proposed road. Its columns, however, will be open to both sides and communications either for or against the road, if not too long, will be admitted to its columns.

Dr. Man-o-wa, the herb specialist, treats all curable chronic diseases with wonderful success. He does not charge one man $5 per month for treatment and his neighbor $75 for the same kind of treatment, but has a regular price of from $3 to $8 per month, according to the case. This month he will treat all who may come at one half the regular price. See him at the Makeever House on Wednesday, Aug. 23.

The rain making experiment at Kentland last week did not prove to be true, as the following clipping from the Enterprise shows: "Last week a telegram was sent from this place to the Secretary of Agriculture asking that the government rain maker be sent to this county to try his experiments. Major Dyenforth replied that he had gone out of the business, but agreed to ship the apparatus here and let local talent fool with the elements as much as desired. The offer was declined, and the drouth continues."

The rain making experiment at Kentland last week did not prove to be true, as the following clipping from the Enterprise shows: "Last week a telegram was sent from this place to the Secretary of Agriculture asking that the government rain maker be sent to this county to try his experiments. Major Dyenforth replied that he had gone out of the business, but agreed to ship the apparatus here and let local talent fool with the elements as much as desired. The offer was declined, and the drouth continues."

The rain making experiment at Kentland last week did not prove to be true, as the following clipping from the Enterprise shows: "Last week a telegram was sent from this place to the Secretary of Agriculture asking that the government rain maker be sent to this county to try his experiments. Major Dyenforth replied that he had gone out of the business, but agreed to ship the apparatus here and let local talent fool with the elements as much as desired. The offer was declined, and the drouth continues."

The rain making experiment at Kentland last week did not prove to be true, as the following clipping from the Enterprise shows: "Last week a telegram was sent from this place to the Secretary of Agriculture asking that the government rain maker be sent to this county to try his experiments. Major Dyenforth replied that he had gone out of the business, but agreed to ship the apparatus here and let local talent fool with the elements as much as desired. The offer was declined, and the drouth continues."

The rain making experiment at Kentland last week did not prove to be true, as the following clipping from the Enterprise shows: "Last week a telegram was sent from this place to the Secretary of Agriculture asking that the government rain maker be sent to this county to try his experiments. Major Dyenforth replied that he had gone out of the business, but agreed to ship the apparatus here and let local talent fool with the elements as much as desired. The offer was declined, and the drouth continues."

The rain making experiment at Kentland last week did not prove to be true, as the following clipping from the Enterprise shows: "Last week a telegram was sent from this place to the Secretary of Agriculture asking that the government rain maker be sent to this county to try his experiments. Major Dyenforth replied that he had gone out of the business, but agreed to ship the apparatus here and let local talent fool with the elements as much as desired. The offer was declined, and the drouth continues."

The rain making experiment at Kentland last week did not prove to be true, as the following clipping from the Enterprise shows: "Last week a telegram was sent from this place to the Secretary of Agriculture asking that the government rain maker be sent to this county to try his experiments. Major Dyenforth replied that he had gone out of the business, but agreed to ship the apparatus here and let local talent fool with the elements as much as desired. The offer was declined, and the drouth continues."

The rain making experiment at Kentland last week did not prove to be true, as the following clipping from the Enterprise shows: "Last week a telegram was sent from this place to the Secretary of Agriculture asking that the government rain maker be sent to this county to try his experiments. Major Dyenforth replied that he had gone out of the business, but agreed to ship the apparatus here and let local talent fool with the elements as much as desired. The offer was declined, and the drouth continues."

The rain making experiment at Kentland last week did not prove to be true, as the following clipping from the Enterprise shows: "Last week a telegram was sent from this place to the Secretary of Agriculture asking that the government rain maker be sent to this county to try his experiments. Major Dyenforth replied that he had gone out of the business, but agreed to ship the apparatus here and let local talent fool with the elements as much as desired. The offer was declined, and the drouth continues."

The rain making experiment at Kentland last week did not prove to be true, as the following clipping from the Enterprise shows: "Last week a telegram was sent from this place to the Secretary of Agriculture asking that the government rain maker be sent to this county to try his experiments. Major Dyenforth replied that he had gone out of the business, but agreed to ship the apparatus here and let local talent fool with the elements as much as desired. The offer was declined, and the drouth continues."

The rain making experiment at Kentland last week did not prove to be true, as the following clipping from the Enterprise shows: "Last week a telegram was sent from this place to the Secretary of Agriculture asking that the government rain maker be sent to this county to try his experiments. Major Dyenforth replied that he had gone out of the business, but agreed to ship the apparatus here and let local talent fool with the elements as much as desired. The offer was declined, and the drouth continues."

The rain making experiment at Kentland last week did not prove to be true, as the following clipping from the Enterprise shows: "Last week a telegram was sent from this place to the Secretary of Agriculture asking that the government rain maker be sent to this county to try his experiments. Major Dyenforth replied that he had gone out of the business, but agreed to ship the apparatus here and let local talent fool with the elements as much as desired. The offer was declined, and the drouth continues."

The rain making experiment at Kentland last week did not prove to be true, as the following clipping from the Enterprise shows: "Last week a telegram was sent from this place to the Secretary of Agriculture asking that the government rain maker be sent to this county to try his experiments. Major Dyenforth replied that he had gone out of the business, but agreed to ship the apparatus here and let local talent fool with the elements as much as desired. The offer was declined, and the drouth continues."

The rain making experiment at Kentland last week did not prove to be true, as the following clipping from the Enterprise shows: "Last week a telegram was sent from this place to the Secretary of Agriculture asking that the government rain maker be sent to this county to try his experiments. Major Dyenforth replied that he had gone out of the business, but agreed to ship the apparatus here and let local talent fool with the elements as much as desired. The offer was declined, and the drouth continues."

A GREAT CHANCE!

A. LEOPOLD is now in it. In order to save 50 cents on every dollar's worth of goods you should buy of him. It will pay you to call at his store, price the goods and convince yourselves. The goods must all be sold in order to make an important change in his business. Don't be led astray by his competitors, but come right along, purchase and save your hard earned dollars.

Yours Truly,
A. LEOPOLD.

Owing to the severe drouth in Kansas the people are beginning to economize in a novel manner. At Ashland all the seven denominations of churches have agreed to meet and worship together and to have but one minister, who was chosen from among the seven by popular vote. Other drouth-stricken communities will adopt the same plan, thus turning out a large number of preachers to swell the ranks of the unemployed.

At a special meeting of the town board last Friday evening arrangements were made to receive bids for the building of a 300 barrel brick and cement fire cistern. It is to be located at the corner of the public square near the well and to be filled with water from the latter. A contract was made to have the three cisterns which are now empty to be filled. 192 barrels will be emptied into them at a cost of 30 cents per load of eight barrels.

Did you notice that the days of the month and week are always the same in March and November, in April and July, and in September and December? That is, if March comes in on Monday, November will do likewise, the same rule applying to the other months named above. In leap year January is with March and November. The last day of July always occurs on the same day of the week; the same is true of May-day and Christmas.

The questions as to who is the biggest boy in town was decided permanently by the arrival of No. 1 of engineer Hemphill's prospective flock, Saturday morning. The event for a time almost paralyzed Hemphill's organs of speech, and for once in his life he was in a position where he could not utter a satisfactory sound. He has since regained his normal faculties, and says that baby's a model for future generations.—Two Harbors (Minn.) Iron News.

An auction sale of standard bred trotting stock will take place on the Remington fair grounds Thursday and Friday, August 24th and 25th. Every animal will be sold without reserve or by-bid. The sale will be conducted by Col. W. F. Downing, of Lexington, Ky. A credit of 15 months will be given to purchasers. There will be some great bargains at this sale, and we advise all who are interested to attend. A catalogue of the stock will be mailed to those interested by addressing D. H. Patton or W. T. Tribby, proprietors, Remington, Ind.

It is not an easy matter at the present day to find an entire new novelty in a play—especially one that the American public has not seen—but in Ed Anderson's great railroad play, "The Lightning Express," you will see the greatest novelty human eye has ever witnessed. A railroad train 200 feet long and nine feet high, dashes across the stage at the rate of 60 miles an hour. During the flight of the fast train a terrific struggle is going on between Jack Herndon and Pedro Laziola, two villainous scoundrels; as the train approaches the spot Jack throws the Italian in front of it and he is hurled thirty feet in the air. Go and see this great play at the Opera House this evening.

The main agitation on the streets this week is the Gifford and Wakarusha ditches. The Gifford ditch matter came up before the commissioners Tuesday and Judge Hammond, for the remonstrants, moved to dismiss the subject altogether. This motion was overruled by the board. The petitioners then asked permission to withdraw their names. This motion was also refused. The case was continued for further hearing at the regular September term. A public meeting was held at the Opera House Wednesday afternoon to take action to defeat the construction of the Wakarusha ditch. Money was raised to employ competent attorneys, and a committee consisting of J. F. Watson, H. W. Wood and Wm. C. Babcock, of Jasper county, and Al May and A. K. Sills, of White county, were appointed, with power to take all necessary steps to fight the matter. Another meeting will be held next Monday, on which date this ditch case comes before them.

I HAD HEAVY ACHING PAINS IN MY BACK.

Thorntown, Ind., Sept. 15th. Dr. Man-O-Wa, Frankfort, Ind.: Dear Sir:—I am happy to say that my health has rapidly improved under your Indian Herb treatment. When I began your treatment three weeks ago, I had heavy aching pains in my back; was required to rise many times during the night to avoid urine (which was done with difficulty.) My appetite and digestion was poor, my strength was failing, my hearing poor, but after three weeks treatment I find I am in a manner cured and feel as well as most men 20 years my junior. I am 80 years old.

Yours respectfully,
G. F. HAWKINS.
See the Doctor at the Makeever House, Wednesday, Aug. 23.

Hemphill & Honan are selling out to quit business. Now is the time to get bargains for cash.