A CATTLE train on the Belt road, south of Indianapolis, was derailed the other morning by unknown parties. A switch was thrown and eight cars were wrecked. The train was running slowly at the time, which probably prevented a fearful accident, as there were eleven deputy marshals and a gang of trainmen on the cars at the time. Richard Sellers, a deputy, was hurled to the ground and his leg broken.

A SAD double drowning occurred the other night in St. Joe river at Ft. Wayne. Albert Kent and Inez Golden went up the river late on the evening of the Fourth in a canoe. They did not return, but no attention was paid to their absence until next morning a boating party reported that they saw a canoe floating upside down a mile up the river.

Mike Singleton, a chum of Kent's, formed a searching party, and in about three hours Miss Golden's body was recovered about one hundred feet from shore. Kent's body was found fifteen feet from that of Miss Golden. The man's watch had stopped at 9:12, about the hour it is supposed the accident occurred. Kent came here from Lancaster, O., and his body was shipped to his mother in that city. Miss Golden's home is in Bryan, and her remains were sent there for interment.

Three masked men entered the home of Albert Renhaus, at Leo, Allen county, the other evening at 9 o'clock, and threatened Mrs. Renhaus. She called to her husband, who was about to retire. When Mr. Renhaus entered the room the intruders fired on him. One bullet entered his neck and two others entered his right breast near the heart. The masked men turned and left the house and physicians were called to attend Renhaus. The man can not live. No reason is assigned for the crime, as Renhaus is an Omaha farmer who was never known to have had an enemy. No clew whatever to the desperadoes.

DEADLY SHOTS.

Fired by Regulars at Spring Valley Strikers—Two of the Latter Killed.

LAUREL, Ill., July 11.—The striking miners came in contact with United States regular troops at Spring Valley Tuesday evening and the result was the first fatality of the recent disturbances. Two strikers were killed and two rioters and three deputy sheriffs wounded.

The United States soldiers arrived at Spring Valley at 4:30 p. m. They came into town from Chicago on a passenger train of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad, which they were guarding through the mining region. As the train pulled into town the engineer and fireman were greeted with a shower of stones from a mob of Lithuanians, Italians, Belgians and Poles who had taken possession of the hill overlooking the depot. When the train stopped the troops were ordered to the station platform. The unexpected sight of the men in blue brought out jeers and hoots from the strikers on the hill. Several stones were also thrown at the troops.

The miners outnumbered the soldiers ten to one, and the leaders of the mob considered, judging by their actions, that they had an easy prey. The leaders in their various languages spoke to their following and the latter grew more demonstrative. Stones continued to fill the air until the captain of the company raised his hand and ordered the men to cease their throwing. While he was speaking there was a slight cessation, and at the conclusion of his remarks a shower heavier than any previous filled the air. The captain then turned to his company and ordered them to take aim and fire. The raising of the hammers caused a distinctive click, and as the volley rang out two men in the mob fell to the ground. They were both in the rear of the mob and higher on the hill.

At Spring Valley the alien miners indulged in rioting and carousing all day. Later in the day squads of miners came in from Peru, La Salle, Oglesby and other mining towns. They considered their forces insufficient to make an attack in the city, however, and about 11 o'clock drifted out to shaft No. 3, located 1 mile west of the city. The militia were informed of this move and a detachment intercepted the rioters when they were within a few blocks of the shaft. The rioters were much enraged at their failure to carry out their designs and gave the militia much trouble. They did not disperse until several of their number were severely prodded by the bayonets of the militia.

From Leadville all deputies that could be spared were rushed on to Spring Valley. S. T. Powell, proprietor of the City hotel at Princeton, took over a load in a wagon and when he was about half way back a number of Italian rioters opened fire upon him from a thicket. Four shots were fired by them, two taking effect in his face. He drew a revolver and fired four shots. One man gave a groan and fell. He was carried away by his companions.

The strikers have induced the city council to pass a resolution to the effect that Mayor Jack should at once order the state militia out of the city limits. In response to a telegram to Gov. Altgeld the troops were ordered to remain at their present location.

The city council has employed attorneys who are working on an opinion. It is likely that the council will swear in a large force of strikers as special police to move the militia unless the latter are soon reinforced by additional troops.

The situation in Spring Valley has been growing more complicated every hour. Sheriff Cox, as yet, has made no attempt to arrest the rioters, who have so far either destroyed or carried off over $85,000 worth of property. Some of the miners' residences are said to be literally filled with furniture and plunder they have secured the last few days, and as a result they are in high spirits.

SHOOK UP THE TURKS.

Constantinople Visited by an Earthquake—Loss of Life Reported.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 11.—Two violent earthquake shocks were felt here Tuesday. Each shock lasted about twenty seconds. Although some damage was done, the extent of it is not known. The inhabitants have become greatly alarmed, and are fleeing from their houses in anticipation of further and more serious disturbances. The earthquake shocks did much damage to the city, and several people are reported to have been killed. All the public offices, the banks and the Bourse have been closed. The population of Constantinople is so terrified that many thousands of people are camping out in the open air. Two disastrous fires have already occurred and telegraphic communication is interrupted.

It is believed that fifty persons have lost their lives and that the number of injured far exceeds that figure. The loss to property will be very large. There have also been severe shocks of earthquake in Smyrna, the island of Scio and in the Dardanelles. No damage was done, as far as known, but telegraphic communication between the places named and Constantinople has been cut off and details have not been received.

A PROCLAMATION.

President Cleveland Warns the People of Chicago and Illinois.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—The following dispatch was sent from the war department to Gen. Miles at Chicago Sunday evening:

"In view of the provisions of the statutes and for the purpose of giving ample warning to all innocent and well-disposed persons, the president has deemed it best to issue the following proclamation to-night. This does not change the scope of your authority and duties, nor your relation to the local authorities. You will please make this known to Mayor Hopkins."

Just before midnight President Cleveland issued the following:

"PROCLAMATION
By the President of the United States:
Whereas, by reason of the unlawful obstructions, combinations and assemblages of persons it has become impracticable, in the judgment of the president, to enforce by the military and naval forces of the United States the laws of the United States within the state of Illinois, and especially in the city of Chicago, within said state; and

"Whereas, for the purpose of enforcing the faithful execution of the laws of the United States and protecting its property and removing obstructions to the United States mails in the state and city aforesaid, the president has employed a part of the military of the United States;
Now, therefore, I, Grover Cleveland, president of the United States, do hereby admonish all good citizens and all persons who may be or may come within the city and state aforesaid, against aiding, countenancing, encouraging or taking part in such unlawful obstructions, combinations and assemblages, or in any way connected with such unlawful obstructions, combinations and assemblages, to disperse and retire peaceably to their respective abodes on or before 12 o'clock noon on the 6th day of July last.

"Those who disregard this warning and persist in taking part with a riotous mob in forcibly resisting and obstructing the execution of the laws of the United States, or interfering with the functions of the government, or destroying, or attempting to destroy the property belonging to the United States or under its protection, cannot be regarded otherwise than as public enemies.

"Troops employed against such a riotous mob will act with all the moderation and forbearance consistent with the accomplishment of the desired end, and the necessity that confronts them will not permit of any discrimination between guilty participants and those who are mingled with them from curiosity and without criminal intent. The only safe course, therefore, for those not actually unlawfully participating is to abide at their homes, or at least not to be found in the neighborhood of riotous assemblages.

"While there will be no hesitation or vacillation in the decisive treatment of the guilty, this warning is especially intended to protect and save the innocent."

"GROVER CLEVELAND."

ANOTHER PROCLAMATION.

The President Also Warns Rioters in the West.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—After the president returned from his drive Monday evening he found secretary Gresham and the attorney general and Postmaster General Bissell and Gen. Schofield awaiting him in the cabinet room. Their information was of such nature that within an hour after the president reached the white house another proclamation was drafted. This related to the troubles in North Dakota, Idaho, Utah territory and other points along the line of the Central and Southern Pacific railways. In his latest proclamation the president of the United States directed all people to cease interfering with United States mail trains or interstate commerce traffic by 4 o'clock to-day.

Commenting upon the proclamations issued by the president, Gen. Schofield said that they did not in any way affect the authority of state or federal officers, but were merely in the nature of warnings to the people. This warning was necessary and proper, but was not tantamount to a declaration of martial law. Under martial law the authority of state officials would be superseded by federal authority.

JEALOUSY ENDS IN MURDER.
Anton Schaefer Shot and Killed by Col. James M. Vanhook.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., July 7.—Anton Schaefer and Col. James M. Vanhook became engaged in an encounter at Charlestown, and the former was shot and almost instantly killed. The difficulty was the outgrowth of jealousy on the part of Schaefer. Some months ago he became enamored of Mrs. Jennie Young Bean, widow of the late Edwin Bean, who died in Chicago, where he and his wife resided some two years ago. Col. Vanhook was Mrs. Bean's accepted suitor. He arrived at Charlestown from Fort Mead, Fla., ten days ago and delivered an address before the Keeley league at the fair grounds. Since Vanhook's arrival in Charlestown Schaefer has made repeated threats to take his life. Vanhook went before a magistrate and asked that a peace warrant be issued against Schaefer. The official declined to issue one on the grounds that Vanhook was a non-resident. After the address Col. Vanhook and Mrs. Bean left the fair grounds together. Schaefer was closely in the rear and watched every movement. On being seated in his vehicle Vanhook spied his pursuer and commanded him to halt. Schaefer continued to advance until he reached for the lapel of Vanhook's coat. Vanhook thereupon drew his weapon, fired, and Schaefer received a bullet in his breast from the effects of which he died a few minutes later. Col. Vanhook gave himself up, but was subsequently released on $3,000 bond.

COST FOUR LIVES

Terrible Results of a Fight Between Factions at Catlettsburg, Ky.

CATLETTSBURG, Ky., July 10.—In a street encounter here John and Ballard Faulkner, brothers, were instantly killed, and Charles Justice was killed and Dave Justice fatally wounded. Ballard Plymale was also seriously wounded. Plymale is now in jail, together with Lou Cole, a member of the Cincinnati lumber firm of C. Crane & Co., who was with the Justice faction. The trouble arose over a woman who was sick upon the street and who, the Justice boys claimed, was being neglected by the town authorities. Ballard Faulkner was a member of the council.

Work on Drainage Canal Stopped.
JOLIET, Ill., July 10.—The contractors of the drainage canal have been compelled to discharge their men and abandon work on account of the scarcity of coal. This will be a great drawback to the contractors.

A New Attorney.
WASHINGTON, July 10.—President Cleveland sent to the senate the name of Sherwood Dixon, of Dixon, Ill., to be United States attorney for the northern district of Illinois to succeed T. C. Milchrist.

SENTIMENT IN VERSE.

Between the Sun and Moon.
I hear a plowman, far away,
Fieldward singing so,
Sheep bells are ringing in the day,
Softly the cattle low.

I smell grass flowers, the birds are out,
I'm happy, and must sing;
The bass are plunging, leap the trout,
The brook is murmuring.

Wind from the south, a sign of luck,
A dreamy dawn in June,
Above the western hill-top stuck
A splinter of the moon.

My rod is of cedar red,
As fragrant as a rose,
My line is like a spider's thread,
When down the stream it goes.

The water chills my wading boots,
And sparkles round my thighs,
The pool below my tangled roots
Makes faces at my flies.

O who would not a-fishing go
At break of day in June,
When the green world is swinging low
Between the sun and moon!

A silver splash, a rise, a rise!
A lunge, a sudden strain,
And then my line in circles flies,
Like reeling off a skein.

A monster! My rod is bent,
A hoop from butt to tip;
Will every joint about be bent?
Ho, what a lofty skip!

Three glorious thrills. The trout I play,
The rising sun of June,
And, in the west so soft and gray,
A splinter of the moon.

A Merry Heart.
Clear day or cloudy day,
Summer heart or cold,
A happy heart keeps holiday,
A merry heart is bold.

Thou the wind of fortune blow
Out of wintry skies,
Face it smiling as you go—
A merry heart is wise.

By and by the sun will shine,
Day must follow night;
Darkest hour is the sign
Of returning light.

God is in His heaven still,
Though the world denies;
And cheery courage waits on will—
A merry heart is wise.

Over rugged things we climb
To our best estate;
We shall stumble many a time,
But we conquer fate.

And we choose the better part
So that evil flies,
When we keep the dauntless heart,
The merry heart that's wise.

A Homing Song.
Oh, fierce is the heat,
And weary is the street,
And all day long
It is work, work, work!

But farewell work!
For love and a song,
When twilight's come,
And the heart turns home.

Oh, the nest for the bird,
And the hive for the bee,
And home, home, home,
For my dearies and me!

Oh, care flies far
From the twilight star;
Is love, love, love,
And warm breathes love.

And warm breathes love,
Breathes love, breathes light,
O'er the small, kissed faces
In their pillowed places.

Oh, the nest for the bird,
And the hive for the bee,
And home, home, home,
For my dearies and me!

Who Is My Neighbor?
Who is my neighbor? It is he
Who needs a gift my hands can give,
Whose human misery leads to me
His claim to help, his right to live.

I cannot slight the gracious law
That makes a next-door sorrow mine,
Nor shun a sufferer's tears that draw
My heart with pity's cords divine.

Some Impossible Things.
Like Johnnie's pocket without a string,
Like a robin's breast that cannot sing,
Like a primer without an E C,
Like a field of clover without a bee,
Like a peacock without a tail to spread,
Like mother's needle without a thread,
Like a grown-up world without girls and boys
Is a Fourth of July without any noise.

On to Washington.
Three years ago, the only authentic map of the Virginia battlefields was prepared in the War Department for the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Co. It can with safety be asserted that it is the most interesting map ever published; and so great was the demand for the first edition that 100,000 were soon absorbed, but it has been re-issued for the occasion of the K. of P. Encampment at Washington in August, and will be mailed free after June 1st, upon application to C. B. Ryan, Assistant General Passenger Agent, C. & O. Ry., Cincinnati, O. In connection with the map is also a description of the grand and varied scenery of the Virginians, and the delightful Mountain and Sea Shore Resorts along the C. & O., as well as a sketch of the battlefields.
