Tried to Be Funny.

Last week's Pilot contained a couple of items referring to brother McEwen of the Sentinel, that were clandestinely placed in the paper without the knowledge of the editor and which is sincerely regretted. The items were neither decorous nor witty, and the perpetrators, H. J. Bartoo and Bernie Maloy, alleged printers of the Republican office, exhibited a degree of impudence and low jesting only equalled by their lack of decency and good sense. The "trick" was one that not only reflected on the good taste of the editor of the Pilot, but placed their employer in an embarrassing position, though he was in no way responsible or had knowledge of the "joke."

THE CALAMITY HOWLER ON CHEESE.

The Pilot acknowledges the gift of a bountiful cut of cheese at the hands of Alfred McCoy, president of the creamery company. The cheese is a full cream product and is of as fine a quality as is seldom seen on any market. Mr. McCoy says that no finer grade of milk is received at any factory in the state, it being nearly fifty per cent higher grade than the Chicago standard. There are two branches to the creamery where the cream is separated and brought to the factory here. One being located at Marlboro and one in Jordan Township. The company has one of the very best cheese makers, Chas. Morland, and the sample brought to this office is fit to set before royalty. The company have adopted a retail feature and any one can get cheese at the factory at 3 lbs. for 25c.
