Remington Notes.

Considerable excitement was created in the city on last Tuesday evening by the report that there had been serious trouble between the notorious Dan Hart family and that of his not much less notorious brother-in-law, George McCabe, which occurred on the old Charles Baker farm, two miles north of town on the gravel road. It seems that Hart and his wife, accompanied by an old man from Benton county, and another old man from Remington, had gone to the McCabe place on the afternoon of August 4th, all more or less under the influence of liquor. They had not long been there until Hart insulted his sister-in-law, Mrs. George McCabe, and to which insult McCabe took exceptions, and he at once proceeded to lay Hart out with a club, Hart was then moved to his home, one mile south-east of this city. His son, Simon Hart, procured a shot gun, and proceeded at once to the McCabe farm, with avowed intentions of doing George McCabe bodily harm, or any other person who would have the stamina to interfere with his previously prepared programme, arriving at the McCabe residence he stationed himself on the public highway and then awaited his opportunity to slay his intended victim neither McCabe nor any of the family deemed it advisable to show themselves for the time being, and while Hart was still on the quiet lookout for him, Frank Eck, who lives eight or ten miles north-west of Remington, passed by, and learned from young Hart the situation of affairs. Eck proceeded on to Remington, loaded himself full of strong beverages, and then besought himself that it was the duty of mankind to lend his good offices in restoring peace between the beligerant factions. He at once started to put his newly made resolution into execution, and arriving on the scene he besought young Hart to disperse and think the serious ordeal over, a thing which he was in no mood to consider at that moment, Eck ignored the threat made by Hart that if he entered the house he would shoot him, and proceeded to the house of McCabe. As Eck passed through the gate Hart fired at him from a distance of about twenty-five yards, filling his head, face, neck, arms and shoulders full of what is known as "chicken shot." Dr. Landen was called to Eck's aid and succeeded in removing a fraction of the shot from his anatomy, but could not secure all of them. Eck was able to ride into town later that evening, and stated what he knew of the case to Deputy Prosecutor Yeoman, who wrote up an affidavit against Hart, changing him with assault and battery with felonious intent, which was duly signed and filed with George F. Bloom, a justice of the peace, who at once issued a warrant for Hart's arrest, and placed the same in the hands of special Constable George Haskell, Haskell has made a diligent search for the culprit, but at the present writing has been unable to place his hands on him. The general supposition that Hart skipped the country during the night. He is classed as a disreputable specimen of humanity, which is not strange, when we take into consideration his percentage, and at the influence which have summoned him all of his life. He will undoubtedly be apprehended in the course of a short time, and he will undoubtedly be sent to the penitentiary.

Does Gold Circulate?
 The goldbugs say if silver is coined free.

The result will be a silver basis for our currency.

They reiterate with much force of emphasis that free silver will drive gold out of circulation.

That the free coinage of silver will drive gold out of circulation can be emphatically denied.

It is impossible to drive any one variety of money out of circulation unless it is in circulation.

As gold does not circulate in this country as currency, it cannot be driven out of circulation.

The money grabbers and bankers control the gold, and when they order it paid out by the banks throughout the country, which is occasionally done for political effect, it circulates.

When the bank bosses of New York order the banks to refuse gold circulation it does not circulate. Practically there is not a dollar of gold in circulation at this time.

Therefore, the assertion that the free coinage of silver will drive gold out of circulation is not worth considering, from the very potent fact that gold does not circulate.—Southern Mercury.

The Citizen says that five thousand workmen paraded the streets of Cleveland, Ohio, a few hours after Hanna returned from St. Louis, and they cheered—but not for McKinley—they cheered for Eugene V. Debs.

Prohibition Candidate for U. S. Sen. Joshua Levering of Baltimore was on Tuesday evening notified of his nomination for the presidency of the United States by the prohibition party. In accepting the nomination he expressed views favorable to a gold standard and the proper adjustment of the tariff.

Senator J. C. Burrows opened the campaign for the republicans at Albion, Mich. He planted himself squarely on the St. Louis platform, and a large audience was with him. His sentiment is plentiful and bolters few.

FRIGHTFUL DISASTER

ONE HUNDRED PERSONS KILLED OR INJURED.

Express on the Reading Railroad Near Atlantic City, N. J. Crashes Through a Crowded Pennsylvania Excursion Train—The Known Dead.

A railroad accident occurred Thursday night just outside of Atlantic City, N. J. Forty-one persons are dead, and the list of the wounded numbers fifty-six.

The Reading railroad express, which left Philadelphia at 5:40 o'clock in the afternoon for Atlantic City crashed into a Pennsylvania Central excursion train at the second signal tower, about four miles out from here. The Pennsylvania train was returning to Bridgeport with a party of 500 excursionists from that place, Millville and neighboring towns.

At the second signal tower the tracks of the two roads diagonally cross. The Reading track was given the signal, but the switch either failed to work or the speed of the express was too great to be checked in time. It caught the excursion train broadside and plowed through, literally cleaving it in two. The engine of the Reading train was shattered to pieces.

As soon as the news reached Atlantic City the utmost consternation prevailed. Relief trains were dispatched to the scene, loaded with cots and a force of surgeons. As quick as the bodies were recovered they were carried into the local hospitals. A general fire alarm was sounded, and the department promptly responded aiding in the work of digging for the victims.

The first Reading relief train bore into the city twenty-seven mangled corpses—men, women and children. The next train, not an hour later, carried fifteen of the maimed and wounded, and two of these died soon after reaching the city. As train after train ran to the scene of the wreck and came back with the wounded, the sanitarium, which serves as the city hospital, quickly found its capacity overtaxed. Meanwhile others of the dead and injured were being carried to the private hospital at Ocean and Pacific avenues.

Edward Farr, engineer on the Reading train, was killed outright, as was another railroad man who rode on the engine with him. This man, whose name has not yet been learned, saw the collision coming, and leaped from the cab an instant before the crash. Almost at the same instant the engine cut its way through, and caught him directly in its path. His body and that of Farr were found under a heap of debris, but the engineer lay in what remained of the cab, and his right hand still clasped the throttle. The fireman on the train had leaped a few seconds before, and escaped with trifling injuries.

Mrs. Edward Farr, wife of the Reading engineer who was killed, when informed of her husband's tragic end, threw up her hands with a frantic shriek and fell dead at the feet of her informant.

The excursion train bore five tribes of the Order of Red Men—the Bridgeport, the Niagara, the Iowa, the Ahwan-tanah and the Cohansick—with their wives and children.

Senator Pettigrew Resigns.

Washington special: Senator Pettigrew of South Dakota, who followed Senator Teller in his bolt from the Republican national convention at St. Louis, has resigned as a member of the Republican congressional committee. The vacancy has not yet been filled.

It is said that when the Democratic national committee opens headquarters, a few days hence, one of the first subjects to be taken up will be the attitude of certain men toward the national platform and ticket, who, having been nominated as presidential electors on the Democratic ticket prior to the Chicago convention, have since that time repudiated both the platform and the ticket, and are publicly credited with the intention to vote for McKinley.

Gov. Altgeld on Fusion.

Gov. Altgeld of Illinois was asked Friday whether or not he had said that he would not accept a nomination from the people's party unless the entire democratic state ticket was endorsed. "I do not remember," said he, "to have said anything about it, but I don't want them to endorse any part of our state ticket unless they endorse all of it."

Michigan Mines Shutting Down.

At Ishpeming, Mich., the Cleveland Cliff company, the only city mine which did not reduce its forces in July, laid off fifty men Saturday and further reductions are feared, as the receiving ports have their docks filled with ore. The Champion mine will probably close down completely this month, throwing out about 300 men.

Kentucky Gold Men Organize.

The gold standard democrats of Kentucky met in the city of Louisville Tuesday. It took but a short time to decide upon a "sound-money" democratic convention, which is to be held at Louisville Aug. 20.

To Open Campaign in Illinois.

Chicago special: The republican campaign in Illinois will be opened Sept. 5, in this city, with Senator Joseph B. Foraker, Senator John M. Thurston, and in all probability Governors Bushnell and Hastings.

Senator J. C. Burrows opened the campaign for the republicans at Albion, Mich. He planted himself squarely on the St. Louis platform, and a large audience was with him. His sentiment is plentiful and bolters few.
