CONGRESSIONAL

Extra Session.

In the senate on the 4th, after the approval of the journal and the introduction of a few bills of minor importance, the silver purchase repeal bill was taken up and discussed by Senators Butler and Blackburn, each pleading for a compromise of some sort. In the house the question of war claims was brought up and discussed. A substitute for the election laws repeal bill was introduced, the northern democrats, after an informal conference, deciding that the Tucker bill was too sweeping, and this substitute was formulated to meet the objections.

The senate on the 5th spent the entire day behind closed doors in the consideration of executive business. The greater part of the time was devoted to a discussion of the alleged violation of the home-rule principle in the appointment of men as Indian agents in one state who live in another. In the house a number of bills of minor importance were passed. The federal election laws repeal bill was then taken up and Mr. Murray addressed the house in opposition to the measure.

In the senate on the 6th a resolution was introduced for a special committee on the improvement of the banking system of the country, which was referred to the finance committee. The silver purchase repeal bill was taken up and Senator Call addressed the senate in opposition to the measure. In the house, after the reading of the journal, the federal election bill was taken up and Messrs. Halner, Hicks and Ray denounced the pending measure and Mr. Brookshire defended it.

On the 7th, after debate on the silver repeal bill in the senate, Senator Voorhees gave notice that on the 11th he should ask the senate to continue in session until a vote is taken on the pending measure, and should ask senators to maintain a quorum until the end of the projected struggle was reached. Debate on the federal elections bill was continued in the house.

The time of the senate on the 9th was given up entirely to considering the Sherman silver act. In the house the federal election bill debate was closed.

A BURGLAR'S CRIME.

He Robs a Texas Jeweler's Home and Kills the Owner.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 11.—Marcus Koenigheim, one of the oldest, wealthiest and most highly respected Jewish citizens of San Antonio, was murdered and robbed sometime Monday night, his body being found at 5 o'clock Tuesday morning, with a bullet hole through the head, lying in a hall at the foot of the stairs of his palatial residence. Mr. Koenigheim had been for years one of the most prominent jewelers and pawnbrokers of the city. In the back part of the lower hall of his residence he had a large iron safe, which was opened with a key. In this safe he had a large stock of money and jewelry, amounting in value to $25,000. He and his family spent Monday evening with friends, returning home at 12 o'clock. His bed was placed down on the balcony, all of the other members of the family sleeping on the next floor. The only other person downstairs was a young cotton buyer named Hirsch, who occupied the room adjoining the hall in which the murder occurred. This man Hirsch and several members of the family state they heard a noise, but no pistol shots, about 3 o'clock, but none of them made an investigation. The body was discovered by Mrs. Koenigheim at daylight. The safe was opened and rifled of all the money, jewelry and valuables, except a pair of gold bracelets, which were an heirloom of one of the family. The burglar had entered by way of the dining-room window, and proceeding upstairs had secured Mr. Koenigheim's trousers, from the pocket of which he took the key to the safe and a pocketbook containing a considerable sum of money. It is supposed that Mr. Koenigheim heard the noise and made some move to investigate when he met with his death. It is believed that the crime was committed by one thoroughly familiar with the premises.

PASSED BY THE HOUSE.

The Tucker Bill to Repeal the Federal Election Law Successful.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The Tucker bill repealing the federal election laws has been passed by the house, without amendment, by a vote of 200 ayes to 101 nays.

The special order bringing the Tucker bill to a vote and the pending amendments by Mr. Fitch, Mr. Lacey and Mr. Burrows, were read at 1 o'clock. Mr. Burrows explained that he would not demand a division on his amendment if the house would permit the five statutes his amendment sought to save to be read at the clerk's desk that they might get into the record.

[These were the sections providing for free registry and vote of citizens irrespective of race or color; and providing for the punishment of those who prevent, hinder and delay registration and voting and giving United States judges jurisdiction in such cases.]

On a rising vote the amendment was defeated—81 to 183, a strictly party division. The yeas and nays were demanded and the roll was called. The roll called resulted: Yeas, 100; nays, 193.

The vote then recurred on Mr. Lacey's amendment providing for the punishment of crimes against the ballot in congressional and delegate elections, and Mr. Lacey demanded a yeas and nays vote, claiming that the defeat of his amendment would give bribery and ballot-box stuffing free rein in delegate elections in the territories.

Mr. Lacey's amendment was defeated and Mr. Fitch finally withdrew his amendment. In voting on the bill the populists voted with the democrats in the affirmative.

ANOTHER BIG DAY.

Over 308,000 Persons Visit the World's Fair on Tuesday, Making a Total of 1,022,259 Paid Admissions for Two Days.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—There were 308,613 paid admissions to the fair Tuesday. The official count of the Chicago day paid admissions has not yet been completed, and will not be until some time to-day. Until then the figures given, 713,646 paid admissions, will represent the great crowd. This gives a total of 1,022,259 paid admissions for Monday and Tuesday; add to this the admissions on passes—37,380 on Monday and 26,651 on Tuesday—and the grand total attendance for the two days is 1,086,290.

The grand total of paid admissions to the world's fair to date, with the last two days' attendance estimated, is 16,814,039.

The total number of passengers carried Chicago day by the three cable systems, the Alley "L" road and the Illinois Central roads—the five chief lines of transportation patronized in reaching the fair—was 2,556,616. These are the official returns as received by the five companies Tuesday. They are greatly in advance of expectations. The figures are as follows:

Cable Lines..... 757,690
Alley "L" Road..... 234,895
Illinois Central..... 738,239
Other Methods..... 767,791

Noted Stallion Durned to Death.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Leporello, Carl Antony's famous "high school" stallion, whose almost human intelligence has won prizes and plaudits for his master in New York and many other cities, was burned to death Tuesday. The fire was in the Central park riding academy stable, a three-story brick building in Fifty-eighth street, which is connected with the academy itself, a big brick structure fronting on Seventh avenue. He was valued at $2,000. The loss by the fire was $10,000.

and 1 second; that of the Valkyrie being 3 hours, 35 minutes and 36 seconds. The wind blew almost all a gale during the last half of the race and the boats came in with decks forward wet with spray. The next race will be Wednesday. It will be a beat to windward, 15 miles and return. Should the Vigilant win again the America's cup will remain here at least another year and the American centerboard will still be the champion yacht of the world.

HONORED IN DEATH.

Irishmen Pay Tribute to the Memory of Charles Stewart Parnell.

DUBLIN, Oct. 11.—Irishmen from all over the world on Sunday assembled around the grave of Charles Stewart Parnell in Glasnevin cemetery and did honor and reverence to the memory of the great Irish leader. It was the second anniversary of the death of the champion of home rule, and the crowds attending the ceremonies showed very clearly that Ireland has not forgotten the services of Parnell in the cause so dear to the hearts of her sons and daughters. The procession of mourners through the streets of Dublin far exceeded in number and in reverence that of last year upon the same occasion. The admirers of Parnell and the principles he represented took one and a half hours to pass the city hall.

The procession was headed by a black-draped wagon upon which were piled memorial wreaths sent from different parts of the country, as well as several from the United States, Canada and Australia. The independent Irish party of New York sent a handsome floral harp. It was 5 feet high, 3½ feet across and the top was made of green and gold immortelles, enlivened by red flowers of the same kind. The strings were of red immortelles, and across them in white flowers were the words: "Charles Stewart Parnell."

Across the base of New York's tribute to the dead leader was the inscription: "In loving memorial; from the Irish of New York."

The officials and corporations of the cities of Dublin and Cork attended the ceremonies in state. The streets along the route to the cemetery were packed with men and women and the neighborhood of Glasnevin burial ground was crowded to the utmost. John Parnell, brother of the late Charles Stewart Parnell, and Mrs. Dickinson, his sister, appeared in the parade in a carriage, accompanied by John Redmond, M. P., the Parnellite leader.

At the cemetery the wreaths were placed upon the grave of the beloved statesman. The procession then reformed and returned to the city, the streets being lined with thousands of persons, while every window along the route was filled with persons who displayed mourning emblems.

Disastrous Fire.

WATERLOO, Ia., Oct. 11.—Fire started Monday morning in the business portion of the town of Parkersburg, 25 miles west of this city. The town has no fire protection and the fire was soon beyond control. Waterloo sent help, which succeeded in getting the flames under control after twenty-six business houses were destroyed. The buildings that were destroyed were mostly frame structures, though there were three or four brick blocks among them. The loss is estimated at about $175,000, with insurance from $50,000 to $75,000.

Scrofula in Face and Neck—Blind at Times

Hood's Sarsaparilla Restored Health

"I have been a very great sufferer from scrofula. First, a large bunch came in my neck, growing as big as a good sized apple. The doctor lanced it, and we succeeded in healing it up, but the disease began to appear in my face. Every morning they were so inflamed and swollen that I was blind. I was in this condition for about a year. I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and when I had used a bottle and a half, the swelling in my face had entirely gone down. I have been perfectly cured and am now in good health." WM. ERICK, West Duluth, Minn.
