THURSDAY, JANUARY 24, 1879.

West's Liver Pills cure Sick Headache.

CITY AND COUNTY.

School will commence again next Monday.

Stick to the good resolutions you made yesterday.

There was a ball at the Poor Farm Saturday night.

Our Bremen correspondence did not come in time for publication.

Bourbon had a Christmas tree well filled with presents at the U. B. church.

Chas. H. Battenbender, of Ft. Wayne, is visiting friends in this city for a few days.

We shall publish an original poem next week, written for the REPUBLICAN, by J. A. Dunlap.

The Temple of Honor gave a dance in their hall, Tuesday evening, which was pretty fairly attended.

The Bourbon Mirror says Gypsies were camped near that place last week. Pretty cold weather for camping out.

Poe and Chapman have the noblest sign in Plymouth. "People's Drug Store." It can't be beat anywhere.

Mrs. John G. Osborne, of Chicago, formerly of this city, has been visiting friends in Plymouth and vicinity the past week.

The friends of Rev. J. B. Henry will be glad to learn that he is convalescing rapidly, and will be able to be at work in a few days.

Plymouth began the New Year very quietly. The town was full of sleighs and sleds, but everybody seemed to be attending to business.

J. F. Wilcox, of Goodwin, Ind., delivered the lecture at the temperance meeting Sunday. He presented an array of facts and figures perfectly appalling.

The proceedings of the Teachers' Institute prevent us from giving much editorial this week, but everybody should be interested in the cause of education.

Persons cannot be too careful in regard to fire this weather. From all sections of the country every day come reports of dwellings and other buildings destroyed by fire.

A man supposed to be a tramp attempting to climb on the noon express going south yesterday, slipped and fell, the car wheels passing over one of his legs completely severing it.

The old year with its hopes and fears, joys and sorrows is gone forever. Let each of us begin the new with a determination to profit by the errors of the past, to do well our part, leaving the result in the hands of the Giver of all good.

Samuel Moore, Justice of the Peace, can be found in the office occupied by J. S. Reeve fully prepared to attend to all official business entrusted to his care. He has a neat office, and everybody that knows the old "Squire," knows that he will administer justice without fear or favor.

Quite a number of our prominent citizens visited the Poor Farm, last Saturday evening, and report a jolly good time. A number of others stopped at Tyner City, to attend the temperance meeting, and they also returned well pleased. The sleighing affords a chance to go almost anywhere, and have pleasant time—going at least.

The trains of the I. P. & C. railway have been almost on time since the snow storm commenced. It is one of the best conducted roads in the State.

Renew your subscription to the REPUBLICAN while you can get the Chicago Weekly News six months at a premium. All old subscribers and all new subscribers can have this chance for thirty days yet.

Don't send your money away from home for a newspaper before having subscribed for your county paper. It will do more to advance your interests and improve your country than twenty city papers.

The temperance Watch-meeting at the M. E. Church, was well attended, a large number staying until the new year was fully ushered in. Dr. Gould, B. E. Ryder, Mrs. A. O. Borton, and N. Graves addressed the meeting.

Some of our correspondents are in the habit of sending their communications unsealed, with a one cent stamp attached. Such letters cost us six cents when we take them from the office. Manuscript cannot be sent through mails at less than letter postage rates, whether sealed or unsealed.

Hon. C. H. Reeve, the distinguished Senator from this district, felt Tuesday, but not like Congressman Acklen, of Louisiana, he fell on the ice, while trying his skill on a pair of skates between the banks of Yellow river. It furnished much amusement for the boys, whatever the Senator may have thought of the matter.

I. M. Smith of Tyner City, sends us a communication the substance of which is that correspondents should confine themselves to news and not write anything not fit to read. As that is our own opinion and we suppose the opinion of most of our readers we do not deem it necessary to publish a long letter on the subject.

You who are in arrears one or two years should not forget what we said last week, that you can save money by paying before the 25th of January. Call and see us or send the whole or part by registered letter, or post-office order, or by a neighbor. You will find it to your interest to let us hear from you. We hope to retain every one of you on our books, but you will understand that we cannot do this unless we get something in return.

The New Year was ushered in by a grand salute from the Marshall County Guards. The fire companies were out in force and attempted to flood the ice on the river so as to make nice skating for the boys New Year's, but while the flooding was a success it did not do much good—old Yellow river managing to find openings enough in the ice to take care of about all the water they could throw on it.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Whitlock, of Walkerton, celebrated their tin wedding last Friday evening. A host of their friends were present, and the presents were many of them intended to create a laugh and add to the enjoyment of the guests. But there were many other presents that were valuable and useful. Everybody seemed pleased, and a jolly good time was indulged in until late in the evening.

The hands in the Democrat office presented Hon. Dan. McDonald a very nice gold-headed cane Tuesday. The presentation speech was made by Daniel Langenbaugh, who has been in the office longer than any other hand—about eleven years. Mr. McDonald was completely surprised, and evinced much feeling at this tribute from the boys. He retired from the editorial chair, perhaps forever, but he has the satisfaction of knowing that while there his labors have been appreciated.

The LaPorte Herald says Rev. Mr. Stringer and daughter were returning to their home in this city on Saturday night, from a protracted meeting at Salem Church, and when about a mile east of Mr. Ludlow's drove their buggy off a bridge in the road, the end of which had been covered by the deep snow, so as not to be visible, and broke the buggy, compelling both of them to ride the horse to town; a very comfortable performance during the heavy snow storm then prevailing, and without any saddle; riding double not being very pleasant under the most favorable circumstances.

A number of our exchanges have a good word for us. The Northern Indianaian says, "THE PLYMOUTH REPUBLICAN is as pretty as a picture." The Mishawaka Enterprise says, "Chippewee and 'sassy,' it is a good paper." Valparaiso Messenger says, "The REPUBLICAN is one of our most readable exchanges." Many others have spoken of us in complimentary terms. Thanks, brethren. We believe that the papers of Northern Indiana cannot be excelled by any other county papers in the United States, and if we can make the REPUBLICAN as good as the average of them, we shall feel that we have done well.

As the eastern mail train was passing Grovetown Saturday morning, three young men residing in that vicinity, thought to have some fun by trying the speed of their horses attached to a sleigh, with that of the train. Running down ahead of the train until they came to the crossing where a warehouse concealed the sleigh, jumped out and saved their lives; but John Clarke, the driver was killed instantly, the train striking him, and the sleigh throwing Mr. Clarke in the air, his head striking the boiler of the engine and breaking his neck. Both horses were instantly killed.

Payee Personals.

Many of our old subscribers, and not a few new ones, have come in and paid for one of the best county papers in Indiana since our last issue. First among them was J. L. Atkinson, one of the oldest and most successful teachers of the county; then came John S. Wisler, of Bremen, who, like Atkinson, takes both the REPUBLICAN and Inter-Ocean. H. N. Hamilton pays just as willingly as he would go to his dinner when hungry, and Henry Marsh, who never lets his paper run behind, is followed by Alfred Allen, and we are four dollars richer for the visit of these two welcome patrons. Now Dr. Gould, whom everybody knows as a man that understands his business, and knows something about as many things as anybody else, comes in and pays the amount necessary to send the REPUBLICAN and Indianapolis Journal a year to his father, who resides at Argos, and shows that he knows where to get good reading matter by the paper he takes. H. C. Bailey is next on hand, and will get the same two papers a year. Charles Morgan, from near Argos, sends the necessary two dollars, as does Thomas Lambert, from the same place. Hess, the popular Postmaster at Argos, next sets the figures ahead, and Mrs. E. W. Dunlap, Plymouth's well-known lady physician, though she has been sick and unable to practice for sometime until the last few days, pays as promptly as we wish those indebted to her would try to do. W. C. Baxter, from LaPaz, who has been sick for almost a year, shows that he is honest by coming in and paying a part of what he owes. Will not a number of others do the same thing. Everybody knows Col. Thomas Sumner, and everybody knows that such a man will always take and pay for his county papers once a year, and as this happens to be the time of year that the Colonel commenced taking the paper, his name appears on our list this week. Hon. George A. Nettleton next becomes a new subscriber. Henry Deline, of West, like a number of others this week, comes in ahead of time and sets the figures into 1880, and L. W. Bruckart, of the same township, contributes his father's share to send the paper to him at Burnett Station, Johnson county, Mo. B. W. Miller, wishing to give his brother a New Year's gift, can think of nothing better than the REPUBLICAN and Inter-Ocean, and through the year 1879, A. K. Miller, of Coffeyville, Kan., will have reading matter of the best kind. A. R. Phillips, who gets his mail at Plymouth, and is one of the oldest, staunchest Republicans of the county, comes in, throws down the amount necessary to pay till 1880, and says, "You furnish a good paper, and I want the one you send me to be mine, not yours. T. O. Taber, of Argos, wants a daily paper and he can't do without the REPUBLICAN, so he subscribed for it and the Daily News. Josiah Annis comes again with his contribution, while C. C. Watson, of Inwood, shows what kind of a man he is by paying more than a year in advance; and we should be inclined to pray that more than a score of our subscribers in that neighborhood be made the same kind of men. If we thought it would do any good, A. C. Roberts and Joseph Van Vactor both pay for their county paper and the Inter-Ocean. A. Drake, of Argos, pays two years' subscription, while Leonard Kinsey, of West, and F. B. Personett, of Maxenkuckee, help to swell the fund, without which we could not keep the REPUBLICAN "a-going."

P. O. Jones, one of Plymouth's best attorneys contributed his share to help us along, and George Balsey of Bremen, one of the best Republicans in the State, brought us a cord and eighth of good wood which he thought ought to pay a year's subscription, and we thought so too, and gave him him credit for more than he asked. New Year's morning Frank Freese, just as good a fellow as can be found anywhere, deposited two dollars, and Charley Holtzendorf, who is a good tonorial artist, a good Democrat and one of our best subscribers followed suit. Charley has been reading the REPUBLICAN four-teen years, and we have not much hopes of converting him, but will furnish him with good reading matter all the same. Thomas R. Boulton, of Bourbon, also began the year by sending us a $1, and promises more soon. All right, Thomas, you shall have the REPUBLICAN.

The Hebrew Ladies Benevolent Society have some money to distribute among the needy of this city. Any persons wanting aid are respectfully requested to call next Wednesday the 8th inst., between 2 and 4 o'clock P. M. at the residence of Mr. Levy Lauer on Center street, or before that time to either of the undersigned. Mrs. LEVI LAUER, Pres. Mrs. SIMON BECKER, Sec. Mrs. MAYER WOLF, Treas.

JOHN MUELLER is still the "tonic" barber establishment in Plymouth. Don't you forget it, but come right along and get a nice clean shave or hair cut in style.

LITTLE MACK, the "poor man's friend" will give better bargains than ever. Don't buy anything until you see what he will do.

Confectionaries and canned goods, also all the sweet-meats that can be desired, at Fred Koontz's.

MARRIED.

December 25th, 1878, by Equire Holley, of Argos, Mr. James W. Finney to Miss Lucinda Lowery, all of Argos, Ind.

At Plymouth, on December 25th, by Samuel Moore, J. P., Mr. Warren Schroeder to Miss Eliza Shepherd.

DIED.

At the County Poor House, near Tyner City, Dec. 25th, of Typhoid pneumonia, William Crooks, aged 50 years—Mr. Crooks had been a resident of this county for many years.

The Social Event of the Season.

Tuesday evening was the twenty-first anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. D. McDonald. The concourse of persons that assembled at their residence on that occasion was perhaps the largest that ever assembled in Plymouth on a similar occasion. The cards of invitation distinctly stated that no presents would be expected, and when Senator Reeve in an appropriate speech presented Mr. McDonald with a splendid gold watch, the gift of the citizens of Plymouth, a testimonial of their esteem, Dan's eyes were filled with tears, which showed better than words could express his appreciation of the gift. The watch is inscribed "To Daniel McDonald, from his friends, Plymouth Indiana, Dec. 31st, 1878. 'We appreciate you.' Mr. Reeve in his speech gave a running biography of Mr. McDonald from his boyhood to the present, referring to his various positions of honor and trust, both public and private. The ladies of Plymouth presented Mrs. McDonald with a fine silver service, coffee urn, tea urn, hot water urn, slop bowl, sugar bowl, pitcher, spoon holder &c.,—very elegant. Mrs. John Blain made the presentation speech in a few well chosen words. Mrs. McDonald returned her thanks unable to say more. To say that the over three hundred guests were well entertained and enjoyed themselves, would be superfluous.

At midnight the "Guards" formed in front of the residence and fired a salute, and as the New Year was ushered in the assembly dispersed, all wishing that when twenty-one years roll round, Daniel, and Lydia Charlotte Armstrong McDonald may be living and as happy and prosperous as on this anniversary night.

A crying baby is a bore to the whole neighborhood and the parents should be forced to keep Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup handy. Price 25 cents.

For Sale or Exchange.

80 acres of good land in Kansas at a bargain. Enquire of H. Corbin & Co's Real Estate Agency.

Those knowing themselves indebted to me will please call and settle, as I am much in need of money.

MRS. E. W. DUNLAP.

MARMONT.

ORA PRO NOBIS.

Wm. Zechel, Sr., has bought the Hill farm.

John Swiselt is suffering from a severe attack of lung fever.

The question as to who receives the best treatment by the white people, the negro or the Indian, will receive its quietus at Marmont next Friday night.

The teachers of this township who attended the county institute at Plymouth, last week, express themselves as well pleased with the exercises.

Ozias Dadleson, while hauling hay last Wednesday, let his horses stand in the road unattended, while he stepped over to Mr. Bryant's barn to look at some pigs, and while thus engaged the horses took fright and struck, out for home, leaving the hay at the foot of Banker hill. But slight damage was done.

The Marmont literary society bids fair to be a success. The second meeting was held Saturday evening, notwithstanding the regular meetings are held on Friday nights, and the paper read, the "Marmont Banner," was in every particular worthy of commendation. It was rich, rare and racy.

Regardless of the fact that Old Earth was clad in her white robe, with the thermometer away down in the "teens," and winter with all her rigorous concomitants was upon us, old Santa Claus came promptly on time, making his annual round, heavily laden with all that tends to bring joy to the hearts of the juveniles and merriment to the household.

WEST TOWNSHIP.

G. M. GRATE.

The German Baptist Sabbath school closed last Sunday.

J. Hickie and wife spent the holidays visiting in Elkhart county.

"Gratz" was lucky, having had the pleasure of being at two roasts during the holidays.

We understand that J. J. Hamilton was arrested in Ft. Wayne, where he is attending lectures, for jury tampering. We hope he will prove himself clear, he is one of the brightest young men we have in our township.

Married, Christmas, Mr. J. Clemens to Miss Lydia Crum so Julius got a Crum for a Christmas present.

D. Myers, of Colorado, is visiting at Elder Knisley's.

E. Himes is running the wagon shop at Stigo, formerly occupied by S. Smallwood, and is putting up some of the best rigs found in the county.

Rev. Bell closed his meeting last Sunday evening at the Amish church.

Bill Haines, over in Starke county, had a child two months old freeze to death one night last week. They put it in the cradle in the evening beside the bed, and when they looked at it they found it frozen and dead.

The band of Gypsies that camped in Bonnell's woods for some time, nearly froze last week. They spent their time trading horses and telling fortunes for some of our moon struck Johnnies, and love sick lassies.

Died, Dec. 25th, of consumption, Mrs. Butts, wife of Aaron Butts. She was in her 49th year, a member of the German Baptist church, and loved and respected by all. The funeral services were conducted by Elder Knisley at their church.

Have used Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup and pronounce it the best medicine in use. We cheerfully recommend it to all sufferers.—Jeffers, Roberts & Co., South Boston, Va., November 17, 1878.

REMEMBER Little Mack's great closing out sale. Never again will you have a such a chance to buy cheap.

ARGOS.

BY EN EYE EX.

Weather cold and sleighing good.

Garrett Wilson of Plymouth was in Argos last week, taking in Christmas.

A grand Christmas gift in the 3rd ward at Jasper Morris's—a boy.

The Potter House is to be occupied by a new proprietor, Mr. Upton.

Mrs. Millie J. Gordon is spending Christmas at her father's, in Lake county.

The man that pays his subscription in advance for THE PLYMOUTH REPUBLICAN will not be sick a day during the year; never have any corns or toothache; his potatoes never rot; the weevil never eats his wheat; frost never kills his corn and beans; is never swindled in shoddy goods; is a sure preventive against an attack of higher cold peddlers; his sales never dry at night; and most wonderful of all, his wife never scolds.

Jacob L. Mood is putting up a blacksmith shop between Lackey's foot and shoe shop and Knight's harness shop, and Argos certainly need not be in pressing need of blacksmiths just now.

Married, on Wednesday, Dec. 23rd, 1878, by Rev. C. V. Strickland, Daniel Lehman to Algie Haines, all of Argos.

The Christmas tree entertainment at the Christian Church was a success.

Rev. C. V. Strickland, of the Argos Christian Church, has gone to Coarse, Ind., to conduct a protracted meeting and will be gone for a few weeks, and upon his return will start a series of meetings at his church in Argos.

Mrs. Stewart, of Indianapolis, is making a visit to her friends in Argos. She is a daughter of Capt. Finan, deceased.

Mr. Geo. Matheny and wife are to have a birthday party on Thursday, Jan. 2d, '79. A host of friends are expected to be present.

Miss Cora C. Brown is visiting Dr. J. H. Wilson, of Plymouth, this week.

Mrs. Rhoda Gentry is in the southern part of the State on business, and will return this week.

Simon Railback returned from the West this week, where he has been attending to some business matters.

Argos has a new hall over the Wickizer and Williams' store room, which is to be known as Concert hall, and for its size can not be surpassed in the county.

The temperance union at Whippoorwill is in good running order, and the Argos choir went to help them in their music recently.

The temperance work at the brick church south of Argos is on the increase. They hold their meetings Sunday night. About one hundred Argosites went down to their meeting last Sunday night.

If these mills do not get enough logs this winter, it will be because there are not enough in the country. Almost every farmer in the country is hauling, and the mill yards are now crowded.

A man isn't twice when he is 'beside himself,' then the English language is a failure.

Wesley O. Richard, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, cousin of Dr. A. H. Johnson, is in Argos, and talks of starting or buying a drug store here.

Dell Gordon was up to Plymouth last week, and when about to start home, she attempted to cross the track at the depot between a moving freight train and another section to which it was about couple, but being scarcely quick enough, was so caught between them as to pretty severely injure her right hip.

TYNER CITY.

OCCASIONAL.

A happy New Year to all!

Sleighing turns out to be a premium. Now is the time to be good to the poor as you may be poor yourself some time.

We have a boy here who is quicker than lightning. That is, when he jumps out of bed when he hears the old man coming up stairs, after he has called the boy several times to get up and build the fire.

Will Jarrell is spending a few days with friends here.

Mayne Neff, baggage master on the I. P. & C. railway, is here this week, visiting his parents.

Dr. Dickie, of Madison, who is attending medical lectures in Chicago, has been called home to attend a patient who is suffering with a disease of the heart.

Henry J. Auel made his regular trip to Evansport last week.

Squire Snyder and family were the guests of G. M. Richardson last Sunday.

Henry Stanley is running the bakery of Yarrick Bros., at Walkerton.

Dr. Simpson's son, who resides in Trumbull county, is visiting his father.

"Squire Neff is on the sick list this week. James McDonald, of Walkerton, the "Old Bull" of New Orleans, Indiana, accompanied by his new wife, is spending the holidays with friends here.

Dell, Knott and Henry Harris are training for the opera.

A number of Plymouth folks attended a "Squire Snyder and family were the guests of G. M. Richardson last Sunday."
