

STATE CROP REPORT.

From The U. S. Weather Bureau at Purdue University.

WEEK ENDING MONDAY, SEPT. 23.

CENTRAL PORTION.

Hot and dry sunny weather caused corn to mature very fast, and most is cut and in shock, promising generally a good yield; nearly all still standing is safe from frost. Wheat and rye is coming up nicely and looks well, especially in Delaware, Union, Madison, Henry and Marion counties. Tomatoes are ripening fast; in Marion county a large crop is being sent to canning factories. Clover hulling continues, with a fair yield; all is threshed in Rush and Union counties. Potatoes are being dug; the crop in general is not very large. Sweet potatoes are growing and in good condition. Apples are very abundant, and much cider is made; there are not barrels enough in Union county to hold it. Pasture is still in fair condition, but needs rain. Live stock in general is well; in Rush county many hogs are dying. Stock water is again scarce in Franklin and Rush counties. Buckwheat and millet are being harvested, a fair crop.

NORTHERN PORTION.

Warm, dry and very windy weather continued. Corn matured nicely; most is cut and in shock, and nearly all of it is beyond injury by frost; the crop in general is good; in Marshall county it is the best and largest crop for years. A fine and good crop of tomatoes is ripening fast, especially in Starke, Elkhart, Allen and Kosciusko counties. Buckwheat and millet harvest continues; the crop in general is good; in Lake county the buckwheat and millet crops are large. Wheat seeding continues and is nearly done, and rye and earlier sown wheat are coming up nicely; the fly has made its appearance in the wheat in LaPorte and Whitley counties. A large crop of tomatoes are growing well in Allen county, and plenty of cabbages in Elkhart county. A fair crop of clover seed is nearly all hulled. The potato crop in general is good; in Huntington county the crop is large, but in Carroll and Jay counties there are but few in the hill. Pasture is green but short and needs rain; in Whitley county grass is getting dry. The peach crop is excellent in LaGrange county, and apples are very abundant; hundreds of bushels were blown off by strong winds in Elkhart and LaGrange counties; so much cider is made that it is hard to sell in Elkhart county. Stock is in fair condition, but stock water is scarce in Carroll and LaGrange counties.

Farmers' Institute.

At a preliminary meeting held at the Makeover house Saturday, Sept. 14, it was decided to hold institute meetings at Union school house, Jordan township, Thursday, Sept. 26, and at Center school house, Gilling township, Friday, Sept. 27. These meetings are being held preparatory to the regular annual meeting, which will be held later on. The agricultural station at Purdue has general supervision of all farmers' institutes and will furnish speakers who are thoroughly competent to give instruction in farming, and if there is any prejudice against farmers' institutes in Jasper county it ought to be dispelled at once. The facts are that the station is run on the most economical plan, and wholly devoted to the agricultural and mechanical interests of the state, and it is the only school in the state where the young men of the state are taught farming. It is hoped the good people of Jasper will make these county institutes grand successes.

L. STRONG,
President.

Acute Kleptomania.

"When I was in India," said the man who had traveled, "the native thieves stole the sheets from under me while I slept, and I never knew it!" "Yes, and when I was in the Northwest during the boom," said the man who will never admit that America can be outdone, "I had to sleep in a room where there were four real estate agents and one of them stole a porous plaster from my back without awakening me."

Mysterious Affair.

First Doctor—I had a very interesting case the other day. The diagnosis was all right, but the course of the disease was decidedly abnormal.

Second Doctor—What course did it take?

First Doctor—The patient recovered.

'Tis greatly wise to talk with our past hours.

And ask them what report they bore to heaven.

—Young.

THE BOARDING HOUSE BEDBUG.

I am sitting up late to night
Dreading this—another fight—
With the stinking bug that crawls
Up and down the fly-specked walls;
Up and down and all around
Bedbugs creep without a sound.
And elevates with stealthy tread
His slimy form above my head.
Off he jumps with aim so true
And drives his bill completely through
My ugly brown and freckled hide
And clinches it on the other side.
And if they make of me a wreck
I'll poke strychnine down their neck.
But I will give them half a show
I'll let them bite and let them go.
If they will only cease to creep
Over my person and let me sleep.

A Great Number.

The Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly for October is an exceptionally beautiful number pictorially, without any sacrifice of that quality of timeliness which makes it unique amongst illustrated magazines. The opening article is an idyllic description, by Mrs. Leicester-Addis, of a summer holiday visit to old England's loveliest county, Surrey, with a description of the stately manor of Deepdene, upon which the present American Duchess of Marlborough has spent large sums of money to good purpose. Apropos of this year's tercentennial Tasso celebration, there is a sympathetic and elaborately illustrated paper on "The Last Days of Torquato Tasso," by Marie Walsh. Another Italian contribution of rare artistic interest is Miss E. C. Vansittart's description of Monte Oliveto Maggiore, to which are appended some "Souvenirs of Siena," by the late John Addington Symonds. Other picturesque features are: "Women as Athletes," by W. de Wagstaffe; "Burmese Women," by H. Fielding; "Ligot-Givers," by Mary Titcomb; "Town and Cloth Halls of Flanders," by Alexander Ansted; "Widowed Sovereigns," by A. Oakley Hall; and "Alpine Soldiers," by Henry Tyrrell. This number also contains some unusually interesting and well-written short stories and poems.

Knights of the Maccabees.

The State Commander writes us from Lincoln, Neb., as follows: "After trying other medicines for what seemed to me a very obstinate cough in our two children we tried Dr. King's New Discovery and at the end of two days the cough entirely left them. We will not be without it hereafter, as our experience proves that it cures where all other remedies fail."—Signed F. W. Stevens, State Com.—Why not give this great medicine a trial, as it is guaranteed and trial bottles are free at F. B. Meyer's drug store. Regular size 50c and $1.

Hoosiers in Line.

A people's party conference was held at Indianapolis last week and the following address was issued: "We the populists of Indiana, in convention assembled, favor fighting the battle of 1896 on the fundamental principles of the Omaha platform."

"We demand the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1."

"We demand that the issuance of full legal tender treasury notes be speedily increased to not less than $50 per capita."

"We demand a graduated income tax."

We oppose the issuance of bonds and bank currency."

"We are unalterably opposed to increasing our already great burden of national debt by the issue of interest bearing bonds in times of peace and we deplore and condemn the recent action of the present administration at Washington, aided and abetted by the republican party, not only for selling our national credit at a price below its market value, but especially for surrendering to the Rothschilds and other bankers our financial independence for six months by a secret contract, the infamy of which is without parallel in our history."

"That we demand the initiative and referendum in all important matters of municipal and state legislation."

"That we denounce the recent decision of the supreme court of the United States in reference to the income tax law and the imprisonment of American citizens without trial by jury."

"On these cardinal principles of our party we invite the cooperation of all persons and organized bodies believing in the principles herein set forth to join us in the campaign of 1896."

A plan of organization was agreed on by which state and district organizations will act under authority from the state committee.

VICTORY IN SIGHT.

GLOWING REPORTS OF CUBAN SUCCESS.

Spanish Forces Routed in a Pitched Battle and Lost Three Hundred Men—Insurgents are Now Within Seventy-five Miles of the City of Havana.

New York, Sept. 24.—News of a battle, in which the Spanish were defeated by the Cubans and lost 300 men, was received yesterday by President Palma. It came in a letter written Sept. 14 by Pedro Rovira, a Spanish private who deserted to the Cuban ranks at Pera Legu when Campos was defeated.

In a later engagement Rovira was captured by the Spanish, court-martialed and sentenced to receive 400 lashes and to be shot. The sentence was carried out while Rovira was shouting for Cuban liberty. The Spaniards were greatly incensed against him, as he had killed three of their men before being captured.

The letter says that all Santiago, where the execution took place, was incensed against the Spaniards, and then goes on to describe the hard-fought battle:

"A man who was sick in a hospital at Casimira escaped to Guantanamo in August, and told the Spaniards that Gen. Jose Maceo was sick in the Casimira hospital and had only thirty men with him. On Aug. 30 Maceo heard that 1,200 men, one battalion corps and a squadron of cavalry with two pieces of artillery were marching on him. Maceo mounted his horse and from the mountains of Santa Maria viewed the enemy's position. He ordered eight of his men to keep up firing from ambushes to deceive the Spanish, and meanwhile had word sent to his brother, Gen. Antonio Maceo.

"On Aug. 31, the Spaniards captured Francis, and Gen. Jose Maceo fortified his few men in a plantation house near the hospital. He wished to guard the right side of the road leading to Bacalano, which skirted the hospital. The Spanish were slowly closing in on him when Gen. Cebreco and a Cuban column came to his relief and made the enemy evacuate their position.

"A hot engagement followed, in which the Spanish regained their position, but were unable to hold it long, as General Antonio Maceo suddenly appeared on the scene, and, with Cebreco and Colonel Mennin, succeeded in wresting it from Canalle and Garrilo, who commanded the Spanish. The Spanish now made a brilliant charge and for the third time managed to secure the position, but in the engagement the Spanish captain of artillery was mortally wounded, and they slowly withdrew, the Cubans fighting them back."

This battle lasted from 5 o'clock a. m. to 1 o'clock p. m. It was resumed in the early afternoon, however, and is described as follows:

"General Antonio Maceo cleverly turned the Spanish column and gained the pass of Baccano. He then massed his troops before the Spanish vanguard, while General Jose Maceo got the men in the rear. A very desperate encounter ensued. It raged until 9 o'clock at night, when it was discontinued until the dawn of the next day—September 1. The Spanish then commenced the retreat until they reached the Iguanabano field, where they were able to use their cavalry, which was impossible on the mountains of Santa Maria. They did not gain any advantage, however, and after burning their provisions they continued to retreat to Mountainin, which place they entered in scattered groups."

The Cubans had no cavalry, but made effective use of dynamite bombs, which the letter says, struck terror to the enemy.

In the engagement the Cubans' loss was forty men wounded and killed. The Spaniards lost over 300 men, forty horses and a large store of provisions and munitions of war. The Cubans are still capturing stragglers and picking up arms near Mountainin. Spaniards are deserting every day and joining the Cubans.

The Spaniards, after the battle, sent a cable to Spain headed, "The Defeat and Capture of Jose Maceo," and also asked for the reward offered and the advancement of the officers in the engagement.

VICTORY IN SIGHT.

Cuban Revolutionists Threaten the City of Havana.

Chicago, Sept. 24.—Dispatches from Havana to the Chicago Tribune say:

Armed parties of revolutionists are already in the province of Matanzas and actually within seventy-five miles of the city of Havana. The west end of the island will soon be the scene of an uprising. When this fact develops the formidable nature of the revolution will become apparent. With armed forces on both sides of Havana it would require not 80,000 but 500,000 Spanish troops to keep the revolutionists in check.

Martinez Campos is at once hiding the truth of defeat and disaster and creating a belief in the immense power of his troops. Too much truth leaked out when he was so badly defeated at Peralegu and retreated to Bayamo.

For ten days the publication of war news was forbidden, and then allowed only under military censorship. Under censorship that action is now counted as a glorious Spanish victory. The fact is positive that he came within an ace of being captured. Official accounts give his force at 1,500 and the insurgents at 5,000, but credible reports say the rebels had only 850. It is safe to say that the rebels have 25,000 men under arms at the present time, and their forces are growing daily.
