

Did you ever see one of the famous waterproof Interlined Collars or Cuffs? It's very easy to tell, for they are all marked this way

They are the only Interlined Collars and Cuffs, and are made of linen, covered with waterproof "CELLULOID." They'll stand right by you day in and day out, and they are all marked this way

The first cost is the only cost, for they keep clean a long time, and when soiled you can clean them in a minute by simply wiping off with a wet cloth—that is the kind marked this way

OBITUARY NOTES.

Death of Mrs. S. K. Saylor.

The following is taken from a Weston, Ohio, paper. The subject of this obituary is the wife of Samuel K. Saylor, brother of Jacob, Isaac, Henry and Michael Saylor, who reside in Jasper county:

A loving mother's hands are clasped upon her breast. They have kissed her lovely brow. And in their aching hearts they know That they have no mother now.

No bitter tears had she to weep. No sobs to be forgiven; But gently closed her eyes in sleep To open them in heaven.

On Monday morning, April 29, 1895, at eleven o'clock, occurred the death of Juriah Saylor, wife of Samuel K. Saylor of this place. Juriah Culp was born in Pickaway county, Ohio, Oct. 15, 1817, and was married to S. K. Saylor Nov. 26, 1840.

They moved to Wood county in 1860 from Seneca county, where they had lived for some time.

Their married life has been blessed with thirteen children, six of which have preceded her to the starry land. Grandma Saylor united with the church in 1841, and has always been an active worker in the cause of religion. Her example has always been a Godly one to her family and all who knew her. She admonished her family to be true and devoted Christians. Her last words were: "Blessed are those who die in the Lord."

About two years ago she had a stroke of paralysis from which she never recovered, leaving her nearly helpless. Many times when she would try to walk she would fall; twice she fell with a lighted lamp in her hand, and on each occasion it went out, and thereby saved her from burning herself and home.

Grandma Saylor was 77 years, 6 months and 14 days old. She leaves a husband, five sons and two daughters, to mourn her death.

The funeral services will be held this forenoon (Friday), at 10 o'clock at the M. E. church, of which she was a member, under the auspices of Kokoshing Rebekah Lodge, No. 303, I. O. O. F., and the pastor of the church, Rev. Jacob Baumgardner. The burial will take place in the new cemetery.

Mrs. Saylor was a charter member of Kokoshing Rebekah Degree Lodge, joining the order with her husband in July, 1890, when it was instituted here.

Death of Chas. Warden.

The above well known young and respected citizen, after an illness of but ten days, died at his home in Rensselaer, at 5 a. m., Saturday, May 11th, and was buried from the Catholic church Monday morning. The funeral was very largely attended. He leaves a wife and three infant children, in very insecure circumstances. Mrs. Warden's maiden name was Gleason, and she has the sympathy of the entire community in her great loss. Mr. Warden was a very industrious man and may have taxed his strength and endurance beyond prudence.

Mrs. G. D. Warner and Mrs. M. P. Warner were called to Peoria, Ill., last Thursday to attend the funeral of Frank Hitchcock, whose wife is a niece of the last named lady. The death is particularly sad as the widow is a bride of but four months, and as Lizzie Warner she was very much admired by her many associates in Rensselaer, where she grew to womanhood. The cause of Mr. Hitchcock's death was blood poisoning from injuries received in the white lead works where he worked last winter. Mrs. Hitchcock returned to Rensselaer last Monday and will make her home as before with her grandmother, Mrs. F. W. Bedford.

For the German Baptist Brethren meeting to be held at Roanoke, Virginia, round trip tickets limited to 30 days will be sold from Rensselaer at the rate of $17.40, on sale from May 30, to June 4, one stop over on each line east of the Ohio river will be allowed on the return journey. W. H. BEAM, Ag't.

In preparing articles for publication writers should remember that if both sides of the paper are used the editor is obliged to copy before giving to the compositors. Kindly avoid this unnecessary trouble by using only one side, and it will thus ensure publication when it might otherwise be discarded.

Coin's Financial School (price 25c) is given free to every new trial subscriber of The People's Pilot. Twenty-five cents for three months.

BUILDING NOTES.

Partial Resume of the Work now in Progress, Completed and Proposed.

Mrs. M. E. Hopkins has her residence in the hands of the masons, carpenters and painters for extensive repairs.

Dr. Alter's residence which has been undergoing transformation for some weeks, is nearing completion and will be one of the prettiest houses in Rensselaer.

A. Leopold promises to put up a couple of $1,500 residences next to his home, on Front street.

The Leopold addition will be improved by four $1,000 houses by John Minicus, John W. Duvall, Dorris Smith and Hollingsworth & Paxton.

Stephen Cripps, and family are living in their new home.

Louie Hollingsworth has completed his new brick block next to McCoy's bank. It will be occupied at once by B. F. Ferguson for a law and real estate office, and by R. Phillips as a barber shop.

The county is to put in 300 feet of cement walk on the north side of the court house square.

New cement sidewalk has already been completed along both fronts of the McCoy bank and extending south past the new Hollingsworth block.

The Odd Fellows block will be the most notable building of the year. It will cost nearly $10,000 and will be the finest structure in Rensselaer.

M. S. LaRue will put up a nice residence on the west side this summer.

John Egan has the foundation started for a $5,000 residence.

W. T. Perkins has completed his $2,000 house on the east side.

Peter Hordeman, who lost his house by fire a few weeks ago, has a new residence nearly completed.

James Leatherman has given his residence the renewing effects of a treatment of paint harmonies. He has also beautified his lots by filling, leveling and sodding.

James Maloy has raised his home lot near the depot by filling in and resodding the same.

T. J. McCoy has had extensive alterations made in his west side residence. He is having a third story added and a rearrangement of rooms generally. The family is living temporarily occupying part of the double house near the bridge.

Luther Hemphill is decorating his house with a new coat of paint.

John Carmichael, the harness merchant, has moved into his new residence.

A. Leopold will at once fit up his building next the Cambe livery for a Chinese steam laundry.

August Rosenbaum will soon occupy his new $1,600 residence.

Will A. Mossler will move in a few days into the pretty new cottage built by Mrs. Leota Jones north of the Saylor Mills.

Wm. Schook, an old resident of this county, died at his home in Barkley township, May, 9th, 1895, aged 64 years. He was buried May, 10. Interment in the Brown cemetery, Barkley township.

Mrs. Ben Tuteur and children returned Tuesday from a visit with relatives in Peoria, Ill.

Geo. Dunlap, of Hoopeston, Ill., is visiting friends and relatives in Rensselaer. He is stopping at A. Woodworth's.
