Will Make Fifth Term in Penitentiary—Confessed, and was Taken Back to Hillsdale, Mich.

Jack Kirk, one of the black sheep of the town, was arrested here Friday afternoon, charged with stealing a horse and buggy at Hillsdale, Mich. He admitted the theft and was taken back to Hillsdale, without requisition papers, by officers from that place Saturday morning. Kirk is about forty years of age and has spent all, excepting four or five years of his life, since he was 21, in the state penitentiaries of Indiana and Illinois. He was at present out on parole from the Joliet Ill. state penitentiary, having been released from there on parole about four months ago. He had served 8 years on a 1 to 20 year sentence for horse stealing. He had no sooner been released than he broke his parole by coming to Plymouth to visit his father Vincent P. Kirk, who is a lawyer and Justice of the Peace. The younger Kirk has already served four terms in the Joliet, Ill., and two in the Michigan City penitentiaries. He has admitted his guilt on the last case and will probably be given a 1 to 15 year term in the pen at Lansing, Mich.

Sheriff Daniel Voreis received a letter from the sheriff at Hillsdale,

SCARES AWAY P. O. ROBBERS

FIVE THUGS ARE FRIGHTENED AWAY BEFORE BLOWING UP SAFE.

Watchman at Walkerton Discovers Men Drilling Hole in Safe and Immediately Gets Help.

The timely appearance of Night Watchman "Let" Miller saved the Walkerton postoffice from being robbed of $1,000 in stamps and money Thursday morning. Five men were engaged in the job but dropped their work when they saw Miller and several others go into the George Ross hardware store on the opposite side of the street. They left an unlighted charge of nitro-glycerin in the huge iron-vault and their tools and escaped through a rear door, leaving no clue.

The tools were stolen, it developed, from a section house of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

On his rounds Miller discovered the men at work in the postoffice. Five were in the party and the hole to receive the charge was being drilled into the safe at that time. He feared the greater number of the burglars and routed out of bed several citizens including A. S. Blaine, Fred Clark, S. E. Kowitz, Mel Foster and G. B. Moss. None of the men had guns and it was necessary to repair to the Ross hardware store for firearms. In the visit to this establishment, the robbers, it is supposed, first learned of their being watched. At any rate, when the men came out of the hardware store all armed they found their birds had flown. Some little time was spent in an examination of the premises and the party of citizens accomplished nothing when the man hunt was commenced.

Postmaster Thompson Turner says the safe contained $1,000 worth of money and stamps.

The nightwatchman did not delay in routing the men from their beds and he is unable to describe any of the men who were in the office. He says they worked under the glow of an electric searchlight flashed at irregular intervals and he could hardly distinguish the five figures on the inside.

ALUMNI BESTS HIGH SCHOOL

TEAM OF 07-08 PLAYERS WIN BY SCORE OF 23 TO 21.

Older Players Defeat Young Stars in Close and Exciting Game Friday.

In the closest and most exciting game of Basketball played in Plymouth during this season, a team composed of Alumni members of the classes of 07 and 08, trimmed the High School regular team by the score of 23 to 21 before a crowd of about 100 at the opera house Friday. The first half was all High School, the Alumni team showing lack of practice in guarding, throwing baskets, etc. In the latter half however, Tanner with his six feet two was switched into center against Zumbach, and Howell was brought from the position of center to left guard where he did fine work, and the new arrangement effectually broke up the high school team work and established some sympathetic playing among the veterans that was not slow. Earl McLaughlin was there for the Alumni in throwing free goals averaging four out of five. Glen Underwood was in the game from start to finish in the position of Right Guard, and showed up in old time form, as did also Foster Helms, at Left Guard and later at Right Forward. The High School team played its usual game and the chances favored that team until the last few minutes of the game, when the old Alumni took a powerful rally, sweeping the floor, and retaining control of the ball at will. The game was somewhat rough throughout but was most exciting and intensely interesting. The line-up started as follows, with the changes at the beginning of the second half as noted above:

Alumni High School
Foster Helms L. F. John Drake
Hubert Turner R. F. H. Alexander
Lloyd Howell C. N. L. Zumbach
Earl McLaughlin L. G. C. F. Underwood
Glen Underwood R. G. Herlas Switzer

AMERICAN STUFFING HABIT.

It Prevails on Thanksgiving, Christmas and Every Sunday of the Year.

The American has three national stuffing days—Thanksgiving and Christmas, and once a week, on Sunday.

The people who live in cities, and who can afford it, stuff themselves continuously. Not satisfied with eating as much as they can hold under normal conditions, they drink cocktails before hand to stimulate their appetites and wines and whiskies in between to stir up the jaded stomach to renewed exertions.

An American square meal is a gastronomic horror. Its secret purpose, disguised by fine linen and delicate china, and a nimble service, is in reality a "gorge," differing only in its hypocritical refinements and the strength of the actors from the prehistoric orgies of the Angles and the Saxons.

But it is on Thanksgiving and Christmas that the American makes his supreme effort.

The meal is usually served in the middle of the day, when the vitality is supposed to be at its height. A goodly number of relatives and visitors having arrived, the table is surrounded, and the ghastly ceremony proceeds.

If there are children—and this frequently happens—they are goaded on by their superiors to eat until they cannot swallow any more, and if a child has unusual abilities at the stuffing process, his attainments become the target for the delicate and subtle wit of the entire company. After every one has eaten to the point of exhaustion pies and cakes are then brought on, and disposed of in a sort of coma, after which long cigars are lighted and the air reeks with all sorts of poisons. Involuntarily for some hours and exchanging ejaculatory remarks about the weather and the football game, the guests then boisterously depart, declaring that they have had "the time of their lives."

These two days were originally set apart one of them as a day of fasting and Thanksgiving and the other to commemorate the fact that we are a Christian people.

HOLD-UP MEN PULL OFF $50

CHARLES THOMAS OF THIS CITY WAS VICTIMIZED AT LAKEVILLE.

Three Thugs Rife His Pockets Under Cover of Revolvers—Happened Saturday Night.

Charles Thomas of this city, was a victim of three hold-up men at Lakeville Saturday night, by which he was relieved of $50 in cash, and also a silver watch, which evidently was deemed not good enough for the robbers, who discarded it a short distance from the scene of the robbery. Thomas says the men were unmasked and were strangers to him, but that he would recognize them if he has the good fortune to meet them again. Furthermore, which more strongly reveals his anxiety for another interview with the hold-up men, Mr. Thomas offers a reward of $25 for the capture of either one of the trio which participated in relieving him of his burden of filthy lucre.

The robbery occurred one-half mile north of Lakeville at about 6:00 Saturday night. Thomas had just returned from a few days' business trip at Cadillac, Mich. He arrived at Lakeville on the Vandalia at about 5:15 o'clock. Wishing to see a relative who lived north of that place, he set out on foot. When he had gone about a half mile north of Lakeville, three strangers jumped into the road in front of him, from behind a pile of brush beside the roadway. Two of them thrust revolvers into his face, and commanded him to throw up his hands, while the third went through his pockets. While searching him, the highwaymen bade Thomas keep his mouth shut or they would drop him. Thomas says that he took them at their word, and did not venture to suggest anything. After they had taken everything that was loose, including $50 in money, the thugs made off eastward. Later, in company with David Sherman, Thomas found his watch and pocket book which had contained his roll of bills, about three rods from where he had been held up.

Thomas says that he had drawn the money from a Plymouth bank the day before he left for Cadillac, but that no one knew of his having the money about him.

WOULD ABOLISH COUNTY SUPT.

COMMUNICANT SETS DOWN GOOD REASONS AGAINST PROPOSED LAW.

Thinks Township Trustee is Best Adapted for Appointment of School Teachers.

Editor Tribune: Recently an article appeared in your paper, the effect of which was that some legislator proposed to win a laurel wreath for his own high forehead, by proposing to the coming legislature a law which would take from the township trustee the placement of school teachers and vest that right in the county superintendent of schools, figuring that thereby "less politics would be likely to creep in and the best interests of the schools subserved also. And further, though a three-year license is a possession required at the present time the standard was to be raised to five years, which means a college bred man and a finished education; and could the man afford to give his time for the money now paid?

But a few years ago good sense and a common school education with a side embellishment of six months at some Academy of learning was the requirement, and the boys from the country schools that has passed the grades came into our city schools and nine times out of ten won first honors, until jealousy crept in and shut them out, and the same might be said of his abilities today. By what means is the superintendent to become more eligible to select teachers for the little hallowick, and is he made of his little hallowick, and is he made of better clay than he by right of office becomes above using his place for political preferment? Remember there is about one hundred and fifty schools in Marshall county for superintendence and usually about one hundred forty days of school in which he must travel over Marshall county, rain or shine, and inspect and take note of the teachers' methods and abilities, and ascertain if he can the means employed and whether the method employed is proper. Also he must notice the disposition of the teacher, whether he or she is best fitted for this school or the one on the other crossroad.

Ninety-five per cent of the township trustees in Indiana were educated, if at all, in the common schools and know quite as well the ability of the teacher to cope with the situation as the superintendent and since he is paymaster, the teacher cares more for his goodwill than the superintendent and if he possesses any degree of ability is able to direct the schools by his frequent visits with better advantage. Now another proposition and I have done. Our sister state of Ohio has no county superintendent of schools at all, but a board of three looks after the districts and a commission is appointed to grant license to teachers. Their schools are conducted at much less expense and are the equal of our own. The real object of this writing is to suggest the idea of abolishing the office of county school superintendent, place the licensing of teachers in the hands of a commission of eligible parties and place a qualification for the township trustee. There is no office of magnitude in the state today that could be abolished with as little friction and as much economy as that of county superintendent of schools.

Citizen,
Plymouth, Ind., Dec. 26th.

Spend Christmas in Jail.

Although spending their Christmas in jail, there were no happier pair of men in the city, than Messrs. David Liggett and John Primley, who are making a ten days' sojourn behind the bars of the county bastille. These gentlemen have been entertaining the neighborhood with a series of vocal numbers, solos and duets. Sheriff Voreis said that he thought the pair would die from ennui Friday and Saturday, when they were restrained from singing because of a death in the neighborhood.

The building is a frame structure and a blaze with little headway would soon be exceedingly dangerous.

MRS. E. PRICE DIES SUDDENLY

Passes Away After Illness of Only Few Minutes—Heart Failure Was Cause.

Mrs. Mary Frances Price, wife of Emanuel Price, died suddenly at her home Wednesday evening, after only a few minutes illness. Death was caused from heart failure, and was unexpected, as Mrs. Price had never suffered with heart trouble, and had always been a picture of good health. About 8 o'clock Wednesday evening with her husband and son Miles, Mrs. Price started to the Methodist church intending to help in decorating. When they had come to within a block of the church Mrs. Price complained of not feeling well. They were met by Rev. Wareing, who assisted Mrs. Price to the church where a physician was called to attend her. She was taken to her home in north Plymouth where she gave indications of reviving. Soon after the doctor left she relapsed and before he was recalled to the home, Mrs. Price had passed away. The physician pronounced death to be caused from gastritis and heart failure.

Miss Mary Frances Pierce, (the maiden name of the deceased) was born in Oswego, N. Y. on July 4th, 1847, and was 61 years of age at the time of her death. Six years ago she was married to Emanuel Price of Mishawaka, being his third wife. She had also been married before, and is survived by one son, C. W. Scott of Mishawaka, and one daughter, Mrs. J. B. Rawson of New York City, and a step-sister, Mrs. L. D. Harry of Denver, Col. Funeral services were held at the residence at 212 West Madison St. at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, after which the remains were taken to South Bend for interment in the city cemetery.

Was Drowned WHILE SKATING

FRED ASPER AGED 12 WENT THROUGH ICE AT CULVER MONDAY.

Was Skating on Dangerous Ice One Fourth Mile from Shore—Body Recovered With a Boat.

Freddie Asper, the twelve-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Asper, of Culver, was drowned in Lake Michigan Monday morning at about 9:30 o'clock by breaking through thin ice while skating. The body was recovered about a quarter of a mile from shore, and where the body had broken through, the ice was not over a quarter of an inch thick. Most of the lake is covered with ice, excepting the middle which is broken. The boys had been repeatedly warned to keep near shore because of the danger of thin ice and air holes, but they continued farther and farther out until the ice grew too thin to sustain the weight of the skater. Levi Bush, a boy friend of the drowned boy, was skating with him when he broke through, and he repeatedly asked young Asper not to go so far from shore.

Happened About 9:30.

A crowd of boys had gone skating on the lake Monday morning. They had skated up and down on the edge of the lake, on the north side, in front of the park and boat house. Asper and Bush were skating together and continued over to the west side of the lake opposite to the Assembly Grounds. Here the couple began skating away from shore, until Bush asked Asper not to go farther out. Asper continued however, but Bush remained nearer the shore. Suddenly Bush saw his comrade break through the ice shouting for help as he sank from view. The frightened comrade ran for assistance but it was found impossible to get near enough to rescue the lad who had disappeared.

Recovered With a Boat.

Finally a boat which was frozen in the ice at the shore was dislodged and pushed across the ice out to where the ice grew thin. It was entered there by young Bush and Clark Ferrier who pushed it through the broken ice to where the body had disappeared. The body was found under the ice a few feet from where it had broken through. Ferrier took the body from the water, lifeless. It had been in the water about twenty minutes before recovered.

Was in Sixth Grade.

Freddie Asper attended the public school at Culver and was in the sixth grade. Christmas vacation was the opportunity for his death. He is survived by both parents, one brother Charles, and one sister Esther. The funeral was held at the Evangelical church in Culver at 10 o'clock Wednesday.
