Utter of the Methodist Church, will preach the Thanksgiving sermon assisted by Elder J. L. Brady of the Christian Church. Let the public observe this day and attend these services in compliance with the request of our chief executives—the president and governor.

D. H. YEOMAN, Pres't.

Mrs. William Stockton died at Wolcott, Sunday, Nov. 12th of typhoid fever. The deceased was born in Laguyla, South America, Jan. 1852. The same year her parents moved to Philadelphia, Pa.; in 1854 they came to Indiana and settled midway between Remington and Rensselaer. Her mother died soon after and she was taken to Grandma Welsh's where she was reared to womanhood. She was married to William Stockton in 1872. She was a member of M. E. Church of Wolcott, and leaves a husband, two daughters, two sons, and many friends to mourn her loss.

Subscriptions taken for any paper or magazine at this office.

A few weeks ago a petition was circulated in Remington asking the county commissioners to assist in improving the roadway through the marsh at the north end of the gravel road between this place and Rensselaer. Tuesday the commissioners agreed to pay for the building of one hundred rods of the worst part of the road, the balance of the improvement to be made by Jordan Co. Bids will be received for the work and the job let next Tuesday. This road has been nearly impassable at times, and its improvement will meet with general approbation. —Remington Pres.

Hon. M. M. Kilgore, president of the Miami County Farmers' Institute, is in receipt of a letter from the secretary of the United States Sugar Syndicate, of New York. The sugar syndicate has in contemplation a beet-sugar refinery somewhere in Indiana, and is desirous of interesting the farmers of Indiana in the cultivation of the sugar beet, to the growth of which our soil and climate are very favorable. —Converse Journal.

Bayard Clark, of Lafayette, spent Sunday here with his parents.

Sharp says if he is lame it is no sign he is a tenderfoot. Thirty years behind the camera and still up with the times. Persons desiring anything out of the ordinary in the picture line, such as moving objects, several different positions and expressions of the same child or person on the same card, pictures taken at night of parties or families at their own home, etc., it might be well to consult him.

W. E. McCord, of Martinsville, was here the first of the week on business.

Harriet Field Walker, wife of Pierce Walker, of this place, died Friday morning of last week. The cause of her death was the bursting of a blood vessel in the stomach. She has been afflicted for some with lung trouble. The remains were interred at the Weston cemetery last Saturday afternoon. Funeral services were held at the residence by Rev. R. D. Utter.

The grand lodge I. O. O. F. is in session at Indianapolis this week.

W. W. Warnes says that when he closes out his crop of celery he will have made about $900 of two acres and a half of low muck land. It is well manured and cultivated, and a crop of onions is taken off before the late celery goes in. —Plymouth Republican.

The Northwest Indiana Association of the Sons of Veterans, met at Westville last week.

Sam Price, of Nubbin Ridge, whose insanity case we mentioned last week, was taken to the Longcliff asylum at Logansport last Tuesday. He was brought here the day before.

Public Meeting.

There will be a public meeting on Wednesday, Nov. 29, at 2 p. m., at the court house in Rensselaer, of all those interested, for the purpose of arranging a program for the coming farmers' Institute, which is to be held here January 25 and 26, 1894. Every farmer, business man and citizen in this county should lend a helping hand in this matter, as it is one of great importance.

D. H. YEOMAN, Pres't.

From a Chicago daily paper we learn of the death of a former resident of this place, Richard Mulvaney, in which it gives the following account of his demise: "The body of Richard Mulvaney of Gilman, Ill., was found yesterday in the lagoon at Lincoln Park. Mulvaney was subject to attacks of epilepsy and it is thought he was stricken Tuesday night while standing near the water's edge and rolled in. The coroner's jury returned an open verdict." It will be remembered that he was in the saloon business here with a man by the name of Carew, about five or six years ago, and they occupied the room now used by J. R. Kight.

About one more month will see the contract finished at Momenne and the rock all out. The water was recently let on to try the flow, and the river at the State line fell one foot in twenty-four hours. When the job is complete it will work wonders with the Kankakee valley. So far, it is doing more than was expected. —Porter County Vidette.

Elder L. E. Conner will preach at the church of God, on Sunday, November 26th. Everybody invited to attend these services.

The organization of the new company to conduct Roby's affairs has been completed though a list of the officers is withheld on account of the desire of some of them. Hammond citizens will control the arena and promise that only contests of skill, such as come under the requirements of the law, will be permitted and the affairs will be conducted in first class shape. —Lake County News.

Attention is called to the article on another page, headed, "The Slave Power and the Money Power." It is one of vital importance to every sound thinking man. It is reasonable, correct and just. Don't fail to read it.

Smoke the Mendoza cigar. For sale everywhere.

A most interesting meeting was held at the Egypt school house, south of this place, on Thursday night of last week. M. Y. Slaughter delivered a good talk on the subject of finance—how it was created and by whom, the condition of the American people at the present time and where they will be in the near future unless a great change is made. The meeting was well attended and a most interesting time was had.

Ben L. Webb, of Indianapolis, was here Thursday of last week. Mr. Webb is the gentleman who recently drew $75,000 in Louisiana lottery. He is a traveling salesman for the drug house of A. Keifer, Indianapolis.

T. W. Haus returned from Dwight, Ill., where he accompanied Park Wright, who went there to take the gold cure. He says Mr. Wright is getting along nicely.

Union services will be held at the Presbyterian church on Thanksgiving.

A man with an advertising scheme struck town the first of the week. He was patronized of course. The strangest part of the whole affair was, we noticed the cards of business men on the sheet that never pretend to advertise in the home newspapers at all. Yet they will complain about the home people going to Chicago and elsewhere to buy goods.

The Rev. Sam Jones is trying to arouse religious enthusiasm in Memphis. He has secured an orchestra and a soloist, and special trains are to be run from suburban districts during his three weeks' labors.

Calls Attended Day or Night.

Mrs. James Babcock died last Monday morning, at her home four miles south of Rensselaer. She had been sick about four weeks of hemorrhage of the bowels, which was the cause of her demise. She was born in 1850 and was married to James Babcock on Dec. 6, 1870. She was the mother of nine children, all of whom are living. The funeral occurred Wednesday morning at the Church of God, Rev. Ferguson preaching the funeral sermon, after which her remains were interred at the Weston cemetery. Mrs. Babcock was a woman whom everybody liked. She had many friends who will mourn her loss.

Ignorance of the merits of De Witt's Little Early Risers is a misfortune. These little pills regulate the liver, cure headache, dyspepsia, bad breath, constipation and biliousness. —A. F. LONG & CO.

The affairs of the awful Wakarusha ditch case are still in the soup. It seems that the joint board still continues on a wrangle about the thing and can come to no definite conclusion. They met again last Tuesday, but for what they did, might have stayed at home and saved the county the expense, as neither board could agree. There the matter stands and they even adjourned without making a day to meet again. As to the outcome of this we are unable to say, but it looks as if they have had plenty of time to come to some sort of a decision, one way or the other.

We could not improve the quality if paid double the price. De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve is the best salve that experience can produce, or that money can buy. —A. F. LONG & CO.

Mrs. Elizabeth Sayler, wife of uncle Isaac Sayler died at their home about two miles west of Rensselaer, last Monday morning of complications of lagriple. Mrs. Sayler was getting pretty well along life's journey at the time of her death, being 83 years of age. She was born in Fairfield county, Ohio and with her husband settled in this county in 1850. By her death another old settler goes to the great beyond.

Mrs. J. B. Abrams, of Brunswick, Georgia, has been visiting the family of Ralph Fendig. She left for Atlanta last Monday. We have something nice and neat in the way of calling cards for the ladies, which we will print at very low prices. Call see them.

Back at my old stand, Long's drug store, and prepared to do all kinds of veterinary and dental surgery. Call and see me. —T. H. GEER, D. V. S.

We have another great offer to make our readers. If you will send us $2 we will send the PILOT one year and fifty-cent twenty cent standard novels.

Dr. L. B. Washburn, the optician, handles the celebrated Trolley's Kohinoor eye glasses, the best made. Attention is called to the ad, "See Again as in Youth," in another place in this paper.

If you can afford to be annoyed by sick headache and constipation, don't use De Witt's Little Early Risers for these little pills will cure them. —A. F. LONG & CO.

The box social at Bell Center, Saturday night, was a success in every way. Instead of hats was realized, and it will be used in the purchase of a school library.

This is what should be in every school room.

Have you ordered all the reading matter you want for the winter? If not call at this office and we will take your name for any paper or magazine published.
