CITY AND COUNTY.

—Mrs. John Dial is very sick.
—Mr. Henry Work is lying very ill.
—Mrs. Plake of Polk township died last week.
—Renberger is getting together stone to build a new house.
—Some of our correspondence is crowded out this week. We did the best we could boys.
—Oscar Lightner of Green township was killed Tuesday by a falling tree while cutting saw logs for Wm. Voris.
—G. W. Boyd of Tyner attended the State Temperance Convention at Indianapolis last week.
—The Tyner temperance union received an addition of seventeen new members at its last meeting.
—Esquire Samuel Moore and Mrs. Deidon were united in marriage Sunday morning, by Rev. Austin Fuller, at his residence.
—Ten-dollar bills on the consolidated bank of Canada are in circulation. This bank has no bills of that denomination.
—Protestantism social at Rev. G. A. Little's next Friday evening. Everybody cordially invited. Supper from six to ten p. m.

—Rev. Pattee, of Walkerton, will address the temperance meeting next Friday evening. Mr. Pattee is an eloquent and sensible speaker.
—Forty days of sleighing is something unusual for this part of the country, yet we have had them, but the prospect is not good for many more.

—S. Cole and son, of Columbia City, Indiana, expect to open a broom factory in the basement of Woodward's building, on Michigan street, next Monday.
—When you want letter heads, note heads, bill heads, statements, or job work of any kind, come to the Republican office, where you can get work done in the best style and at reasonable prices.

—The L. P. & C. Co. are now selling single and round trip tickets to Chicago, via L. S. & M. S. and M. C. roads, at same rates as via the P. & W. C. road, and arrive in Chicago a half hour earlier.

—Senator Reeve has introduced a bill regulating public contracts, preventing any public contractor from having any pecuniary interest either when in office or in a time anticipated after the term of office shall have expired.
—The Crown Point Cosmes, edited and published by John Millikan, says The PLYMOUTH REPUBLICAN always was a good paper, and that in entering on the 23d volume, its editors and publishers evidently feel that they have command of the situation and are not afraid of the Sheriff.

—To J. N. Hess, of Argos, who is now at Fort Smith, Arkansas, who are indebted for a copy of the Fort Smith News Era. It is a neat paper, Republican in politics, and judging from the advertisements, we should say that Fort Smith is a lively town, and one in which a Northern man could live.

—L. Linenhekt and wife, and John Soice and wife were among the many who went to Bremen, yesterday.
—Elijah Staubs returned Tuesday evening, from a five weeks visit at Massillon, Ohio, his father came home with him.

—A large number of our citizens went to Bremen yesterday evening, to reciprocate the visit of Bremen citizens Wednesday evening of last week.
—W. H. Whitaker, advertising agent, Cleveland, Ohio, says of all the newspapers received, the Plymouth Republican is printed on the best paper, and is not excelled by any in typographical appearance.

—J. F. Langenbaugh, one of Marshall county best educators, will deliver a lecture at Marmont one week from next Saturday evening. Subject, "The History and Progress of Education in America."

—Sylvester Young goes to-day to Plymouth, to prosecute his business of bartering, but will not move his family until spring. We are sorry to lose one of our best citizens, but what is our loss is Plymouth's gain.—Valparaiso Vindicator.

—A locomotive weighing 118,000 pounds recently passed over the Pittsburgh and Ft. Wayne road. It was destined for work in the mountain districts of the Southern Pacific railroad. It had eight drive wheels and a two-wheel truck.

—THE PLYMOUTH REPUBLICAN commenced its 23d volume December 19. Thanks to the ability and energy of its editor and publisher, and the good times which Republican policy has produced, the paper is prospering better than ever before in its history.
—LaPorte Chronicle.

—Senator Reeve of Plymouth, got mad the other day and threatened to resign and go back to his farm, in Marshall county, if the Judiciary Committee, of which he is Chairman, was not furnished with better and more convenient committee rooms. Reeve lives in a country that boasts of having the finest court house in the State, and because the jail is a rickety old shanty first class criminals refuse to stay in it, and the county is obliged to send them to South Bend to board. You can't get a Plymouth lawyer to descend to second class accommodations.—Crown Point Cosmes.

—Charles Flora, who was arrested last Thursday for burning the Tippecanoe town woolen mills, having made a confession was placed in jail at this place. Last Saturday and Sunday he pretended to be very sick with cramp colic, and Dr. Wilson was called to prescribe for him. Sunday afternoon Sheriff Astley, having some business which demanded his attention in the vicinity of Bourbon early Monday morning, started for Bourbon. Sunday evening, Dr. Wilson went to the jail to see his patient, and says when he got there he found the outside door open, and the door of the cell in which the prisoner was confined unlocked. Hogarth, who had charge of the jail in the Sheriff's absence, says he saw the Dr. coming and unlocked the door. The Dr. went in, saw his patient and went to the stove to warm his hands, and the prisoner got up and walked out, leaving the Dr. and Hogarth in the cell. Hogarth, hearing the cry that the prisoner "was out," laid down his baby, ran out and to the cell, where he found Dr. Wilson looking out of the window in the direction that Flora was supposed to have gone. Flora was last seen in the vicinity of the Catholic Church. No further trace of him can be found. A reward of $300 is offered for his apprehension. These facts we learn from the Sheriff.

Ishabod Benton Halsey.
Last week we announced the death of I. B. Halsey, which occurred at his residence, two and a half miles south-east of this city, Saturday, January 11th, 1879.

Mr. Halsey was born in Warren county, Ohio, November, 16th, 1811. He was the fifth child, and second son of Ishabod B. and Sarah W. Halsey. At the age of 16, he went to Springfield, Ohio, and entered a printing office for the purpose of learning the printer's trade. Springfield was then little more than a settlement in the woods, but to young Halsey, who was known as "Benton," and by which name many of the old residents of Springfield still speak of him, and have the kindest recollections, nature's wilds were beautiful, for he was a true lover of nature, and the time spent at Springfield did not hang heavily on his hands. After learning his trade, he went to Columbus, Ohio, where he remained engaged in a printing office until 1830 or 1837, when he returned to Springfield, and in connection with the late John M. Gallagher, purchased the Pioneer, and afterwards changed the name to the "Springfield Republican." The paper, daily and weekly, is still published under that name. In 1840 Mr. Halsey edited a campaign paper called the War Club, which did good service for Wm. H. Harrison as a candidate for President.

He remained in Springfield connected with the Republican, of which he is regarded as the founder, until 1849, when he abandoned his trade forever and came west, settling in Marshall county, Indiana. The Springfield Republican, of Jan 14, says that although he was a practical joker in his way, and a little inclined to eccentricity, he made friends apparently without an effort; "was very public spirited, and always foremost in any movement calculated to advance the real interests of the place in any way." The same traits characterized him in his new home, and he was soon held in the highest estimation by all who knew him. He bought and superintended the improvement of a large farm on the Burr Oak flats, which he subsequently sold, and purchased the farm on which he resided at the time of his death. The whole of his long residence here, with the exception of a few years, was spent on his farm, and during his short residence in Plymouth, he still retained and controlled it. In 1854 he was the Whig candidate for Representative from this county and Stark, and though the district was Democratic, he was defeated by a very small majority. Strictly honest, of a genial nature, always ready to help the needy and give words of cheer to those who were struggling honestly for success in any honorable business, he did not a little to help make this county what it is to-day, one of the best in the State.

Mr. Halsey was a bachelor when he came here, but early in December, 1858, he was united in marriage with Miss Sallie Sophia Haines, with whom he lived happily until her death, July 20, 1878. Together for twenty years they traveled the journey of life, together they built up and established their comfortable home, and secured the fertile farm that is now left to their children. Mr. Halsey had only a common school education, and was eminently a self made man, possessing in many respects far more information than the graduates of the best colleges. He had a retentive memory, and was by all acknowledged the best historian in Marshall county. He was always posted in the current news of the day, and his opinion in regard to probable political changes in this country or Europe was eagerly sought, and generally proved correct. He took a lively interest in the newspapers of the country, and often visited the Republican office. On the fifth of last November he was in our office, went to the case and set up a paragraph, remarking that it was the last stick of type he should ever set. Little did we think then that we should so soon be called upon to chronicle his death. He was, says the Springfield Republican, related to many of the leading men of Ohio. He was the brother of the late Judge J. S. Halsey and Mrs. General Anthony, cousin of Judge James S. Goode of Springfield, and Judge Smith of Lebanon. His work on earth is ended. His example is worthy of imitation, and it can be truly said of him that he did not live to be heard or seen of men, but tried to do right.

Page Personal.
The first to pay this week was D. W. Williams, of Warrington, Hancock county. He is a former resident of this county, and belongs to a family who always read the Republican and other good papers. His brother, F. M. Williams, near Tyner, always subscribes for the Republican and two good city papers at the same time.

Frank Knoblock lives at or near Bremen. We never saw him, but know he is a good fellow, because having got a little behind he sent us three dollars last week to set his subscription ahead. There are a few other men in German township who would feel a great deal better if they would do likewise.

T. A. Blasingham lives at Inwood, and unlike some other men down there, he pays the printer punctually. Although the time for which he had paid does not expire for a month, he came in last week, gave us the name and money of a new subscriber and advanced his own subscription. The new subscriber is J. W. Gerard, and we hope to make the Republican so good that he will hereafter find it a household necessity.

Era Pinney, from down in the vicinity of Argos, the place where everybody, with one or two exceptions takes the Republican, sends us two dollars. Wm. Rallsback, from the same place, sends a small sum to keep him "paid ahead." Then comes Postmaster Wise, of Maxenkuckee, and deposits the money necessary to send the paper to his mother another year.

John Kuhn came in next, looking pale and weak. He settled for the year, and his "ad" in another column will tell you where to go to get boots and shoes made in style. John is just coming out of a "spell" of lung fever, and we are glad that he is again able to work.

Edwin Sour was the next subscriber that visited our sanctum. He talked a little about hard times, hoped they would soon get better, and then paid us three dollars to help make them better for us. Ed. lives in West township, and the Republican hopes that everything may work together for good for him and all such men, until the complaint of hard times will no longer be heard in the land.
But now comes Hans Hartor. Everybody knows Hans, at least everybody that chews or smokes; and more than that, they know that he is honest, and makes the best cigars to be found in this part of the country. Hans don't forget that printers cannot live in this climate without something to eat and wear, consequently he pays us just as he would any body else. B. G. Martinale gets his mail at Inwood. He came in this week, said he guessed he was a little behind, but that he always tried to keep paid ahead, and would advance two dollars now. Reader, that man's subscription had expired just two days previous. Don't you think we'd like to have five thousand such subscribers? If you do, you're right. But now comes a man to help us along that it hardly worth our while to mention. His name is Daniel McDonald. Some of our readers may have heard of him, others may have seen him, and without jesting, we know that he will always do what he ought, to support any enterprise that will benefit Plymouth or Marshall county. Mrs. Huffman is the next on the list. She has read the Republican more than twenty years. Of course she could not think of doing without it now, and she would not think for a moment of reading it and not paying for it, consequently we add two dollars to our cash account, and change the figures opposite her name to 1890.

Endorsed by the people as a safe, reliable, harmless and cheap remedy, Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

WALNUT.

BY DAN.

Everything is lively here. Our "Doctors" are busy night and day. The mill yard is full of logs and they are now filling the streets.

T. P. Jackson's brother is now here, studying how to manipulate the keys, and send messages along the wires. T. P. is a first class operator.

Rev. Loder, of the Yellow River circuit will lead a series of meetings here this week.

Two or three advocates of intemperance, while in the postoffice the other day, declared that they were too sharp for temperance people. The only reason these men cannot be driven is that their feet are too large and their heads too soft.

The Walnut temperance union has employed James Vigles, of Logansport, to labor with the surrounding unions.

Our hotel caught fire a few days ago. There was some smoke and probably some praying, anyhow we heard the name of the Deity used quite often.

WEST TOWNSHIP.

G. M. GRANT.

—We have more snow in this "neck-of-the-woods" than we have had for several years. It is about two feet on the level.

—Died.—The infant daughter of P. Berger, on the 17th inst., of lung fever.

—D. Mingle, of Farmersville, Ohio, and M. T. List, of Elwood, Ind., were visiting at Dr. Miller's last week.

—D. Morelock and B. Hilleman have nearly regained their former health since the surgical operation they had performed at Ft. Wayne.

—It is a daughter they have at N. W. Hoover.

—There was a dance and an oyster supper at the residence of A. Gambrell's the other evening, and Walter Cook's son, who came into going Cook's cutter, swamming violin and couter, the young lady in company with Cook was hurt, but not seriously.

WANTED.—A sure cure for corns on the toes. If any of the correspondents of the Republican know of a good remedy let's have it.

—Joseph Miller and wife, of Green township were visiting at D. Wilborns.

MARMONT.

ORA PRO NOBIS.

—Health good in this locality.

—Dr. Durr is filling his ice house.

—The Marmont cornet band went to Fizzleton Saturday night to serenade the natives.

A number of our citizens went to Centre, in Germany, last Saturday to attend the M. E. Quarterly meeting. Mr. Wiseman reports having as good sermons preached as he ever listened to.

—Barney Arnold, a pauper, homeless and friendless, died of lung fever at Mrs. Morrice's last Wednesday night, and was buried on Friday, with more honors probably than are usually accorded persons of low estate.

—The projected meeting which the Albrights commenced three weeks ago last Friday night is yet in progress at the "Burr Oaks," and many have been made to bow the suppliant knee, and forsake their evil ways.

—On Saturday, Feb. 2, 1879, commencing at 7 o'clock p. m., J. P. Langenbaugh, of Plymouth, will lecture before the Marmont literary society. Subject, "History and Progress of Education." The same day, Feb. 2, the teachers of Union and West townships will hold a joint institute at Scott's school house.

ARGOS.

BY EYE REE.

Cold, and sleighing good.
Mrs. Sarah J. Jones has returned from Kewanee and started to school.

Miss Della Gordon is improving slowly from her injuries received at Plymouth last December, by the cars.

Nora Allen is on the sick list.
Charlie M. Fink has sold his drug store to Wm. C. Rickard of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and will remove his goods to Geo. Bruck's building, one door south of Pickers's grocery. Dr. A. H. Johnson will occupy the back part of the room for an office.

Mrs. J. C. Gordon has returned from her visit in Lake county, Indiana.

Mr. Pyles, of Rochester, was visiting friends in Argos last week.

Prof. Lawrence will lecture on philosophy and anatomy at the Concert Hall, at Dickler's building during this week.

D. K. Brown will occupy a window in the drug store of Wm. C. Rickard, where he will work at the jewelry business, and to all having clocks, watches and jewelry to be repaired who will favor him with their orders satisfaction will be guaranteed, both in price and workmanship.

Rev. W. W. Jones is holding a protracted meeting at Wolf Creek charge.

J. N. Hess reports favorably from Arkansas, and will probably locate there.

BREMEN.

BY HANK.

—We have another young miller in town. It is a girl.

—Bauer and Walter had considerable sport on their way home from Plymouth one morning last week. They were racing all the way home, but not satisfied with that they raced their teams through town, and at the end they came out a tie. Of course this caused a laugh and they thought it awful funny. On Saturday their time was changed. They were fined four dollars and twenty cents apiece for violating the law. Several parties drove through Plymouth in the same way, not stopping for bridges or anything else. Some of those fast drivers must watch themselves close.

—The Plymouths seem to take more pride in dancing after the Bremen music than that of South Bend. We heard a certain citizen say the South Bend boys are country hoe-down players.

—Kontz & Wolf have moved part of their stock to Neppene, with which they have started a branch store.

—Nellie York has been confined to her bed some time with cramps. She has a severe time of it.

—Frank Walter and wife have commenced house keeping. They seem to take to married life quite naturally.

—Our saw mills are nearly overstocked, and local coming in. Some are saving night day.

GREEN TOWNSHIP.

OLD RED.

The spelling mania has made its appearance in this township.

J. Lowery was suddenly taken quite ill. The percent of attendance in some of our schools during the recent cold "snaps" was out down to 30.

Matthew Lowery and family, of West township, were visiting relations in this township last week.

Wm. Voris, A. C. Wickler and Wm. Miller are the officials of the temperance union at Wilperville.

The citizens of the surrounding country should remember that M. B. Zeuner, of Wolf Creek, is not only in possession of a list mill, but a grocery store also.

A projected meeting is in progress at Wolf Creek, conducted by Rev's Jones and Bussert. The pastors' earnest labors are appreciated by the people, and a number at this date have stepped aboard the "Old Ship."

James Vigles, of Logansport, D. K. Townsend, of Walnut, and Harkins of Ticonderoga, delivered temperance speeches at Wilperville Friday night, owing to the inclemency of the weather and the projected effort at Wolf Creek, the attendance was not large.

Now, if the predictions of the weather prophets amount to as much as the boys of our class, we may expect very cold weather soon.

Frederick Hoover, one of Walnut township's eminent citizens, informs us that he was born in Cass county, the 8th of June, 1823, near where the city of Logansport now stands. Believing this to be the fact, we will add that the historiographer of that county, while giving one, C. Ball, who was born in 1829, the honors of having been the first white child born in Cass county, is incorrect in this particular.

"Will it do no harm?" This is the question often asked, and the answer is, "It can not," for Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup is an innocent remedy, warranted to contain neither Opium, Morphia, or anything injurious. Price 25 cents a bottle.

From and after this date we have determined to sell our large stock of Dry Goods and Notions at and below cost, to make room for goods to come in the spring. Bring your money and we will give you a full equivalent.

KLOEPFER & BOFINGER.

Mrs. BAXTER & Co. have removed their Millinery, Dress-making & Hair dressing establishment to Kroust's old stand, four doors north of Wheeler's Bank. They have now the finest establishment of the kind in the city and will be pleased to meet all their old customers and a host of new ones, knowing that they can please all who call on them.

Farmer Cards.
We have just manufactured a style of card for farmer boys. We have been at a great expense in making these cards, but as we have a large stock of them, and in order to introduce them, we will print 25 for 19 cents until Feb. 1. Crown Card Co.

Did you ever try any of that No. 1, 20-cent Coffee at the Bakery on LaPorte street.

A dog is a cur sir. No, a bar kor. Why? Because you should read the advertisement of the Crown Card Co.

We advise all who want a good square meal to go to the Bakery on LaPorte street.

Read the Crown Card Co's advertisement, and buy a pack of cards. They print 150 styles of visiting cards.

Confectioneries and canned goods, also all the sweet-meats that can be desired, at Fred Kontz's.

Crown Card Co. advertisement.

Crown Card Co. advertisement.

A Brooklyn young lady, who is absent at a boarding school, communicated to a female friend in this city the following interesting piece of information: "In my last letter you remember I thought Charley S. and Mary were engaged to be married. Well, now I know they are. They sat in the gallery last Saturday night and while Charley scraped a gum-drop off the roof of her mouth."

Whom, Emma!
Read the advertisement of the Crown Card Co. They print 150 styles.

At the death of John Westley, in 1791, there were in connection with Methodism 312 ministers, 115 circuits, 16 mission stations, and 79,000 members. Now including the Methodism of the United States of America, colonial Methodism and branch churches, it is estimated that they are not less than 30,000 itinerant preachers, 60,000 local preachers and 19,000,000 adherents.

The boys at the Bakery on LaPorte street are bound to break up—they sell too cheap to live long.

One more snow and then—we was going to say read the advertisement of the Crown Card Co.

We have often wondered why all the Farmers go to the Bakery on LaPorte street for Dinner. They say it is the best place in town to get a meal or lunch.

Adam, Seth, Eve, Cain, Abel, Ham! Noah! Can't you spell Able yet? If Abel had had his name printed by the Crown Card Co.—Read their advertisement and find out all about it.

If you want to find any one about noon, you have to go to the Bakery on LaPorte street.

QUEST: "Why will men smoke common tobacco, when they can buy Marburg Bros. 'Sent of North Carolina,' at the same price?" 12-13-28

Orange.
Dr. Price's Special Flavoring Extract of Orange is obtained from the finest fruit. To flavor cakes, puddings or creams, it is found one of the most delicious flavors, and in all respects equal to Dr. Price's Lemon and Vanilla Extracts, which have become so popular.

Scriptural Authority.
"In the early ages of the world perfumes were constantly used, and they have the high sanction of Scriptural authority." The patrons of perfumes at all times have been the most polished people in the world, and in this age no refined lady or gentleman considers their toilet complete without the use of some delightful scent like Dr. Price's Unique Perfumes, which are really the gems of all odors.
