

INDIANA STATE NEWS.

At Indianapolis Nettie McBride, who accused her father of assaulting her and afterwards recanted, was sent to the reformatory for two years.

At the republican city convention at Terre Haute, Mayor Fred A. Ross and City Clerk Charles H. Goodwin were renominated.

Mrs. J. W. Willard, the woman who defrauded Perret Newkirk out of a $300 board bill at North Vernon, and who jumped her bond and went to Illinois, has been brought back on a requisition of the governor.

The people's party of the Valparaiso district has issued a call for its congressional convention, which will be held at Logansport on June 14. Gen. Weaver, of Iowa, and Congressman Simpson will both be present. The populist leaders have made overtures to the democrats that if they nominate a free silver man they will indorse him.

A FINE deposit of "glass" sand was discovered on Eli Passwater's farm, near Lapel, Madison county, recently. It is believed it will supply the entire gas belt with sand for twenty years.

JOHN R. LAMB, a farmer near Farm-land, has a freak in the shape of a calf, born dead, with two bodies, eight legs, two tails and one head. Each body contained a set of lungs, while one heart supplied both.

A SECRET state convention of the A. P. A. was held at Indianapolis, a few days since.

At La Porte Wm. Buck, a manufacturer, was instantly killed, and his brother, Robert Buck, seriously injured, by being run down by a Lake Shore train.

An unknown man, about 55 years of age, was found dead by the side of the railroad track a few miles west of Mitchell.

The citizens are demanding fire protection at Walkerton.

A WATER works will probably be established at Chesterton.

The lady minstrels at La Porte are receiving invitations to visit other towns.

REV. NEAL, of Bean Blossom, Brown county, has written to Columbus to employ an attorney to bring damage and libel suit against Presiding Elder Dashiell, of the Southeast Indiana conference, for charging him with appropriating another clergyman's sermon and delivering it as his own, and other conduct not becoming a minister of the gospel.

M. EPSTEIN, a clothier of Frankfort, failed a few days ago. Supposed liabilities, $17,000; assets, $12,000; preferred creditors, $8,900. Principal creditors are Chicago and Cincinnati houses. Samuel Sommerfield is made assignee.

At Richmond, Moses Collier, colored, was arrested charged with the murder of his wife. The coroner, in the inquest, pronounced death due to brutality.

WHILE drilling a well on North Meridian street, Portland, a vein of sand was struck which proves very rich in gold and discounts any find yet made. The sand is full of the precious metal and withstood the most severe acid tests that could be applied. Considerable excitement was caused by the strike, and the belief that there is a great gold field there is stronger than ever.

Two new churches have been built at South Bend this year.

The President has appointed Frank W. Cutsinger to be postmaster at Edinburg.

THE mystery connected with the robbery of the mails at the South Bend post office is at last cleared. David E. Boone, mail carrier, was arrested the other afternoon. On being confronted with evidence, he weakened and made a confession. For months money orders, drafts, notes and money disappeared from mail remittances. Recently Boone resigned, and a few days later moved into other property. The owner of the vacated building cleaned up and found a letter containing a money order for $2.17 sent to County Treasurer Genn, in payment for a fire insurance assessment from Mishawaka.

At Shelbyville, a few days ago, Cameron L. Lympus, guardian of William Drake, an insane epileptic, received information that Drake had been granted an increase of pension to $73 a month, and back pay to the amount of $8,397.09.

G. W. STERCK, a well-known manufacturer who has been in Anderson and Muncie for some time, has disappeared very mysteriously. He was a radical A. P. A. man.

A PILOT NEEDED.

One Who is Level Headed and Patriotic, and Who is Able to Pilot the Old Ship of State from the Dangerous Breakers Upon Which she is Drifting.

No sooner was the seigniorage bill passed, and while the people of the country were congratulating themselves that at least one step had been taken in the direction of increasing the currency of the country on a safe basis, than we learned that leading commercial bodies of the east were combining to protest against the signature of the bill by President Cleveland. Petitions asking the president to withhold his signature from the bill were forwarded to Washington from fifty prominent bankers, from the New York chamber of commerce and from the Philadelphia board of trade. A resolution was introduced in the house for the investigation of reports that members of the house committee on coinage had given assurance to President Cleveland that if the Bland seigniorage bill was signed no free coinage bill would be reported.

It is not at all encouraging, to citizens who are neither "goldites" nor "silverites," but who simply desire to see a satisfactory solution of the vexed financial problem in the interest of the country at large—it is not, we say, encouraging to patriotic citizens to notice the frequent cropping out in the financial centers of the east of a persistent effort to defeat, by fair means or foul, and at any cost, the effort which is being made to mitigate the prevailing financial stringency by increasing the present volume of currency on a safe basis. It is evident, from this action of the leading commercial and financial bodies of the east, that these people are not merely opposed to the wild and questionable plans of the silver men, but they are opposed to any movement that would insure reasonable recognition of the white metal. In fact, we are forced to the conclusion that these people would like to see the finances of the country brought to a strictly gold basis, and silver degraded to a merely commercial metal. It is difficult to interpret the actions of eastern financial leaders and their servants in congress in any other manner.

This is the more to be regretted as it makes the possibility of arriving at a satisfactory settlement of our present troubles much more difficult.

These respected bankers and bondholders of New York and Boston and Philadelphia are, in one sense, as dangerous to this country at the present time as are such cranks as Coxey, who proposes to lead an army of men to Washington, to demand, among other things, that the government coin an unlimited quantity of silver or paper and call it money. The country appears to be suffering just now from an epidemic of extremes—extreme views on the part of those who have much and crave for more, and other extreme views on the part of those who because they have nothing are jealous of the rich. As we have before observed, this country is at present in sore need of a few patriotic, level headed statesmen, who will take charge of the ship of state and pilot her out of the dangerous breakers toward which she is at present drifting.—Los Angeles Times.

A PROLIFIC STUDY.

The Silver Question is Receiving the Attention of the People.

While President Cleveland was lately studying the seigniorage bill other people were also reading up on the silver question. As a distinguished Englishman puts it, "this silver question is the biggest American issue since the war of the rebellion," so it is but natural that people of all classes and conditions should be giving it some attention. And to show the respect that is being paid to the silver cause even by its enemies we find a statement in the financial column of the Chicago Tribune, a most pronounced anti-silver paper, that an international silver conference in the near future is a strong probability, and that this time our country will not have to take a secondary place and have to submit to the patronizing airs of Europe. As a matter of special interest bearing on this changed prospect, the Tribune quotes from a letter from a member of one of the foremost banking houses of London and Paris, in which he says: "Rest assured that there will be another silver conference. Every important nation will join it. The United States will this time command a more serious position than ever before any of the European nations were willing to accord." The letter adds that it is open talk in inner circles that the Prince of Wales "is becoming something of a devotee of the bimetallic doctrines of Goschen." When the Tribune's New York correspondent went among the bankers of the metropolis and asked their opinions as to the prospects of another international conference, it was generally conceded that such a conference was certain.—Portland (Ore.) Telegram.

Intrinsic Value.

People who talk of intrinsic value forget that much of the value is put into the metal by the demand created by law. Is there such a thing as an absolute staple dollar. If there is we all want it. If you can show us a dollar which is the same yesterday, to-day and forever; if you can show us a dollar which changes not from generation to generation, the people certainly would take that dollar, even if they had to turn every mine into a wilderness. There is no such dollar. The simple contention now is, which dollar is the best dollar; what kind of a standard is the best standard? What kind of a standard will give the least fluctuation and the most justice? Does any one say the gold standard is inviolable? Let me say if there is such a one, you cannot find a writer on political economy who is willing to stake his reputation on the statement. No dollar, whether it be based upon gold or based upon silver or based upon both, is an absolute staple and inviolable dollar.—Hon. W. J. Bryan.

If your nearest, best and most esteemed neighbors had written the following letters they could be no more worthy of your confidence than they now are, coming, as they do, from well known, intelligent and trustworthy citizens who, in their several neighborhoods, enjoy the fullest confidence and respect of all.

Mrs. F. L. Inman, of Manton, Wexford Co., Mich., whose portrait heads this article, writes as follows: "I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription about a year ago. For years I have suffered with falling and ulceration of the womb, but to-day, I am enjoying perfect health."

I took four bottles of the 'Prescription' and two of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Every lady suffering from female weakness should try the 'Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery.'

Miss Mary J. Tanner, North Lawrence, St. Lawrence Co., N. Y., writes: "I was sick for four years. For two years I could do no work. I had five different physicians, who pronounced my case a poor or impoverished condition of the blood, and uterine trouble. I suffered a great deal with pain in both sides, and much tenderness on pressing over the womb. I bled at times in my bowels and limbs; was troubled with leucorrhoea. I could not sleep, and was troubled with palpitation of the heart. Suffered a great deal of pain in my head, temples, forehead and eyes. I had a troublesome cough, raised a great deal of mucus at times experienced a good deal of pain in my chest and lungs. My voice at times was very weak. I suffered excruciating monthly, periodical pains. Since taking seven bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription some time ago, I have enjoyed better health than I have for more than four years previously; in fact, for several months past I have been able to work at sewing. I have gained in weight thirty-nine pounds since taking your medicine; the soreness and pain have disappeared."

Yours truly,
Mary J. Tanner

Mrs. Alex. Robertson, of Half Rock, Mercer Co., Mo., writes: "For twenty years, I suffered with womb disease and most of the time I was in constant pain which rendered life a great burden. I cannot express what I suffered. I had eight doctors and all the medicine I had from them failed—the one after the other."

I was nervous, cold hands and feet, palpitation, headache, backache, constipation, leucorrhoea and no appetite, with bearing-down pains. I got so weak I could not walk around. I had to keep my bed, thinking I would never get any better."

One day my husband got one of your little books and read it to me. He said there was nothing doing me any good. I said I would try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I did try it. After the first few weeks my appetite was better; I was able to sit up in bed. I wrote to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, at Buffalo, N. Y., and described my case; they sent me a book on woman's diseases. I read carefully and followed the directions as near as I could and took the medicine for two years. With the blessing of God and your medicines, I am entirely cured. That was three years ago."

Yours truly,
Mrs. Alex. Robertson

"Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leucorrhoea, excessive flowings, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions, and irregularities, prolapsus, or falling of the womb, weak back, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb, inflammation, pain and tenderness in ovaries, accompanied with "internal heat."
