

The Republican.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 7th, 1879.

CITY AND COUNTY.

Mrs. William Poor, of this city, died Tuesday night.

The long wished for rain came yesterday and everybody is glad.

Moses Becker and Wolf returned from their eastern trip yesterday.

M. H. Corbin left with an excursion for Kinsley, Kansas, last night.

Don't forget the farmer's fair in Union township, free to everybody, Sep. 27.

Frank Odell bade his friends adieu and returned to LaPorte, Tuesday night.

Mer Denton, Esq., of Rockford, Ill., is visiting relatives and friends in this city.

Miss Ella Humphrey, of Pierceton, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hess.

Don't forget the farmer's fair in Union township, September 27. Free to everybody.

Hill's Buchu for the cure of all diseases of the kidneys is for sale by G. Blain & Co.

The Presbyterian social will be held at the residence of J. W. Parks this (Thursday) evening.

Hon. H. A. Poed, of the Democrat, returned from a visit to his old home in Shoals, Ind., yesterday.

The Marshal is promptly executing the orders of the Board of Health in regard to the removal of nuisances.

Miss Lillie Rice, Miss Raina Trumbull and other friends from Indianapolis, are visiting Miss Nellie Dodge.

Recollect that Squire Moore's office is now at his residence, southeast of the Michigan street railroad bridge.

We learn that Judge Sidney Keith was married a few days since to Miss Dell Weaver, a former teacher of this place.

Mrs. Hubbard and her son Wesley have returned from eastern Pennsylvania to again make their home in Plymouth.

Cal. Klinger has returned from his trip to Patoskey, Mich., is well pleased with his visit around and across the lake.

"Things are not what they seem," remarks a poet. No, take for instance the man who thinks it's easy to edit a newspaper.

Our thanks are due Mrs. George W. Wright for one of the most beautiful bouquets of the season left on our table Friday morning.

B. V. Reed, of Leadville, formerly of this city, has been here for a few days and seems sanguine of success in his mining speculation.

Read "Inklings from Iowa," by Walter Piper, on the first page of this paper. Walter tells you what he knows about the "Hawkeye" State.

J. Watson Rice and his sister Lillie, of Indianapolis, are visiting friends in Plymouth and rustication a part of the time at Maxenckeece.

The old sidewalk on Michigan street are being torn up and replaced by new ones that are as good as can be found in any of our sister towns.

R. H. V. Reed, of Leadville, formerly of this city, has been here for a few days and seems sanguine of success in his mining speculation.

Dr. Beigh has a new professional card in to-day's paper. The Doctor is building up an extensive practice and is permanently located in Plymouth.

Look out for the premium list of the Marshal county fair to be held at Plymouth October 2nd, 3rd and 4th. It will be published in this paper next week.

The man who was going to get seven bushels of blackberries in one day, concluded after visiting the patches that there are not that many berries in the county.

Mrs. Bofiger, of Port Huron, Mich., mother of Mrs. Koeper and wife of Rev. Bofiger, a former Lutheran minister of this city, is visiting her daughter and friends here.

During the past week wheat has been coming into town in unusually large quantities. Tuesday nearly five thousand bushels were unloaded from farmers wagons at the different warehouses in Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Humrichouse wish to return their thanks to their many friends for the assistance, kindness and sympathy extended during the illness and after the death of their dearly loved son.

An old citizen of Bourbon was surprised to find his corporation tax considerably higher than usual, ascertaining of the collector the cause he was informed that it was because they were building a jail in Plymouth.

A boy tramp about fourteen years old came near getting killed by the accommodation train near the P. Ft. W. & C. depot, Wednesday morning. He took a fit while crossing the track before the train, fell and was dragged off the track by Marshal Hogan just in time to save his life.

The man who reads a well conducted county paper is not likely to be imposed upon by the sharpers who are traveling through the country for the purpose of swindling farmers. And the farmer who does not take at least one good county paper is not to be greatly pitted if he is occasionally bitten by these sharks. It is every man's duty to keep himself posted in regard to the world's doings.—Light.

Levi Donahee, one of the substantial farmers who resides near the beautiful Maxenckeece, called on us Monday and made us happy by doing just what he had promised to do. We like men that can be depended upon, and Mr. Donahee is one of that kind.

Thomas Gilson, of Inwood, was among the men that deposited two dollars for THE REPUBLICAN, Tuesday. Thomas never tries to swindle the printer, and THE REPUBLICAN will try to give him his money's worth of reading that ought to do him or anybody else good.

John Edwards, whose legs were taken off by a railroad train in this city a few weeks since, is now visiting in Green township. His rapid recovery is remarkable, as physicians thought at the time that chances were ten to one against his ever recovering.

Wilhelmina, youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Linkenheit, aged about nine months, died last Friday of brain fever after suffering intensely for several days. It was buried Sunday, the funeral services being conducted by Rev. G. W. Bower.

The Warsaw Republican says Mrs. Wilhelmina, who lives on the Leedy farm, north of town, gave birth to twins a few days ago. There is nothing very remarkable about it, only that it is the fourth time, and she now has seven children living from four births.

Charles W. Dollar, son of James Dollar, who resides near this city, died last Thursday after a lingering illness of consumption. He was a young man of steady habits, honest, genial, and kind hearted. He passed away in the bloom of youth a victim of a disease that spares neither age nor sex.

The premium list for the fair at Plymouth, October 2, 3, 4, will soon be ready. Messrs. Selteneight and Scofield have determined to make the fair the best ever held in the county, and everybody can rest assured that premiums will be paid promptly.

The County Commissioners hold a special session Saturday to consider the bond of Fred Tescher, whose term of office commences on that day. Why this has not been done at the regular meeting, would be hard to tell, unless the Commissioners wish to meet as often as possible to put money in their pockets.

We were shown yesterday a tape worm about sixty feet in length taken from Peter Pfleider of this city Tuesday by Col. Poe, of the People's Drug Store. The Colonel pronounces this the broadest, largest sized tape worm that he ever saw; and he has removed twenty-two from as many different persons within a few years.

As Dr. Burkett in company with his wife, his brother-in-law and some other friends from Warsaw, was returning from Maxenckeece, a few evenings since, one wheel of the buggy ran into a chuck hole throwing Mrs. Burkett and another lady out. The horses then attempted to run, but the men held to them and turning them into a fence succeeded in stopping them, but not until the buggy was torn to pieces.

It is rumored that the notorious harlot, known as the "Huckleberry Queen," will again locate in Tyner. Our people are anxious to see who has the cheek to harbor her.

Barking dogs have become a nuisance in this village, and before we lose much sleep by them, we will procure a revolver and try the effect of lead pills upon them, introduced hypodermically by moonlight.

Quite a number of our temperance folks have attended the camp meeting at LaPorte, and they say that the management is a complete failure; the main object seeming to be to gather in the nickels.

Our churches, Sunday-schools and temperance society are doing a grand work upon the moral nature of our people here, and we trust we are steadily growing better. We meet together and receive edification and encouragement, and the youths are being reared in the proper way to insure happiness and prosperity in after life.

The crowd at the famous, or more properly speaking, the infamous huckleberry marsh last Sunday was not very large, notwithstanding extra efforts had been made by the whisky sellers, gamblers, thieves and prostitutes to induce the people to come. There were but few persons there who make any pretensions to responsibility. A great many good people have gone there through curiosity, and to our visit generally disgusts them, so that they do not wish to repeat it. Fielded that they had put at twenty-five bushels to the acre, have turned thirty-five, and other fields have yielded proportionately. Shep Crumpacker, always fortunate, is at the head of the heap down there, a twenty-five acre field turning out over forty-six bushels to the acre by weight. Lucius Crumpacker, Sen., brother of Shep, has thirty-nine bushels to the acre, and a much larger field than Shep. Over forty thousand bushels were sold at Alida previous to last Tuesday, and the farmers were rushing it in as fast as they could get it thrashed. We understand that farmers all over the country are intending to sell as soon as they can get it to market.

ARGOS.

BY WHO NEXT.

Weather warm with nice growing showers of rain.

Pugilistic altercation settled before Squire Holley to the tune of eleven dollars.

The usual number of fights in the Dead阜 this week.

W. H. Leedy, editor of the Murphy Signal, delivered a very interesting temperance lecture to a crowded house Sunday evening.

Rev. J. S. Leland preached a very interesting sermon to a crowded and intelligent audience in the church Sunday evening. He stated that the subject of his text embraced such a broad field of interesting and instructive truths it would be impossible for him to explain all in less than three or four sermons. All were well pleased. Call again, Brother Leland.

DIED—July 30, 1879, of typhoid fever, at the residence of their parents in this place, Miss Emma H. Nicolay, aged 19 years and 5 months. Miss Emma was known and very much loved by many of her immediate neighbors and friends. Her death is a sad blow to her parents, by whom she was devotedly loved.

If you would like to take a lake ride, go on the Midsummer Excursion.

EIGHT clerks and four more coming shows that Little Mack is doing business.

READ what Little Mack has to say in his new advertisement this week—more truth than poetry there.

INWOOD.

BY EQUINOX.

All the doctors are busy, and consequently happy.

A much needed rain visited this locality last Sunday.

Two or three workmen are here now, roofing the grist mill.

Major Cooper has come and gone, and Inwood breathes easier.

Quarterly meeting commences next Saturday at the M. E. Church.

New wheat is coming in lively at from 96 to 98 cents per bushel.

Singing school, early Sunday morning at the Lyceum school by Prof. Powell.

Mr. Benson, of Walnut, has moved his harness shop to this place. May he meet with success.

Parties are here from Ohio, fitting a large quantity of walnut logs for the European market.

Prof. Rogers has turned his attention to school teaching to the drug business, and has a very neat, tasty drug store.

It is rumored that Mr. Marion Blassingham, the telegraph operator here, is to be sent to South Chicago, to take charge of an office there.

Rev. H. Wolpert has purchased several acres west of the church, and is having a large house built upon them. He is at present sick with a bilious attack.

Mr. Joseph Burden and John Blassingham, during the 6 days of last week, threshed with a steam thresher, 7,044 bushels of wheat. If any one can beat that let's hear from them.

An alarm of fire last Friday noon was occasioned by the taking fire of the roof of a house occupied by Mr. Kent Perry, but the prompt action of our citizens saved the house with small damage.

That lady over the river, who writes items for the Democrat, must have been in as peculiar a place to have been able to determine whether Joel Ellis had a tear in his eye or saw a ghost as she was when she took the water-pail out of the White schoolhouse.

No merchant in Plymouth can compare with Little Mack, that's what makes them mad.

Physicians Endorse and Prescribe it.

Be sure to call for Hill's Compound Extract of Buchu and Cubebes, for Kidney diseases, as it is emollient and prescribed by our most intelligent and skillful practicing physicians. For sale by L. Tanner, 33 34
