Bryan's election would convert the business of the United States into a huge conundrum, and the answer might not be forthcoming for years.

SHALL THE BREWERS RULE?
Is the State of Indiana with all its traditions of high-minded and intelligent citizenship, willing to let the verdict as to lose hope. The Republic will pull through all right, no matter whom the voters choose. The worst that can possibly befall as we see it, would be the unsettled business condition and the check to the general revival, that would ensue if Mr. Bryan were elected, but eventually things would come out all right. The business interests distrust Mr. Bryan because he is so erratic, and from November to March 4th there would be a period of waiting and anxiety; and then after that date when he selects his cabinet and began the practice of his policy the public would continue waiting until it saw the effect. But the solid, substantial, old line gold Democrats, who are for him this year, would have some influence in keeping down anything too flighty and operate as a balance wheel, as it were. For this reason the country would survive, and though we might have to go through a period of depression, we may be sure that things would brighten eventually. But the best of all is Bryan will not be elected.

A PERIOD OF ANXIETY.

Two weeks from today the agony will be over and we will know who the next President will be. However, none of us need be so dejected by the verdict as to lose hope. The Republic will pull through all right, no matter whom the voters choose. The worst that can possibly befall as we see it, would be the unsettled business condition and the check to the general revival, that would ensue if Mr. Bryan were elected, but eventually things would come out all right. The business interests distrust Mr. Bryan because he is so erratic, and from November to March 4th there would be a period of waiting and anxiety; and then after that date when he selects his cabinet and began the practice of his policy the public would continue waiting until it saw the effect. But the solid, substantial, old line gold Democrats, who are for him this year, would have some influence in keeping down anything too flighty and operate as a balance wheel, as it were. For this reason the country would survive, and though we might have to go through a period of depression, we may be sure that things would brighten eventually. But the best of all is Bryan will not be elected.

SAM SMALL'S ADVICE.

Rev. Samuel Small, of Georgia, addressed a very small audience at the court house yard Thursday afternoon and all the Democratic leaders are rejoicing because there were not more than fifty Democratic farmers present. If all the Democrats of Marshall county had heard Small's speech and had followed his advice the county would give Taft three thousand majority. Small said that every voter of Marshall county who wanted a continuation of the policies of the past twelve years and believed that these were prosperous times should vote for Taft, but every voter that wanted a change should vote for William Jennings Bryan. It is well known that nine-tenths of the Democratic farmers of Marshall county are satisfied with present conditions, consequently if they take Sam Small's advice, they will vote for Taft. Mr. Small says that the old Republican party was the grandest party that ever had an existence and its leaders were the best men the world ever produced, but he thinks that the party has degenerated sadly under the administrations of McKinley and Roosevelt. He was especially severe on Roosevelt and Roosevelt's policies. He is an entertaining speaker but like all men of his class he lacks judgment, presents false statistics and thinks ridicule is argument.

Myron Chase Republican Candidate for Commissioner First District.

(From the Plymouth Republican of August 8, 1890.)

The trustees have been settling with the Commissioners this week, and so far as we have heard, all have gotten along well. Without any more to say reflections on any of them we are constrained to remark, however, that the record left by Myron Chase, of Polk, is especially enviable. Mr. Chase has been commendable by the Auditor and the Commissioners for his clear and perfect reports, and he turns over the office to Mr. Kyle, his successor, without the least stain upon his record. Few can say this, for in honorably endeavoring to suit everybody it is a very fortunate person who does not offend some one, but Mr. Chase has been so successful that he has been able to do this, and has more friends or going out of office than he thought he possessed when he went in. He turned over a balance of nearly $2500.00 to his successor and he leaves the roads, schools, and general affairs of the Township in the very best of shape.

Mr. Chase was elected Trustee of Polk township in 1886 and again in 1888. The township was then Democratic and for a Republican to be twice elected for trustee in that township should be sufficient evidence that he is the proper man to elect as county commissioner.

Organize a Church.

Steps toward the organization of a Swedish church were taken at a Swedish treaty, Oct. 20. Rev. D. A. Lofgren, president of the Laporte district of the Lutheran Illinois conference, attended. Among the pastors who were in attendance in addition to Rev. Lofgren were Rev. J. F. Borg, South Bend; Rev. F. A. Bonander, Elkhart; Rev. August Johnson, LaPorte; Rev. A. Sundberg, South Haven, Mich.; Rev. V. Satterdahl, Chesterton; Rev. L. E. Nyström, Porter; Rev. G. Lundh, Hobart and Rev. Martin Heas, East Chicago.

ARGUMENT FOR THE FARMERS

FARM LANDS AND PRODUCTS DOUBLED IN PRICES IN 12 YEARS—WHY THEY SHOULD VOTE THE REPUBLICAN TICKET.

The farmers of the country are the most favored class of all our people. During the last twelve years the value of their land and the value of their products have doubled. No such record is made in any other business in the world. And while the prices of their products have doubled the cost of the things they buy is no more than in 1896. The markets will show that groceries (such as the farmer buys), dry goods, clothing and agricultural implements are no higher now than twelve years ago. And while statistics are not at hand showing the prices of farm land, yet every owner of a farm knows that he can get twice as much for his farm now as during the last fatal administration of the Democratic party. But when it comes to the market of farm products the statistics are easily at hand. Below will be found the quotations on farm products as found in the Indianapolis Journal of October 5, 1896, and in the Indianapolis News of Oct. 5, 1908. In each column we give the top prices on each article. Let every farmer read and study these prices before casting his ballot in November. The prices of 1896 were the result of four years of free trade, incompetent Democratic rule.

The prices of 1908 follow twelve years of protective tariff, wise and capable Republican administration. Which do you prefer? Here are figures:

	Oct. 5, '96	Oct. 5, '08
Wheat	$.68	$ 1.00
Corn	.34	.75
Oats	.20	.50
Hay	$.90	12.25
Hogs (top)	3.40	7.00
Cattle (top)	4.65	7.00
Hens	.06	.09
Chickens	.06	.12
Turkeys	.08	.12
Butter	.07	.14
Eggs	.14	.21

Careful estimate on the above figures will show that the farmers of Indiana have gained under Republican rule as follows:

Increase in value of land, $500,000,000.
Annual increase farm products, $200,000,000.

SEE FOE IN MARSHALL.

Teachers of State Fear Democratic Candidate for Governor Would Repeal Minimum Law.

When Thomas R. Marshall, Democratic candidate for Governor, advocated the repeal of the teachers' minimum wage law in speeches recently he apparently struck an unpopular note with 1,000 more school teachers of a half dozen southern counties. An effort to correct the false impression which Mr. Marshall left in the minds of the people of the counties will be made.

Solomon H. Esarey, assistant reporter of the Supreme court, who was formerly a school teacher in Perry county, will visit this old home next week and will address a number of Republican meetings. Mr. Esarey is not working under the direct auspices of the state committee, but knowing what a hardship the repeal of the law would work on school teachers, he has decided to take a hand in undoing what harm Marshall has done. Men who are now teaching school will also aid in the work.

The teachers' wage law provides for a minimum per diem salary of two and one-half times the general average gained at the license examination. The repeal of the law would mean a restoration of the authority formerly held by township trustees to fix teachers' salaries, under the old system were as low as $1.25 a day. Some of the counties which would be affected if the law were repealed are Perry, Crawford, Harrison, Orange, Washington, Clark, Floyd, Scott, Jefferson and Jennings. The trustees in practically all other counties have fixed a wage scale that conforms with the minimum law, and it is likely, it is said, that the teachers in other counties would not suffer by the repeal.

Mr. Marshall is quoted as having said that an effort to have the teachers wage law repealed would be one of his first official acts if he should be elected Governor.

Bryan's Remedy Scored.

Mr. Roosevelt and the Republican administration have directed their attention to prosecuting the exact vice, which is the attempt of the trusts to monopolize. Mr. Bryan, on the other hand, proposes to take steps which will destroy the entire business. He proposes that we shall abolish the tariff on what are called trust-made articles. If you are going to take off the tariff on trust-made articles, you are going to destroy the trusts all right; there will be no difficulty about that, and you are going to throw out of employment the millions of men engaged as wage-earners in those great businesses, and you are also going to destroy the independent competitors of the trusts, for they are just as dependent on the tariff—indeed, more so—than the trusts themselves. In other words, the proposition is like burning down the house, as the Chinaman did to get rid of a pig.

Rally at Wanatah.

The Republicans of Wanatah held a rally in that town Tuesday. In the afternoon the Valparaiso Standards defeated the LaPorte base ball team, in a championship game by the score of 2 to 1. About 800 people attended the game. Republican speakers addressed an overflow meeting in the High School room in the evening. The Plymouth band furnished music for the occasion.

HEALTH BOARD ISSUES WARNING ON THE HANDLING OF MILK

A warning against the indiscriminate handling of milk by housewives and carelessness in feeding it to babies has been made by the Board of Health in a circular issued by Dr. Eugene Buehler on the care of milk in the home.

Attention is called to the fact that while milk is an excellent food, bad milk is one of the most dangerous foods possible, and is responsible for numerous ills. Mothers are also advised that good milk is the only proper food for babies under one year of age, where they can get natural nourishment. The circular states that the chief means by which milk is often made dangerous are as follows:

Dirty methods of keeping and milking the cows, dirty milkers and dirty milk vessels.

Failure to cool the milk promptly and keep it cold until used.

Bad milk, so far as danger to health is concerned, is dirty milk, or warm, stale milk.

Dr. Buehler advises that vessels used for milk should be thoroughly cleaned as soon as empty, not using soap. If milk is delivered in sealed bottles, he advises that it should not be left where the heat of the sun will reach it before being taken into the house.

The circular, in part, is as follows: "As soon as you have emptied a bottle, wash it out carefully. Do not return to your milkman bottles containing stale milk."

"If your milkman does not deliver his milk in bottles, it is best to have him deliver directly to you, or your servant, and you should see that it is put on ice immediately and kept cold. The practice of putting out an uncovered pitcher or other vessel for milk the night before, or at any time, can not be too strongly condemned."

Where bottles are not used, glass jars with clamp tops are advocated, not using the rubber ring that usually accompanies such jars. Mothers are also advised not to purchase milk for babies from grocery stores, as it is often kept over from one day to another, and is frequently kept in uncovered utensils in an ice box with meats and vegetables.

A WEEK OF CEREMONIES.

Dedication of the Y. M. C. A. Building at South Bend.

The Studebaker Young Men's Christian association building at South Bend will be dedicated at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, October 25th. Three thousand seats will be provided for the audience. Ceremonies will be held each day after the dedication until Sunday, Nov. 1, inclusive. On Monday evening, Oct. 26, at 7:30 o'clock, an interurban reception will be held. Invitations have been issued to business men and their wives from the following nearby towns and cities: Dowagiac, Decatur, Niles, Berrien Springs, Three Oaks, Buchanan, Cassopolis, Mich., Mishawaka, Rolling Prairie, LaPorte, Gary, Michigan City, North Judson, Goshen, Elkhart, East Chicago, Grassert, Whiting, Indiana Harbor, Hammond, Valparaiso, Keweenaw and Plymouth.

A committee of 80 prominent business men of South Bend has been selected to perfect arrangements for the reception and to be present together with their wives to welcome the out-of-town guests. The Young Women's Christian association will keep open house during the evening and will welcome the guests.

CELEBRATION AT BREMEN.

Democrats Turn Out Three Thousand Strong to Hear Senator L. Ert Slack.

The Democrats of Bremen and German township put their county seat brethren to shame by their demonstration Tuesday evening. A crowd of about three thousand turned out, paraded the streets, blowing horns and displaying torches and lanterns. Four brass bands were present. It was said by Republicans present, that half of the crowd were Republicans who will vote the Republican ticket, but wished to help make things lively in the good old German town.

BRYAN ENEMY OF PENSION SYSTEM

VETERANS' RECEIVING OF MONEY FROM GOVERNMENT IS DENOUNCED BY HIM—TALK IN CONGRESS IN 1892.

Another ghost from the incompleteness of the past of William J. Bryan rose to confront and menace him on last Saturday. This time it was his public record on the question of pensions. By this disclosure he is shown as hostile to the remnant of the Grand Army of the Republic; as a doubter of both the patriotism and the honesty of its members, and as an open wisher for the speedy disappearance of the old soldiers from the soil they once defended.

These opinions were expressed by him in 1892, before he had learned the wisdom of more indefinite speech, and were delivered to congress itself. On the next day they appeared credited to him in the Omaha World-Herald, the paper with which he was politically and editorially connected.

"The next session of congress," he said in this speech, "will have to wrestle with one deficiency of $36,000,000. This is an account of pensions. The appropriation for next year must not be less than $150,000,000. It is therefore easy arithmetic to perceive that the appropriation that congress must make aggregates not less than $186,000,000."

"This tremendous sum, which would in itself be enough to run a reasonable government is held up and despoiled of. It is not an honest debt, and a large proportion of it is not a debt at all, because it was never earned by any act of patriotism or heroic service. The government is held up and despoiled of no mean portion of this, and it seems helpless to defend itself. One cannot help being curious to know how many more years it will take to exhaust the generation which feels itself injured by the war. It is safe to say that never did a generation display such remarkable longevity."

It was pointed out Saturday, as soon as the ghost made its public appearance, that Mr. Bryan, by the analysis of the letter, was shown to have held in the earlier days if not in the present, the belief that a country owes no debt either of gratitude or money to its defenders in time of peril.

Worst of all, however, appeared his slurs upon the honor of the veterans. Apparently he made no distinctions, for the reading of the attack lends itself to the single interpretation that he regarded the entire debt as "dishonorable." To the Bryan of 1892 the wearer of the blue of '61 was a "holdup" man and a "despoiler."

Search was at once begun through the weary ways of Bryan utterances to find if at a later time he had with the discretion of a wise politician expressed a change of conviction, or had with the ardor of a converted sold, begged the pardon of the grizzled fighters, but at a late hour Saturday night the quest remained fruitless.—Chicago Tribune.

Obituary.

William D. Dalrymple born Nov. 10, 1834 in Pennsylvania departed this life Oct. 15, 1908 at the Marshall County Infirmary of which he has been an inmate for three years. His age was 73 years 11 months and 5 days.

He had been a resident of Marshall county near Twin Lakes, for more than twenty years.

He leaves three brothers and two half sisters, Henry A. Dalrymple of Elkhart, Geo. W. of Howard County, Edward of South Bend, Mrs. Rachel E. Sall of Howard County and Miss Catharine Dalrymple of Plymouth, besides many other relatives and friends. The funeral was held at the Twin Lake church Friday at two p. m. Interment at McElreath cemetery. Rev. Mr. Walner of Culver, officiated.

Political Notes by Wire.

Senator Newlands of Nevada has broken down after three weeks of severe campaigning and is on his way to San Francisco to receive treatment.

Samuel Rea of Philadelphia, whose name appears in published lists as a contributor of $100 to the Bryan campaign fund, is third vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Eight years ago Mr. Rea opposed Bryan.

A cablegram from Richard Croker, now in Ireland, subscribing $1,000 to the national Democratic campaign fund, and $500 for the New York State campaign in behalf of Lewis S. Chanler, has been received by Herman Ridder, treasurer of the national Democratic committee.

Eugene V. Debs, Socialist candidate for President, was too ill to speak at Columbus, O., Monday night, and a large crowd, which overflowed the Board of Trade Auditorium, was disappointed. It was announced at the meeting that Mr. Debs was not suffering from any organic trouble, but was simply worn out by the exertions of campaigning.

No Bottom to Milford Sink.

Goshen News-Times: Heavy expense falls on the Winona railway company maintaining an absolutely safe track over the sink north of Milford. This sink appears to have no bottom. A one ton hammer from the pile driver being used by the railway company fell into the sink and was sucked up by the hungry quick sands. Workmen probed for a depth of thirty feet and failed to find the hammer. A new hammer has been secured.

Lost Their Whiskers.

For a time Friday and Saturday the Friehly brick and tile mill at Bourbon was threatened with destruction from grass fire. Scores of Bourbon residents turned out and fought the flames and several of the men lost their heads.

THE LEMON BOX

Mr. Wm. H. Baugher has just completed shingling the roof of Mr. Ed. Hogarth's hen house.

It has been whispered that a certain fair milliner in this city "laundries" her hair. Pun—Then to dry it, must the hair be ironed?

Charlie Miller, is responsible for the massive, handsome pictures of Bryan and Kern which adorned the back of the speakers' stand in the court house yard Thursday afternoon. Of course Charlie may have some little spite against the Democratic candidates, but why it should be expressed thus, etc. etc.

Another poker game has been in progress on Laporte street the last two or three nights, and a half dozen local sports have been "cleaned up" proper. One man working for $10 a week dropped $40 Sunday night and he is in favor of putting the joint out of business. It is the same old gang operating under a little different management—Plymouth Democrat.

No names are mentioned. Wonder if some relatives are involved again.

Speaking of a "sovereign" being allowed to slip through one's hands reminds us—Friday evening Mr. Phay Woodward was vending his way homeward when he noticed a fat pocketbook lying on the sidewalk. He reached over to pick it up when lo! it disappeared. Mr. Woodward smiled, winked knowingly and proceeded on his way.

When the editor of the Democratic organ of this city, saw 3000 people at the speech Thursday afternoon he was in a worse condition by three times than the Irishman who was seeing "double."

"I stood on the bridge at midnight, Drunk as a son-of-a-gun, Two moons rose over the city, Where, there should have been but one."

Hon. John Sharp Williams, Democratic leader of the house spoke at Richmond Wednesday night. After retiring he dreamed a dream of county local option in Tennessee and also snakes. Strange to say he forgot all about such an organization as Marshall County Democracy. And while automobiles and reception committees were meeting trains in Plymouth, he was—well away the Democrats got a lemon.

The Messrs. Harry Alexander, Luther Holman and Paul Singrey met with quite a serious accident on Laporte street Thursday morning. The trio was riding on the former's bicycle. Everything was lovely until the front wheel collapsed and the three boys would have been precipitated to mother earth, had not the brick pavement intervened. Harry experienced a little trouble in removing Holman's foot from his left ear, otherwise everybody has recovered and is happy.

Much anxiety was caused Friday morning at Lauer's Clothing store when two of the trusted clerks, Barney Lauer and Ray Bennett, failed to put in their appearance. Many stories were circulated as to what had become of these gentlemen and no one could remember having seen them since the night before. After much inquiry on the part of the proprietor of the store, they were finally located about noon at a farm house near Tynes preparing themselves for a fine chicken dinner. How the boys came to wander to that locality seems a mystery and the kindhearted farmer who took them in for a square meal has the thanks of Ray and Barney's friends in Plymouth.

Trouble seems to be brewing for some of our good citizens. It happened thusly. Recently the minister of the Reformed church, Rev. Smith and his wife and Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Wilson hied them away for a day's fishing at Twin Lakes. They hied themselves to the home of John Nichols, where they secured a boat for the day's sport. The party got into the boat and pushed off too suddenly for Mrs. Wilson, who was precipitated into the water. However, she managed to reach the pier, with her hands, but the boat kept going out slowly. Mrs. Wilson stretched as far as she could but having a better grip on the pier than on the boat she was trying to reach the lake in just two seconds. J. N. lost his head and was by her side in a jiffy, even though he never executed a more useless move in his life. Well the Rev. says for the first time in his life he backed water and pulled them in. John Nichols and wife took them in and added to their comfort—and looks too—by furnishing dry clothes and they—profiting by their experience, went on their way rejoicing and fishing. Now along comes some good citizens who fish at Twin Lakes frequently and finding two dangerously large holes in the lake, demand of Mr. Nichols that they be filled up. Mr. Nichols on coming to town proceeded to collect pay for filling same of Mr. Wilson but that worthy would pay only to the treasurer of the society, C. M. Slayter. Now comes Joe White and J. A. McFarlin and aver the holes are large to this day and warn Mr. Slayter against paying the claim. Mr. Nichols says it was after four o'clock when Joe and Mr. McFarlin viewed the place, which disqualified them as competent witnesses and that he would proceed to bring suit for payment in the superior court of Twin Lakes at its next session. He says too, that the preacher has been preaching a hot time for him ever since he came, and now Nichols is going to make it hot for somebody himself.

A VILLAGE HOME

Where Pe-ru-na Is Used As An All-Round Reliable Family Medicine.

There Are Thousands of Similar Homes In Which Pe-ru-na Is Being Used With the Same Excellent Results.

Fountainville, Pa., Feb. 16, 1902.
S. B. Hartman, M.D.
Dear Sir: I have been thinking of writing to you for some time to let you know what Peru-na did for me. I am 57 years old. I lost my health about six or seven years ago. I first had dyspepsia and employed different doctors.
Last year I injured one of my kidneys. I had one of the best doctors for that. He put me to bed, not to move for two weeks.
I slowly recovered, but was so weak and prostrated that I could walk but a short distance. In fact I had to keep quiet.
I took several remedies, but obtained no relief. I also had catarrh in some form.
My wife advised me to take Peru-na, and it with pleasure that I can say that by taking one and one-half bottle of your Peru-na, I cured me and I feel all right. I send this with many thanks to you, as I enjoy life again.
My wife has also been taking your Peru-na for asthma and it helps to relieve her. We keep your Peru-na in the house constantly. Again I say I thank you for Peru-na.
Sincerely yours,
PHILIP KRATZ.

Fountainville, Pa., April 16, 1906.
Dr. S. B. Hartman.
Dear Sir: We have Peru-na in the house all the time and when we think we need it, we take it. We are about sixty years old and have not called a doctor for some time. With many thanks for your medicine, we remain,
Sincerely yours,
PHILIP KRATZ.

Fountainville, Pa., Nov. 9, 1908.
Dr. S. B. Hartman.
Dear Sir: I have good health now and your valuable medicine gave me good health. I have had no doctor for some time, as I do not need any. When I take cold I take Peru-na and in a short time I am all right. My wife is subject to asthma. She takes Peru-na at that time, and she has had no need for a doctor for some time. With many thanks for your medicine, we remain,
Sincerely yours,
PHILIP KRATZ.

Witness to Signatures.
I, John Donnelly, Mayor of Doylestown, Pa., have been acquainted with Mr. Philip Kratz for 25 years. I know him to be an honorable and useful citizen. He, in my presence, signed the above statements concerning Peru-na, which I have every reason to believe are true in all particulars.
SIGNED: JOHN DONNELLY, Esq.
