

LOCAL NEWS

Supt. L. E. Steinebach spent Tuesday at Lapaz.

Mrs. Ray Metker spent Tuesday at Niles, Mich.

L. A. Berkey spent Tuesday at Harris on bus.

For Sale or Trade on farm—House and lot. Milton Cook. 1d6w2.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Thomas were South Bend visitors Tuesday.

Martin Albert of Logansport spent Tuesday in this city on business.

Mrs. Rachel Baldwin of Rochester, was a Plymouth caller Tuesday.

Mrs. Anna Hite of Wanatah, is visiting with her mother, Mrs. Laura Kyser.

Mrs. Louisa Head is spending a couple of days with friends at Grovetown.

Mrs. J. A. Cunningham has been quite sick for the past week, but is improving.

Mrs. Charles Hendricks left for a few days' visit with friends at South Bend Tuesday.

L. S. Wright has returned to Benton Harbor, after spending a few weeks in this city.

Mrs. Mary Riley is spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Emma Perkey at South Bend.

Messrs. Frank Andrews and Wm. Basler are spending a few days at South Bend on business.

Mrs. M. E. Steward of South Bend, is visiting with the family of Clark Thompson for a few days.

Mrs. Anna Miller has returned to Lawton, Mich., after spending a few days with Mrs. W. W. Hill, in this city.

L. V. Manning and family were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Steel at Plymouth, Sunday—Rochester Republic.

Mrs. Grace Green has returned to her home in Chicago after visiting with the family of Charles Kyser, for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Barker and Mr. Chas. Witter of Chicago, spent Thanksgiving with the family of E. W. League.

John Ringenberg and wife were called to Milford Friday, on account of the death of his father, Rudolph Ringenberg.

Rev. E. Greiner of Wolcottville, Ind., who has been visiting with his brother, Percy J. Troyer, returned to his home Tuesday.

James Thompson or Mansfield, who has been in this city for a few days on business, went to South Bend Tuesday morning.

Mrs. R. P. Coons returned to her home in South Bend Tuesday after spending a couple of days with her aunt, Mrs. Wagoner.

Mrs. Edward Peek of Donaldson, called on friends in this city Tuesday, enroute to South Bend, where she will visit for a few days.

Mrs. John Bender returned to her home in Hamlet Tuesday after spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Powell, who has been ill.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Witting returned to their home in Wren, O., Tuesday after visiting the family of Jesse Beldon, for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rockwell have returned from a visit with their daughter, Mrs. Wm. King and family, at Plymouth—Valparaiso Vidette.

"Uncle Billy" Brown, a widower 84 years of age, who is looking for a wife, entertained 76 widows at a banquet Monday at his home at Dallas, Oregon.

Officers of the New York-Chicago Air line, which is being built from LaPorte to Gary, said that the road will be finished by June, and that the schedule time will be thirty minutes.

South Carolina's total vote is less than the vote of any one congressional district in Indiana. A tied feeling pervades the voters of all the state, that allow only one political party to exist.

Mrs. R. C. Klopfer, Mrs. Welch and daughter, Miss Beatrice of Logansport, called on friends in this city Friday, enroute to Chicago, where they will attend the wedding of a former Plymouth boy, Fred Bofinger.

One of the papers handed in at the examination of students training for employment as teachers, described Oliver Cromwell as "a man with coarse features and having a large red nose with deep religious convictions beneath."

Gov. Hanly Saturday announced the appointment of Walter G. Zahrt as a member of the board of trustees of the Northern Indiana Hospital for the Insane at Logansport to succeed Hon. Henry Barnhart, congressman-elect from the Thirtieth district, who recently tendered his resignation to the state executive.

"Prof." Waterbury, from the village of Ossin, played the piano at the Star theatre in Hartford City for 26 hours and 4 minutes. He started at 8 p. m. Wednesday and played continuously until 10:04 p. m. Thursday. At meal time the professor's wife fed him and when his wrists became tired she rubbed them. It was a big attraction for the theatre.

The editor was busy when he was asked: "How are the markets?" The inquirer was referred to the office with who looked wise and said: "Young men unsteady; girls, lively and in demand; papas, firm but declining; mammas, unsettled waiting for higher bids; coffee, considerably mixed; fresh fish, active and slippery; eggs, quiet but expected to open soon; whiskey is still going down; onions, strong; yeast, rising; bread stuffs, heavy; boots, and shoes, those on the market are sold and constantly going up and down; hats and caps, not so high as last year, except foolscap, which is stationary; tobacco, very low and has a downward tendency; silver, close but not close enough to get hold of."—Ex.

Noble McCrory was home from Indiana Harbor Thursday.

Charles Astley spent Monday at South Bend on business.

Miss Ola Boyce was home from South Bend over Sunday.

Mrs. I. Freese of Twin Lakes, was a Plymouth visitor Monday.

Over an inch of rain fell Sunday afternoon and Sunday night.

Miss Merle Lewark of Lapaz, was a Plymouth visitor Monday morning.

Miss Chloe Pittman left for a few days' visit at Berrien Springs, Mich., Monday.

Miss Bonnie Boggs returned to South Bend Monday after a short visit here.

Mrs. Henry Hawkins of Bremen, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Poor.

Messrs. H. L. Unger, E. C. Martin and P. J. Kruever were at South Bend on business Monday.

Mrs. M. Hersberger has returned to Bourbon after visiting with friends in this city for a few days.

Mrs. Charles Shearer has returned from visiting her sister, Mrs. Jesse Brumbaugh, at Lagrange, Ill.

Mrs. Morris Agler and Mrs. C. W. Thomas are spending a couple of days with friends at Twin Lake.

Miss Lois Thompson has returned to Mishawaka, after spending a few days with her parents in this city.

Mrs. Susan Thomas left for San Diego, Cal., Monday, where she will spend the winter with relatives.

There was a heavy snow in east Colorado Sunday and street car service was badly crippled at Denver.

Miss Jessie Moore returned to Valparaiso, where she is attending school after a short visit with her parents.

Miss Dessie Matthews went to Syracuse Monday to attend the funeral of her grandmother, Mrs. Catherine Seese.

Mrs. Anna Brown has returned to Chicago, after spending a few days with her brother, C. A. Reeve and family.

Miss Avis Green has returned to her home in Walkerton, after spending a few days with the family of Charles Kyser.

Miss Ethel Martin returned to Elkhart, where she is teaching school, after spending a few days with her parents at Argos.

Mrs. O. V. Darling of South Bend, who has been visiting friends in this city and at Elkhart, returned to her home Monday.

Miss Belle Metker has returned to her home in Kewanna, after spending a few days with friends at Leesburg and in this city.

Miss Olive Beldon returned to Mishawaka Monday morning having spent a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Beldon.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sands of South Bend, who have been visiting with their uncle, Wm. Wagoner and wife, returned to their home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Babcock returned to their home in Galien, Mich., Monday, after spending a few days with her father Eli Silvius and family.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Wittinger of South Bend, who have been visiting with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wittinger, returned to South Bend Monday.

Messrs. C. E. Shoemaker of Lewisville, Mo., formerly of Argos and C. B. Roberts of Kalispell, Mont., are spending a few days in this city on business.

Mrs. Margaret Hahn, who has been visiting with the family of Peter Hahn and other relatives in this city, returned to her home in Ogden, Ill., Monday.

Mrs. D. W. DeWitt and Mrs. Daniel Miles attended a banquet given by the Ben Hur tribe at South Bend Thursday evening. The banquet was attended by 495 members.

Theophilus Crumpacker died at his home in Valparaiso Saturday. He was 86 years of age, had been a member of the legislature and held other important offices. He was the father of Congressman Crumpacker and has several other sons who occupy prominent positions as attorneys and business men.

A South Bend man advertised for young women to go to Vicksburg, Mich., to work in a factory, and four aged 20 years made application. When he gave them tickets they asked what to do with them, and it developed that though all four had been born and reared in South Bend not one had ever been on a railroad train.

Thomas R. Marshall has been elected a member of the executive committee of the Indiana branch of the American National Red Cross to take effect on his inauguration as governor of Indiana. He will succeed Gov. Hanly on the committee. The by-laws provide that the governor of the state shall be a member of the executive committee of the state branch in each state.

J. E. Bose and Miss Lizzie Townsend paid their election bet by giving an eight-course dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bose last Sunday. The guests from out of town were: Mrs. Katie Peterson, Leoto Peterson and Miss Pansy Hess, of Plymouth; Mr. and Mrs. Carson, of Mrs. O. V. Wolfe. Everything was pulled off on schedule time and the main feature was the speech of Mrs. Carson—Walkerton Independent.

Statistics compiled by the census bureau show that out of every twelve marriages in the United States one ends in the divorce courts. The figures given out are a sad commentary on this phase of social conditions. They show an alarming disregard for the sanctity of the home and suggest severe treatment of the subject to bring about reform. The rate in Marshall county for the past year as shown by the county records, is one divorce in every four marriages, or 25 per cent.

INDIANA NOT TO BE QUARANTINED

FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE NOT LIKELY TO INVADE STATE.

Dr. Roberts Returns From Inspection of Diseased Herds in Michigan and Minimizes the Danger.

Dr. G. H. Roberts, assistant state veterinarian and president of the Indiana Veterinary college, returned to Indianapolis from Detroit, Mich., Saturday night, after making a study of a peculiar foot and mouth disease, that has made its appearance among eastern herds of cattle within the past week.

Dr. Roberts said Saturday night that he did not believe the disease had assumed dangerous proportions and that it would not be necessary at the present time to declare a quarantine in Indiana against Michigan cattle and cattle from other infected states in the east. In case the disease spreads further west, however, he said the state veterinarian stands ready to declare a quarantine.

While the disease is most contagious, Dr. Roberts said that comparatively few cattle have died as a result. The effect on the cow however, he said, is so serious that the animal is practically useless to its owner after it has suffered one attack.

"The disease," said Dr. Roberts, "is recurring. The cow almost always gets over the first attack, but a second is sure to follow within a short time. After two or three attacks the cow becomes emaciated and the lacteal glands dry up. In most instances the animal is killed as soon as the first symptoms are discovered."

As to horses, the Hoosier animal will have second place, Illinois will exhibit 287 head, including the ponies and Indiana has entered 169 head.

The show will open with over 3,000 head of animals from 21 states, Canada and England. These will be shown in the arena, but in addition there are 3,515 head of cattle, hogs and sheep that have come in car-load lots and will be shown and judged in the pens. This makes a total of over 4,500 head of cattle, sheep, swine and horses.

Indiana is represented by 234 animals of the seven beef producing tribes, as against 202 from Illinois, 171 from Iowa, 140 from Ohio and 99 from Missouri.

Indiana not only will eclipse all of the middle western states in number, but it comes up to the show represented by exhibits of each and every one of the seven tribes of great beef producers. It shows 21 Shorthorn, 31 Angus, 91 Hereford, 1 Galloway, 16 Red Polled, 1 Polled-Durham and 16 head of grade and cross-bred animals. There are 21 separate entries.

In the sheep department Indiana ranks third in the number of American exhibits with 62 head, Wisconsin standing first with 142 head and Ohio next with 109 head. However, our neighbors across our northern border have the most sheep at the show, no less than 239 head having been entered from Canada.

As to horses, the Hoosier animal will have second place, Illinois will exhibit 287 head, including the ponies and Indiana has entered 169 head.

The show will open with over 3,000 head of animals from 21 states, Canada and England. These will be shown in the arena, but in addition there are 3,515 head of cattle, hogs and sheep that have come in car-load lots and will be shown and judged in the pens. This makes a total of over 4,500 head of cattle, sheep, swine and horses.

Indiana is represented by 234 animals of the seven beef producing tribes, as against 202 from Illinois, 171 from Iowa, 140 from Ohio and 99 from Missouri.

Indiana not only will eclipse all of the middle western states in number, but it comes up to the show represented by exhibits of each and every one of the seven tribes of great beef producers. It shows 21 Shorthorn, 31 Angus, 91 Hereford, 1 Galloway, 16 Red Polled, 1 Polled-Durham and 16 head of grade and cross-bred animals. There are 21 separate entries.

In the sheep department Indiana ranks third in the number of American exhibits with 62 head, Wisconsin standing first with 142 head and Ohio next with 109 head. However, our neighbors across our northern border have the most sheep at the show, no less than 239 head having been entered from Canada.

As to horses, the Hoosier animal will have second place, Illinois will exhibit 287 head, including the ponies and Indiana has entered 169 head.

The show will open with over 3,000 head of animals from 21 states, Canada and England. These will be shown in the arena, but in addition there are 3,515 head of cattle, hogs and sheep that have come in car-load lots and will be shown and judged in the pens. This makes a total of over 4,500 head of cattle, sheep, swine and horses.

Indiana is represented by 234 animals of the seven beef producing tribes, as against 202 from Illinois, 171 from Iowa, 140 from Ohio and 99 from Missouri.

Indiana not only will eclipse all of the middle western states in number, but it comes up to the show represented by exhibits of each and every one of the seven tribes of great beef producers. It shows 21 Shorthorn, 31 Angus, 91 Hereford, 1 Galloway, 16 Red Polled, 1 Polled-Durham and 16 head of grade and cross-bred animals. There are 21 separate entries.

In the sheep department Indiana ranks third in the number of American exhibits with 62 head, Wisconsin standing first with 142 head and Ohio next with 109 head. However, our neighbors across our northern border have the most sheep at the show, no less than 239 head having been entered from Canada.

As to horses, the Hoosier animal will have second place, Illinois will exhibit 287 head, including the ponies and Indiana has entered 169 head.

The show will open with over 3,000 head of animals from 21 states, Canada and England. These will be shown in the arena, but in addition there are 3,515 head of cattle, hogs and sheep that have come in car-load lots and will be shown and judged in the pens. This makes a total of over 4,500 head of cattle, sheep, swine and horses.

Indiana is represented by 234 animals of the seven beef producing tribes, as against 202 from Illinois, 171 from Iowa, 140 from Ohio and 99 from Missouri.

Indiana not only will eclipse all of the middle western states in number, but it comes up to the show represented by exhibits of each and every one of the seven tribes of great beef producers. It shows 21 Shorthorn, 31 Angus, 91 Hereford, 1 Galloway, 16 Red Polled, 1 Polled-Durham and 16 head of grade and cross-bred animals. There are 21 separate entries.

In the sheep department Indiana ranks third in the number of American exhibits with 62 head, Wisconsin standing first with 142 head and Ohio next with 109 head. However, our neighbors across our northern border have the most sheep at the show, no less than 239 head having been entered from Canada.

As to horses, the Hoosier animal will have second place, Illinois will exhibit 287 head, including the ponies and Indiana has entered 169 head.

The show will open with over 3,000 head of animals from 21 states, Canada and England. These will be shown in the arena, but in addition there are 3,515 head of cattle, hogs and sheep that have come in car-load lots and will be shown and judged in the pens. This makes a total of over 4,500 head of cattle, sheep, swine and horses.

Indiana is represented by 234 animals of the seven beef producing tribes, as against 202 from Illinois, 171 from Iowa, 140 from Ohio and 99 from Missouri.

Indiana not only will eclipse all of the middle western states in number, but it comes up to the show represented by exhibits of each and every one of the seven tribes of great beef producers. It shows 21 Shorthorn, 31 Angus, 91 Hereford, 1 Galloway, 16 Red Polled, 1 Polled-Durham and 16 head of grade and cross-bred animals. There are 21 separate entries.

In the sheep department Indiana ranks third in the number of American exhibits with 62 head, Wisconsin standing first with 142 head and Ohio next with 109 head. However, our neighbors across our northern border have the most sheep at the show, no less than 239 head having been entered from Canada.

As to horses, the Hoosier animal will have second place, Illinois will exhibit 287 head, including the ponies and Indiana has entered 169 head.

The show will open with over 3,000 head of animals from 21 states, Canada and England. These will be shown in the arena, but in addition there are 3,515 head of cattle, hogs and sheep that have come in car-load lots and will be shown and judged in the pens. This makes a total of over 4,500 head of cattle, sheep, swine and horses.

Indiana is represented by 234 animals of the seven beef producing tribes, as against 202 from Illinois, 171 from Iowa, 140 from Ohio and 99 from Missouri.

Indiana not only will eclipse all of the middle western states in number, but it comes up to the show represented by exhibits of each and every one of the seven tribes of great beef producers. It shows 21 Shorthorn, 31 Angus, 91 Hereford, 1 Galloway, 16 Red Polled, 1 Polled-Durham and 16 head of grade and cross-bred animals. There are 21 separate entries.

In the sheep department Indiana ranks third in the number of American exhibits with 62 head, Wisconsin standing first with 142 head and Ohio next with 109 head. However, our neighbors across our northern border have the most sheep at the show, no less than 239 head having been entered from Canada.

As to horses, the Hoosier animal will have second place, Illinois will exhibit 287 head, including the ponies and Indiana has entered 169 head.

The show will open with over 3,000 head of animals from 21 states, Canada and England. These will be shown in the arena, but in addition there are 3,515 head of cattle, hogs and sheep that have come in car-load lots and will be shown and judged in the pens. This makes a total of over 4,500 head of cattle, sheep, swine and horses.

Indiana is represented by 234 animals of the seven beef producing tribes, as against 202 from Illinois, 171 from Iowa, 140 from Ohio and 99 from Missouri.

Indiana not only will eclipse all of the middle western states in number, but it comes up to the show represented by exhibits of each and every one of the seven tribes of great beef producers. It shows 21 Shorthorn, 31 Angus, 91 Hereford, 1 Galloway, 16 Red Polled, 1 Polled-Durham and 16 head of grade and cross-bred animals. There are 21 separate entries.

In the sheep department Indiana ranks third in the number of American exhibits with 62 head, Wisconsin standing first with 142 head and Ohio next with 109 head. However, our neighbors across our northern border have the most sheep at the show, no less than 239 head having been entered from Canada.

As to horses, the Hoosier animal will have second place, Illinois will exhibit 287 head, including the ponies and Indiana has entered 169 head.

The show will open with over 3,000 head of animals from 21 states, Canada and England. These will be shown in the arena, but in addition there are 3,515 head of cattle, hogs and sheep that have come in car-load lots and will be shown and judged in the pens. This makes a total of over 4,500 head of cattle, sheep, swine and horses.

Indiana is represented by 234 animals of the seven beef producing tribes, as against 202 from Illinois, 171 from Iowa, 140 from Ohio and 99 from Missouri.

Indiana not only will eclipse all of the middle western states in number, but it comes up to the show represented by exhibits of each and every one of the seven tribes of great beef producers. It shows 21 Shorthorn, 31 Angus, 91 Hereford, 1 Galloway, 16 Red Polled, 1 Polled-Durham and 16 head of grade and cross-bred animals. There are 21 separate entries.

In the sheep department Indiana ranks third in the number of American exhibits with 62 head, Wisconsin standing first with 142 head and Ohio next with 109 head. However, our neighbors across our northern border have the most sheep at the show, no less than 239 head having been entered from Canada.

As to horses, the Hoosier animal will have second place, Illinois will exhibit 287 head, including the ponies and Indiana has entered 169 head.

The show will open with over 3,000 head of animals from 21 states, Canada and England. These will be shown in the arena, but in addition there are 3,515 head of cattle, hogs and sheep that have come in car-load lots and will be shown and judged in the pens. This makes a total of over 4,500 head of cattle, sheep, swine and horses.

Indiana is represented by 234 animals of the seven beef producing tribes, as against 202 from Illinois, 171 from Iowa, 140 from Ohio and 99 from Missouri.

Indiana not only will eclipse all of the middle western states in number, but it comes up to the show represented by exhibits of each and every one of the seven tribes of great beef producers. It shows 21 Shorthorn, 31 Angus, 91 Hereford, 1 Galloway, 16 Red Polled, 1 Polled-Durham and 16 head of grade and cross-bred animals. There are 21 separate entries.

In the sheep department Indiana ranks third in the number of American exhibits with 62 head, Wisconsin standing first with 142 head and Ohio next with 109 head. However, our neighbors across our northern border have the most sheep at the show, no less than 239 head having been entered from Canada.

As to horses, the Hoosier animal will have second place, Illinois will exhibit 287 head, including the ponies and Indiana has entered 169 head.

The show will open with over 3,000 head of animals from 21 states, Canada and England. These will be shown in the arena, but in addition there are 3,515 head of cattle, hogs and sheep that have come in car-load lots and will be shown and judged in the pens. This makes a total of over 4,500 head of cattle, sheep, swine and horses.

Indiana is represented by 234 animals of the seven beef producing tribes, as against 202 from Illinois, 171 from Iowa, 140 from Ohio and 99 from Missouri.

Indiana not only will eclipse all of the middle western states in number, but it comes up to the show represented by exhibits of each and every one of the seven tribes of great beef producers. It shows 21 Shorthorn, 31 Angus, 91 Hereford, 1 Galloway, 16 Red Polled, 1 Polled-Durham and 16 head of grade and cross-bred animals. There are 21 separate entries.

In the sheep department Indiana ranks third in the number of American exhibits with 62 head, Wisconsin standing first with 142 head and Ohio next with 109 head. However, our neighbors across our northern border have the most sheep at the show, no less than 239 head having been entered from Canada.

As to horses, the Hoosier animal will have second place, Illinois will exhibit 287 head, including the ponies and Indiana has entered 169 head.

The show will open with over 3,000 head of animals from 21 states, Canada and England. These will be shown in the arena, but in addition there are 3,515 head of cattle, hogs and sheep that have come in car-load lots and will be shown and judged in the pens. This makes a total of over 4,500 head of cattle, sheep, swine and horses.

Indiana is represented by 234 animals of the seven beef producing tribes, as against 202 from Illinois, 171 from Iowa, 140 from Ohio and 99 from Missouri.

Indiana not only will eclipse all of the middle western states in number, but it comes up to the show represented by exhibits of each and every one of the seven tribes of great beef producers. It shows 21 Shorthorn, 31 Angus, 91 Hereford, 1 Galloway, 16 Red Polled, 1 Polled-Durham and 16 head of grade and cross-bred animals. There are 21 separate entries.

In the sheep department Indiana ranks third in the number of American exhibits with 62 head, Wisconsin standing first with 142 head and Ohio next with 109 head. However, our neighbors across our northern border have the most sheep at the show, no less than 239 head having been entered from Canada.

As to horses, the Hoosier animal will have second place, Illinois will exhibit 287 head, including the ponies and Indiana has entered 169 head.

The show will open with over 3,000 head of animals from 21 states, Canada and England. These will be shown in the arena, but in addition there are 3,515 head of cattle, hogs and sheep that have come in car-load lots and will be shown and judged in the pens. This makes a total of over 4,500 head of cattle, sheep, swine and horses.

Indiana is represented by 234 animals of the seven beef producing tribes, as against 202 from Illinois, 171 from Iowa, 140 from Ohio and 99 from Missouri.

Indiana not only will eclipse all of the middle western states in number, but it comes up to the show represented by exhibits of each and every one of the seven tribes of great beef producers. It shows 21 Shorthorn, 31 Angus, 91 Hereford, 1 Galloway, 16 Red Polled, 1 Polled-Durham and 16 head of grade and cross-bred animals. There are 21 separate entries.

INDIANA IN STOCK SHOW.

Hoosier State Will Have Largest Exhibit of High Bred Animals.

At the international live stock exposition which opened at Chicago Saturday, Indiana shows in the arena the largest number of high-bred beef animals of any state that has sent cattle to the show.

Indiana is represented by 234 animals of the seven beef producing tribes, as against 202 from Illinois, 171 from Iowa, 140 from Ohio and 99 from Missouri.

Indiana not only will eclipse all of the middle western states in number, but it comes up to the show represented by exhibits of each and every one of the seven tribes of great beef producers. It shows 21 Shorthorn, 31 Angus, 91 Hereford, 1 Galloway, 16 Red Polled, 1 Polled-Durham and 16 head of grade and cross-bred animals. There are 21 separate entries.

In the sheep department Indiana ranks third in the number of American exhibits with 62 head, Wisconsin standing first with 142 head and Ohio next with 109 head. However, our neighbors across our northern border have the most sheep at the show, no less than 239 head having been entered from Canada.

As to horses, the Hoosier animal will have second place, Illinois will exhibit 287 head, including the ponies and Indiana has entered 169 head.

The show will open with over 3,000 head of animals from 21 states, Canada and England. These will be shown in the arena, but in addition there are 3,515 head of cattle, hogs and sheep that have come in car-load lots and will be shown and judged in the pens. This makes a total of over 4,500 head of cattle, sheep, swine and horses.

Indiana is represented by 234 animals of the seven beef producing tribes, as against 202 from Illinois, 171 from Iowa, 140 from Ohio and 99 from Missouri.

Indiana not only will eclipse all of the middle western states in number, but it comes up to the show represented by exhibits of each and every one of the seven tribes of great beef producers. It shows 21 Shorthorn, 31 Angus, 91 Hereford, 1 Galloway, 16 Red Polled, 1 Polled-Durham and 16 head of grade and cross-bred animals. There are 21 separate entries.

In the sheep department Indiana ranks third in the number of American exhibits with 62 head, Wisconsin standing first with 142 head and Ohio next with 109 head. However, our neighbors across our northern border have the most sheep at the show, no less than 239 head having been entered from Canada.

As to horses, the Hoosier animal will have second place, Illinois will exhibit 287 head, including the ponies and Indiana has entered 169 head.

The show will open with over 3,000 head of animals from 21 states, Canada and England. These will be shown in the arena, but in addition there are 3,515 head of cattle, hogs and sheep that have come in car-load lots and will be shown and judged in the pens. This makes a total of over 4,500 head of cattle, sheep, swine and horses.

Indiana is represented by 234 animals of the seven beef producing tribes, as against 202 from Illinois, 171 from Iowa, 140 from Ohio and 99 from Missouri.

Indiana not only will eclipse all of the middle western states in number, but it comes up to the show represented by exhibits of each and every one of the seven tribes of great beef producers. It shows 21 Shorthorn, 31 Angus, 91 Hereford, 1 Galloway, 16 Red Polled, 1 Polled-Durham and 16 head of grade and cross-bred animals. There are 21 separate entries.

In the sheep department Indiana ranks third in the number of American exhibits with 62 head, Wisconsin standing first with 142 head and Ohio next with 109 head. However, our neighbors across our northern border have the most sheep at the show, no less than 239 head having been entered from Canada.

As to horses, the Hoosier animal will have second place, Illinois will exhibit 287 head, including the ponies and Indiana has entered 169 head.

The show will open with over 3,000 head of animals from 21 states, Canada and England. These will be shown in the arena, but in addition there are 3,515 head of cattle, hogs and sheep that have come in car-load lots and will be shown and judged in the pens. This makes a total of over 4,500 head of cattle, sheep, swine and horses.

Indiana is represented by 234 animals of the seven beef producing tribes, as against 202 from Illinois, 171 from Iowa, 140 from Ohio and 99 from Missouri.

Indiana not only will eclipse all of the middle western states in number, but it comes up to the show represented by exhibits of each and every one of the seven tribes of great beef producers. It shows 21 Shorthorn, 31 Angus, 91 Hereford, 1 Galloway, 16 Red Polled, 1 Polled-Durham and 16 head of grade and cross-bred animals. There are 21 separate entries.

In the sheep department Indiana ranks third in the number of American exhibits with 62 head, Wisconsin standing first with 142 head and Ohio next with 109 head. However, our neighbors across our northern border have the most sheep at the show, no less than 239 head having been entered from Canada.

As to horses, the Hoosier animal will have second place, Illinois will exhibit 287 head, including the ponies and Indiana has entered 169 head.

The show will open with over 3,000 head of animals from 21 states, Canada and England. These will be shown in the arena, but in addition there are 3,515 head of cattle, hogs and sheep that have come in car-load lots and will be shown and judged in the pens. This makes a total of over 4,500 head of cattle, sheep, swine and horses.

Indiana is represented by 234 animals of the seven beef producing tribes, as against 202 from Illinois, 171 from Iowa, 140 from Ohio and 99 from Missouri.

Indiana not only will eclipse all of the middle western states in number, but it comes up to the show represented by exhibits of each and every one of the seven tribes of great beef producers. It shows 21 Shorthorn, 31 Angus, 91 Hereford, 1 Galloway, 16 Red Polled, 1 Polled-Durham and 16 head of grade and cross-bred animals. There are 21 separate entries.

In the sheep department Indiana ranks third in the number of American exhibits with 62 head, Wisconsin standing first with 142 head and Ohio next with 109 head. However, our neighbors across our northern border have the most sheep at the show, no less than 239 head having been entered from Canada.

As to horses, the Hoosier animal will have second place, Illinois will exhibit 287 head, including the ponies and Indiana has entered 169 head.

The show will open with over 3,000 head of animals from 21 states, Canada and England. These will be shown in the arena, but in addition there are 3,515 head of cattle, hogs and sheep that have come in car-load lots and will be shown and judged in the pens. This makes a total of over 4,500 head of cattle, sheep, swine and horses.

Indiana is represented by 234 animals of the seven beef producing tribes, as against 202 from Illinois, 171 from Iowa, 140 from Ohio and 99 from Missouri.

Indiana not only will eclipse all of the middle western states in number, but it comes up to the show represented by exhibits of each and every one of the seven tribes of great beef producers. It shows 21 Shorthorn, 31 Angus, 91 Hereford, 1 Galloway, 16 Red Polled, 1 Polled-Durham and 16 head of grade and cross-bred animals. There are 21 separate entries.

In the sheep department Indiana ranks third in the number of American exhibits with 62 head, Wisconsin standing first with 142 head and Ohio next with 109 head. However, our neighbors across our northern