WASHINGTON NOTES.

The continued reports of the assembling of a large United States fleet in Turkish waters are discredited by those in a position to know at the Navy Department. It is pointed out that the fleet already there is ample to give any moral effect to such urgent demands on Turkey as this government might determine.

The president has appointed Francis F. Leupp, the editor of Good Government, published at Washington, to be Indian commissioner, vice William E. Russell, declined.

The United States supreme court has advanced the case of Coffin, indicted for complicity in wrecking the Indianapolis national bank, and set the hearing for the first Monday in March.

The supreme court has rendered a decision, handed down by Justice Harlan, in the claim of the state of New York against the government for interest on money expended by the state for the equipment of troops during the war, awarding the full amount of $130,000 claimed by the state.

CRIME.

Ex-Mayor James F. Scott, of Akron, O., a prominent and wealthy citizen, committed suicide by hanging himself in a closet at home. He was 68 years old and had been in poor health for some time.

Virginia Earle, the actress, went to police headquarters in New York New Year's day and reported to Captain O'Brien that the previous evening a diamond pendant, valued at $350, had been stolen from her room. A negro porter named Brown was arrested and confessed the theft.

The report of the expert submitted to the city council of Omaha shows that the entire defalcation of ex-City Treasurer Henry Bolin amounts to more than $115,000.

Joseph Calkins of Russiaville, Ind., who has been mentally unbalanced for some time, attempted to kill his wife and children with an ax. The victims escaped after receiving a terrible beating. In affecting the capture of the madman one constable was killed and several injured.

It is reported that Cecil Rhodes, premier of Cape Colony, resigned, but Gov. Sir Hercules Robinson declined to accept the resignation.

Judging from the big leaders in the most prominent papers of Germany the impression conveyed that unless Great Britain relinquishes its aggression in South Africa, war is inevitable. At any rate it may be safely asserted that the end of the Transvaal dispute is far off.

FOREIGN.

Sir Julian Goldsmid, the well-known Hebrew philanthropist, who has been ill for some time past, is dead. He was born in 1838.

The news of the surrender of Johannesburg after being in the possession of the insurgents for three or four days is confirmed at London. The authority of the Boer government is fully re-established.

Orders have been sent to Portsmouth Devonport and Chatham for the immediate commissioning of six ships to form a flying squadron, the object of which is obviously to have a British squadron ready for any required emergency.

A special dispatch from Berlin to London says that Dr. Leyds, the Secretary of State of the Transvaal, has received a dispatch which states that the Transvaal demands from England an indemnity of £500,000 for Dr. Jameson's invasion.

The Chilean press continues to attack the Monroe doctrine, declaring that the kind of protection it may afford is more to be feared than the old enemy of the country.

The Correspondencia, a Madrid newspaper, states that the insurgents have attacked Hoyo Colorado, which is three leagues from Havana. The Spaniards were outnumbered and surrendered. General Campos, it is further stated, defeated the insurgents near Havana.

At a special audience which Dr. W. J. Leyds, the Secretary of State of the Transvaal, had with Emperor William, his majesty declared that he would not recognize any claim of suzerainty over the Transvaal. Great Britain, by the treaty of 1884, claims suzerainty over the Transvaal Republic.

Philip Reclam, the publisher, is dead at Leipzig.

Disorders have occurred in the East End of London, growing out of the fact that the German and Dutch sailors about the docks were hissed and molested. The windows in the shops kept by German Jews have been broken and several German clubs closed.

The fight is now on the greenback.

If you voted for it you ought to grin and bear it.

The president's message is a bitter pill to real Democrats.

Kansas is being redeemed in 12 cent corn and 40 cent wheat.

Direct legislation is the lever that will overthrow monopoly.

A modern Democrat is a man who does not advocate Democracy.
