

Who owns the South?

Five minutes conversation with an Abolitionist will reveal to you the fact that he conceives that the people of the North actually own the people of the South, and that it is nothing short of the most unparalleled presumption for them to suppose that they have any right to houses, land or estate, much less to that of self-government. "These men are so intractable," say they, "so bitter, so determined, that there will be no living with them in the future. We must exterminate them and seize their property." This highly humane and Christian conclusion is reached with the most perfect coolness and composure. Of course, why should it not be so? Are we not more civilized than they? Are we not more intelligent? Do we not exceed them in all the humane and gentler virtues? In a word, are we not the saints, and does not the earth belong to the saints? Surely it does. Ergo, the South belongs to us, and so long as we can print Greenbacks and buy people to do our fighting for us, so long we will keep up this war of extermination. We do not expect to conquer them, but we have two or three to their one, and with Generals who are willing to turn wholesale butchers, we can "wipe them out," in the impressive language used on Sherman's raid.

This is the programme now adopted. The war is one simply for extermination. It is waged for that purpose. The idea of being able to conquer the South has long since been abandoned. It is simply a cold, cruel war of bitter extermination. There is not even one spark of generosity to soften its composition of malignity, cruelty and slaughter. Over the heads of the men fighting more bravely than men ever fought, hang the vile threat of negro equality and the confiscation of all their property, and yet people profess to wonder why they are so bitter! This is like knocking a man down, beating him nearly to death, stealing his clothes and leaving him by the roadside in a pitiless storm, and then wondering why he does not love and embrace us! If these people who are urging on this crusade of slaughter, would sit down calmly for five minutes and ask themselves how they would like the same measure meted out to them, they could not deceive themselves longer, unless, as is most likely, they wished to be deceived.—New York Daily-Book.

A NEGRO VICTIM OF THE DRAFT—How He Felt—The Lacrosse (Wisconsin) Democrat, a place where they have lately been drafting, says: Among the victims of the draft in this city, was Sam, a graceful motioned contraband who was given leave to leave the South last spring and become a free man "up North." Early in the spring he did chores at the Harrington House. Later in the season he hoed gardens, got married, and blacked the stores till they rivalled the gloss on his cheeks. Monday he was drafted, and on Tuesday served with a notice to be at the rendezvous within ten days along with his white brethren, or be considered a deserter. He took the notice to a friend, who read it, and made him understand the nature thereof. And this is the way he took on: "Wat—wat—wat dumb foolish ting am dis, yeah? Is a free man? Las' spring dey send me up North and tell me Ise a free man—dad de Lincoln's soldiers hab lib'rated me. Now wat am dis dumb foolish ting for? I'll dun gon for if Ise got to gwine to dis yeah wah. A nigger don't stand no show down dah now. He get shut of hese right off I reckon! If I'd know wat dat printed ting was I'd from him down in de street jis like dis, (he threw the notice into the street with a jerk.) an den dey neber fool dis nigger! Why did n't dey let de nigger stay dere or stay beah?"

A Rightly Important Convention.
The following highly important dispatch appeared in our telegraphic report yesterday morning:

"A Mass State Convention was called at Beaufort, South Carolina, for the 17th of May, to select delegates to the Baltimore Convention. A similar movement is reported to be on foot in Florida."

This is about as cool an operation as the history of these singular times affords. South Carolina to be represented in the Baltimore Convention! There are not twenty citizens of the entire State of South Carolina within the neck of land covered by our lines. Do the miscreants propose to admit our unforgotten African brother to their Presidential councils? It is time the Radicals bolted from Mr. Lincoln's reprobated Baltimore Convention, for under the operations of Mr. Lincoln's strategy, there is not the ghost of a chance for a fair nomination. Mr. Lincoln's office holders, probably assisted by the multitude of female New England teachers, will fix up a delegation for their master, and fix the stigma of disloyalty upon all who whisper a doubt as to its right to sit in the Convention. The history of rotten boroughs and false elections affords no instance equal to this in impudence or villainy. John C. Calhoun is villain in the shade.

"A similar movement is on foot in Florida." Mr. Lincoln procured the butchery of a thousand good men and soldiers in order to get the capital of Florida to give his presidential scheme the show of legality and fairness; but as the expedition failed he has concluded to cast aside even the presence of fairness, and secure the benefits without attempting to conceal the shameful corruption. Their submission to such impudent and shameless impositions illustrates the natural subservience and servility of the Abolitionists. Such an attempt by a leader to corrupt a Convention would meet the unanimous and indignant condemnation of any other party; but the Abolitionists are happiest when ridden by master hooded and spurred.—Ohio Statesman.

PLYMOUTH, MARSHALL COUNTY, INDIANA

The proprietor of this establishment having purchased the late interest of A. J. Hasler in the same, and having made extensive additions thereto is now prepared to do all kinds of Photography, Ambrotyping, Ferrotyping and Melanotypy in the highest style of the art. His large stock of all kinds of photographic materials, and his side lights enable him to take all kinds of pictures in all kinds of weather.

He is now having an immense run of those beautiful Carte de Visites, that are all the rage in the cities. They are just the thing and everybody should have a dozen at once.

Life sized Photographs as true to nature as pictures of all kinds copied and enlarged.

Don't fail to procure a life likeness of your Father, Mother, Son, Daughter, Husband or Wife before their dear faces are hidden from your view by the grave. Money could not buy from you the poorest and faintest Photographic image of the loved one. Then delay not a day lest the substance fade ere you secure the shadow.

The undersigned having had years of experience in the picture business, and having recently become familiar with all the late improvements in the art, flatters himself that his work will compare favorably with the best done in the cities.

New and beautiful pictures, Stereoscopic views etc., will constantly be added to the already respectable stock; so that this establishment will indeed be a "Fine Art Gallery." Call and see the pictures.
