

THE DEMOCRAT.

LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Burglars are about; keep your doors and windows well fastened at night, and when absent during the day.

We learn that Mr. Barrett from Peoria, Illinois, has purchased the La Porte Democrat office, and will soon set the paper in operation. Success to him.

There is yet a considerable portion of the wheat crop outstanding in this county, and we learn from the farmers that it is much injured by the abundant rains, and in many cases badly grown in the shock.

There will be a special meeting of the members of Lodge No. 149 of F. & A. M. to-night. All the members are requested to be in attendance.

We hope our Town duds will hurry up that new Fire Engine. Somebody's house or store-room will take fire some of these times, and then there will be another splurge we suppose, relative to an Engine.

Gen. Sherman arrived at Indianapolis on Tuesday, and was welcomed by the civic and military authorities and a concourse of 20,000 people.

The "young American Roscius" who when he left town promised to return on Monday evening last and give another of his inimitable shows, has failed to come to time, disgusted no doubt with our citizens for their failure to appreciate his talent in the show business. Roscius better get his hair cut and go to work like an honest man.

STANBURY & L's new Ice Cream Saloon and Resta. in Humrichouse's Brick, up stairs, having been closed a few days for the purpose of painting, is now reopened, with every facility for accommodating the public. They keep the very best quality of everything in their line, and endeavor to give perfect satisfaction to every one who favors them with a call. Their saloon is certainly the best in town.

READ Paul's advertisement in another column, and if you want to buy boots or shoes of the best quality for a reasonable price call in at Paul's. The establishment is fitted up in the best style and John intends to maintain his previous good reputation as an honest dealer and an affable salesman. Don't forget the place, first door south of Woodward's brick block.

D. E. Van Valkenburg, who was for some time connected with this paper as editor and publisher, returned home from the west one day last week after an absence of nearly two years. Ed. is looking hearty, and seems to have been well pleased with his sojourn in the cities of Chicago, Memphis and St. Louis; but he thinks there is yet no better business point in the west than Plymouth. We are glad to learn that he designs remaining permanently in this place, where he will engage in the practice of the law in the office of John G. Osborne, Esq.

BURGLARY.—On Thursday night of last week the Baldwin House, near the depot, was entered by burglars and the proprietor, Mr. Geo. Baldwin, robbed of some fifty dollars and a revolver, which the scoundrels took from under his pillow.

The same night the room of the junior editor of this paper, at the Railroad House, was entered, probably by the same scamp who robbed Mr. Baldwin, and in the morning the junior aforesaid was minus a watch and chain. Luckily for us the thief did not find the money contained in our vest pocket, and so failed to get the sum of thirty-five cents therein contained.

S. & M. Becker desire to tender to their customers their best bow and warmest thanks for their past liberal patronage, and assure them that they will continue to keep for sale all goods in their line of trade at the very lowest living prices.

N. B.—Those indebted to S. & M. B. whether by note or book account are earnestly requested to call at once and pay up, as they need what is due them to purchase another supply of goods. Pay up now and then you can ask for further credit if you need it.

A day or two before the rainy weather set in, we had a German at work for us who remarked one clear day that it would commence raining within forty-eight hours and continue for seven weeks without an intermission of more than two or three days at any one time. We paid little attention to it at the time, thinking the old man was somewhat superstitious. But if it holds out the balance of the time as it has done thus far, we think seriously of taking lesson of that man in the science of weather signs.

The confiscation act is vigorously executed throughout Virginia. The property of many persons pardoned by the president has been libeled. In such cases the actions are discontinued on preservation of the certificates of pardon and the payment of court fees incurred.

We learn that a drunken row occurred near the depot last Monday night at an unlicensed liquor establishment. This place is kept by a woman, a genuine descendant of the land where no snakes are ever found, except those that are said to delight in a retreat found in the locality known as a man's boots. Not a month and scarcely a week passes without somebody receiving a species of ornamentation familiarly called a broken head, resulting from a somewhat vigorous application of a certain classical instrument sometimes called a shillelah but usually known as a club. On the occasion referred to a woman took umbrage at the remarks of one of her drunken associates of the male persuasion and went into him with an iron poker and pretty effectually silenced one battery by the use of another. It is a shame that these things are permitted to continue for month after month to the annoyance of the good citizens of that otherwise quiet locality. Cannot the authorities put a stop to these disgraceful rows?

The republicans are making arrangements to give the returned soldiers a free dinner on the 17th day of August. The affair was gotten up by the leaders of the republican party here as a master-stroke of policy by which it is expected to catch the soldier's votes in the coming election. We advise all the soldiers to go who feel like doing so and can, and then vote as they please afterwards. We are much mistaken if there are many of the soldiers so green as not to see the point to this performance. No notice was given of the meeting to make arrangements, and none were permitted to participate in the affair who are not republicans.

Hot weather and free whisky have been producing their legitimate effects for a week past in this locality. Fights among men, boys and dogs form a current item in the staple of local news. One day last week a couple of graceless juveniles, some dozen years old, taking their cue from the action of those older, had a square stand-up fight in the street near the livery stables, which resulted in causing the claret to flow freely from the nose of one of them. We learn that on the same day there were two fights between as many couple of men down in front of Schlarb's saloon, during one of which, an unfortunate equine quadruped, commonly called a horse, was knocked down, and a man who thinks himself a horse (in physical power) was seized by the back of his neck and the seat of his unmentionables, and violently thrown over the horse-rack into the gutter, to the no little detriment of his boasted reputation. It is said that he did not again interfere in the fight, but went home and hauled off for repairs. We should be glad to know by what particular philosophy the intimate relation between warm weather and pug-nacity can be satisfactorily explained.—Perhaps the near approach to dog-days may have something to do with it. At all events so much fighting is indicative of doggishness, although there seems to have been no dogberry about at the time of the aforesaid fights.

THE CROPS. WISCONSIN. The following returns from Wisconsin, including five counties, furnish renewed evidence of the generally excellent condition of the crops in that State:

KEWANEE COUNTY. "A subscriber" writes July 17th, that the wheat is already cut, and the crop is large, the grain being full and plump.—Barley will probably yield an amount double last year's crop. The oat crop is very large. Hay and vegetables of all kinds look promising.

CHIPPWA COUNTY. A letter of July 18th, states that the amount of land sown in wheat is much less than last year, and the prospects are fine that the crop will be at least one-fourth greater. Corn planting was delayed by wet weather, and the crop has suffered some from the frost. One fourth more was planted this year than last, but the prospects are not so good. The crops of oats and barley will both be about one-third greater than last year.

ROCK COUNTY. John Tinker writes, July 21st, that corn, oats, potatoes and onions promise more than at average yield, while there were not more than half a crop of spring wheat and barley, on account of the damage inflicted by the chintz bug. Grass is in good condition.

SAUK COUNTY. M. C. White writes, July 20th, that the increase in the amount of land sown with wheat is one-fourth, the prospects are fine and the crop will probably yield one-half more than last year. The prospects for corn are better than last year at this time. Oats, barley and rye will yield an increase over last year's crop one-half.

VERNON COUNTY. T. Smith writes, July 20th, that wheat and oats were sown over about the same breadth of ground as last year, and the yield will probably be about one-fourth larger. Corn is planted more extensively than last year, and looks well. Barley was but little sown, but the crop looks well and bids fair for a good yield. The crops all look better than they have for a number of previous years.

A clerk in the loan office of the Treasury Department has been arrested for purchasing bonds with coupons attached, to the amount of $180,000.
