READ THIS!

Being convinced that the credit system of doing business necessarily works an injustice to both merchant and good paying customers, we have concluded to adopt the

CASH SYSTEM

on and after September 1, 1894. We invite all of our old customers and as many others as wish to save a good discount for cash to call and see if we don't do as we agree to.

Stockholders' Meeting.

The Stockholders of the Pilot Publishing Co. will hold their annual meeting at the Makeever House in Rensselaer, on Saturday, Sept. 1, 1894. Every shareholder should be present at this meeting. By order of

L. E. GLAZEBROOK, Secy.

George Booker, living near Darlington, has made an experiment in fattening hogs on wheat. He fed twenty-four hogs. When he commenced he took fifty bushels of wheat ground coarse, and soaked in cold water, and fed the hogs. When this wheat was gone his hogs weighed 4,800 pounds, an average of 200 pounds. This wheat gained him 864 pounds, and as he received five cents per pound for his hogs, the 864 pounds extra gain in weight from feeding wheat at five cents per pound would be $43.50, or eighty-five cents per bushel for fifty bushels of wheat.

"You can always tell when there is going to be a change in the weather," remarked a local weather prophet this week, "by noticing a girl's bangs. I have found the sign better than all others I know of. No matter whether the bangs are naturally curly or whether art aids in the work, they are certain to become straight several hours before a storm. If rain is coming, the bangs will lose their curl four or five hours before it comes. Just watch this some day and see how true it is."

The marriage license trade has been on a regular boom since our last issue. County Clerk Coover reports the following: Eugene W. Lang to Anna Crawford; James R. Mallatt to Hattie Kessler; W. H. Bettice to Nora Bruner; Villeria Baum to Rettie Antrim; Michael Bridgeman to Clara J. Wyatt.

W. L. Swift has sold all of his blood hound pups except one, and some fellow got that one without paying for it. It is said that it could be found without much trouble.

Mrs. Smith and daughters and Miss Davis, of Chicago, are visiting with Will A. Mossler's family and other friends this week.

We must have room, and summer goods, prices cut in halves, will make it.

For some unknown reason, the croquet ground in the court house yard was deserted last Friday.

The town is full of school teachers this week. They are attending the county institute.

Last Monday evening the Southerns-Price Co. gave their farewell performance of "Faust" at the opera house, for the season. A splendid house greeted them and the universal verdict of the audience was that the rendition of this great play was of the highest order. All new scenery was used in the production and added much to the smoothness of the performance.

The town is full of school teachers this week. They are attending the county institute.

Miss Jennie Miller has returned from her three weeks vacation in Chicago, and is now attending the Institute.

Mrs. S. T. Royal and daughter, Ada, of Lafayette, have been visiting with Art Cole and family.

The Arena for September contains a long review of the Chicago Strike of '94. The author dismisses the matter of riots and violence as being merely a matter for the municipal and state authorities to have dealt with under the provisions of the statutory criminal law, and not a question affecting the principles involved in the conflict between organized labor and organized capital. He then addresses himself to critical analysis of the rights of both parties in the conflict. These he defines according to the greatest legal authorities, Blackstone, Coke and others, and the common law constitution of the United States, and by the same analysis he defines the nature and functions of the State and Federal Governments. Then the author declares the proper equilibrium of rights under the law, and shows the peril of such a confusion and perversion of them as was manifested during the labor troubles in Chicago. The paper is written in a very philosophic spirit, but it does not lack irony and wit.

There is to be a reunion of the 46th, 48th and 87th regiments of Indiana Inf't. Vol., at this place on the 29th and 30th of this month. All the surviving soldiers of either one of these regiments are expected to be present. A program of exercises is prepared and will be printed in the papers of the 10th congressional district. The good people of Rensselaer ought to try to make it pleasant for these old veterans while they are here.

In another column will be found a notice of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Pilot Publishing Co. The date is Saturday, Sept. 1. All those interested are requested to be present on that day. The meeting will be held at the Makeever House.

Headache is the direct result of Indigestion and Stomach Disorders. Remedy these by using De Witt's Little Early Risers and your Headache disappears. The favorite Little Pill everywhere. A. F. LONG & CO.

Fred Harrison, the female impersonator who was with the Kickapoo Medicine Co. here last winter, was in town last Tuesday. He is with the Seneca Medicine Co. and they are at Mt. Ayr this week.

The "Happy Go Lucky Club" together with their escorts, picnicked at Nagle's grove, last Wednesday. It is needless to say that all enjoyed the occasion.

Mrs. T. J. Sayler, whose serious illness we mentioned last week, is slowly improving, and hopes are entertained of her speedy recovery to health.

Will Mossler failed to buy enough goods last week, so he has returned to Chicago and is again inspecting stocks and making purchases.

The Hoosier militia will hold no encampment this year. Their service in the recent strike was sufficient and they are satisfied.
