How Silver Was Demonetized.

An Interesting Affair—How Seyd Was Welcomed Home.

The Maryville Daily Review of Saturday published the following, which explains itself:

"I, John H. Applegate, under oath, state that I am forty-two years old and have a wife and two children with whom I now live on my own farm at Atchison township, and have lived in Nodaway county since 1879, and my present address is Hopkins, Nodaway county, Missouri.

"I am a citizen of the United States. I was born in England and lived in the town of Ludham in the years of 1872 and 1873. It was reported that Ernest Seyd had succeeded in having the silver dollar dropped from the coinage of the United States and he made public speeches, and ratification meetings were held, and all the big men of the English people turned out, and bonfires were lighted and torch-lights were carried and all the people of England celebrated the event as of very great importance and spoke in highest terms of praise of Rothschild and the able manner in which Ernest Seyd had performed his mission to the United States.

"I heard Ernest Seyd speak at the city of Norwich, England, after he had returned from the United States, and I should say there were 5,000 people or more present. It was at an open air meeting in the park. I was with my father; he was a voter (none but freeholders were then allowed to vote). Banners were carried by the people. I saw one large banner on which was inscribed 'Ernest Seyd, the Great Conqueror of Demonetization of the American Silver Dollar.' In his speech at Norwich, Seyd said that he had been sent to the United States to accomplish the destruction of the silver dollar, and that he had been successful, and said it would be a great benefit to England, and said that it would cheapen silver to the English people, and that it would cheapen their living and that it would enable the people of the United States who were in debt to England to pay their debts more easily and he said it would increase the value of British money and the trade of Great Britain with other countries.

"I also heard Sir Edward Lakin speak at Ludham town, England, in a hall, and he said that Ernest Seyd had done a great work for the English people and that the dropping of the silver dollar from the money of the United States would double the value of British investments in the United States and that thereby England would have better times at home.

"I heard many other public speakers; one whose name was Sir Allen, of Oxford Hill, who also said that they rejoiced that the silver dollar would be no longer coined in the United States. Allen said at Statham City, England (I heard him myself) that the United States could be conquered by being brought to a gold standard.

JOHN H. APPLGATE.

"Witness: Frank Griffin, D.A. Sargent.

"Subscribed and sworn to before me this 25th day of September, 1896.

"BEVERLY R. MARTIN,
Notary Public.

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Hopkins, hereby certify that John H. Applegate is personally known to us and each of us and he is a man of good reputation for truth and veracity.

"D. A. Sargent,
"G. D. Bowan.

"Hopkins, Mo., September 25, 1896. I am personally acquainted with John H. Applegate. He has been a customer at my store for fourteen years and I have no reason to doubt his word.

"B. WOOLDRIDGE, Merchant.

Bishop C. K. Nelson, of Georgia, recently delivered a sermon against the ministry taking part in politics in which he inadvertently disclosed the fact that he is a pretty good gold-bug himself. The tendency of the clergy to take a hand in the present campaign is noticeable all over the country, and is a most significant sign of the times.

The enemy are complimenting Jerry Simpson by sending much money and some of their biggest guns to fight him. That combination of spell-binders known as "the Generals," headed by Gen. Sickles, has been in his district recently. Still, Jerry has taken care of himself at home and found time besides to write W. M. Deisher, of the People's Party National Committee, a letter calling attention to Gen. Palmer's broken promises in regard to free silver at the time of his election to the Senate.

The republicans of Nebraska have taken a poll of that state and find that Bryan is almost certain of carrying it. In their desperation the republicans are using money to bribe and corrupt the populist candidates and voters. Several attempts of this kind have already been brought to light, and these exposures of republican villainy are reacting with terrible effect. The same tactics are being used by the republicans in Kansas, where it is evident a few corruptible populists have been found.

Recent reports from every section of the country indicate the steady growth of the free silver sentiment and the probable election of Bryan. It is evident at this time that the working men hold the balance of power, and their votes will determine the contest. They have the welfare of the republic in their hands. They have the power to free their countrymen from slavery to the money kings. How will they use their power? If patriotism is not dead, truth and justice will triumph against bribery and coercion. A. THE PEOPLE'S PILOT is the official paper of the People's Party of the Tenth Congressional District of Indiana. It is of eight large pages, all printed at home in large clear type, is fearlessly and forcefully edited by F. D. Craig, District Chairman and Secretary of the State Central Committee. It is $1.00 per year and will be sent until Jan. 1, 1897, for 10c. Address, THE PILOT, Rensselaer, Ind.

Mrs. Fishel and Mrs. Snodgrass have returned from Newport, Ind., where they have been visiting the family of Ansel Snodgrass.

Mr. and Mrs. John Futt of Newton county were visiting the family of George Pumphrey Monday. Mr. Futt is a candidate for, and prospective commissioner of his county.

John Mitchell, an old resident of Gilliam township, died Oct. 14th of consumption, aged 46 years, 8 months, 20 days. He leaves a wife and six children. The funeral was held from Independence church, Rev. Seabring officiating.

It is announced that Mr. Sewall, of Main, has contributed twenty thousand dollars to the Democratic campaign fund.

Secretary of the Treasury, Carlisle, refuses to meet Joe Blackburn, of Kentucky. Lack of time is the excuse offered.

Chicago workingmen are up in arms and open revolt against attempts of the agents of Hanna to coerce them into the support of McKinley.

T. V. Powderly, the erstwhile reformer, but recent convert to gold bugery, was given a regular frost by the workingmen of Chicago on his attempt to speak there last week.

The opposition of the banks to the 16 to 1 ratio is explained by their statement published in the New York World that the banking business of the country is being done on a basis of $15.60 of debt to $1.00 of gold.

Jno. A. Parker, Chairman of the Kentucky Populist State Committee, former editor and publisher of the New Republic, at Louisville, has again resumed control of that paper, and is giving strong support to Bryan and Watson.

The single taxers of Delaware have been killing two birds with one stone by distributing countless dodgers setting forth their claims, among the vast crowds that have gathered to hear Bryan, and then staying to cheer the Presidential nominee.

The opposition papers are devoting much space to inharmonious conditions in regard to the Vice-Presidency. Rumors of withdrawals and accrimonious telegrams and interviews are abundant. However, Tom Watson seems to be busier doing good work in his State campaign than he is in getting off the ticket.

A gentleman by the name of Hobert is said to be the republican candidate for Vice-President; nobody ever heard of him before his nomination, has anybody ever heard from him since? Evidently Mr. Hobert is doing the "still hunt" act with the expectation of getting in between the locked horns of the Watson and Sewall dilemma.

Elliott Danforth, Chairman of the New York State Democratic Committee, announces his determination to protest in court against the use of the name "National Democratic Party" by the Palmer-Hanna contingent. If he succeeds, they will adopt the following curiously inapt caption: "Democratic Party Reform Organization."

Wm. J. Bryan issued a formal letter of acceptance of the populist nomination for the presidency, last week, in reply to Chairman Allen's letter of notification. While not openly endorsing all of the populist platform, he expressed himself as being in full accord with the principles of the party. The letter will, no doubt, satisfy most reasonable reformers.
