POLITICAL NOTES.

A FEARFUL SHOWING.

What Are We Going to Do About the Robberies?

The earnings and substance of the people are absorbed by the trusts, combines and monopolies, as a sponge absorbs water.

The bank monopoly robs through interest. The railroad corporations rob by excessive charges, to pay big salaries to a horde of railroad presidents and other dignitaries—besides the millions to pay themselves interest and dividends on watered stock and fraudulent bonds.

The telegraph corporations rob the people of millions by charging more than three times as much as charged in England and other countries owning and operating the lines.

The street railways rob the people of millions to pay interest and dividends on stocks and bonds, four-fifths of which is wind and water. These railways are capitalized at an average of $125,000 to the mile, while the actual cost does not exceed an average of $10,000 to the mile.

Express companies, side attachments, like the telegraphs to the railroads, rob the people of millions by the extortionate charges for their service.

The Standard Oil monopoly robs the people of millions for oils.

Then comes the steel trust, the leather trust, sugar trust, and a whole brood of other trusts, corporations and monopolies, each and all preying upon the honest and defenseless earnings of the people to the tune of millions of dollars annually.

The land monopolists get in their work, and not only absorb millions in rents, but deprive more than one-half of the people of homes, their natural inheritance.

No wonder that in America there are more than four thousand millionaires averaging three millions each! Is it any wonder that less than one per cent. of the people own more than all the rest, while it is estimated that not less than three millions of able-bodied men are tramps and paupers, or bordering on that condition—to say nothing of the women and children depending on them for food and clothing and homes?

Mr. Ingalls, Republican senator at that time, proclaimed in his great speech in the senate in 1891 that more than a million of men were seeking work and unable to procure it. Since then times have been much harder, and the number and suffering of the poor has been greatly augmented. More people are being thrown out of employment daily; debts are piling up, private, state and national.

What have the Democrats and Republicans done to relieve the situation?

Nothing. Instead of relief, monopolies, trusts and combines have increased and flourished as never before. What do the Democrats and Republicans propose to do to relieve the people? Nothing.

Instead of relief, they pile up more bonds and add to the already unbearable burden laid upon the shoulders of the toiling masses. The struggle, upon the part of the masses, for a bare existence is becoming fierce. How is it possible under the conditions imposed upon the people by the policy of these old parties for them to pay these enormous sums extorted from them annually for interest and monopolistic profits, and at the same time live and preserve the semblance of liberty, prosperity and happiness, to say nothing of the enormous principal? Monopoly has squeezed the juice from the lemon until it is about dry. When it refuses to yield any more juice, then what?—Representative.

PLEDGING CANDIDATES.

Do the People Hire Officials to Boss Them?

How could a national convention pledge a president to any particular course? Where is the man fit to be president, the candidate whom the people respect, who would accept a nomination under such conditions? A president thus elected would be foresworn to a course which might violate his official oath. Such a president would be a cipher. There is not now, and never has been, a party in this country foolish enough to adopt such a course, or strong enough to carry an election by such a policy.—Washington Post.

So?

Thought this was a government of the people.

Appears to us that no president has a right to disobey the instructions of the people who have him hired.

Not only the president, but every other official elected by the people ought to be bound under penalty of death to carry out to the best of his ability the pledges and instructions upon which he is elected.

A majority of the people have a right to dictate the policy of government even to the extent of changing all present existing constitutional and statute law.

No law of the land should be allowed to stand supreme in the presence of a majority of the people opposed to it.

No president or other official has any right to set up his personal opinion against that of the people whom he is sworn to serve.

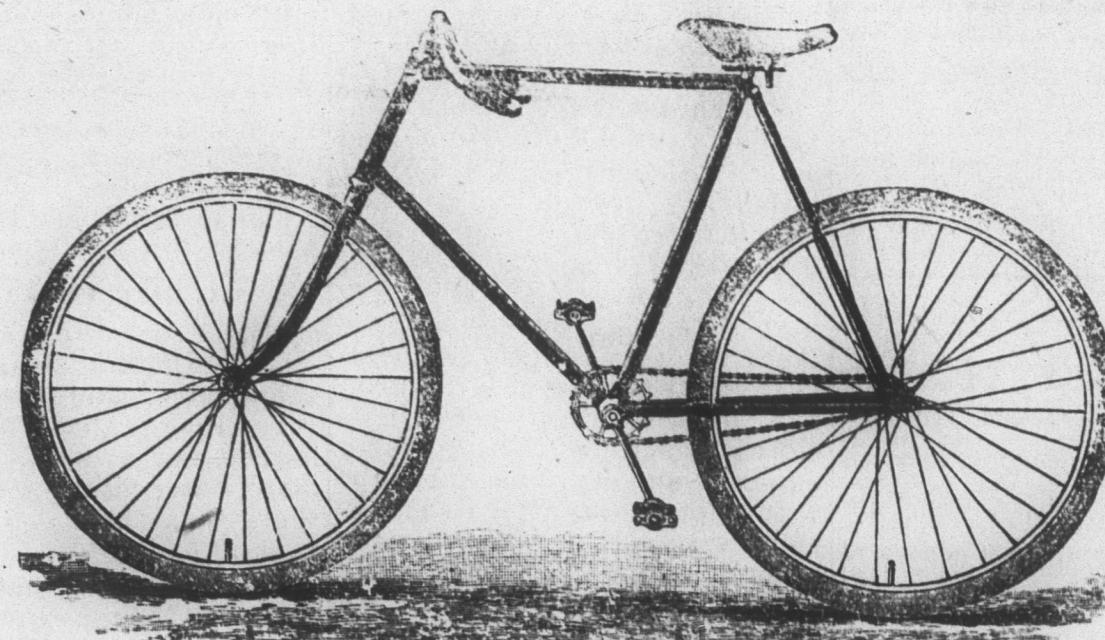

There is one party that believes in instructing and binding its candidates to carry out the instructions of the convention—that is the People's party.

Arkansas Kicker.

Protection that don't protect farmers and their wives and children, protects millionaires and corporations that don't need protection.

If the democrats want to see the republicans laid in the shade, all they have to do is to join the populists, and the job will be neatly done.

THE MYSTIC FOR 1896.

Every part is made on honor and we guarantee it.

IT is a model of beauty, strength and ease of management. We use only one class of material—the highest quality obtainable.

Our mechanics work by the day, and thus reduce poor construction to almost nothing.

Our improvements are all the most careful critic can desire.

We build for future reputation, not for the benefit of to-day.

Our bearings are dust-proof. Our tubing is the finest English tube made.

Our ends are case-hardened and made from our own designs.

Our chain is the easiest chain in the world. It is practically without friction, does not stretch, and needs no oiling. Our new small sprocket is cut to relieve the draft of the chain from the sprocket tooth by a device between the teeth. This chain and sprocket is worth $25 to any wheel, and yet we charge nothing extra for this construction.

Our large sprocket is changeable, and our handle bars can be adjusted to suit the rider.

Our wheel weighs exactly twenty-four pounds, but we challenge any twenty-pound wheel to run easier.

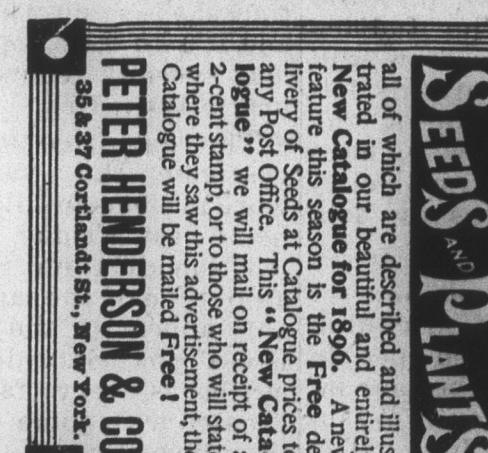

The reason why we make the wheel twenty-four pounds is, we know it will stand any country road. The Mystic costs to build 30 per cent more than job wheels. We can not compete in price with any wheel not made with the same care and accuracy.

Do not buy a low grade wheel, as it will be a poor investment.

Before you buy see a Mystic, and thoroughly examine its parts and general construction.

We court inspection. We take no back seat to any wheel made.

Our Exhibit at the Great Cycle Show at Chicago, January 4 to 11, is booth No. 103. Send for Catalogues. Write for particulars. Call for agencies.

In the opening of this new hardware store and the establishment of a cash system, Antrim & Dean have carefully considered the undertaking. The stock which they offer for sale is paid for, and all the discounts which ready cash could influence in these hard times has been obtained. They were not hasty in purchasing, and took advantage of several opportunities to obtain lines of goods far below wholesale quotations, and they propose to give their customers, with cash, and equal opportunity to buy cheaply. They have a most attractive stock of goods, centrally located, and hope to have the public bestow a portion of their favors upon them, if they prove to deserve it. A first-class tinner is employed for all kinds of new and repair work, including roofing.
