Catholic Notes.

The semi-monthly program of the Stanislaus Literary Society in the Forester's hall last Sunday evening proved to be quite an intellectual feast. These programs are becoming more popular and are creating great interest among the better portion of the congregation. Lovers of music are most pleasantly entertained by our accomplished musicians, Messrs. John and Jerry Healy and their sister, Miss Maggie. Lovers of literary work enjoyed and will enjoy an intellectual treat in the literary productions of Miss Annie Walters and Mr. William Beck through their society paper called "The Gazette." The declamations by the Misses Josie Bartelle and Maggie Healy merited and received enthusiastic applause. The select reading by Mr. William Donnelly will also prove very useful, bringing home to the mind the principal tenets of our holy religion.

The society has all reason to glory in its achievements of the past, and will undoubtedly by its efforts and upon its own merits, increase its membership and its means of doing good.

Those who considered it the work of a few months when it was organized, must acknowledge now that it will live and flourish, when they behold the attractive club room, the increasing volumes in the library, the good reading matter on the tables and the programs given semi-monthly in the Forester's hall. There are so many societies in our days, some of them are good, some doubtful, others evidently bad. Why should not such a society as ours increase and multiply? Experience shows that this literary society meets a great want. It will educate, refine and keep the young people around the church, strengthen them in the profession and practice of their faith, render them proof against all sneers and taunts, create an esprit de corps which is so powerful in its influence for good, when then the object of the society is good, as also for evil, when it is the opposite.

Next Sunday is the Feast of Pentecost or the Descent of the Holy Spirit upon the apostles. Services will be conducted at 8 and 10 o'clock a. m. At the early service the members of the Altar Sodality will receive holy communion in a body.

At 10 a. m. there will be solemn service. The Rev. Markus Hamburger will preach the sermon.

The St. Augustine's choir will render La Haches' Mass in honor of St. Louise; the mass is an excellent arrangement and contains nicely chosen solos for the different voices.

June Festival

Popular Concerts and Lectures.

Under the Auspices of the Epworth L. Trinity M. E. Church.

June 3rd to 7th, Inclusive.

Monday Evening, June 3rd.

The accomplished Violinist, Prof. August Wolf, of LaPorte. An artist of rare merit. Born and educated in Germany. Prof. Charles Rumely, also of LaPorte, presiding at the piano. An occasion of special interest to all lovers of good music.

Tuesday Evening, June 4th.

The World's Fair Quartette, the popular lady singers, of Lafayette. They won their first laurels at the World's Fair. Their enthusiastic reception by the public, wherever they appear is their sufficient commendation. They are easily pre-eminent.

Wednesday Evening, June 5th.

The Rev. C. N. Sims, D. D., the popular pastor of Meridiana—trete M. E. church, Indianapolis. Dr. Sims was for many years a prominent attorney in B. L. Moore and Brooklyn; eight or nine years chancellor of Syracuse, (N. Y.) University. His brilliant career as an educator and minister is well known. He is everywhere in demand as a lecturer on educational and popular themes. It is our good fortune that he comes to R. nsselaer.

Thursday Evening, June 6th.

The Artist-Orator Rollie K. Bryer, in Chalktalk Chalk, both afternoon and evening.

Mr. Mr. Bryan discusses great subjects, and illustrates every point; painting life-size and life-like performing pictures, in the presence of the audience; applying chalk, several colors, with both hands at once, upon a large revolving, white blackboard, bringing about indescribable transformations and surprises; covering, during a single lecture, more than one hundred square feet of plain un-outlined surface, with pictures and caricatures. He talks with his tongue and hands simultaneously.

His transformation scenes are more interesting and curious than the dissolving views of a stereopticon.

Thursday Afternoon—Three O'clock. Children's Rally.

Chalk Talk for the Children at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Adults welcome as well as children, but for one hour, 3 o'clock, let the children have the right of way. Aside from the pleasure they will enjoy, they can hardly fail to receive, incidentally, an instructive lesson in the art of free-hand drawing. Let all the children come.

Friday Evening, June 7th.

Grand Vocal and Instrumental concert. Home Talent. The best of the wine at the close of the feast.

ADMISSION.
