—The Nowels hotel building has been rented to Messrs. Kirtley & Son, of Peru, Ind., who will furnish and occupy it about the first of October.
—The Monticello Herald pines for a fair. Come over to our fair next month, gentlemen. The prospects are bright for the best fair ever held in the county.
—It will soon become necessary to organize a new band in Rensselaer. Another Tuteur has just been added to the list of musicians and still there are more to follow.
—Leave your sewing machines at E. L. Clark's hardware store and have them cleaned, repaired and readjusted by a practical mechanic. A superior class of needles and best quality oil at same place. 13-St.

—Eggs are a scarce article in this market.

—Mrs. James Maloy is visiting in Logansport this week.

—Mr. Ira J. Porter, living about 2 1/2 miles southeast of town, lost a very fine colt last Saturday.

—Round trip tickets to the State Fair can be secured at all points on the line of the L. N. A. &amp; C. R. R. for $8.25, good from September 29th to October 3rd.

—The premium lists of the Jasper County Fair are printed and ready for distribution. Copies of them may be obtained of the secretary, Horace E. James, at the post-office.

—A 50-cent box of Liebig's Ague Pills will cure you of the chills, neuralgia, biliousness, indigestion, the liver, stomach, blood and general debility. Sold by all druggists. 12-4t.

—The eighth annual fair of the Jasper County Agricultural Society begins one week from next Tuesday. Don't fail to attend, as it promises to be the best fair ever held in the county.

—The Narrow Gauge Clothing House is the place to secure bargains in clothing and gents' furnishing goods. A large new stock has just arrived which is being sold almost as cheap as dirt.

—Ralph Fendig is selling all goods in his line at actual cost for cash, in order to close out stock and make room for a larger and more complete stock. Call soon or you will lose a bargain.

—THE RENSSELAER STANDARD is one of the best local papers on our exchange list. It is nicely printed and the advertisements are displayed in a neat and attractive manner.—[Warsaw Republican.]

—Married, at the residence of, and by Elias Marion, justice of the peace, in Barkley township, on Wednesday, September 24th, 1879, Mr. Charles W. Lowman and Miss Eliza J. Potts, all of Jasper county.

—Hon. W. H. Calkins, representative in Congress from the Tenth district, was in the city yesterday. He has entirely recovered from his recent illness, and is in excellent health.—[Indianapolis Journal.]

—Among the Delphians who came over the Narrow Gauge Tuesday evening to attend the dance were Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Rinehart, Miss Fannie Beck, Charley Kilgore, Charley Pigman, Ed. Gresham and W. A. Rinehart.

—We are in receipt of a copy of the Printer's Purchasing Guide, issued by Messrs. Marder, Luse &amp; Co., Typo Founders, Chicago. It is a valuable work, and a copy of it should be found in every well regulated office.

—Mr. Harper W. Snyder, of Remington, smiled upon THE STANDARD office yesterday. He reports the grain business booming in that place. Thinks the frost did no material damage to the corn crop in Carpenter township.

—Marriage licenses were issued during the week past to the following parties: Isaac N. Hemphill and Eva M. Troxell; John G. Kerr and Rose M. Coen; Moses Tuteur and Rachel Bass; Charles W. Lowman and Eliza J. Potts.

—Wanted, to buy or trade for small farm of 80 to 120 acres, in Jasper county. Good location desired. Will pay cash to small imbursements. Will pay part cash. Call on or address Wright &amp; Reeve, real estate brokers, Rensselaer, Indiana.

—Henry J. Braddock and family, of Hebron, Porter county, spent a couple of days with friends and relatives in Jasper county this week. "Hank" is now running a harness shop in Hebron, and we are glad to learn, is doing a good business.

—Married, at the M. E. parsonage in this place, on Wednesday, the 24th instant, by Rev. A. W. Wood, Mr. Isaac N. Hemphill and Miss Eva M. Troxell, all of Jasper county. The happy couple have the best wishes of THE STANDARD for their future welfare.

—A legless calf was the center of attraction in this place Monday. Its body is perfectly formed, and it eats and drinks the same as any other calf. The curiosity is exhibited at county fairs, the proprietor charging 15 cents a sight. It will be on exhibition at our fair next month.

—The Indianapolis, Delphi and Chicago company find that they cannot get into the city direct without paying out a large sum of money, and will probably accept of the offer of the Bee Line company to come into Brightwood, and then use their right of way into the city.—[Indianapolis Journal.]

—The dance in Starr's Hall, Tuesday evening last, was not a success financially. The rain prevented many from attending, and the receipts fell far below expenses. However, a pleasant time was reported by those who did attend. The Delphi orchestra furnished the music which was pronounced first-class.

—There is no use talking, Messrs. Willey &amp; Sigler have one of the best regulated dry goods stores in Northern Indiana. Their stock is complete in every department, and all goods in their line are being sold way down to rock bottom prices. "Quick sales and small profits" is their motto. Give them a call.

—If there is one thing this county can afford to have and can't afford to do without, it is the narrow gauge railroad. But what is a railroad compared to health and wealth and prosperity? Combined in that wonderful medicine that has done so much for the west, Liebig's Ague cure, in liquid or pills. Can be had of W. J. Imes, druggist.

—The excursionists to Chicago from this place returned last evening, well pleased with their trip. Among the number were Dr. O. C. Link and wife, W. S. Coen, wife and daughter, Chas. P. Wright and wife, D. C. Hopkins and wife, Mrs. Ludd Hopkins and her two children, Miss L. Hopkins, J. B. Wood and wife, H. W. Porter and wife, J. A. Sharp and wife, Emmet Kannal, Noble J. York, Eliza I. Phillips and John Zimmerman.

—Also recorded eight mortgages, one school mortgage, three soldiers' discharges.

—Frank B. Meyer started yesterday for Philadelphia to study pharmacy. He expects to be absent about two years. Frank is one among the most enterprising and industrious of the young men of our town, and at the end of his two years' course, together with the experience he has obtained in the business in Rensselaer, he will undoubtedly be an expert in his profession. THE STANDARD unites with his many friends here in wishing him success in his endeavors to reach the goal of his ambition.

—Wesley Williams, son of L. P., has been living since his mother's death a year or more ago, with Mrs. Courrier, his aunt, who keeps house for her sick and aged mother, Mrs. Williams. Wesley has been long an invalid, and now is almost blind. We understand he needs, but does not get help from his father to support him and defray expense of medical attendance. His father is supposed to be at Rensselaer, this state, and letters have been sent to his address at that place, but without eliciting reply. Now, Pom, you must have natural affection, help provide for that poor boy.—[Valparaiso Vidette.]

—Married, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Coen, on Wednesday, September 24th, by Rev. Mr. Ferguson, Mr. John G. Kerr, of Fountain county, and Miss Rosa Coen, of this place, THE STANDARD acknowledges receipt of a platful of excellent cake, and joins with the many friends of the fair bride at this place in wishing the happy couple a long and useful career. May their journey through life be one continued honeymoon, filled with pleasure pure, unalloyed, undefiled, and that "faded not away." The bride and groom left for Fountain county, their future home, on the noon train, Wednesday.

—Rev. S. A. Chaplin, editor of the Restitution, Plymouth, Ind., one of the finest scholars and writers of this country, says: We are not in favor of dosing much with medicine in sickness. We trust much to the curative powers of nature and more to the blessing of God. We were, however, induced by Mr. Pershing, to try Liebig's Fever and Ague Pills, and found them decidedly beneficial in our late attack of fever. From their composition, as described by Mr. Pershing, we believe them to be perfectly safe. We would recommend the trial of this remedy to any of our friends who are suffering from any of the malarious diseases of the season and climate. Sold by druggists generally. 12-4t.

—The editor of this paper had occasion to travel over the entire length of the narrow gauge railroad from Delphi to Rensselaer last Saturday, and was well pleased with the road and its management. It will answer all the purposes of the more costly standard gauge when thoroughly equipped, both as to its carrying capacity and speed. At present the track from Monticello to Delphi is yet imperfect and needs ballasting and leveling, but it will soon be put in good shape, and then the trains will make regular schedule time. Coming back from Rensselaer to Monticello a speed of 25 miles an hour was made with ease and safety, the cars gliding along as smoothly as upon the best standard gauge lines. The only drawback to the narrow gauge is, that it has not been the general adopted gauge, and causes a little extra expense in transferring freight to cars of the other gauge. Apart from this, it is emphatically the road for the times, because of its cheapness in building and in operating; enabling it to cut down the costs of transportation and thus measurably solving the important problem of "cheap transportation."—[Crown Point Star.]

—FAMILY REUNION.
One of the pleasantest reunions ever held in Jasper county was that of the family of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Grant, which was held at their residence, one mile west of town, on the Chicago road, on Wednesday, the 24th instant, that being the 59th anniversary of their marriage. There were present five sons and their wives, two daughters and their husbands, twenty-four grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren, besides numerous other relatives and friends. A long table was spread in the shade of the beautiful trees in front of the house which was loaded with the good things of life, of which the happy party, numbering sixty-two altogether, partook. It was indeed a happy meeting for the old folks, being to them a complete surprise. After dinner the time was spent in social conversation and rehearsing the pleasant recollections of the past, which was kept up until the great orb of day reminded the party that it was time to disperse. The event will be remembered as long as time shall last by all present as one of the happiest of their lives.

TWICE MARRIED.

Ever since the cards for the marriage of Mr. Moses Tuteur and Miss Rachel Bass were issued there has been quite a stir of excitement among Jewish circles in Rensselaer. In anticipation of the happy event. As early as 9 o'clock Wednesday morning the 24th instant, the day set for the wedding, the invited guests began to assemble at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Bass, where, at 9:30 o'clock the marriage of the happy couple was to be consummated. Unfortunately, however, Rabbi Boukheim, of Chicago, who was engaged to perform the ceremony, missed connection and failed to reach here Tuesday evening, as was expected, but sent a telegram stating that he would be here Wednesday morning in time. The hour arrived but no Rabbi came. The parties to the pleasant affair were in readiness and the guests had all assembled. The clock struck the hour of 10, when a feeling of uneasiness was manifested by all. The minutes flew rapidly, and as the couple had arranged to take the 12:20 train for Chicago, an anxious look began to settle upon the countenances of them and their friends. At 11 o'clock, after consulting together, the friends decided to send for Justice Harding, who responded promptly to the call and performed the ceremony after the manner prescribed by the laws of the state of Indiana. Congratulations followed, after which the guests were invited to partake of refreshments consisting of ice cream, cake, confectionery, wine, etc. The time being short in which to get ready to take the train, the bride at once proceeded to rearrange her toilet. In a short time everything was in readiness, and the young couple, together with a host of friends and relatives, started for the depot. To their surprise, they met Rabbi Boukheim on the way, he having just arrived on the noon train, and the party all returned with him to the family residence, where the beautiful and imposing rites of the Jewish church were performed in both the Hebrew and German languages.

The toilet of the bride was indeed elegant, consisting of a suit of white swiss, tulle overdress, white cloth gaiters, the conventional veil, orange blossoms, etc. She looked the picture of beauty and loveliness. Miss Fannie Foust, of Lafayette, Miss Bertha Tuteur and Miss Lulu Meredith were the bride's attendants. Miss Foust wore a black brocade dress cut en traine, garnet jewelry. There were also other ladies present who were attired in rich and becoming costumes, but space forbids an elaborate description of all of them.

The presents were numerous and costly, of which the following is only a partial list:

Mr. S. Oppenheimer and wife and Miss Lollie Oppenheimer, Lafayette, Ind., set silver knives and forks.
Mr. A. D. Frank, Baltimore, Md., silver card receiver.
Mr. L. Wildberg, Kentland, Ind., silver napkin rings.

Mr. C. C. Ellsworth and wife, Lafayette, Ind., set silver teaspoons.
Mrs. Jacob Mayer, Lafayette, Ind., silver spoonholder.
Miss Pauline Hart, Washington, D. C., one dozen sterling silver table knives.

Mr. Levi and wife and Julius Oppenheimer, Lafayette, Ind., one dozen sterling silver teaspoons.
Mr. A. Hart and wife, Washington, D. C., sterling silver and cut-glass pickle castor.

Mr. Wm. M. Bass and wife, Washington, D. C., set soup spoons and set teaspoons, sterling silver.
Mr. Isaac Deutsch and wife, Lafayette, Ind., silver cake stand.
Mr. A. Danziger, Lafayette, Ind., silver butter dish.

Mrs. Daniel Daniels, Loneoke, Ark., sterling silver and frosted glass pickle castor.
Mr. M. Wilson, Chicago, Ill., silver cake stand.

Ladies' Orchestra Band, Rensselaer, Ind., consisting of Mrs. T. J. McCoy, Miss Maggie Cowdin, Miss Lora Hopkins, Miss Flo. Thompson, Miss Ora Thompson, Miss Mattie McCoy, Miss Nellie Spiller, Miss Lulu Hammond, an elegant bronze clock.

Miss Bertha Tuteur, Rensselaer, Ind., statutory lamp and tea set.
Mrs. David Foust, Lafayette, Ind., ornamental flower vases.
Mr. Jacob Hart, Rensselaer, Ind., crystal set.

Mr. Louis B. Warner and wife, Rensselaer, Ind., toilet set and set of stained glass goblets.
Mr. Samuel Bass, Rensselaer, Ind., elegant chronom and crystal set.
Master Eddie Bass, Rensselaer, Ind., clock bracket.

Miss Sarah Tuteur, Rensselaer, Ind., toilet set.
Mr. L. and Benjamin Tuteur, Rensselaer, Ind., set parlor furniture.
Mrs. L. Tuteur, Rensselaer, Ind., reservoir stove and kitchen outfit.

Miss Tillie Fendig, Rensselaer, Ind., damask table linen.
Mr. I. Foust and wife and daughters Fannie and Lena, Lafayette, Ind., fine table damask and napkins.
Mr. D. P. Yeakle, Lafayette, Ind., sterling silver castor.

Messrs. A. By and Henry Bass, Rensselaer, Ind., reading stand.
Messrs. Newman & Ullman, Peoria, Ill., jewel case.
Miss Eliza Tuteur, Rensselaer, Ind., bead basket.

Mr. Isaac Tuteur, Rensselaer, Ind., beautiful mantle clock in case.
Mr. John Wilken and wife, Lafayette, Ind., gentleman's combination memorandum and pocket-book and ladies' pocket-book, Russian leather.

Mr. A. Danziger and wife, Lafayette, Ind., set silver napkin rings.
Mr. Louis Bass, Rensselaer, Ind., walnut wardrobe.
Mr. H. Herald, Peoria, Ill., revolving silver gold-lined butter dish.

Mr. I. Lowman, Peoria, Ill., sterling silver cake stand.
Among the guests present were Miss Fannie Foust, Lafayette; Mr. L. Wildberg, Kentland; Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Warner, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. Horace E. James, Mrs. Malinda Spiller, Miss Lulu Meredith, Miss Flo. Thompson, Mr. Jas. A. Burnham, Mr. Jacob Hart, Mr. Charley Sears, the writer and lady, and others whom we do not now call to mind.

The happy couple took the train Thursday for Chicago, where they will remain until some time next week, and then return to Rensselaer to make it their home.

The worthy bridegroom might fish for a thousand years and not make a better haul, while the lovely bride, if she were to search creation over, could not find a man who would be to her a more faithful tutor than the one she has chosen to honor and obey. May God bless them both, is the prayer of THE STANDARD.
