

The A. P. A.

communicated.

It has been rumored that an A. P. A. has been organized in Rensselaer, and the Sentinel has immediately caught up the report and published it with the horrid fore-bodings for the organization which only the imaginative mind of the Sentinel is capable of expressing.

Yes, Brother McEwen, we have an American Protective Association in Rensselaer, a thriving one too, and its members are increasing at every meeting. We believe in the old doctrine, "America for Americans." We countenance no politics whatever, but are one and all for the protection of our American Institutions and its free schools. The A. P. A. opens its arms to all parties alike, and now is composed of the several parties. It wages war on no one, but merely protects itself. We mean that the stars and stripes shall be our one and only flag, and the patriotism and your love of country should inspire you with a good opinion and respect for all such organizations as ours.

christian life. Though young, he was always ready to testify to the goodness of God in the class meeting, which he never failed to attend. He not only took part here, but at home around the family altar Howard would take his turn in asking God's blessing upon the household and thanking him for his goodness toward them.

Howard left abundant testimony that he was ready and willing to go at the Master's call. He said, soon after taking sick, that he was going to die; but this did not alarm him in the least; because he knew and felt that he was ready to go. A few hours before he departed he called the family around his bedside one by one, bid them "Good bye" and told them to all meet him in heaven. Then, while suffering intense pain, he said, "Lord Jesus take me" again, "I am going home to Jesus who has done so much for me." Then, just a few moments before his soul took its flight to the world beyond, he said, "I am going home to die no more."

Who Got The Bonds.

Progressive Farmer.

Our readers remember that one of the arguments offered as an excuse for the new issue of bonds was that the less wealthy class, the common people might invest in them. The bonds have been sold and issued. Here are some of the "common" people that got them, as reported by Secretary Carlisle, as it was drawn out of him by congress:

PINCHED.

Willis McColl Captures a Horse Thief near Surrey.

Charles Johnson was arrested near Surrey, last Sunday, by Willis McColl for stealing a horse from Henry Marsh, a well-to-do farmer living in Carpenter township. Johnson is a Hungarian by birth, and had been living in Chicago until a short time ago, when Mr. Marsh received him from an aid society in that city. He proved his thieving disposition in a short time after arriving, and then his last venture in that line was the stealing of one of Mr. Marsh's horses. The boy was here last Saturday and offered the horse for sale, but those who were approached thought the animal a stolen one, and Johnson was consequently placed under arrest, but was finally released after telling a fairly plausible story. The same day a copy of the Goodland Herald announced a reward of $25 for the horse and thief. Mr. McColl saw it and on Sunday morning went in pursuit of the young man, whom he found at the residence of a Mr. Murphy, near Surrey. He was arrested and brought to Rensselaer and placed in jail. He had a preliminary hearing on Monday and was bound over to court to await a final trial. The boy is about 17 years of age, and had come very well recommended to Mr. Marsh, who had intended to have the young man make his future home with him. He will probably get a term at the reform school at Plainfield.

Warm Virtuals.

When a man gets up in a meeting of workingmen and advocates the use of bayonets in redressing labor's wrongs, you may set it down that the sight of a gun would throw him into spasms. Men who are not brave enough to vote for their interests are too internally cowardly to fight.

Labor Signal.

If Christ were on earth today and attempted to overturn the business of the money changers he would find the gang stronger than they were in the year 1.—Tarkio Independent.

Old party papers are saying that Governor Lewelling was once a tramp, and that it was a great pity that he did not remain a hangman, and it is a greater pity that he did not remain in the only business he was ever fitted for.—Industrial Union, Lamar Mo.

For years Democracy has regaled the people with their free trade threnody but now their chief labor is to keep a quorum. Like their work on all other lines, they must wait to hear the echo from Wall street.—Greely News, Kansas.

We boast of our civilization because it does not show the shining blade of a battles axe at every turn of the road, but it marshals lobbies against Legislatures, converts wealth into non-assessable bonds, overawed the people with Pinkerton thugs, and robs labor through taxation and usury. Civilization freed the chattels, but there are now more white slaves sewing cotton than there were black slaves picking it thirty years ago, and more money and brains are now devoted to flinging wealth from labor than are combined with labor to produce it.—K. of L. Journal.

Returns from the spring election this week throughout the state of New York show that the Republicans are almost annihilating the Democratic party in that state. For the past twelve years in the east, it is the old story from the frying pan into the fire, and from the fire into the frying pan.—Ottawa, Kansas, Journal.

Alliance Notes.

The principal cause of some few departing from the Alliance principles seem to be this: By nature they are not fitted for the trying ordeal of suppressing prejudice and selfish ambition.

"To constantly strive to secure harmony and good will among mankind." How can those who are not pure in heart comply with the command? Man allows his better nature to reign? Cast off selfish feelings and take on the better and more humane principles of justice to all.

County Alliances are paying their dues, indicating health and prosperity. Let the good work go on until trusts and combines are a thing of the past.

Credit does not encourage thrift, which comes from economy and saving. Credit helps to keep the working man dependent, and at the mercy of his employer. Credit increases the cost of living and distribution, and otherwise affects the cost of production, in every branch of manufacture, at least twenty-five per cent. Credit inflicts upon the community a frightful tax for the support of an army of accountants, lawyers, and others, and this tax falls upon the consumers.

Stricken Down with Heart Disease.

Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

gentlemen, I feel it my duty, as well as a pleasure, to make known the wonderful benefit received from Dr. Miles' specific REMEDIES. I was stricken down with Heart Disease and its complications, a rapid pulse varying from 90 to 140 beats per minute, a choking or burning sensation in the wind pipe, oppression of the chest, much pain in the region of the heart and below the rib, pain in the shoulder, difficulty in breathing, weakness and general debility. The arteries in the neck would throb violently, the throbbing of my heart could be heard across a large room and would make my whole body. I was so nervous that I could not sleep. My pulse was rapid, I have been under the treatment of eminent physicians, and have taken gallons of Patent Medicines without the least benefit. A friend recommended your remedies. She was cured by Dr. Miles' specific REMEDIES. I have been taken three bottles of Dr. Miles' specific REMEDIES. I have no more violent throbbing of the heart. I AM A WELL MAN. I heartily recommend every one with symptoms of Heart Disease to take Dr. Miles' specific REMEDIES and be cured.
