SAILOR HATS 10c
A special sale, beginning Saturday, May 25, at Meyer sisters, worth 25c.

Band master Weaver is teaching a class in music at Lowell.

Among the pleasant callers at the Pilot office this week was John W. Darner of Medaryville.

High and cheaper grade bicycles for sale by W. E. Overton at Randle's Implement store.

Wm. Hudson, of Fair Oaks, came down last Saturday to do business in the hub and to shake hands with his printer.

The sprinkling wagon is doing a good job, and even if the sulpherous fragrance of the aquaous element is noticeable, its purifying effect may serve a purpose.

The largest and finest line of wall papers ever in Northern Indiana, and at the lowest prices At Frank B. Meyer's "old reliable" drug store.

Chas Yeoman, of Valma, while in town Saturday paid the Pilot a pleasant visit and looked over the new press and apertures.

Robert Randle is agent for the Deering binders and mowers. Don't fail to get prices before buying.

C. W. Harris, of Remington, was in town Monday and dropped in on the printers and made them a generous payment on subscription.

More rain is needed. In fact the ground is so dry that it would require a steady soaker of at least 24 hours duration to be a safe guard against a drouth. The recent night showers have only moistened the surface.

G. A. R. suits in Slater's Best, at Special cut rate prices to old veterans. Fendig's Fair.

Walter Hershman, of Medaryville, spent a few minutes with the Pilot folks Monday morning.

J. P. Monnett, has started up his machine shop at the depot again. The new threshing machine which he has been experimenting with for the past eight years, is believed now to have been perfected and one will be completed and put into the harvest this year. It is a self feeder, screens the grain, and has other valuable improvements. If it is all that is expected, it will be the nucleus of a manufacturing plant for Rensselaer, if it can be given proper encouragement.

Whitewash lime, always on hand at Meyer's "Old Reliable" drug store. Also whitewash and paint brushes.

E. W. Phillips came down from Wheatfield Monday and found a few moments time to chat at the Pilot office.

Marybelle Crosscup is quite ill. She has been unable to attend school for some time, and is now unable to leave the house.

B. S. Fendig will be found at the same place he has previously occupied next to Camby's livery stable. Where he will buy hides, furs, tallow, wool, eggs, veal, game and all kinds of junk.

Jake Eglesbaugh is making such extensive changes and enlargements in his house that it will look like a new one, and be one of the nicest on the street.

Rensselaerites who have been in Fowler this week all speak of the severe loss by fire that the town experienced last Thursday.

A genuine first class top buggy only $41.50 at Robt. Randle's.

The admission price to the high school commencement exercises this evening at the opera house will be 15c in the gallery and 25c below. The proceeds will be used to benefit the public library.

Arthur Hopkins slipped down to Chicago Sunday returning Tuesday.

The latest novelties in summer wash goods, duckings, domes- tics, cotton crepons, lawns, dotted swiss, etc., etc. Bought late for cash tells story of low prices. Fendig's Fair.

Albert and Alfred Hopkins spent Sunday in Delphi.

Austin Lakin, of Fair Oaks, found his way around to the new office of the Pilot while in the burg last Saturday.

C. W. Coen has Tile for sale.

Celebrate the Fourth at Rensselaer.

There will be no balloon voyage, trapeze attachment, in Rensselaer the Fourth, but there will be a new and original feature that beats a trip to Mars, and will not be given at any other celebration this year. Particulars will be given in a short time, as soon as all arrangements are completed.

Celebrate the Fourth at Rensselaer.

The bicycle races will be a special feature of the celebration in Rensselaer on the Fourth. Good purses will be offered and it is expected that the best riders of this section will be present.

Celebrate the Fourth at Rensselaer.

John Casey, of Fair Oaks, writes to the committee on arrangements that he challenges any one to a contest on the jews-harp. Brace up boys, get your harps in tune and give the bald-headed Goliah a lesson in music.

In quantity, quality and prices, Frank B. Meyer's display of wall paper, was never before equalled. Call and see.

Austin, Hollingsworth & Co., are now the proprietors of the only complete set of Abstract Books in Jasper County, and are prepared to furnish Abstracts of Title on short notice and on reasonable terms.

Miss Doty was favored with a full house at her entertainment Tuesday evening, and the audience was most appreciative. The parts were all so well executed that it is almost discourteous to single out any individuals. Of course, the desarte work of Miss Doty was the feature of the evening and was superbly rendered. Miss Doty has proven her talent in the splendid training given her pupils as developed in the various parts of the program. Several of the most talented soloists in the city favored the audience with choice selections which were highly appreciated. It is in place to mention in this connection that the Rensselaer high school would be greatly benefited by the engagement of Miss Doty to teach these two branches, desarte and elocution, providing she could be induced to accept such a position.

Cut worms in some localities north-east of Rensselaer are destroying the Rensselaer.

Consult Judson H. Perkins about binding twine. He will save you money and give a superior article. Make a note of that.

The Pilot is printed Thursday morning and if any of our friends desire to drop in while at press they are welcome to do so.

Don't forget to see the new surreys at Robert Randle's before buying.

Wm. P. Baker made his daughter a present of a nice bicycle this week, purchasing it of Ellis & Murry.

Mrs. C. E. Hershman, who opened a millinery department in her husband's store near the depot a few weeks ago, has had phenomenal success, having sold not less than 15 trimmed hats on any Saturday since opening.

She buys all her hats trimmed and they are the latest modes of fashion. Her prices probably had much to do with the phenomenal sales made.

Fred Phillips made a pedalling trip to Fowler Sunday afternoon, on a visit to his sisters, Mrs. Frank Vannatta, and Mrs. Stephen Barnes. He returned Monday evening, experiencing a flat wheel on the return.

Chipman & White are handling the Star wind mill, the best in the world, and will put up a 40 foot mill complete for $50, and do it in proper shape. Every job guaranteed.

Jeremiah Bisher of Medaryville was in town Saturday and before returning left a dollar in the Pilot till.

The Aeromotor Wind mill is sold by Judson H. Perkins, who will put them up at very low prices.

D. W. Shields, Wm. M. Hoover and Chas. Stewart returned Friday from a couple of days at Indianapolis in attendance at the Grand Lodge of the I. O. O. F.

When you can buy a good top buggy for $40 it is false economy to have an old one repaired. Warner & Son handle just such a buggy, as well as a full line of better carriages of all kinds, and at correspondingly low prices. Cash paid in advance to a manufacturer who needed money to keep from shutting down, secured an unequalled bargain which is more than divided with customers.

Dr. Swain in his baccalaureate address delivered at the M. E. church last Sunday, explained the attitude of science toward religion in such a plain, comprehensive way that it could be understood by any one of ordinary intelligence. We believe that no person could reasonably object to all or any part of his discourse.

Due reference was given to the scriptures, and a true worth was assigned to science, without lessening the listeners respect for either. Although the sciences have been considered hostile to religion by many people even in recent times, a careful study of Dr. Swain's address makes the difference seem very insignificant indeed. Instead of there being any contradiction between the two, they in reality sustain each other's evidence.

The conflict that has existed between science and religion was caused by the falsities that existed in both. The church formerly held many absurd and ridiculous beliefs. The early scientists perceiving some of these errors, went to the other extreme and tried to prove that the scriptures were false or without worth. The struggle between the two resulted in the betterment of both. The man of science in searching further for truth, had to abandon many of the formerly accepted theories; and the "defenders of the faith" at last overwhelmed by truth, gave us many of their false and absurd renderings of the Bible.

True science, and true religion agree upon every essential point. What few contradictions may yet seem to exist are without doubt due either to a wrong understanding of one or the other, or both.

In Genesis it is said that "in the beginning God made all things;" consequently when we study astronomy, chemistry, or biology, we are studying the works of God. The facts brought in these sciences are at least as comprehensive as many recorded in the scriptures, and certainly as authentic, for we must remember that the Bible has been handed down through many ages, and translated from one language to another by man and not by divine power.

From what has been accomplished it is easily seen that science is the foe of ignorance and superstition, and not of religion. In fact almost the only reliable evidence in favor of religion that can be found outside of itself is disclosed by the study of things around us, and this study is what we call science.

It is an interesting proof of the world's progress, that an address of this kind should meet the approval of almost all who heard it, when we remember that even fifty years ago it would have been almost impossible to find such a large audience to whom it would have been satisfactory.

Meyer Sisters have received a lovely new line of the season's latest fancies in Millinery goods. Their stock this year far excels anything ever attempted by them in previous years, and they are now prepared to suit the taste and requirements of all, both old and young.
