

THE DEMOCRAT.

News About Home.

THE Commissioners' Court is in session.

Too much of a good thing—the rain yesterday.

A fine new side-walk is being laid from Lem's corner to Washington street.

Wm. Kendall is tearing to pieces and improving his residence on Michigan street.

Certain gentlemen will please call at this office and get jobs printed for them.

REMOVAL.—We notice that Eugene Lewis has removed his barber shop to the suite of rooms over Hawley's shoe store.

Too much of a poor thing—five printing-office loafers on duty at the same time.

THE Good Templars of Bourbon will give an entertainment at that place to-morrow evening, consisting of music, tableaux, etc.

CONNECTION.—In the advertisement of J. E. Westervelt's, in our last issue, the price of thread should have read, "six spools for 25 cents," instead of 55 cents.

In another column it will be seen that Dr. Heckell treats on a subject of vital interest to inhabitants of this region. Agnes is King.

The circus and menagerie held in this place last Wednesday, was well attended. We presume the managers of this troupe carried away about $1,000 from this county. N. B.—The "horned horse" failed to put in an appearance.

REV. WM. LUSK, JR., has returned from Indianapolis, where he has been attending the sittings of the Episcopal Diocesan convention. Mr. LUSK reports having had a pleasant time.

MR. FLEMING's trick dog, "Cap," was poisoned last Monday noon by some brute immeasurably inferior to the dog in every respect. Prompt attention saved "Cap's" life, but he had a "close call."

MARRIED.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—On last Wednesday a man named D. Covington was killed on express train going east, a short distance this side of Grovertown, the particulars of which, as nearly as we can ascertain, are as follows: The deceased was in a condition of insanity, caused by the excessive use of tobacco. It seems that he had been engaged in teaching a school in an Illinois town for some time past; was 24 years of age, tolerably good looking, and a man of fair promise. His attempts at reformation had little and tobacco crazed him. His cousin started with him for his home in Huntsville, Ohio. This crazy man protested against going home, affirming his intention to commit suicide if compelled to go. Compulsion was resorted to, and the sequel goes to prove that the deceased came to his death by his own hands. His protector, it seems, fell asleep, and during his repose his charge left the car and was seen on the platform. Arriving soon after the guardian missed him and commenced an unsuccessful search. He furthermore states that on beseeching the conductor to stop the train, he received in reply: "The man is killed, and I'll be d—d if I'll stop the train for a dead man." As soon as the train stopped in Plymouth a number started toward Grovertown. The body was found horribly mangled; one arm and leg was run over, and the head crushed. Brains and blood marked the track for several rods. While some believe the unfortunate man was accidentally killed, the attending circumstances argue a suicide as his passport to the final judgment.

CONFERENCE MEETING.—There will be a conference of the "Church of God," for the State of Indiana held at Antiach, five and a half miles South of Plymouth in Marshall County, Ind., commencing on Thursday the 10th of June, at 3 o'clock P. M. and to continue over Sunday. Arrangements have been made for the cars on the C. C. & L. Rail Road to stop at "Corbaley's" during the meeting, to deliver and receive passengers. The public is invited.

ON Tuesday evening, June 8th, at the residence of the bride's father, by Rev. Wm. Lusk, Jr., Mr. Charles J. Hupp and Miss Annie M. Klinger, all of Plymouth.

Our young friends have chosen the better part. Old bachelors and maids may sing of the pleasures of single blessedness, but where, for conscience' sake, would they have been, had their parents regarded matrimony from the same unfavorable standpoint? CHARLES and ANNIE have flown eastward on their wedding tour, followed by kind wishes of many friends, and also by the pious benediction of the DEMOCRAT office, which they so generously remembered.

On the 6th inst., at the residence of the bride's father, by Esquire John Neff, Mr. John H. Barber and Miss Emily J. Myers, all of Marshall county.

On the 3d inst., by Rev. W. R. Michaels, Mr. Joseph B. Thurber of LaPorte, and Miss Julia Lovely, of Plymouth.

CHURCH ITEMS.

BY THE REV. WM. LUSK, JR.

Rochester soon to have an Episcopal Church. Some very generous offers have been made, and it will not be long before a church will be built and services established. The place lacks only one thing to make it one of the most attractive and enterprising places in the state, and that "one thing needful" is a church.

On Thursday last the burial service was performed at St. Paul's cathedral, Indianapolis for the late Commander James P. Foster, United States Navy. Among the Clergymen present was one from New Orleans whose church was totally destroyed by the shells of the Cibolito, commanded during the late war, by Commander Foster. The burial was performed with a full band of music, and was one of the most beautiful burial services that the writer of these items has witnessed for a long time.

The marriage of Charles J. Hupp and Annie M. Klinger was solemnized at the residence of the bride's parents, Tuesday evening the 8th inst. The bride was given away by Dr. J. J. Vinall. The occasion was a very pleasant one, and added another marriage to the many that have taken place in the congregation of St. Thomas' Church within the past three years. May the benediction of the Church be to the "two now one" a precious reality—a beautiful assurance of heavenly blessings ever attending their pathway through life and crowning all their days with the brightness of undimmed prosperity.

The session of the Council of the diocese of Indiana, held last week at Indianapolis, was most interesting and profitable. The laymen were strongly represented, and among the laymen present were Judge Bicknell, Judge Johnson, Hon. W. E. Niblack, and George H. Sechrist and Annie S. Markey.

The chief clerk in the New York post office has been in that office since 1817.

The Hanlons have made a big fortune out of their velocipedes.

Hon. T. A. Hendricks, and many others of high standing and extended influence in the state. The writer of these items could not but admire the intelligent and fraternal manner in which the rapidly accumulating business of this diocese was conducted. The refined courtesy which marked and distinguished all of the proceedings gave striking proof of the good order, as of the eminent piety of the body. The reports showed a great increase of the Church within the diocese and a great advancement in all Church work. The demand for clergymen and the Church services is unprecedented and far beyond the most sanguine expectation of Churchmen. Quite a number were ordained Priests, but the demand is far beyond the supply.

During the last quarter of a century certain persons have gone from the Anglican to the Roman Church, but almost every one of the number was brought up in some one of the "dissenting bodies" and not in the Anglican Church. It is a rare thing for one brought up in the Anglican Church to go over to the Roman Church. But Bishop Hopkins, late Presiding Bishop of the American church, took particular pains one year to ascertain the exact number that has come over from the Roman to the Anglican Church within a short time previous to that year, and found the number to be sixty thousand, and almost every one of the number had been brought up in the Roman Church. Archbishop Spalding of the Roman Church has lately stated that while many intelligent persons have become converts to the Roman Church, he is obliged to confess, with sorrow, that a greater number are lost to the Church of Rome. He is honest. The effort to make an argument in favor of the Papacy by calling attention to a few proselytes with pompous titles is a shallow trick of a shallow trickster. It deceives no intelligent people, for the same kind of reasoning can be made to prove anything.
