REVENUE ESTIMATES.

Comparison Between the McKinley, Wilson and Senate Tariff Bills.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The senate finance committee has been supplied with a tabulated statement prepared by the treasury department showing in detail the amount of revenue which it is estimated will be received under the senate bill, if it should become a law, also giving the estimates under the Wilson bill and comparing both with the returns from the treasury department under the present law for 1893. The statement also gives an estimate of the increase in the internal revenue under the senate bill, which is as follows:

Income, $50,000,000; spirits, $20,000,000; cigars, $9,000,000; cigarettes, $1,500,000; playing cards, $3,000,000. Total increase, $63,500,000. The estimated duties of the senate bill, as compared with those of the Wilson bill and the returns under the present law, by schedules, are as follows, the figures first given showing in each schedule the returns under the existing law; the second, the estimates under the house bill, and the third the estimates on the senate bill:

Chemicals, oils and paints—Present law, $5,132,500; house, $5,095,316; senate, $5,100,421. Earthen, earthenware and glassware—Present law, $12,101,651; house, $8,078,238; senate, $8,080,344.
