Stockholders' Meeting.

Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of the stockholders of the PILOT PUBLISHING COMPANY (limited) will be held at the office of the PEOPLE'S PILOT at Rensselaer, Indiana, on Saturday, September 2nd, 1893, at which time a board of seven directors will be elected and other important business transacted.

L. L. PONSLE, Pres.

D. W. SHIELDS, Secy.

Making debts payable in gold is equivalent to making them as large again as they are.

It requires an extra session of congress to repair the best financial system in the world.

The question for congress to settle is, whether money or manhood shall rule this country.

The farm failures are not quoted by the commercial agencies. There's too many of them.

Have the people of this country get anything to sell for money? Yes, labor. Lots of it, too.

If the Democratic party believes in the principles of Democracy why don't it work at it?

There's a great want of confidence—in the money pirates that seem to be running this government.

Labor is the creator of all wealth, yet it has received no consideration at the hands of our law makers.

If the farmers were prosperous there would be but few failures in any other kind of legitimate business.

Is it the tariff that is busting the banks? If so, why didn't Cleveland call the extra session of congress to repeal the tariff law?

The poor working girl who makes the shirt gets 7 cents. The Chinaman who spits on it and irons it gets 10 cents. That's protection.

There are plenty of men and women in this country who want the opportunity to exchange their labor for money. Put that in your pipe and smoke it.

A banker in Nebraska stole $400,000 and got five years in the penitentiary. A workingman in Chicago stole one and one-quarter cents worth of pigs' feet and got thirty days in jail.

The proposition to change the ratio of the silver to gold by increasing the size of the silver dollar should be frowned down. If the ratio is changed at all let the gold dollar be cut down in size.

The reason the people don't get relief from oppressive class laws is simply because the plutocrats don't want them to have it and have made part of the people believe they don't need it.

A single gold standard not only means a reduction of wages and products, but a perpetual indebtedness, increasing each year, and entailing a system of industrial slavery upon the people.

This nation will never prosper while it publishes a living lie, and in doing so, defames God. The inscription on the silver dollar, "In God We Trust," should be changed to read "In gold we trust." This would correspond with Cleveland's views, and he seems to be running things in this country more than God is.

For the first time in ten years Jasper county is refusing to pay warrants drawn upon it. "Want of funds" is the reason assigned by the treasurer. Taxpayers are curious to know what has become of the large amount of money received by the county in payment of taxes, and are wondering if the levy will again be raised at the September session.

Senator Vance of North Carolina is out in a letter in which he says: "The Sherman law, once repealed, the measures which are to take its place will have to be passed by affirmative legislation, requiring concurrence of all three branches of the law making departments, and no sensible man, acquainted with the situation, can believe these measures can be passed under such circumstances." The senator is right. He proposes to hold on to the Sherman law until free silver coinage is obtained. Those congressmen who don't do it will find themselves running against the butt end of a political cyclone.

Voorhees' Base Betrayal.

Senator Voorhees, of Indiana, has been one of the leaders of the Democratic party for twenty years. He has been honored and respected; and as the "tall sycamore of the Wabash" has been followed by the seared ranks of Democracy, with confidence and pride, wherever he led.

Politically he is now no more. For some time it has been known that the advocates of a gold standard were trying to secure him to defend their interests. His recent statement that he is opposed to the coinage of any more silver is a sufficient announcement as to which side of the question he is now on. By this announcement he reverses the record of a lifetime. From a thousand platforms in Indiana, in national speeches, and on the floor of both houses of congress he has denounced every species of legislation, that has made money scarcer and dearer. He has pictured in most eloquent language the conditions that would exist in this country, if we went to a gold basis. In his greatest efforts, when men hung with breathless attention, upon his utterances, and all loved him as a watchful defender of the people, he never painted in words a darker picture of the evils to be expected from a gold standard, than those that exist to-day.

In this hour of calamity, he has deserted the people. His once manly voice is no longer raised in their behalf. He has gone over to the enemy and is assisting in forging a chain of slavery, and its clanking noise can now be heard by patriotic ears in all parts of the land.

We will not discuss how it came about. The methods used for such purposes have been aptly described by him. With heart cold and honor dead, let him go. No honest man will ever trust him. His high position will not protect him from the scorn and indignation of the people. A politician may be assailed by his enemies, and endure it, for he has behind him his constituency who trust him and believe in him. Mr. Voorhees has basely betrayed a trusting constituency and will have no friends in his new and unenviable position.

How John Sherman Financiers.

General Paul Vandervoort, ex-grand commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, tells a characteristic story of John Sherman that aptly illustrates the cupidity and pusillanimity of the Ohio senator.

In conversation with General Vandervoort, one day, Sherman was speaking of General John A. Logan, and lamenting the fact that he died poor.

"There was no necessity of his dying a poor man," he said. "There was plenty of ways for him to have made money when he was in the senate. I, myself, have frequently pointed out the way to him, but he always refused to take advantage of his opportunities."

In other words, General Logan, being an honest man, would not, like Sherman, take advantage of pending legislation to make investments which would enrich him by pushing such legislation to a successful issue.

It so happened that General Vandervoort while calling upon Mrs. Logan mentioned this conversation, when the widow of the Black Eagle of Illinois took him to a window of her residence and pointed to an adjoining lot, inclosed by a neat fence and under cultivation as a garden tract.

"That piece of property," she said, "belongs to John Sherman. A short time ago it was vacant, uninclosed and covered with rubbish and debris. Mr. Sherman had no use for it, and I asked him one day to let me have the use of it until such time as he could make use of it himself, telling him that I would inclose it and make it attractive. He willingly consented, and I put some colored men to work and soon had a garden planted. When my vegetables came up and were growing nicely, Mr. Sherman used to drive up in his buggy and admire the garden. He always said how valuable such ground was, and what a great benefit it was to me to have it for a garden. I could not fail to notice that he seemed to regret letting me have the ground, and by insinuating he gave me to understand that I ought to pay something for the use of it.

"The second time he gave me such intimation I asked him frankly if he was not sorry he gave me the use of the ground, and if he did not want me to pay rent.

"He replied that such ground in Mansfield ought to be worth three dollars an acre.

"There was an acre and a half in the tract and I tendered him four dollars and fifty cents as my first year's rental. He put the money in his pocket; smiled in a gratified way, took a last, lingering look at the garden, got into his buggy and drove away."

No comment is necessary further than to say that John A. Logan, the gallant Union soldier, hero of a dozen battles, and John Sherman, the frigid, grasping financier, were colleagues in the United States Senate. The former died almost in poverty; the latter is accounted a millionaire. The one is loved, and his memory cherished by a grateful people for his gallant deeds in the tented field and his honorable career in the forum. His life was never even tainted with suspicion. The latter will go down to posterity as a libel on what man should be.

A GOOD THING TO KEEP AT HAND

From the Troy (Kansas) Chief.

Some years ago we were very much subject to severe spells of cholera morbus; and now when we feel any of the symptoms that usually precede that ailment, such as sickness at the stomach, diarrhoea, etc., we become scared. We have found Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy the very thing to straighten one out in such cases, and always keep it about. We are not writing this for a pay testimonial, but to let our readers know what is a good thing to keep handy in the house. For sale by F. B. Meyer the druggist.

BLACKFORD.

Miss Flora Caster is visiting her parents at this place.

Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.
You will remember the condition I was in five years ago, when I was afflicted with a combination of diseases, and thought there was no help for me. I tried all kinds of medicines, and scores of eminent physicians. My nerves were prostrated, producing dizziness, heart trouble and all the ills that make life miserable. I commenced to take DR. MILES' NERVE and in three months I WAS PERFECTLY CURED. In my travels each year, when I see the thousands of physical wrecks, suffering from nervous prostration, taking prescriptions from local physicians who have no knowledge of their case, and whose death is certain, I feel like going to them and saying, "GET DR. MILES' NERVE and BE CURED." In my profession, where there are so many overworked men, suffering from nervous exhaustion, brought on by the character of the business engaged in, I would recommend DR. MILES' NERVE. As a sure cure for all suffering from these causes. JAMES R. WAITE.

WHY WE ARE HEELER & WILSON'S No. 9 SEWING MACHINES POPULAR?

BECAUSE LADIES BUY THEM LIKE THEM AND TELL THEIR FRIENDS.

Many ladies have used our machines twenty to thirty years in their family work, and are still using the original machines we furnished them a generation ago. Many of our machines have run more than twenty years without repairs, other than needles. With proper care they never wear out, and seldom need repair.

We have built sewing machines for more than forty years and have constantly improved them. We build our machines on honor, and they are recognized everywhere as the most accurately fitted and finely finished sewing machines in the world. Our latest, the "No. 9," is the result of our long experience. In competition with the leading machines of the world, it received the Grand Prize at the Paris Exposition of 1889, as the best, other machines receiving only complimentary medals of gold, silver and bronze. The Grand Prize was what all sought for, and our machine was awarded it.

Send for our illustrated catalogue. We want dealers in all unoccupied territory.
