

J. G. OSBORNE,
J. L. HARVEY, Editors.
PLYMOUTH, INDIANA.

THURSDAY, NOV. 22, 1866.

The Abandonment of Principle.

The Chicago Times advises the Democratic party to abandon its position in opposition to negro suffrage, and argues that by so doing the existence of the party may be continued—and only by so doing. If the Democratic party follows this advice, we certainly think it is very sick, and that its recovery is a consummation devoutly to be wished for.

The democracy have heretofore held that the negro was an inferior race, unfit for self-government, and disqualified by decree of God for the exercise of the elective franchise in our government.—That the government was made by white men, for white men, and that the idea of negro-equality was disgusting and degrading. If the democracy does not still maintain these views on this question we must consider ourselves outside of the organization. If the Times asks the party with which it formerly acted, to follow its lead on the negro-suffrage question on principle, because negroes ought to vote, then then we still stand, "Bourbonlike," where we have ever stood, unalterably opposed to the disgusting doctrine.

If because the laws to be passed this winter will permit him to vote, in spite of the Democratic party, then let us oppose the passage of these anticipated laws the same as though we had the power to defeat them. If we are laboring to advance a correct principle it does not and cannot change, and must ultimately triumph, and we are unworthy advocates if we desert our cause at the first reverse.

If the Times argues for negro suffrage from policy, then we are again "Bourbonlike," opposed to it. First, we think a party scarcely worthy of contempt that will deliberately prostitute its principles for the paltry fee of position and temporary success, and the destinies of the country could not fall into worse keeping than the custody of such men. Second, as policy it would be successful suicide, only. On the plain issue of negro-suffrage the people are with the democracy by an overwhelming majority, and if they were not, old honest, original negro-equality would suit them much better than place-hunting, principle discarding, time-serving democracy of the Times stamp.

Cutting Loose from the President.

Some democratic journals and politicians seem very desirous to have the democratic party "cut loose from the President," and write and talk as though with the accomplishment of the "cutting loose" process the democratic party would be on the highway to success and its former position in the country. Now so far as we are concerned, we do not propose to "cut loose." We have never been attached to the President or any other man, nor do we now propose to tie the tail of the radical kite. So far as we have found praiseworthy acts in the course of Andrew Johnson, so far we have commended him and applauded his said acts, and shall continue to pursue this course. We think his views on reconstruction are correct, and endorse the views and not the man. For his faults we have no excuses to make, nor do we desire to palliate them, but when he adopts democratic principles and seeks to observe the law and enforce the Constitution, we are with him, and shall not "cut loose" from what we believe to be right, at the order of the Chicago Times or any other journal or man.

GENERAL S. S. BURBRIDGE.—We learn from a gentleman of high character in the State, says the Mayville (Ky.) Bulletin, that General S. S. Burbridge no longer disgraces the State of Kentucky with his offensive presence. He has taken up his residence at or near Madison, Indiana, and such is his dread of that vengeance which his cowardly brutality, while in military command in Kentucky, has so justly invoked, that, "indecumbent where he is sufficient for him to come into the State even for a day. He is haunted with a terror that follows him at every step. He sees in every Kentuckian the fiend of some murdered victim. The very soil of his native State, to his eyes, is yet crimsoned with the blood he so remorselessly shed. No wonder he dares not put his foot upon it.

A New York dispatch says: "Wendell Phillips has a remarkable article in the Anti-Slavery Standard on the elections. He says people are radical to the backbone, and will not permit another Congress to defraud them of the bloody fruits of the late war. They are determined to have the rights of freedom secured to all, regardless of race. He recommends that the Southern oligarchy shall be deprived of its privileges as such, and that President Johnson shall be impeached. He declares that Cuba must be revolutionized, and then Hayti and Brazil, in favor of universal liberty. He says the fate of the Republic is in the hands of the loyal people of the country, and that they will never permit the rebels to rule it again."

A Washington dispatch says: Members of Congress are beginning to arrive already, and active canvassing will commence next week.

BOURBON CORRESPONDENCE.

BOURBON, NOV. 20, 1866.
EDS. DEMOCRAT:
Your Bourbon correspondent has had his hands full for the past four or five weeks, and nothing of very great importance having occurred here since he last wrote you, is his excuse for failing to fulfill his promise made some time ago. He expects to be able to give you something every week hereafter.

Our people like the rest of mankind, have been star-gazing for a few nights past in hopes of seeing the meteoric display promised us by the astronomers about the middle of November. But nary a meteor did we see. But there is a pleasure after all, in looking for meteors, even if you don't see 'em! "Moonlight, music, love and flowers!" That's delicious, isn't it? and then to have a "thing of beauty, a joy forever," hanging on your arm, and casting her eye lovingly over your shoulder pretending to be looking for meteors.—That's bully!

"Our mind is filled with dreams of meadows, and such like trifling bed diseases. We think of crawling, willful, beautiful misuses. Too small for courting, yet too big for kisses. A sort of honest, sturdy little humor. That's more than child yet not quite a woman!"

We were hardly prepared for the Chicago Times' negro-suffrage article. However, it is not surprising that the Times should write and print such stuff. It has been a time-serving, policy paper during the whole of the past six years, and nothing better could reasonably be expected from it. If negro suffrage is to be forced upon the country there is a party now organized whose policy is negro suffrage and negro equality, and if there are democrats who are in favor of it, let them cut loose from the Democratic party, join the radicals and swallow the negro whole. It may be a "foregone conclusion" that negro suffrage is inevitable, but suppose it is? what of it? The democracy want none of the laurel wreaths to be twined around the brows of those who elevate the negro to a position in our government where he may sit in the halls of Congress and even in the Presidential chair.

Messrs. Gould & Davis have purchased the furniture establishment of Joseph Wolan. Mr. W. has removed to Ohio. Mr. M. James has erected a substantial lumber office near the depot, and is now comfortably and permanently located in the lumber trade.

The Post office has been moved to the room first door west of Heller & Galentine corner, and Post Master Beals is sparing no pains to give satisfaction to all who have business to transact with him.

Mrs. Martha, wife of Jerome H. Chamberlain, of this place, died on Friday, the 16th inst., after a brief illness. Her mother and other friends were with her during most of her sickness, and

"Saw in death her eyelids close
Calmly as to a night's repose,
Her remains were taken to Goslen, the former place of her residence, and buried on Sunday.

Our big School House is so nearly completed that it has been announced that we are actually to have a school in it this winter.

Our little folks are anticipating a fine time at a Sunday School Celebration which is promised them to be held some time the last of this month or the first of next month.

Mr. Barney, of Salem, O., has recently put up a new steam saw mill in this place and is doing a good business with it. We are glad to welcome to our place a gentleman who comes so well recommended as Mr. B.

Our friend M. G. Galentine, of this place, has started a branch of his Dry Goods store at Piercetown, Ind. Mr. D. O. Beeman and El. Galentine are to run it, and high hopes are entertained of a brilliant success.

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
INDIANAPOLIS, IND., NOV. 12th, 1866.

TO THE PEOPLE OF INDIANA:
In the discharge of what I believe to be a solemn duty, and in accordance with a proclamation issued by the President of the United States, I do hereby appoint Thursday, the 29th of this month, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer, and earnestly request the people, laying aside their usual avocations, to assemble at their accustomed places of worship, and return thanks to Almighty God for the unnumbered blessings He has bestowed upon our States and Nation. And while returning praise and thanksgiving, let them pray for a continuance of His great mercies, and that He will in an especial manner relieve and comfort those who are in affliction; that He will have in His care and keeping the widows and orphans, and the desolate and aged parents, whose husbands, fathers and sons have fallen in battle for our country; that He will inspire the nation to make ample provision for those gallant men, who, by reason of wounds and disease, contracted in the service of their country, can not provide for themselves, and that their last days may be pleasant, and that they may not feel they have served an ungrateful people; that He will elevate and protect from oppression the helpless people who were recently in bondage, and will put into the hearts of the people to grant to them justice and the equal protection of the law; and that He will inspire with wisdom the men who are invested with the power of the Government, and who have in their hands the settlement of the great questions which yet distract and divide the nation, and so order and direct that their measures may lead to peace, justice, and to the harmony, power and glory of our Country through all time.

O. P. MORTON, Governor.
Attest: N. TRUESLER, Sec'y of State.

Maximilian's health has been greatly improved by his recent sea voyage, which caused the reports that he had attempted to abandon the country. On the 12th he was still at Orizaba.

We admire thunder, but as for lightning we were never struck by it.

Mexican Affairs.

WASHINGTON, NOV. 19.
The navy department has received information of the arrival of the Tallapoosa at Galveston, from off Tampico. No foreign vessels of war were off the river or in the port of Tampico on the 29th of October, and only one American vessel in the harbor.

Tampico is at present in command of Col. Gomez, with a force of 500 men, controlling customs and enforcing the payment of loans.

The authorities of Victoria, the capital of the state, do not recognize those of Tampico, and their guerrillas seize all goods found en route for the interior markets.

Gen. Pator, who has a force of 15,000 or 20,000 men in the Huasteca, and is now holding Tampico, has issued a proclamation declaring the Puebla valley open to foreign commerce, which, it is feared, will lead to open hostilities between the forces under his command and those under Col. Gomez. Under this state of affairs the inhabitants of Tampico are in constant dread of the most serious disorder, and a probability of the indiscriminate plunder of the town.

GALVESTON, NOV. 19.
A special to New York reports a spirited attack on Matamoros, and nine skirmishes, which lasted several hours, the forces under Gen. Tia going; but distrustful Cortina, he did not follow up his success. The defenders lost 20 prisoners, and Col. Rias, their commander, was arrested for bad conduct on the field, on the night of the 10th.

Gen. Ortega and party remained at Brazos, guests with the commander of the United States colored troops. He has signified his intention not to return to New Orleans. The heavy rains have delayed the inland locomotion to be performed on horse-back.

Fifteen hundred federal troops leave for the Mexican frontier soon.

NEW ORLEANS, NOV. 19.
Vera Cruz dates to the 13th have been received. At an early meeting to discuss the situation, Maximilian's ministers unanimously determined to continue in office without alteration.

New York, Nov. 19.
The New York Times has the following: "Mr. Johnson has not indicated his purpose relative to the amnesty-suffrage plan mentioned in those dispatches on Friday last, though the gentlemen who advocate the proposition represent that the president has given them encouragement to expect that he will adopt their suggestions substantially, if not exactly, in the form they advise. Several newspaper correspondents have endeavored to excite a doubt of the existence of such a combination of leading men for the purpose of inducing the president to accept the proposition and advise the southern people, as set forth in my dispatches. In order to put at rest such doubts, I am enabled to say, from personal knowledge, that such a combination does exist. A number of the gentlemen co-operating in it have had interviews with Mr. Johnson, and they have been laboring in the matter for about a month, visiting and corresponding with influential men of the north and south."

The Post's special says: "The facts divulged to-day show that there is little hope that the president will recommend impartial suffrage in his message to congress. He will stand with Mr. McCulloch on financial questions."

Several republicans were removed from office last week. The Commercial's Washington special says: "It is confidently expected that the reconstruction policy will be amicably settled early in the approaching session of congress. Negotiations for that purpose are in progress between the president and the leading politicians of all parties in the north and south. The basis of settlement will be universal suffrage and general amnesty. The president partially accedes to this proposition, but he insists upon constitutional grounds, that the question of suffrage properly belongs to the respective states, and is so far averse to any action of congress upon that subject. Insurances can be obtained from southern leaders of the speedy adoption of universal suffrage. The proposed basis of settlement contemplates the abandonment of the constitutional amendment as a condition to southern representation."

It wants to keep the Democratic party pure, and especially to guard Democratic young ladies from the advances of negro suitors, whose charms it thinks they could not resist, if their sable admirers should be advanced to the rank of voters.—Journal.

The Journal has mistaken the drift of our remarks. We never had any fear that Democratic young ladies would miscarry with buck niggers, but have been apprehensive that the corrupt teaching of the susceptible and sympathetic young ladies of the radical party, who are being carefully educated to believe that the prejudice against color is absurd, and that intelligence and good behavior are just as attractive enveloped in a black skin as in a white one. Judging from the examples of sundry pushing females sent South from Massachusetts, to teach the young African idea how to shoot, these fears are not altogether groundless. We advise radicals to rest easy about the female "copperheads," but to keep careful watch and ward over their own daughters. A nigger, like vice, is a monster of hideous mien, but we do not think it prudent to let susceptible young ladies, of radical proclivities, become too familiar with his face, lest they should, by slow and easy stages be led to first pity, then endure, and finally embrace.—Ind. Herald.

From Indianapolis, Nov. 20.
The national convention of the Grand Army of the Republic convened at Opera hall this morning. A large number of delegates were present from all sections of the country. The proceedings are kept secret.

A number of distinguished officers are present, among whom are Gen. Palmer and Logan, of Illinois, and Vandever, of Iowa.

The Daily Herald establishment, democratic, was sold at auction to-day, to Lafa. Delvin & Co., of Cambridge, Ind.

The Grand lodge and Grand encampment of Odd-Fellows of the state of Indiana met to-day in semi-annual convention. The report of the officers show the order to be in a very prosperous condition.

A Withering Rebuke.

One week ago last Monday the Chicago Times "swung round the circle" and planted itself upon the negro platform of the Black Republican party. Since that time every democratic journal perhaps in the west have responded to the interrogatory of the Times, not one of which has responded favorably, but on the other hand the apostasy of that cowardly, time-serving sheet has met with a withering rebuke from a united democratic press.

The Times can do either one of two things; back down from its present position squarely, or remain in the camp of the enemy, whose leading spirits have everywhere extended the Black Republican hand of fellowship. If it backs down the democracy will not trust it, should it remain with the radicals, where it properly belongs, then democrats will know where to find it hereafter.

If the Times had any doubts as to the determination of the democracy to hereafter triumph through the justice of their cause, they cannot but be dispelled by the rebuke administered through a fearless outspoken democratic press. The democratic party although defeated, will never surrender its ship to a nigger crew—nor will it accept of any proposition that looks to the transfer of its organization to the camp of a tyrannical and merciless band of diabolical radicals.

Retrenchment.

The joint committee on retrenchment, appointed at the last session of congress, have made an extensive investigation in northern post-offices and custom houses, and have commenced taking evidence in the departments. They will recommend some radical reforms in all of the custom-houses.

The New York dry goods market has recently experienced quite a panic, and prices have gone down. Produce has also declined in the eastern and western markets, and there is little probability of a rise unless money matters assume a different shape.

Speculation is rife at Washington as to the future policy of the President. If one were to believe all the stories of newspaper correspondents there would be no telling what the President's policy is now or will be in future. He is now a radical, then again a copperhead, rebel and traitor. We prefer to wait his coming message to Congress for a definition of his policy.

The World's Washington special says: An authoritative denial is furnished of the story that Chief Justice Chase had an audience with the President, relative to the question of extending universal amnesty to the South in return for partial suffrage. His interview was relative to the causes for the delay in the trial of Jeff. Davis. Judge Chase was not present with the Cabinet, as stated.

BILLIARD TOURNAMENT.—The South Bend Union says arrangements are being made for a grand Billiard Tournament, to take place in that city sometime during the holidays. Two or three prizes are to be played for, the first of which will be a magnificent billiard cue, valued at $50, and $50 in greenbacks, in addition. Open to players from Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, and Michigan. Everything connected therewith will be arranged upon a most liberal plan.

A Philadelphia dispatch says: "Our business men are looking for a panic soon. Several large dry goods houses are reported just hanging by the eyelids. The decline in the prices of imported goods and provisions continues, and threatens disastrous effects to the speculators."

J. G. LONG, of Leesburg Prairie, called to see us on Saturday last. Not knowing that our staunch old democratic friend was coming, we left the office in charge of our "devil," and went out on a hunting expedition, killing a pheasant, a woodcock and wounding one squirrel which we did not get. Hope you will call again, Jack, when we are at home.

HORRIBLE.—A little son of Mr. Isaac Moon was scalded to death, the other day, by falling into a kettle which contained boiling scum. It occurred at the place of Mr. John McLean, in Hendricks county, and though his mother was standing near him he could not be rescued before life had become extinct.—Ind. Ad.

The dog tax is being collected in some of the counties in this district. If we are not mistaken this tax has been decided unconstitutional by Judge Bicknell, in a case tried in the Washington Circuit Court, and by Judge Eckels, in the Terre Haute Judicial district, in a case tried in the Sullivan Circuit Court.—New Albany Ledger.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Last Wednesday afternoon Dr. Taylor was driving a pair of matched horses belonging to Dr. Shultz, and taking freight at a train on the Wabash Railway bridge above Fourth street, when an accident occurred.

The lines broke and the team dashed along the river bank at furious speed. The buggy struck the telegraph pole opposite the railroad depot, throwing out Dr. Taylor, a lady and child. The child was injured. The lady and Dr. Taylor were taken up insensible and carried to his residence across the street. The lady's foot was only bruised slightly, and she recovered so as to travel the next day. Dr. T. had his right cheek bone broken, his left shoulder and arm bruised, and suffered from contusion of the neck and spine, and has been confined to the house since. After striking the telegraph pole, the team passed up Fourth street, and the buggy struck Colonel A. E. Taylor's baggage wagon, upsetting it, and throwing Colonel T. some distance, injuring his foot slightly.—Logansport Phoenix.

Hearers Versus Doers.

Rutkin says, with his old pungency, in one of his new essays: "You women of England are all now shrieking with one voice—you and your clergymen together—because you hear of your Bibles being attacked. If you choose to obey your Bibles, you will never care who attacks them. It is just because you never fulfill a single, downright precept of the book that you are so careful of its credit. The Bible tells you to dress plainly, and you are mad for finery; the Bible tells you to have pity on the poor, and you crush them under your carriage wheels; the Bible tells you to do judgment and justice, you do not know nor care to know so much as what the Bible means."

CONFIDENCE LOST.—We are personally acquainted with John Morrissey, Esq., and once had great respect for him, and much confidence in his integrity but it is fast passing away. When he accepted the nomination for Congress we began to lose confidence in him. His election has lowered him very much in our estimation, and if he lets himself down so low as to take a seat in this polluted, and corrupt Congress, we shall have lost all confidence in Morrissey.—Western Mirror.

GRAND DEDICATION BALL.

To be given on the occasion of the Dedication of COLBY'S BENSON HALL, IN PLYMOUTH, on Thursday Evg., Dec. 6, 1866, BY THE PLYMOUTH CORNET BAND.

The company of young men and ladies is respectfully invited. Carriages in attendance at 7 o'clock.

COMMITTEE OF ATTENDANCE: THE PLYMOUTH CORNET BAND, PLYMOUTH, MASS.

MANAGERS: M. H. Rice, Dr. J. M. Condit, C. C. Beck, R. M. Brown.

HONORARY MANAGERS:

J. F. Benson, S. R. Edwards, Meyer Becker, John Walsh, C. G. P. Bailey, H. H. Corbin, D. E. Van, Maj. J. M. Moore, W. H. Dickson.

LA PRONCE:

W. H. Salisbury, Col. Shandon, H. Rose, E. Hamilton.

ROCHESTER:

J. M. Beeber, A. J. Holmes, M. R. Smith, —Glück.

BOURBON:

D. McDonald, J. Noble, S. Beals, Capt. J. E. Houghton.

BREMEN:

James Miller, John Sales.

ISBAND:

W. S. Morehouse, C. R. Curtis.

ABOON:

Welcome Road, John A. Rochet.

TYNER:

Chas. Gregg, G. W. Boyd.

TIFFANUSKOWS:

N. B. Allen.

TICKETS OF ADMISSION $1.00

A SEWING MACHINE PREMIUM.

WILCOX & GIBBS CELEBRATED Sewing Machines offered as premiums for subscribers to

Arthur's Home Magazine for 1867

THE HOME MAGAZINE is now so well known to the reading public, that we need scarcely repeat what has so often been said, that it is the most valuable and interesting publication of the day. It is a volume of information, and a volume of pleasure. It is a volume of instruction, and a volume of amusement. It is a volume of knowledge, and a volume of power. It is a volume of wisdom, and a volume of grace. It is a volume of truth, and a volume of life. It is a volume of hope, and a volume of joy. It is a volume of love, and a volume of peace. It is a volume of glory, and a volume of triumph. It is a volume of heaven, and a volume of earth. It is a volume of the future, and a volume of the present. It is a volume of the soul, and a volume of the body. It is a volume of the mind, and a volume of the heart. It is a volume of the spirit, and a volume of the flesh. It is a volume of the eternal, and a volume of the temporal. It is a volume of the infinite, and a volume of the finite. It is a volume of the absolute, and a volume of the relative. It is a volume of the perfect, and a volume of the imperfect. It is a volume of the ideal, and a volume of the real. It is a volume of the possible, and a volume of the impossible. It is a volume of the conceivable, and a volume of the inconceivable. It is a volume of the comprehensible, and a volume of the incomprehensible. It is a volume of the knowable, and a volume of the unknowable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is a volume of the enumerable, and a volume of the unenumerable. It is a volume of the quantifiable, and a volume of the unquantifiable. It is a volume of the calculable, and a volume of the uncalculable. It is a volume of the measurable, and a volume of the immeasurable. It is a volume of the countable, and a volume of the uncountable. It is