PARSONY VS PRODIGALITY.

Now that a beginning is to be made in paving the principal streets of Plymouth, unless an injunction should unfortunately be interposed, it behooves all the people to interest themselves in seeing that the work is properly done. It would be most regrettable if the mistakes from which other cities have suffered should be repeated here.

A cheap job may save a little outlay in the first instance, but it will inevitably cost much more in a good job in the end. True economy lies between parsimony on the one side and prodigality on the other, and economy is always productive of the best and least disappointing results. Besides the matter of the original construction of a pavement there are questions concerning the life of the improvement, its cost of maintenance, repair and cleaning, its sanitary conditions, protection against noise, facility of traction, and the like, and these should be judiciously regarded.

An insufficient foundation is the mistake that many cities make in their first experiments with paving and it is the most expensive error that can be fallen into. It seldom occurs twice in the same city but there is always some one who never saw the experience elsewhere but who knows more than those who have seen it and who will argue long and loud for a cheap foundation. If that sentiment should prevail here the pavement will certainly be relaid before it is paid for and property owners will be twice taxed.

SEASONABLE SUGGESTIONS.

Prostrations from heat here, as in other cities, some of them fatal, are a warning that should be heeded. They ought also to be an admonition to fuller enjoyment of this most beautiful time of the year. We have popular talk about the "sweltering weather" and about there being "no relief from this tropical temperature," and so forth and so on.
This indicates a fussy state of mind that is not conducive to health, whatever the temperature, and it is something in the nature of ingratitude for weather that is most beautiful and healthful if we would receive it rightly. For one thing, people do not as a rule dress properly for warm weather. We still cling to our northern origin, and it is hard for us to be rid of woollens and furs and dark colors in our clothing. Generations of Englishmen in India have not learned the art of proper dressing; the Englishmen there still parboil their flesh with heavy clothing, while the native lives in comfort. So we have ourselves to blame for improper dressing. High collars and high shoes; dark clothing and overmuch wool bring needless discomfort.

In our food also we are almost as inflexible. Nature to a degree prevents this by providing fruits in their prime for this time of year, but still we go on consuming soups, beef and other heating meats. The average American perhaps would be appalled at the proposition of doing away entirely with meat in hot weather, and yet the strongest races physically in the world live on rice, with at most a little mutton and fowl now and then. If we would take a lesson of the people that really live in a hot climate for a large part of the year we should quickly be able to put ourselves in a physical condition that would enable us to bear the summer.

For specific caution one ought to avoid hurry and worry and to maintain an equable temper to be careful in eating, both as to quality and quantity; to avoid meats as much as possible, substituting fish and fowl; to eat lightly in a comparative sense; to avoid strong stimulants—coffee and tea are the best for hot weather. With a little care and attention in keeping with these suggestions one may pass through the very hottest weather not merely in comparative comfort, but with enjoyment. The summer is the time of year when nature provides her own medicines in the heat that puts the skin in the best condition and in the fruits that purify the blood.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's catarrh cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity, catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's catarrh cure is taken internally acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure.

Nearly every one of these releases and reductions will be felt in Plymouth in direct ways and every individual will experience a benefit from some of them.
The list is well worth preserving for reference.

Tennessee vs Tamarack.

A story has been floating about for several days to the effect that Thomas Roberts, who lives near Plymouth, has suffered again in a land trade, this time the land being in Tennessee.

The truth of the matter appears to be that last winter Wesley A. Rhinehart and A. B. Personett, both well known in Plymouth, got into a real estate dicker wherein Rhinehart was to trade some Marion, Ind., town lots for a tamarack marsh of 37 1/2 acres in Union township, this county, neither property having much value. This led to the mention by Mr. Rhinehart of a tract of 250 acres in Tennessee for which he held a warranty deed. He told Personett that he had seen the land and knew it to be worthless, but a deal was consummated and Personett accepted a quit claim deed for the land and appeared to be satisfied with his new acquisition.

This tract was passed on to Frank Hawk, of Union township, who was told that it was not worth a dollar but who took it nevertheless, and he traded it to Roberts, giving a quit claim deed. None of the parties ever saw the land, except Rhinehart, until Mr. Roberts went down to inspect his purchase and found it to be just as Rhinehart had represented—utterly worthless. Roberts, supposing that no land anywhere in this rich realm could be worth much less than two dollars an acre, gave $500 for the tract, unsight and unseen, and he now wants his money back and is trying to find out just who is responsible for his undoing.

If land is worth having it is worth seeing before the deal is made, but Marshall county land is good enough for any man. There is many a 250-acre tract in Tennessee that is worth less than 37 1/2 acres of Union township tamarack swamp with a mortgage on it.

CONVICTED OF MANSLAUGHTER

Result of the "second Trial of Jesse Morrison—Incident of the Trial.

Eldorado, Kan., June 28.—Jesse Morrison was found guilty of manslaughter in the second degree late yesterday afternoon, for the murder of Mrs. Olin Castle. The penalty is not more than five years or less than three years in the penitentiary. One of Miss Morrison's lawyers immediately filed a notice of appeal. Jesse Morrison was taken to her old cell and locked up.
There her father, who had been with her, left her.

The jury wrangled for nearly thirty hours over the verdict. It is said that one juror held out obstinately for acquittal. Wednesday night, while the jury was deliberating, the Eldorado band gave a concert in the city park near the court house, and Olin Castle and Hayward Morrison (Jesse's brother) played instruments side by side.

WHEAT TO BREAK RECORDS

More of It in the Northwest Than Ever Known in Previous History.

Chicago, June 28.—After making a careful canvass of the northwest territory and preparing conservative estimates upon the conditions found throughout the grain belt, traffic officials of the St. Paul, the Northwestern, the Northern Pacific, the Great Northern and the Burlington systems are agreed that the wheat crop of this region for 1901 will break all previous records.

According to the estimates of these officials it is claimed that the two Dakotas and Minnesota alone will harvest between 185,000,000 and 200,000,000 bushels of wheat, as against 100,000, 000 last year.

that the secretary is not authorized to refund the claims which arose out of the payment of duties between the date of the exchange of the ratifications of the treaty of peace between the United States and Spain (April 11, 1899) and the date when the act approved April 12, 1900, to provide revenue, etc., for Porto Rico, went into effect on May 1, 1900.

ture of the skull.

Council in a Bad Light.

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS

OF ONE YEAR IN THIS COUNTY

The annual report of County Recorder Harley is just completed and is of interest because of its showing as to the movement in real estate during the fiscal year ending May 31. It shows that more than a thousand voluntary sales of farm and town property were made during the year in Marshall county and that more mortgage releases on real estate were filed than new mortgages, though the amounts were nearly even. The greater part of the new mortgages were for purchase money and not for old debts.

QUESTION OF JURISDICTION

When a Vessel Is Outside the Three-Mile Limit, Depends on the Flag.

Cleveland, O., June 28.—Government attorneys yesterday decided that the United States authorities have no right to cause the arrest of a member of the crew of a foreign ship for a murderous assault on board the boat in the middle of Lake Erie.

The question was brought up when John Smithers, deck hand on the British steamer Paliki, appeared at the United States offices for this district and asked that a warrant be issued for the cook of the steamer, an Italian, who he said had attempted to take his life. The Paliki is of British register and was outside the three-mile limit at the time of the assault. Her deck was consequently British territory.

Will Be No Ancient Feuds.

London, June 28.—A proclamation of King Edward issued yesterday announces that his coronation is to take place on a day not yet determined on in June next, and that the ceremonies shall include only such as are traditionally solemnized in Westminster Abbey. This officially excludes the king's champion and numerous ancient usages in connection with the procession.
