The Brownlee bridge was ordered closed by the street commissioner. The committee appointed to investigate the accident of Mrs. Hartzell, reported that the city was not liable. The assessments on the Pearl street sewer were confirmed by the council.

Banks Abandon Scheme.

An interesting political development that is of direct interest to manufacturers and financiers is the action of the Oklahoma banks in abandoning Mr. Bryan's pet bank deposit guarantee scheme. Of the 57 national banks in Oklahoma that went into the plan along with state banks and trust companies only about 13 preferred to throw up their Federal charters and become state institutions. The significance of this movement is apparent. It would seem that the majority of the Oklahoma bankers are now in accord with Secretary Elihu Root's judgment that "the attempt to make all the profits of good management bear all the losses of bad management is a step in the socialistic process which would level all distinctions between thrift and recklessness," says American Industries for October.

Another Big Boat.

ENORMOUS COST OF CONSUMPTION

PROF. FISHER SHOWS THAT DISEASE COSTS U. S. BILLION DOLLARS PER YEAR—VALUE OF PURE WATER.

Prof. Irving Fisher, the eminent political economist of Yale University, who, in one of his papers before the recent International Tuberculosis Congress in Washington, declared that consumption costs the people of the United States more than a billion dollars a year, is preparing an exhaustive report for the National Conservation Commission, which will contain not only these figures but similar data on the economic loss to the country from all other preventable diseases.

Professor Fisher is a member of the National Conservation Commission, and for many years has been carrying on studies along these lines. The commission received letters from physicians all over the country urging it to consider the bearing of public health on the economic efficiency of the nation in its efforts to conserve the nation in its efforts to conserve the nation.

At the tuberculosis congress Professor Fisher stated that 138,000 persons die of consumption every year. The cost of medical attendance and the loss of earnings before death average at least $2,400, he said, while if this is added the money that might have been earned with health the total loss in their case is about $8,000.

He pointed out, also, that the disease usually attacks young men and women just at the time when they are beginning to earn money and cuts off their earning power for about three years on an average before they die.

This subject of the economic value to the country of a general raising of the average health came up in the Governors' conference at the White House in May. Dr. George M. Kober, in his speech on "The Conservation of Life and Health by Improved Water Supply" at the conference, presented figures which showed that the decrease in the "vital assets" of the country through typhoid fever in a single year is more than $350,000,000. Typhoid is spread by polluted water largely, so that the death rate from this disease can be directly reduced by the purification of city drinking water.

Dr. Kober quoted statistics to show that the increased value of the water to the city of Albany, where the typhoid fever rate was reduced from 104 in 100,000 to 26 by an efficient filtration plant, amounts to $475,000 a year, of which $350,000 may be considered a real increase to the vital assets of the city. Census bureau figures show that the average annual death rate from typhoid in cities with contaminated water supplies was reduced from 69.4 per 100,000 to 19.8 by the substitution of pure supplies.

Dr. Kober cited estimates showing that the average length of human life in the sixteenth century was between eighteen and twenty years, and that at the close of the eighteenth century it was a little more than thirty years, while today it is between thirty-eight and forty—indeed, the span of life since 1880 has been lengthened about six years.

First Voters.

It is estimated that in the state of Indiana 50,000 young men will at the coming election be entitled to cast their first ballot. How well are they prepared for the high privileges which the law accords them? How seriously do they appreciate the important responsibility that rests upon them? How intelligently can they exercise a choice between candidates and policies? These are important questions. Upon their answer, now and year after year, as new voters arise, depends the welfare of the state.

These first voters ought to inform themselves upon the issues at stake in the present campaign. They ought to study the principles involved, and weigh the arguments advanced on all sides. Party ties are less binding now than ever before. There is more individuality of thought and independence of action. But, that this individuality and independence be helpful, it should be intelligent and sane.

These "first voters" are entering upon their career as part of the body politic. Some of them will be future officials. Not only by their votes, but by their deeds will they influence the state and possibly the nation. It is important that at the outset they be impressed with the truth—that a "righteousness exalteth a nation," and that they determine to cast their influence against graft, corruption and incompetency.—South Bend Times.

Reformatory to be Enlarged.

Fourteen condemnation suits against persons owning property in the vicinity of Indiana Reformatory at Jeffersonville were filed Thursday in the name of the state of Indiana, by Attorney General James Bingham. The complaints allege that Governor Hanly deems it necessary to acquire additional real estate to construct buildings for use of plaintiff and for other general use and purposes.

ROOSEVELT'S REAL OPINION OF MILLER

President was just starting out for a horseback ride, he insisted on Mr. Miller sitting down, and, contrary to his universal custom at the time that he has for taking his horseback exercise, he spent a full hour with Mr. Miller; and afterwards expressed to me and several others the deep impression that Mr. Miller had made upon him.

In view of what I know to be the President's attitude toward Mr. Miller, it seems to me so outrageous, so shamefully unjust to publish a story that President Roosevelt is against Mr. Miller, that, although I have hardly any time to dictate this letter, I cannot refrain from doing so. I should feel that I were dishonorable if I did not do so: I should feel that I were permitting a shameful injustice to be done to one of the very best men and purest public officials that I have ever known.

I have known Mr. Miller for many years. I never knew him to deceive a human being; he has never failed in a fighting and aggressive loyalty to the people; he is neither controlled nor even influenced by any interest or any man or any set of men. He is a big enough man to fill any office in the gift of the people. He would make a fine Attorney General of the United States, and he will make the people of the Thirtieth District one of the best Congressmen that any congressional district in the United States has or ever had.

The people of the Thirtieth District, knowing the qualities of mind and heart, of conscience and of character of this splendid man, ought to elect him by a majority reaching into the thousands. As I said in my introduction of Governor Hughes yesterday, the longer I am in public life the more I am convinced that the welfare of our people and even the perpetuity of our institutions, depend upon the quality of our public men.

Charles W. Miller is the very best type of public man to be found in any state in the country—the same type of public man that President Roosevelt is, and that other men of that stamp are.

If any such story has been published about Mr. Miller, you ought to take some steps not only to deny it but to rebuke the man who circulates it. The character of public men is worth nothing if a man of Charles W. Miller's exalted and noble character can be subjected to such malicious slanders; and any man in any party who should perpetrate such a story ought to be hissed out of his community.

Faithfully,

FELL IN LOVE

With Fortune Teller and Deserted his Wife and Son.

A Goshen man who fell in love with a professional fortune teller during the Elkhart County fair and who accompanied the woman when she left there, was caught at the Bourbon fair Thursday and arrived in Goshen Friday night in the custody of his wife and his father-in-law, who went to Bourbon to apprehend him.

When he left his home at Goshen the man neglected to provide for either his wife or his ten year old son. He told different people that he would never again live with his wife and his relatives explained to her that he had been enamored with the fortune teller. People who visited the Bourbon fair say they saw the man standing in front of the fortune teller's tent, barking for business.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

POLL SHOWS REPUBLICAN VICTORY

several thousand having returned home. There has been a substantial increase in first votes. The number of precincts in several counties of the state has been reduced through the use of voting machines. Voting machines will be used in Indiana to greater extent than ever before and their operation will affect the result.

The Republican thirty-day poll shows that disaffected Republicans are returning to Watson. In one precinct the sixty-day poll showed thirty-three Republicans who were for Taft and Sherman, but against Watson. The thirty-day poll reduced this number to thirteen. The leaders expect to reduce it to four. The reports show that conditions in the Republican ranks are improving the state over.

The Democrats are making greater claims for Marshall than the Republicans are willing to concede. At Democratic state headquarters it is claimed that in one precinct in Lagrange County there are sixty-two Republicans who say they will vote all or part of the Democratic ticket. Republicans are conceding that the Democrats will make gains in the larger cities and are counting on the rural vote. The Democrats are claiming gains in the rural districts also. They are claiming also that Marshall will be much stronger in Marion County than Bryan.

The Knock-out Blow.

The blow which knocked out Corbett was a revelation to the prize fighters. From the earliest days of the ring the knock-out blow was aimed for the jaw, the temple or the jugular vein. Stomach punches were thrown in to wear and weary the fighter, but if a scientific man had told one of the old fighters that the most vulnerable spot was the region of the stomach, he would have laughed at him for an ignoramus. Dr. Pierce is bringing home to the public a parallel fact; that the stomach is the most vulnerable organ out of the ring as well as in it. We protect our heads, throats, feet and lungs, but the stomach we utterly ignore. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and you protect yourself in your most vulnerable spot. Make your stomach strong, sound and strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures "weak stomach," indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, bad, thin and impure blood and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" has a specific curative effect upon all mucous surfaces and hence cures catarrh, no matter where located or what stage it may have reached. In Nasal Catarrh it is well to cleanse the passages with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy while using the "Discovery" as a constitutional remedy. Why the "Golden Medical Discovery" cures catarrhal diseases, as of the stomach, bowels, bladder and other pelvic organs will be plain to you if you will read the book of extracts from the writings of eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients and explaining their curative properties. It is mailed free on request. Address Dr. B. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. This booklet gives all the medicines entering into Dr. Pierce's remedies from a drop of alcohol to the triple-refined glycerine being used instead.

Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 31 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.
