

After THREE MONTHS

of Daily Wear

This Collar

Is Still in Good Condition.

That's because it's the "CELLULOID" Collar. Its original cost was 25 cents, and it cost the wearer nothing afterwards to keep it clean. When soiled, simply wipe off with sponge or wet cloth.

These collars and cuffs are waterproof, and are the only waterproof goods made with an underlining of linen; therefore the only ones that can last and give absolute satisfaction. Every piece of the genuine is stamped as follows:

Refuse anything that is not so marked, and if your dealer has not got the right kind send direct to us, enclosing amount, and we will mail you a sample postpaid. Collars 25 cts. each. Cuffs 50cts. pair. Give size, and state whether stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted.

427-29 Broadway, NEW YORK.

Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly.

In the March number of Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly the wonderful story of the life and inventions of Thomas Alva Edison is set forth, in an article by Henry Tyrrell, with the apparent purpose of contrasting an actual living hero, a modern conqueror of science, with the dark and sinister shadow of Napoleon as projected anew by the curious contemporary revival of his sanguinary legend. The paper is accompanied with some interesting illustrations, including new portraits of Edison, of his parents, wife, children, and scientific collaborators. Other important contributions to this unusually full and interesting number of Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly are: M. V. Moore's striking account of "The Great Salt Lake and Mormonism"; Captain H. D. Smith's stirring and patriotic account of "The United States Revenue Cutter Flag"; a delightful art paper upon "Cameos and Cut Gems," by Theo Tracy; "How Bronze Statues are Cast," with the latest works of American sculptors, by S. Milligan Miller; "Bulgarian Village Life," picturesquely illustrated, by Ceila R. Ladd; Personal Reminiscences of Charles Reade, by Howard Paul, and of Anton Rubinstein, by Mrs. W. K. L. Dickson; and a practical article, with many distinguished canine portraits, on "Dogs and their Keeping," by S. H. Ferris. There are good short stories and poems by Charles Edwardes, Louise Morgan Sill, Gertrude F. Lynch, Jessie M. Andrews, H. E. Armstrong, Julia D. Young, Annie L. Muzzy, Ernest Delancey Piereson, Norman Gale, and others.

THE PEOPLE'S PAPER.

No great daily in the United States is so closely in touch with the people as The Chicago Times. Its policy is progressive, liberal, tolerant. The Times holds that existing social, political, and industrial conditions are not founded upon the principle of equal rights to all and special privileges to none. That under existing conditions injustice necessarily done the mass of the people. The Times has its own convictions as to how these conditions may be amended. While urging its own beliefs strenuously and intelligently it does not dismiss with contempt or without a hearing the advocates of other economic reforms. The Times is fearless in its utterances and unwavering in its devotion to the great body of the people. The Times believes in free speech, the free coinage of silver, and radical tariff reform. The Times believes in government control of all natural monopolies. The Times believes in such a tax on land values as shall lighten the burden of the farmer and make the owner of valuable city property pay his just share. The Times believes in the wisdom and good faith of the people. The Times prints all the news from all the world in a manner interesting and instructive to all the people.

Silver Wedding Surprise.

Thomas A. and Mary Jane Crockett were recently given a genuine surprise at their home, five miles south-east of town, by a number of their friends and neighbors, upon the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary. The visitors brought their baskets well filled with delicacies and for the day the honored pair were made their guests. It was one of the happy events that only friends of long and intimate acquaintance know how to fully appreciate, and it will long be remembered. Mrs. Crocket's maiden name was Reed, and her home was Wabash, this state. An appropriate silver memento of the event was presented by Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pierson, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Wasson, Mr. and Mrs. Hass Wasson, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Given, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Will McCord, Paul and Miss Mable Wood.

Catholic Notes.

(Contributed.)
During the holy season of Lent a sermon will be preached in St. Augustine's church every evening at 7:45 on the devotion of the "Way of the Cross." For those not having been present at the opening sermon the following sketch may prove interesting: When but a few centuries had elapsed since the precious blood of our Redeemer was shed for us, pious Christians from all parts of the known world made pilgrimages to Jerusalem, there to visit the holy places, and to retrace the path rendered sacred to us by the footprints of our divine Savior, as he bent beneath the weight of his heavy cross. After some time pictures representing the different scenes in the Passion were erected at certain distances from each other along this "Way of the Cross," and, before each, the faithful would pause for awhile in wrapt meditation upon the dolorous mystery which the picture so vividly brought to their minds. When, at a later period, the Saracens seized upon the holy land, and it was no longer possible to visit the places so hallowed by the sufferings of a loving Savior, the Christians, with the approbation of the Popes, erected station pictures at other places also, to afford the faithful a means of meditating on the Passion of Christ, and the first who did this were the Franciscans.

The deep hold which the devotion had taken upon the hearts of all fervent Christians was soon manifested in the rapid and general diffusion, and there are very few Catholic churches today, upon the walls of which are not found pictures commemorative of the sorrowful "Way of the Cross."

The Washington's Birthday at the College.

The celebration of Washington's birthday was begun by the students attending in a body at highmass; which was celebrated by the Rev. Benedict Boebner, who also preached a most eloquent sermon in which he showed the propriety of Catholics paying honor to the memory of George Washington. After mass the Rev. Professors, visitors and students went to the armory, where all were pleasantly entertained by a well arranged series of games, races and contests. At 2 p. m. an exhibition drill by the college battalion took place in the armory. The Boebner Columbian Guards, which is a squad of the select men of the battalion, opened the exercises by giving a fancy drill.

This was followed by a drill by the Seifert Light Guards. The entire battalion then participated in the dress parade. The college band furnished excellent music during the intervals and also at the parade.

At the conclusion of the exercises Very Rev. Dinnen of Lafayette, in a few well chosen words congratulated both band and military on their performances. Father Dinnen was followed by Messrs. E. P. Honan and Sayler of Rensselaer, and Mr. Jacole Shloer of Hammond.

In the evening the Columbian Literary Society gave a program in the auditorium, which consisted of music by the college band, college orchestra, recitations, songs and a debate on the question: "Is Washington more deserving of our Gratitude than Lincoln?" A very exhilarating feature was the reading of the paper, "The Columbian," by Editor James Fitzpatrick.

The audience which consisted not only of students of the college but also of quite a number of ladies and gentlemen from Rensselaer, showed that they fully appreciated the program.

Box Social at Moat's School.

DEMOTTE, Feb. 25.—The box social held at the Moat's school house, taught by Miss Alma Hilton of Rensselaer, Saturday evening, Feb. 23, was a grand success, having a crowded house.

Boxes brought fair prices. Miss Josie Moats, receiving the largest number of votes for being the most popular girl present, received the prize, a beautiful book of poems. A SUBSCRIBER.
