GOODLAND.

Oats 24@27c.
Corn 33@34c.

Butterine 25c.
Farmers are husking corn.

Mrs. J. W. Oswald visited at Wabash last week.

An interesting concert was given at McCurry's Hall on Wednesday evening.

Elmer Bringham has gone to the Cherokee country to look after some land interests.

The C. & L. C. announces one cent a mile to Chicago October 20th. That's nothing. The Monon and Big Four beats this every day the sun rises.

When Prosecutor Brown gets a little farther into the case of Condon v. Goodland he may learn that Poland's cow was not tied in the corporation limits of Goodland at all.

A new corn husking machine is gladdening the hearts of the farmers over in Benton county. It's for husking shock corn and is at work on Thos. Grater's place southeast of town.

Mrs. Lumsdon, of Chicago, was in town a few hours one day last week, the guest of Mr. D. Mahoney. Mrs. L. has been a property owner of Goodland for about twenty years, but never seen her possessions until a few days ago.

Our school enumeration last summer showed more than four hundred school children within the corporation limits, while the first month of school the enrollment shows but 274. This shows that there are about 130 or 140 children who do not go to school.

The game of base ball between the business (?) men of Kentland and Goodland, played at this place last Friday, resulted in a glorious victory for the home club. Two things are very evident. One is that Kentland don't know how to treat a base ball club when they go there to play ball. And another is they can play ball better after the sun sinks behind the western horizon. Score 15 to 23.

A couple of boys over in Benton county tried the experiment of shooting at an old can along-side of the road containing dynamite that had been used in blasting rock. The result was very satisfactory so far as the shot was concerned, for it hit the can plump, but was very disastrous to the boys. Both were severely, but not fatally hurt by pieces of an old scraper that lay near and pieces of the can. It is a question in the minds of the boys whether all the scraper has come down yet or not. Dr. Lovett was called to attend the injured boys and reports them doing well.

The Midway Plaisance people gave our town another entertainment one day last week. This time the row and arrest was precipitated by a couple of the inhabitants of the strange village. A Mrs. Tubarty had one Mrs. James Currens arrested for calling her bad names, and that she was afraid Mrs. C. would at some future time take her life. Mrs. C. was arraigned before Esq. Hamlin, whereupon Mrs. Tubarty swore she could whip a whole regiment of Curtens. After five or six hours of deliberation by twelve tried and true men, they acquitted the defendant, while the jury lingered near break of day with only a glass of cold water and one sack of pop corn to stay their stomachs.

A braying ass at Brook that has got an idea that he is employed to do the wind work for all the ex-soldiers of this county, assisted by the editor of the Kentland Enterprise, takes us to task for saying, a few weeks ago, that the badges worn at the reunion bore a lie upon their face. This blathering romancer at Brook, who is as ignorant of human nature as he is of human history, knows that in the mind of the American patriot no S. of V. organization will ever take the place of those who bore the blunt of battle and made this republic the grandest the sun ever shown on. Only in the minds of such men as the coffee cooler at Brook do such ideas ever have a place. And only by inconsistencies as he and the Enprise man makes are the ex-

soldiers made to take a back seat and give to those that are only sons of veterans places of honor in a county reunion. We can only repeat what we said before, that those badges worn upon that occasion bore upon their face an infamous lie, called so by all honest men who wore the blue.

Mike Thornton, a section hand on the Monon, was discharged on account of being of unsound mind. The citizens were relieved when Thornton disappeared.

Jos. J. Burns, an old crippled soldier, has been worse than crippled on the railroad, by having his hand smashed by railroad ties. It leaves him in a pretty bad shape.

We noticed Silas Brockus on our streets the other day. He has traveled thousands of miles over the western country and is at present working for Ben Geesa, near Mt. Airy.

RAT TAIL.

The business of this place has no doubt been badly injured by the World's Fair. People who have gone to Chicago to attend this great show, usually laid in a supply of dry goods, clothing, shoes, etc., while they were there, and invariably paying out the cash for them. Then they will come home and ask our merchants for time on articles they want to purchase. Is this right? We say no. The business men here buy your produce and other things you have to sell, and then you will turn right around and spend your cash somewhere else, when you should have dealt with your home merchant. We are almost positive that you can do as well by trading at home as by patronizing foreign houses. They are one among us and should be recognized as such.

Manager Eger is booking some first class attractions for his opera house during the coming season. The next company to appear here is Duncan Clark's specialty combination, which is a first class attraction in every way, and especially to the bald heads.

The population of this county has been increased as follows during the past few days: Born to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jasper, of Barkley, a son; to Mr. and Mrs. Ed Webb, of Barkley, a son; to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Martin, of Rensselaer, a boy.

Several persons have taken advantage of our newspaper offer we speak of on another page. Two papers for the price of one. Call and get sample copies.

The attendance at the World's Fair does not seem to diminish any in the least. Up to the present time over 18,000,000 persons have visited this great show.

The Plummer Case Reversed.

The case of the State vs Jackson Plummer, which was tried in the Benton circuit court last November term, has been reversed, and Plummer, who has served nearly one year of his fifteen year sentence for killing marshal Dorn, of Kentland, will be set at liberty. The opinion was rendered by Judge McCabe and in substance is as follows: A town marshal is not authorized to arrest in all cases for misdemeanor without a warrant. He can only arrest for such offenses without a warrant when the offense is committed in his presence or sight. 2. When such marshal stepped up behind a citizen and without requesting him to submit to arrest or informing him that he desired to arrest him, without any provocation or resistance on the part of the citizen, struck him on the head with a billy, the officer was a trespasser in doing so and was guilty of an aggravating assault and battery which gave the citizen a clear right to defend himself even to the taking of the life of the assailant.—Fowler Review.

Some tobacco dealers were indicted by the grand jury at Kentland, a few days ago, and it resulted in their having to pay the penalties attached to selling to boys cigarettes, cigars and chewing tobacco. That's right. Some of our merchants had better be careful, for not a day passes but what you can see some "kid" with a package of cigarettes or a plug of tobacco, and he surely must have bought it some place. Every dealer who violates that law should be fined to the full extent of it.

Geo. Fox, residing a few miles southeast of town, had nine sheep killed by dogs last Friday night and nineteen others badly bitten and torn, some of which will also die. This will make a big hole in the dog fund.—Remington Press.

Ignorance of the merits of De Witt's Little Early Risers is a misfortune. These little pills regulate the liver, cure headache, dyspepsia, bad breath, constipation and biliousness.

A. F. LONG & Co.

Mrs. George Healey, who has been visiting her relatives and friends here for the past two weeks, left for her home in Missouri last Wednesday. She will stop at Chicago and visit the World's Fair on her way home.

James Jacks and family, of Kingman, Kansas, have been visiting relatives and friends in this county for several days, and left for their western home last Monday morning. They formerly resided in this county.

Dr. I. B. Washburn, the optician, handles the celebrated Trolley's Kohinor eye glasses, the best made. Attention is called to the ad, "See Again as in Youth," in another place in this paper.

Some will say B. F. Ferguson can't make you a loan, but call and see him. He has unlimited resources and capital from which to make loans, 6 per cent interest at the end of the year.

The heaviest frost we have had so far occurred last Sunday night. The earth appeared to be covered with a coat of snow on Monday morning, and ice was frozen to the thickness of a half inch.

The high school will soon give its students a novelty in the way of having a mock presidential election, in order that they may fully understand the workings of the Australian system of voting.

All the talk in the world will not convince you so quickly as one trial of De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve for scalds, burns, bruises, skin affections and piles.

A. F. LONG & Co.

Henry Kolhoff, of this township, was a caller at this office and accepted our newspaper offer in another column. Mr. K. believes in supporting the home paper.

Have you ordered all the reading matter you want for the winter? If not call at this office and we will take your name for any paper or magazine published.

Humphrey's Specifics cure without drugging, purging or reducing the system, and are in fact and deed the sovereign remedies of the world.

Girls, Here's Your Chance.

It seems that over in Fulton county the supply of the opposite sex of a marriagable age is rather scarce. From the Rochester Sentinel we notice the following which fully explains itself: Mr. Editor: I will tell you what I want. I want a woman as is a good housekeeper, understands how to keep a farm hose and its affairs. I am 48 years, 5 feet and ten inches high; weigh 185, b'wne 80 acres of eye farm and teams to run it an awl household goods to suit. Avl letters answered in person or buy male. GEO. W. OLIVER.

Highways Vs. Ditching.

If the Iroquois Valley is to be drained under pending proceedings every land owner should at once take steps to have laid out any public highway which would be proper after such drainage is accomplished. This course will secure proper assistance from the county, otherwise it will be more difficult to establish the roads, and the county will not be assessed her share of constructing the improvement. This is an important matter and should receive prompt attention before the report is filed. **

Marriage Licenses.

The following persons have been granted marriage licenses since our last report:

Lewis A. Hoppe to Mary M. Nagle.

Our attention has been called to a certain married man in this town who certainly spends too much time in his admiration for one of our young unmarried ladies who stands well in society. He has repeatedly been seen in her company after dark. If it becomes necessary we shall expose him to the public, but at present we withhold all names, with the hope that both of them may see the error of their ways.

Reuben Dickinson, John and George Havens, all substantial supporters of the PILOT, made this office a friendly call one day last week, and it would please us if all the subscribers and friends of the paper would call so that we may know who we are dealing with, and also that we may become better acquainted. We are always pleased to meet you, so come in and see us.

Dr. Man-O-Wa, the Indian doctor, was here last Wednesday, and his rooms at the Makeever House were crowded the whole of his stay. He seems to be fairer in his treatment than most doctors, and tells you just what he can do and nothing else. That is certainly fair enough and our readers are beginning to believe it. Go and see him when he visits this place again.

It is said that there will be no more cheap rates to the World's Fair over the Monon from the fact that it has all the business it can properly handle. Their entire passenger equipment is now in use, and that accounts for no further reduction in the rates, except that of $2.50 for round trip.

John Reynolds came home from St. Louis this week. He remained only a short time and left for the east, and will spend a greater portion of the time in Baltimore, Guttenburg and other racing points the coming winter.

Mrs. Lecklider has just returned from the city with a fine line of millinery. Go and see those beautiful Plato hats. She will have another opening October 26th, 27th and 28th. Please give her a call.

Wallace Murray, of Barkley township, unearthed quite a curiosity in the Moody swamp a few days ago. This relic appears in the shape of a pair of elk's antlers of large proportion. They measure three feet in length and are in a good state of preservation. They were still attached to the skull bone when found. It is impossible to state how long these have lain hidden from view, but we should feel safe in saying, not less than sixty or seventy-five years. Mr. Murray values them highly as an old relic of the by-gone pioneer days when animals of this kind roamed our fields.

Fred, the 11-year old son of Ed Parcells, went hunting last Saturday afternoon, with a son of Jas. Thompson, and as they were returning home, about five o'clock, they were shooting at spots and marks along the way. When near town, the Thompson boy had gone ahead to fix up a target, when in some manner the gun which young Parcells held went off, the bullet entering the foot, between the third and fourth toes. The rifle was a 22 calibre, and the boy is now laid up with a rather severe wound.

Matilda Kenton, wife of Elmer Kenton, who lives about six miles south of town, died last Sunday evening of consumption. She had been sick in bed about six weeks at the time of her death. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Robinson, of Hanging Grove township. The deceased was buried last Tuesday at 11 o'clock, at the Osborne school house, in Hanging grove township.
