Senator Butler's
Paper Gives Startling

to each vote, we have an increase of population in Iowa in four years of 8,850 to the county, a total of 385,000!

The census of 1890 gives Iowa 1,911,000 population. The State census, taken last year, gives the population as 2,058,000, a gain in four years of 147,000.

If the vote this year was honest, and the census of 1890 and 1895 correct, then Iowa has gained 288,000 souls during the hard times of the past year, whereas she gained but 147,000 during the four subsequent years!

Could such a thing as this happen? It is absurd and shows that there is something rotten in Iowa also.

Another most remarkable phenomena of the Iowa vote is found in the fact that nine-tenths of the 70,000 new voters voted for McKinley. This phenomena was also witnessed in Minnesota, where every one of the 50,000 new voters of that State voted the Republican ticket; and again in Indiana, which increased its vote 80,000, McKinley receiving 67,000, of the increase.

In an interview the other day Mr. Hanna said: Our first poll of Iowa showed the Republicans 600 in the minority." In our opinion, the population of Iowa began to increase from the date of the discovery of this condition. If during the past year of hard times Iowa has had such a transcendent boom in population, gaining 288,000 souls, what possibilities await the State if we should ever again have good times?

When the returns from other doubtful States in the West and Northwest are ready no doubt the evidence of crookedness will appear. Had it not been for the frauds in the States mentioned above, it is almost certain that the electoral vote of each would be in the Bryan column, which would give Bryan 235 electoral votes or 11 more than it was last year.

There is something very rotten there. No one can claim that the population of Ohio has increased over a million in one year, and it would take such an increase of population to explain this increase of vote even if the election was honest in 1895.

In short comparing the population and the total vote in Ohio this year, it would show that nearly one person out of every three of population (counting women, children, convicts and insane) voted. This is absurd. It is impossible.

Yes there is something rotten in Ohio, and if it can be investigated and the truth arrived at, it would show that Bryan carried the State.

"In 1892 Kentucky's total vote was 340,848. Cleveland received 175,461 and Harrison 135,441. In 1895 Kentucky's total vote was 357,057. In 1896 Kentucky's total vote was 406,000. Of these Bryan received about 202,981, McKinley about 203,410. In Kentucky Bryan received at least 27,000 more votes than Cleveland received in 1892, and at least 30,000 more votes than the successful candidate for governor received in Kentucky in 1895. But Kentucky's vote increased about 50,000 in one year. Where did they all come from?

Next let us look at Iowa. In 1892 the combined Cleveland and Weaver vote in Iowa was 216,000; Harrison's vote was 219,000; total vote, 435,000. The total vote this year was 512,000, of which Bryan received 223,000, McKinley 289,000. This was a gain in four years of 77,000 votes. Of this gain Bryan received 7,000 and McKinley 70,000.

This was a gain of 770 votes in each of the 100 counties of the State. Counting five inhabitants

For Christmas Charity.

Some of our leading people have interested themselves in the laudable object of affording relief to those in our midst needing the common comforts of life, of whom it must be acknowledged there are many, some even now permitting themselves to suffer from the actual necessities of life, rather than let their sad condition be known. Many homes there are, in our own small city, so the investigating committee reports, where the necessity of rigid economy will prevent any outlay to gladden the hearts of expectant childhood at Christmastide. Of all the days in the year, this one, so appropriately consecrated to gifts of friendship and deeds of love, should be made an event so joyous and free from the sting of want, that each recurring anniversary will be anxiously awaited, and will forever remain a memory green as the years of youth gradually pass into those of maturity and finally fade into the twilight of life.

No one is so poor that he cannot afford some gift or deed of kindness to some one else, and it is a duty we owe ourselves to practice at least once a year the precepts of the One Great Giver; we will be the better by stopping to think of humanity for even one brief day, and the greater the benefit to ourselves the more truly must our gifts come from the heart.

As a means of realizing money with which to carry out the proposed charities, the services of Mrs. Annie Ward Foster of Detroit have been engaged, and under her direction local talent has been organized into a Ladies Minstrel Show, to present the laughable entertainment, "Smoked Pearls." Mrs. Foster is an accomplished reader, impersonator and manager, and no one can be disappointed by anticipating a rich minstrel treat. The total proceeds will be devoted to the object mentioned above. Price of admission 25c and 35c. Seats reserved at Huff's. Remember the date, Monday night, Dec. 21.

To cure all old sores, to heal an indolent ulcer, or to speedily cure piles, you need simply apply DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve according to directions. Its magic like action will surprise you. A. F. Long.

Two Silver Champions.

Doubtless many of our readers, who appreciate the importance of the restoration of the bimetallic standard, would like to subscribe for and support a farm paper which while unsurpassed in its agricultural, household and other departments, at the same time has been the leading exponent of the bimetallic principle of finance. With a view to supplying this want, we have made a liberal clubbing arrangement with the Farm, Field and Fireside of Chicago. For many years this great paper has been pointing out to the farmers that low prices were the result of a contraction of standard money to the gold basis and urging them as a patriotic duty of self defense to vote for the restoration of silver.

So effective has been its work, especially during the late campaign, that Chairman Jones acknowledged to Wm. J. Bryan that it had done more towards the restoration of bimetallism than any other single agency.

As will be seen by our combination on another page, we can give this paper in combination with the People's Pilot, both one year, for the low price of $1.00. This offer also includes twenty packets of the best seeds in the market from the Farm, Field and Fireside's free seed distribution, where 10 cents extra is paid for postage and packing. The Farm, Field and Fireside and the People's Pilot are two papers which Mark Hanna's boodle could not influence in the late campaign.

Soothing, and not irritating, strengthening, and not weakening, small but effective such are the qualities of DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills. Sold by A. F. Long.

Obituary.

David C., eldest son of Daniel S. and Catharine C. Makeever, was born in Jasper county, Indiana, west of Rensselaer, Dec. 1853. He lived there until he was 23 years of age, when he went to the West, where he married Mary, daughter of James and Salome Cunningham. Of this union was born one son.

He returned to his old home in the fall of 1885, to visit his people. Early in the spring of 1896 he went to North Dakota, to prepare a home for himself and family, his wife and son remaining for the time with her father in Missouri. His death was a shock to all his friends. Only a few days before his death, his wife received a letter from him, stating that he was in good health. He was a member of the Dunkard or German Baptist church. The body of the deceased arrived in Rensselaer, Sunday morning, Dec. 6, and was buried in Weston cemetery at 2 p. m., the Knights of Pythias conducting the burial service. The same day at 3 p. m. the funeral services were held in the Trinity M. E. Church, the pastor, Rev. R. D. Utter, officiating.

The wife of the deceased was not able to attend the funeral on account of the illness of her son. Besides these, one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Lester, of Nebraska, and one brother, D. S. Makeever, of this county, together with many relatives and friends remain to mourn his death.
