

THE DEMOCRAT.

News About Home.

There's one among us taking notes, and faith he "prints 'em."

It is muddy.

We noticed two cases of intoxication on Saturday. Two too many.

RECKLESSLY Saturday. Horse all sold, all bridled, etc. Nobody hurt.

The last hop was well attended, and all seemed to enjoy themselves much.

There was a temperance lecture last Tuesday evening, by one Beck, of Wisconsin.

Last Saturday, the 6th, bore date of the surrender of Ft. Henry, the latter being A. D. 1862.

We have examined a few pieces of music composed by Geo. Work, of this place. They bear the stamp of good taste.

PARISH sociable at Cleveland's last Thursday evening, was the best attended of the winter's series. A pleasant affair.

The Evangelical Lutheran church building is not yet completed. Like the Methodist church, nobody seems to know when it will be finished.

STREET temperance lecture on Saturday afternoon. This is a broad field for earnest effort on the part of philanthropists in this sphere. "Hear him!"

St. Valentine's day occurs on next Sunday. The postoffice clerks being of a religious turn of mind, their usual avocation is suspended with Saturday night.

For Sale, or exchange for real estate in Marshall county, 80 acres of land in Tama Co., Iowa, near Chicago & North-western railroad. For particulars inquire of S. J. Harvey, at the Buckeye Livery stable.

PROF. CHAS. WEBER, teacher of piano, organ, melodeon, and the cultivation of the voice, offers his services to the citizens of Plymouth. Tuning done most satisfactorily. Inquire at the residence of Rev. Siegelack.

Lost.—A black, calf skin pocket-book, containing $235.25. Lost about Christmas, about two miles north-west of Plymouth. Any person returning the same to myself, leaving it with my brother or at this office, will receive a reward of $15. DAVID FOREMAN.

Elder Washington McIlvane, of the Christian denomination, will preach in the select school building, (old Methodist church) on Center street, on Saturday evening, the 20th inst., and also on Sunday following, at the usual hours. The public are respectfully invited.

A Good Sale.—"Lumber Jim," the black trotting horse that took the purse at the county fair last fall, owned by Galentine, of Bourbon, in this county, was sold one day last week to a New York firm for the sum of $1,900. He was a young horse and had been trained only a few months by T. Hughes & Bro., of this place, and the money paid them for their services proved to be a good investment.

Two Masquerade Ball at Corbin & Benson's hall on the evening of the 4th inst., was an entire success so far as numbers and finances were concerned. There were some quite gay costumes, and many were quite the reverse. Some amusing incidents and jokes occurred, but they were like many other good things that occur—they must be seen to be appreciated, and will not bear repeating. To a number of our citizens it was a novel kind of party.

WARNER.—The natives of this berg were dumfounded on Saturday, by hearing a pedantic individual warble and indulge in mocking-bird sounds, semi-demi-quaver notes, and various imitations such as "dorg" with his caudal appendage inflected upon a feline undergrowth the last agonies of cold starvation, and then, not unlike a swi-net, (a swi-net is a thing varying in size and volume according to age and will—sold by the pound). Seats, to this entertainment, free. The professor had for sale a limited number of instruments, by the aid of which any person of ordinary intelligence could imitate the sweetest euphonies of the Eolian harp, and warble more naturally than birds themselves. The bait was swallowed, and a number of gudgeons caught.

ONE OF THEM.

VELOCEPEDIA WITH US.—There are now three veritable velocipedes owned, kept and harbored in our town. We have seen them and heard enough from those who have been learning to satisfy us that, although they are said to run very easy yet the rider should have both good wind and muscle, as they are very trying on the bottom of the learner.

They are very far from being a sociable vehicle, as the carry only one, and they require too much nice balancing to be used very generally in our town where so many are in the habit of getting top-heavy. We rather think we will not invest.

ON THE BROAD ROAD TO DESTRUCTION.

The good citizens of this locality are being aroused to a realization of the terrible ravages intemperance is making in their midst. Many of them are being mortified, annoyed, disgusted and heartened, upon looking around them and seeing such a vast number of middle aged and young men who are surely on the broad road that leads to destruction, morally, socially, and eternally. There are not less than a score of men of the class have mentioned, who have respectable relations and families, who are fast becoming, and some already are, confirmed drinkers, and are losing their self-respect, their honor, and consequently their means, and are bringing upon their friends, relatives, fraternalists and families mortification, shame, disrepute, and on the latter sorrow that cannot be expressed. A desire to be liberal, social and genial is probably the greatest cause for indulging in those excesses, which after long continuance, create the appetite for intoxicating drink, which when once formed, is seldom eradicated, but holds its victim as securely and firmly as the most powerful serpent holds its prey; and, unless timely and good counsels are heeded, and proffered assistance is accepted, the unfortunate is doomed.

We are induced to write this short article in the hope that some of the wayward may halt, right about face, and take the other end of the road, which leads to peace, prosperity and honor, and banish forever from their homes want, sorrow and discontent.

We especially warn all young men to avoid all associations that lead to the formation of idle and intemperate habits, as it is much easier to avoid them than it is to break them when once formed.

There are certainly enough of guideposts, spectres and wrecks along the high road to destruction to warn and turn any man away from it who has any self-respect, any respect or reverence for his mother, any love and affection for his wife and children, who depend upon him for support and protection, and to a great extent for their standing in society, or any regard for their future.

Liberality, sociability and congeniality are noble traits of character, but they should be kept in due bounds, for when abused they lead to penury, and the extremist becomes a bore and a nuisance to society and his former friends. These are plain words but they are true.

THE CONTINENTALS, so-called, gave one of their musical entertainments, as advertised, Tuesday evening last, at Balcony hall, to a full house, which the posting of the word "Continental," is always sure to bring out in this place.

The entertainment was better than that generally given by traveling troupes now-a-days, but not so good as those given by the organization bearing the same name, when composed of Franklin Watson, Smith & Hall. Mr. Smith is now the only one of those named, who is with the present troupe. Their programme has been done over, and compares with the original as a done over bouquet does to a new and perfect one.

The lovers of real harmony are sadly disappointed on account of the almost entire absence of those beautiful quartettes which formed the basis on which the old Continentals built a world wide reputation.

The programme of the even was principally made up of solos and choruses, trios, duets, and comic songs and delineations of Yankee characters by Mr. Lamb, which were all well enough, but the reputation of the "Continental" cannot be sustained by such a performance.

To do themselves and the name they assume justice, they ought to have another male voice to assist them, and return nearer to the old programme. Mrs. Kerr, who assisted in the quartettes and also sang several solos, is a very fine singer, and her voice possesses power, compass and flexibility. She was, deservedly, encircled at the close of almost every piece she sang. Mr. Kerr has a heavy bass voice, but it needs smoothing out and rounding up considerably. Mr. Ross is quite a musician and sings and plays well and Mr. Smith's voice is as peculiar as ever and is just the thing for a male quartet, but is not adapted to solo singing. Notwithstanding these exceptions, we would be glad to have as good a troupe as their visit our place once each week.

EMPLOYMENT.

For some years past I have been engaged in a business which has yielded me at the rate of Three Thousand Dollars per annum, and being desirous of visiting Europe for the purpose of carrying it on, I am willing to send instructions in the business, which is an ART, to any person who will send me One Dollar. Any person, male or female, who sends me such a dollar, and who is willing to be taught by either young or old. Several ladies to whom I have taught it are making from $10 to $25 per week, and some have received from $200 to $300 for teaching it to others. There is no town or city in the country where the business cannot be successfully carried on, and any one who buys my "instructions," which are printed, will have the right to teach the Art to as many persons as they please. The "instructions" include, besides teaching the Art, the best method of carrying on the business, and all other matters that may be required to successfully start the business, as it will yield, as it increases, all further capital required. Send me $1, and by return mail I will forward the "instructions" teaching the Art, and all particulars how to carry it on.
