

The Railroad Man, The Clergyman, The Business Man, and all other men who have to look neat while at work, should know about "CELLULOID" COLLARS AND CUFFS. They look exactly like linen, wear well and being waterproof do not wilt down with heat and moisture. They do not soil easily and can be cleaned in a moment by simply wiping off with a wet sponge or cloth. Do not confuse these in your mind with composition goods. Every piece of the genuine is stamped like this:

Ask for these and refuse anything else if you wish satisfaction. Remember that goods so marked are the only waterproof goods made by coating a linen collar with waterproof "Celluloid," thus giving strength and durability. If your dealer should not have the "Celluloid" send amount direct to us and we will mail you sample post-paid. Collars 25c. each. Cuffs, 50c. pair. State size and whether stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted.

THE CELLULOID COMPANY,
427-29 Broadway, New York.

Installation Service.

Rev. M. R. Paradis who has been duly elected Pastor of the Presbyterian church of this city, was formally installed last Wednesday evening.

Rev. D. P. Putnam and Rev. H. A. Percival both of Logansport and Rev. Rice of Monticello, duly appointed by Presbytery, performed the service.

Rev. Percival delivered the sermon, a masterly and exceptionally able discourse on "The Preacher for the Age."

The charge to the Pastor was delivered by Dr. Putnam, in his usually earnest and distinct style; the charge to the people was a plain well conceived and pointed talk by Mr. Rice exhorting the parishioners to an unflinching support of the pastor in whatever he should undertake. The pulpit was beautifully decorated with flowers, adding much to the impressiveness of the occasion.

Adam and Eve as Philanthropists.

One of the leading metaphysicians and spiritual thinkers of our day in America is Henry Wood, the author of "Ideal Suggestion," "Natural Law in the Business World," and "God's Image in Man." He contributes to the May Arena a paper on "Human Evolution the Fall," and shows that, accepting the evolutionary doctrine as the underlying truth of life, the so-called "fall" of the Bible was really the beginning of the ethical consciousness in mankind.

A Summer Resort at Home.

The proper way to enjoy life during the summer months is to resign the blistering cook stove to a condition of innocuous desuetude and purchase a gasoline stove of Warner & Son. They have the Monarch and Reliable, the two leading favorites; handsome, convenient, absolutely perfect in construction, and safer than coal or wood. Every stove guaranteed to give satisfaction. Prices within reach.

War As A Moral Agency.

In a striking and suggestive study called "Should War be Abolished?" published in the May Arena, Mr. F. P. Powell, the well known scientific publicist, raises the question whether peace under certain conditions of internal corruption and political abuse is not more to be feared than war. He seems to think that human nature is not yet sufficiently evolved on a plane of moral and spiritual rationalism to justify the abolition of war. His argument is able and masterly, as is everything which comes from his pen, and it should set thousands of Christians thinking seriously as to whether injustice and wrong are compatible with peace.

The Commonwealer in Fiction.

Miss Adeline Knapp, well known as one of the cleverest woman writers on the Pacific coast, has put the commonwealer of Coxe's army into fiction, as in a story called "The Wealer," which appears in the May Arena. It is a very suggestive commentary, not upon the fantastic Coxe movement, but upon existing industrial and social conditions.

As an analysis of the origin of much of the shocking crime that daily fills the newspaper, it suggests that there are Cains in our midst who never shed blood, but simply kill hope and opportunity.

Everybody who reads Miss Knapp's story carefully will be impressed with its fidelity to the aspect of every-day life, and its great power of suggesting all the complex forces of society in a simple sketch of individual experience. In Miss Knapp we have a new writer of fiction who will assuredly win a high place for herself.

Kindly avoid this unnecessary trouble by using only one side, and it will thus ensure publication when it might otherwise be discarded.

Knights of the Maccabees.

The State Commander writes us from Lincoln, Neb., as follows: "After trying other medicines for what seemed to be a very obstinate cough in our two children we tried Dr. King's New Discovery and at the end of two days the cough entirely left them. We will not be without it hereafter, as our experience proves that it cures where all other remedies fail."—Signed F. W. Stevens, State Com.—Why not give this great medicine a trial, as it is guaranteed and trial bottles are free at F. B. Meyer's Drug Store. Regular size 50c. and $1.00.
