COCOA TRUST BEING FORMED.

Present Prices for the Commodity Are Too Low—Production 340,000,000 Pounds.

A world cocoa trust is being organized in the countries producing that article, according to a report from Consul-General Anderson, at Rio de Janeiro. He says the movement is in progress in Brazil the largest producer, that action has been taken in Ecuador, San Domingo, Trinidad and San Thomas, and that the low price of cocoa has led to a desire on the part of representatives of Portugal and South America that something be done to protect the industry.

The chief occasion for the proposed organization as announced by its promoters in Brazil is the somewhat extraordinary fluctuations in the price of cocoa in the last few years, the present great depression having caused many complaints. The purpose, they say, is to resist the speculators by controlling the price of the product in the markets of the world. The total production of cocoa in the world at large is generally placed at 340,000,000 pounds, of which the United States consumes about one-fifth.

Look Well to Chimney.

Many fires occur in the early fall through neglect of chimneys which have not been used during the summer. Soot from soft coal and wood and abandoned birds' nests frequently cause chimney fires which are apt to communicate to the framework of the building or carry sparks to the roof. The frequency of fires this fall following the long dry summer should be a warning against neglect in this particular.

The resolution was passed without a dissenting voice. Preceding the voting there was a general discussion of the temperance question, during which the mention of Governor Hanly's name evoked enthusiastic cheers. The resolution was presented by Dr. C. A. Carter of Munice and was rushed through amid cheers.

Other features of the afternoon session were a most interesting talk by the Rev. Patrick H. Faulk, president of the Indiana Anti-Saloon League, and the consideration of various features connected with the state work.

The convention closed Friday evening with an address by Dr. W. H. Geistweit of Peoria Ill.

WILL BE TREATED HERE.

Chicago Society Woman Lands in Court Through Dissipation.

Pale, haggard and trembling from the effects of liquor, Mrs. Clara Ohl, one time prominent society woman of Oak Park, was arraigned for the second time in a few weeks before Judge Decker in the Harrison street branch of the municipal court at Chicago Monday. By her side stood the negro in whose company she was found, according to Policeman Ridges of the Cottage Grove avenue station.

"Death at times is preferable," moaned the woman, as she was being led from her cell to the court room. "Drink, drink, drink, it is the curse of drink," she exclaimed. "Look at me—I had rather be dead than suffer this disgrace!"

Four times during the past three weeks Mrs. Ohl has disappeared from her home in Oak Park and has been found wandering around with negroes in the "black belt." Mrs. Ohl's husband was not in court owing to illness, but friends of the woman explained to Judge Decker that arrangements had been made to place her in the Borton sanitarium in Plymouth.

KANSAS CITY STORY IS LIE

GOVERNOR E. W. HOCK IN LETTER SAYS THAT CITY IS PROSPEROUS WITHOUT SALOONS—BREWERY POSTERS ARE FALSE.

No The Indianapolis Star:

I have your letter of the 13th inst., inclosing poster which you say is being displayed all over Indiana by the breweries in an effort to prove that the enforcement of prohibition in Kansas City, Kas., has worked a great injury to the interests of the city. I have received many copies of this poster and find that it is being used all over the country.

As a matter of fact the enforcement of prohibition in Kansas City, Kas., has proven of untold value to the city, not only morally and educationally, but financially as well. I am inclosing you a copy of circular gotten out by the Commercial Club of Kansas City, Kas., refuting the statements made by this circular issued by the breweries. This circular shows that the city is prospering as it has never prospered before. I am also inclosing you a copy of a speech made by Assistant Attorney General C. W. Trickett, giving facts to show that the enforcement of the law has greatly benefited the city in every way. I call your especial attention to the statement made by Mr. C. L. Brokaw of the campaigns of 1890 and 1900, and had an estate of $200,000. Mr. Dowdall said Bryan's conduct in the Bennett $20,000 will case is proof of the fact that he (Bryan) wants to make money honestly if he can, but that he intends to make money. The speaker said Mr. Bryan induced Bennett to visit him at his home after the election of 1900. During the visit Mr. Bryan wrote Bennett's will and Mrs. Bryan copied it on the typewriter. The will gave Mrs. Bennett $100,000. It gave her $50,000 in trust, but said that a sealed letter inclosed in the will would give particulars. The will gave Mr. Bryan $20,000 and Mrs. Bryan $10,000 to be distributed as they thought proper. After Bennett's death the will was found. The sealed letter mentioned was not there, but later was found by Mr. Bryan. The will gave $50,000 to Mr. Bryan or his heirs. In conclusion Mr. Dowdall said:

"We must not put a crown on the head of the farmer who never plowed a furrow, a soldier who never smelt gunpowder nor a statesman who never made a bill."

He says that their bank holds the accounts of more than 50 per cent of the business houses of the city and that merchants say that business has been better than they have ever known before. He says further that during his residence of nearly seven years conditions were never so good as they are today. Crime has been greatly reduced, business in every legitimate line is better than it ever was and although, at the beginning of the movement for law enforcement many of the business men were opposed to it because they thought it would hurt the city financially, there has been a wonderful change of sentiment there, and under no consideration would the citizens go back to the old conditions.

E. W. Hoch, governor of Kansas, Topeka, Oct. 16, 1908.

BAPTISTS BACK OPTION.

Delegates Indoors Hanly—Four Hundred Visitors Vote to Keep Measures Upon Statutes.

Four hundred delegates to the state Baptist convention in Ft. Wayne, Ind., representing 60,000 church members in the state and over 600 distinct churches, passed the following resolution Friday afternoon commanding the action of the recent special legislative session in passing the county local option law:

Be it Resolved, That the Baptists of the State of Indiana, in convention assembled, most heartily approve the action of the recent special session of the General Assembly in the enactment of a law giving the people of their respective counties the opportunity to abolish the saloon, with its attendant evils, and we hereby pledge ourselves, as citizens of this Commonwealth, to use our best efforts to keep such law upon the statute books.

The resolution was passed without a dissenting voice. Preceding the voting there was a general discussion of the temperance question, during which the mention of Governor Hanly's name evoked enthusiastic cheers. The resolution was presented by Dr. C. A. ASK INSTRUCTION ON POSTAL LAWS

POSTMASTER-GENERAL DESIRES FACTS CONCERNING ORGANIZATION AND OPERATION OF POSTAL SERVICE TAUGHT IN SCHOOLS.

In accordance with an order issued by the postmaster general, Postmaster J. A. Yockey will confer with the local school authorities with the view of adopting a most effective method of instructing school children as to the organization and operation of postal service. A thorough understanding of this branch of the civil service is considered an essential in every person's education, and it is generally believed that not enough attention is given to it.

Mr. Yockey will urge the school authorities to make some provision for instructions in the most necessary features of the service, such as the delivery of mails, classification of mail matter, the registry and money order systems and particularly proper addressing, and the importance of placing return addresses on cards and envelopes. Mr. Yockey will arrange to give teachers access to postal guides and postal laws and urges that they be required to study them until they are properly understood and considered part of their required instruction.
