AN IGNORANT DEMOCRAT

Wants to Know Something About Some Things.

EDITORS PILOT—I do not know very much and, perhaps, that is the reason I have always been a Democrat. Ignorant as I am, however, I really think there is one thing that I do know, and that is the Democrat party is divided on one great question that for sixty years it was a unit on. For a quarter of a century I have been a voter in this party. From Jackson to Cleveland my family has been in its ranks. My whole political teachings, faith and action have been Democratic. I have found that however much my party has differed on candidates, party policy, and sometimes on a few great national issues, yet when it came to the money question it has always been solid for silver. In the days when greenbacks were our only circulating medium we remember how every piece of silver was stored away as a precious keepsake, and by my political associates denominated Democratic currency. What pride we once took in calling ourselves hard money Democrats; and hard money we then understood to mean silver and gold, especially silver. Well do we remember of hearing the fathers tell of packing the silver dollars away in the saddle-bags and riding off to the land office at Crawfordsville. It was the good old Democratic currency; the bright silver dollars that paid the entrance price of many a western homestead. Never in all our lives until these late days did we hear a Democrat complain of silver. As we said in the beginning we know but little, but of the few things we do know one of them is, that, to our mind, Democracy and silver have always been inseparable. Not only was democracy anciently for silver, but our late state and national platforms have declared for it. Only just a few years ago our state platform came out square and fair for free silver. Almost every state and national convention from 1876 to 1892 have arraigned the Republican party for demonetizing silver. Upon every Democratic stump we have heard our orators denounce the cowardly act of 1873. With tears in their eyes have we heard our speakers plead for the return of the daddies, the money of the constitution. Not only in party platforms and political stump speakers have we heard the Democratic cry for silver, but in the halls of congress the Democratic friends have spoken for it. The great modern Democratic leader, John G. Carlisle, said in one of his great speeches in congress, "I know that the world's stock of precious metals is none too large, and I see no reason to apprehend that it will ever become so. Mankind will be fortunate indeed if the annual production of gold and silver shall keep pace with the annual increase of population, commerce and industry. According to my view of the subject, the conspiracy which seems to have been formed here and in Europe to destroy by legislation and otherwise three-sevenths to one-half of the metallic money of the world, is the most gigantic crime of the age." Carlisle, the then Democratic leader of the house was pleading for silver; was then on the old Democratic platform, and every member of his party in the house applauded his speech. I do not know much, but I do know that until quite recently I have always been lead to think that the Democratic party was solid for silver. I am not alone in this belief, but thousands and thousands of others have been lead to look at this subject just as I do. While many of the ablest men of my party are to-day standing up bravely for silver, yet the whole power of a Democratic administration is against it. Here is division. A house divided against itself can not stand. Democracy without silver is, to me, no Democracy at all.

A DISCOURAGED DEMOCRAT.

IT SHOULD BE IN EVERY HOUSE.

J. B. Wilson, 371 Clay St.,

Sharpsburg, Pa., says he will not be without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, that it cured his wife who was threatened with Pneumonia after an attack of La Grippe, when various other remedies and several physicians had done her no good. Robert Barber, of Cooksport, Pa., claims Dr. King's New Discovery has done him more good than anything he ever used for Lung Trouble. Nothing like it. Try it. Free trial bottle at Meyer's drug store. Large bottles 50c. and $1.

I WAS A HELPLESS CRIPPLE.

Zionsville, Ind.

Dr. Man-O-Wa—When I began your Indian Herb treatment three months ago I was a helpless cripple and had been such for eight months—the result of kidney disease and rheumatism. My digestion was poor; I suffered intense pain and my feet and legs were numb. I had been treated by seven physicians without gaining any permanent relief. After taking your treatment for six weeks I began to walk with the aid of crutches and can now walk without the aid of either crutch or cane. Many thanks to you and your treatment for my recovery so far. Yours respectfully,

E. M. FORD.
Dr. Man-O-Wa will be at the Makeever House, Rensselaer, Wednesday, Oct. 18. Consultation free.

The Winamac Republican must be taking sleep at the Rip Van Winkle. In its last issue it was still advertising Odd Fellows' day at the World's Fair.

We are glad to learn that Esq. Elias Marion, of Barkley township, is soon to become a resident of Rensselaer, he having purchased through Austin & Co. the J. H. Wiley farm in the edge of town.

Did any one hear of a single flouring mill closing down during the panic times we have been passing through. People are compelled to have bread, if the rest of the machinery does stop.

The Florida rolling exposition which was here last Saturday was a very interesting exhibit of the products of that country. This is sent out by a Florida railroad concern to advertise the state. It was on its way to the World's Fair.

The board of pension examiners at Remington now consists of Dr. J. A. Hatch, M. F. Didlake and J. F. Ramsey. The board now consists of two Democrats and one Republican.

Dr. I. B. Washburn, the optician, handles the celebrated Trolley's Kohinoor eye glasses, the best made. Attention is called to the ad, "See Again as in Youth," in another place in this paper.

A Missouri editor last week said to his readers: "If this paper does not please you this week you may attribute it to the fact that the editor has felt just a little more like fighting than he has like editing a paper." Editors are not the only people going around with a glitter in the eye.

They know how to do things at Rensselaer. Several parties whose property was endangered by fire the other day gave a huge banquet to those who turned out and fought the flames. —White Co. Democrat.

Our old friend, J. W. Swan, of Wadena, Minn., was last Saturday to hear Populist Gillette's speech. John is still an earnest exponent of third party principles, and, by the way, an able one. —Goodland Herald.

All the talk in the world will not convince you so quickly as one trial of De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve for scalds, burns, bruises, skin affections and piles. A. F. LONG & CO.

Train robberies and highway "hold ups" are rather on the decline for the past few days. Probably something that will knock them all out will occur one of these days.

The people of Monticello seem to be very anxious as to who they will have for their next postmaster. The portion of the congressional grist has not as yet been ground out, and they are all expectancy down there.

Wm. Baker, a Porter county farmer, has had his affections trifled with to the amount of $10,000. Emily Peter was the trifier and had promised to marry him. Probably if he had married her, he would have given $10,000 to have been released from the bonds afterward.

JAMES R. WAITE,
Manager of Waite's Celebrated Comedy Co. Premium Band and Orchestra.

Dr. Miles' Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.
You will remember the condition I was in five years ago, when I was afflicted with a combination of diseases, and thought there was no help for me. I tried all kinds of medicines, and some of eminent physicians. My nerves were prostrated, producing dizziness, heart trouble and all the ills that make life miserable. I commenced to take

DR. MILES' NERVEINE
and in three months I was perfectly cured. In my travels each year, when I see the thousands of physical wrecks, suffering from nervous prostration, taking prescriptions from local physicians who have no knowledge of their case, and whose death is certain, I feel like going to them and saying, "Get Dr. Miles' Nerveine and be cured." In my professional life I have seen many cases of nervous exhaustion, brought on by the character of the business engaged in. I would recommend

"MILES' NERVEINE"
as a sure cure for all suffering from these causes. JAMES R. WAITE.

A Merchant's Opinion.
Morning Co. Gazette.

"Why do you advertise so freely in the newspapers?" asked a business man, recently, to a successful merchant. "I will tell you why," replied the merchant. "We are in business here and we mean business. We want the people all over the country to know it, so that, when they come to town, they will give us a call. In this way we frequently secure trade that would not otherwise come to us. We do not propose to wait for people to find us out. We prefer to let them know who we are, where we are and what we are doing. The time to advertise, and to advertise liberally, is when business is dull. Printer's ink spread over your announcements in the columns of a newspaper of general circulation, will do more than anything else to bring customers to your place of business. You may scatter cards, Rodgers, hand bills, etc., from Jerusalem to Jerico, and scarcely anybody reads them, but an advertisement in a newspaper is read by everybody, because it is a part and parcel of the newspaper."

SPEAR HEAD is absolutely, positively and distinctively different in flavor from any other plug tobacco. A trial will convince the most skeptical of this fact. It is the largest seller of any similar shape and style on earth, which proves that it has caught the popular taste and pleases the people. Try it, and participate in the contest for prizes. See that a TIN TAG is on every 10 cent piece of SPEAR HEAD you buy. Send in the tags, no matter how small the quantity. Very sincerely,
