ELLIS & MURRAY.

THE PEOPLE'S PILOT.

Chas. Randall, the boy pedestrian, who is walking from New York City to San Francisco passed through Kentland, Saturday, stopped long enough to get shaved at Chas. McClain's shop and stated his business. He started from New York, Jan. 6th, and expected to arrive at San Francisco by April 10th. While here he said he had walked to an average of 42 miles a day. If he arrives in San Francisco, within the time allowed, which is 3 months and seven days, he gets $2,000 and traveling expenses; if not he gets nothing.—Kentland Democrat.

O. W. O. Hardman, Sheriff of Tyler Co., W. Va., appreciates a good thing and does not hesitate to say so. He was almost prostrated with a cold when he procured a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He says: "It gave me prompt relief. I find it to be an invaluable remedy for coughs and colds." For sale by F. B. Meyer, Druggist.

Edward Dunbar, the author of that beautiful hymn, "There's a Light in the Window for Thee, Brother," died a few days ago in the jail at Coffeyville, Kan., where he had applied for lodging as a tramp. Dunbar was once a noted evangelist, but his career was cut short by a term in the Minnesota state prison for bigamy.

A. McCoy & Co. are now prepared to make farm loans at 6 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 7 per cent, depending on the amount desired, with commissions as low as are quoted elsewhere. The usual privilege of partial payments allowed. They would be glad to hear from parties desiring loans. Will cheerfully answer all inquiries. 33-4

A stranger called at Iliff's livery barn last Tuesday, and hired a team for a drive to Mt. Ayr, but the latest reports have it that neither team nor driver have been heard of since. It is the general opinion that the team has been stolen. A reward has been offered.

The friends of Ezra C. Nowels, now of Lamar, Colorado, will be pleased to hear of his appointment under the present Democratic administration, as a receiver of public money. This appointment was made on Tuesday, of last week.

Rudyard Kipling, Robert Louis Stevenson and Octave Thonet will all contribute to the fiction of McClure's Magazine for March, giving special distinction to that feature of the number.

Lewis Day, of Hammond, has rented the Dummy Hopkins property, in the south-east part of town and will shortly move his family here.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Forsythe are visiting this week at his sister's, in Dixon, Ill., and will also buy a fine line of dress goods in Chicago.

The sanguine gentleman who assured his friends that the spinal column of the winter was fractured is said to be in hiding.

Mr. and Mrs. Mont Hubbard, of Toledo, Ohio, are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Sigler, of this place.

Towels, napkins and table cloths, all in the special sale, Saturday, March 3rd. Chicago Bargain Store.

Henry Jones, of Chicago, has been visiting friends here for several days.

Don't miss the greatest entertainment of the season, March 9th.

Finest fresh bulk and canned oysters in the market at Alter's.

There is a pretty good story which is all true, of a young man who lives all in the delightful glories of bachelordom, in one of our brick blocks, who went out of his room into the hallway Monday morning in just his night clothes to get a load of wood. His room door blew shut and a tricky spring catch flew to place and the young man was shut out in the hallway until a passer-by went to a chum and hunted up a key. It took him the rest of the forenoon to reduce the "goose-flesh" on his body and get over his scare.

Postmasters throughout the country, are in receipt of a communication from the first assistant postmaster general requesting all persons to use envelopes having their return card printed on the corner. Envelopes printed to order can be had at almost any newspaper office for about the same price people pay for these not so printed. Every one should follow the advice of the department and thus not only insure the safety of their own mises, but aid materially in the transaction of public business.

The Supreme court decides that "in action to recover damages for the loss of property set to and burned by sparks from a passing railroad locomotive, negligence on the part of the railroad company must be affirmatively shown, even where it appears that the escaping sparks caused the loss." According to this rule it is an extremely difficult matter to hold a railroad responsible for damage by fire.
