Additional Local News Will be Found on the Seventh and Other Pages.

P. T. Clark went to Lowell Sunday.

Mrs. Belle Kerr is in Chicago this week.

Call on J. H. Cox for hay, grain, lime and hair.

Mrs. Sarah Keifer went to Monticello last week, returning Monday.

Milton Chipman has a place on the night force at the electric light plant.

Miss Myrtle Chipman who was sick with throat trouble last week is much better.

A hot box caused a considerable annoyance to users of electric lights Saturday night.

Grandma Weathers is very sick with pleurisy at her home near the Missionary Baptist church.

Randle Overton wheeled it over to La Fayette Sunday returning by train on account of the wind.

Miss Mollie Hoyes left last week for three weeks with friends in Clinton and Howard counties.

Mrs. Minerva Strickle of Hamilton, Mo., who has been visiting the family of G. H. Brown returned to her home to-day.

A 2-year-old son of Frank Randle, postmaster at Pleasant Grove, died Saturday morning of membranous croup and was buried in Osborne cemetery Sunday.

There was vacation Monday and Tuesday in all the rooms in the old school building. The teachers going away to visit other schools, as is the rule, was the occasion thereof.

Gifford's marsh on the west side of Gillam township caught fire Saturday and by Monday morning had destroyed 200 tons of hay and still burning. Great damage will undoubtedly result as it is very dry.

James Welsh is building the foundation for a new house, on his farm just south of town, which he will erect this fall.

Grandma Gooding of Ann Arbor, Mich., will return home this week after a two month's visit with her daughter, Mrs. G. W. Andrus, near Surrey.

Mrs. D. E. Hollister received word Monday of the death of her only brother, Geo. E. Banning, at Cleveland, Ohio. He visited her here about two years ago, and is well known in Rensselaer.

Mr. Jessup has sold his farm in Gillam township to Frank Iliff, whose son Fred will take possession in a short time. Mr. Jessup will build a fine residence in Rensselaer this fall, and become a citizen of the county seat.

At the box social given by Miss Ora Clark, teacher at the Lampson school, last Friday night, sixteen boxes were sold at an average price of 50 cents. Miss Bertha Hammond's box sold for the highest figure, $1.70 purchased by Albert Goff.

H. P. Baker who has been visiting at L. Strong's and with other relatives here for a few weeks, returned to Anarga, Ill., Saturday. Mrs. Baker who came with him, returned the previous week. They were former citizens of Jasper county.

Randle Overton made the run a wheel from Rensselaer to La Fayette Sunday in four hours and forty-five minutes. This is not bad time for an amateur of seventeen, on a second hand Victor wheel. It is probable that with a high geared Mystic he could lower the mark materially.

Class No. 8, Mrs. Weaver teacher, of the M. E. Sunday school, will give a masquerade party at Mrs. Weaver's home to-night, Halloween, and it is expected that fifteen couple will take part. Pumpkin jack-lanterns similar decorations will be a part of the unique features of the occasion.

Advertised Letters.

Now unclaimed at the Rensselaer postoffice the following letters.

Mr. John H. VanBuren, Mrs. Mary Nuss, Mrs. Elizabeth Burns, Mrs. Charles Standirk, Mr. Claude Wall, Mr. R. B. Lythe.

Excited Over Prospects for Gas.

The we man of the Monon News has the following personally qualified article on a test well that is being put down near that town. "We" hope it will prove a successful venture, for what booms that neck 'o' woods will be good for "us."

"The well being put down by the Standard Oil company on Mr. Rund's farm, four miles west of Monon and about nine miles southwest of Francesville, is now 700 feet deep and going down rapidly. The machinery used for drilling is of the heaviest and the intention is to go down 2,500 feet if necessary. They are now within a short distance of Trenton rock and before many days we will know whether or not natural gas is to be found. It is but a few miles from the Francesville natural gas wells and the prospects are good for finding gas. The fact that gas has been found in tolerably fair quantities has been tested by the gas wells only three and a half miles southwest of Francesville and in our opinion gas in abundant quantities would be of more benefit than oil. But we shall be happy if either should be found and we are inclined to the belief that both exist in large quantities in the vicinity of the premises where the drilling is now going on. Mr. James Murdock, president of the Merchants National Bank at LaFayette, is at the head of the business here and it is believed that he is operating for the Standard Oil company. But he is also the president of the company that piped gas to the city of LaFayette and now holds about a half million dollars stock in natural gas enterprises, and this well may be in the interest of natural gas, more than oil. Natural gas sufficient for manufacturing purposes would start a boom here that would over run all Northern Indiana with a speculative flood of population. The time is near when we will be either jubilant or despondent. The drill is each day nearing the point where great wealth may be found. J. M. Winkley is managing the work of drilling and is giving very good satisfaction to all concerned."

No charges whatever are made except for board for guests at the home. The doctor depends entirely on public and private donations to carry on his work. His present quarters are near Jackson Park, and his tabernacle holds near two thousand persons. He is now negotiating for an up-town auditorium in which to hold his Sabbath-afternoon meetings, where he can speak to ten thousand at once. This will require an outlay of $15,000 annually. The doctor has been wonderfully persecuted by the city authorities, charging him with maintaining a hospital without license, but he has thus far been victorious, and the persecutions only serve to advertise him. Last Sabbath we saw fifteen hundred people in the audience stand up and announce that they had given up their sins and taken God not only for spiritual healing, but for temporal bodily healing, as well. R. H. B.

More About Divine Healing.

The following is from R. H. Bowen, whose visit to Rensselaer was spoken of recently in these columns. Mr. Bowen lives at Putnamville, Ind., and is a relative of L. E. and I. A. Glazebrook of this place.

To The Editor of People's Pilot.

Before we left home we promised friends to give them our opinion of Dr. Dowie's method of Divine Healing; but we find, after attending quite a number of the doctor's meetings, that he has no method of healing, but rather teaches people to go to God for healing. He teaches that disease is not of God; that God does not afflict his children with sickness; that the body of the Christian is the temple of God's spirit, and God wants that temple healthy, clean and pure; that before the individual can receive any benefit from Divine Healing, he must first give up his sins and become a Christian, and take his body in faith to God for healing. He emphasizes very pointedly his assertion that tippling and the use of tobacco are injurious to the body, and hence is a sin against God, and that persons seeking Divine healing must give up those habits; that those who tattle to injure their neighbor, must first set matters right; that you must pay your debts; in short you must repent of sin, and give proof of repentance by forsaking sin, living a holy life. Give up medicine and trust God for the healing, through earnest prayer and faith in God. The doctor prays for the sick, laying on hands, but says "It is God that heals thee."

As a result of his teachings, hundreds of people have come to him and God has healed them, at least the evidence shows it.

The walls of Zion Tabernacle, where the doctor holds his public meetings, are lined with implements which have been discarded by persons who came there for healing. Some are healed instantaneously, others by "inches." The blind receive sight, the deaf hear, the lame walk. Persons who have been paralyzed for years are restored to perfect health. All manner of diseases, after the physicians and surgeons have pronounced them incurable have been healed.

The doctor has established homes to accommodate guests, where about 70 can be accommodated. He has established a publishing house in connection with his work, and from this he sends out a paper styled "Leaves of Healing." By this means persons are reached in every state in the union and foreign lands who come here for healing. We conversed with a gentleman from Canada, whose wife had been divinely healed of a malignant cancer, after she had been given up by the physicians to die. And scores of others told us how they had been healed, details of which it would take you a month to publish.

No charges whatever are made except for board for guests at the home. The doctor depends entirely on public and private donations to carry on his work. His present quarters are near Jackson Park, and his tabernacle holds near two thousand persons. #### A Kindergarten for Rensselaer.

Miss Adelaide Demmon, of the Chicago Kindergarten Institute, has begun kindergarten classes in the rooms over Starr's grocery. Parents are invited to visit the school during the hours from 9 to 12 a. m.

A limited number of children between three and seven years of age will be taken.

The rooms are well heated and parents may be sure their children will be well cared for.

Among the patrons of the kindergarten are Mrs. F. A. Ross, Mrs. A. F. Long, Mrs. G. K. Hollingsworth, Mrs. W. H. Sanders, Mrs. A. S. LaRue, and Mrs. E. L. Hollingsworth.

Wanted to rent, a house for small family, in Rensselaer. Inquire at this office.

Like unto His Political Future.

The future opens before Judge Wiley like rosy-fingered morn. It is a sure thing. He is destined to be Governor or President of the—of the Cuban Republic. While attending the State fair he was entrapped in one of those hotel maelstroms, a folding bed, and the death-trap shut down on him like the jaws of an alligator, bag and baggage. By the aid of a bootjack and a fire-escape the boys rescued him and the Judge is alive and well to-day.—Leader.

Provide for Municipal Ownership.

At the meeting of the Town Board and Fowler Water Company Saturday every detail of the water works question was arranged to the entire satisfaction of everybody. The town will receive all water rentals from every source, and will pay a hydrant rental of $40 per hydrant which applies to a purchase fund ultimately to be used in the payment of the water works. A large force of men has been engaged all this week in the water works trenches and much work has been done. The pipes have an average depth of five feet insuring from freezing. The work appears to be done in a thorough manner. The stand-pipe will be in place in a few days. The pumps have been placed and tested, and by the time cold weather is here the water plant will be ready for service. Systematic work makes a big undertaking a short job.—Fowler Leader.

Goodland's Telephone Exchange.

Rensselaer will soon have phone connection with a large number of adjoining towns. The following from the Herald tells the story for Goodland.

"Goodland will soon have a telephone exchange and connections with all the neighboring towns and the Long Distance Telephone Co.

The scheme is being engineered by C. A. Perkins and A. E. Hartley, of this place, and parties in Kentland, Remington and Brook.

This is something we need and as Goodland is the natural center of Newton and adjoining counties this will make it an important transfer station.

This service can be had for about $2 per month, and no business house can afford to be without it.

The material has been purchased and will arrive shortly and the work rushed through. The system will be ready before cold weather sets in."

Receipt for Hog Cholera.

The Lecture given at the court house last Saturday, the 26th, by Professor Biting of Purdue University, on the subject of hog cholera and swine plague, was certainly very interesting as well as profitable and those who failed to hear him were the losers. While he says there is no certain cure for either of these diseases, he gave a receipt for a preventive. This medicine no doubt is perfectly safe whether given to healthy or unhealthy hogs, and as a preventive is the best that has been discovered. The following is the receipt:

Pulverized wood charcoal... 1 lb
Sodium chloride..... 2 "
Sodium bicarbonate..... 2 "
Sodium hyposulphide..... 2 "
Sulphur..... 1 "
Sodium sulphate..... 1 "
Black antimony..... 1 "
Mix give one tablespoonful once a day in slop or feed.

This preparation can be obtained at Meyer's drug store, Rensselaer, as he has put up a large quantity from the freshest and the purest drugs.

Notice To Tax Payers.

The second installment of taxes for the year 1894 are due and must be paid on or before the first Monday in November or the same will thereby become delinquent and a penalty of ten per cent must be added. Books will be returned to the auditor at 5 o'clock p. m., Monday, Nov. 5, 1895. Persons owing delinquent taxes should pay at once and save costs. Respectfully,
J. C. GWIN, Treasurer.
