

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1879.

Ewing has gone.
 Thurman must go.
 Let them down gently.
 Carry the news to Sammy.
 The republican boom is booming.
 Democratic roosters have gone to roost.
 The republican star is in the ascendancy.
 Dan Voorhees! Oh, Daniel! Come home!
 It is now in order to spell nation with a large N.
 "Calico Charley" did it with his little yard stick.
 Kokomo has a new republican paper called the Gazette.
 Just count Indiana a republican state in 1880, will you, please?
 Maine, California, Iowa and Ohio—better than four aces. Eh?
 "We are a Nation," is the verdict of the sensible people of Ohio and Iowa.
 The republicans have 25,000 majority over all opposition in Iowa. Hoop la!
 Where, oh, where, is the greenback vote? Gone where the woodbine twined.
 New York state is republican meat in November, else the stars lie in their courses.
 Did the Indianapolis Sentinel and its Rensselaer namesake hear anything drop last Tuesday?
 Gen. Tom Ewing was a gallant soldier and the people of Ohio treat him with fostering care.
 Ohio rolls up a republican majority of 17,000. "The Tall Sycamore," "Blue Jeans" and Joseph helped to do it.
 "Backward, turn backward, oh time in thy flight, and give us a smell again, just for to night!"—Tom Ewing & Co. on the evening of the Ohio election.
 Senator Kahlo, of Logansport, is hot and early after the republican nomination for congress from the pot-bellied Tenth district. Early birds catch the worms. Early worms are caught.
 Republican pyramid:
 Ohio.
 Iowa.
 Maine.
 Colorado.
 California.

With thermometers indicating 85 degrees in the shade and the fall elections adverse, no wonder democrats complained of the hot weather. But this is not a circumstance to what they'll find in the hereafter.

A change in the management of the Kintland Gazette is announced. Ed. H. Graham having disposed of his interest in the paper to R. A. Conner. It will hereafter be published in the firm name of French & Conner. THE STANDARD wishes the new firm unbounded success.

Oh, no, brother democrats; there was not much of a republican victory in California, it was insignificant in Maine, in Ohio the case was hopeless, Iowa is the same old thing—but, gentlemen, such victories count all the same. It's a solid North this time, and your Confederate Brigadiers have made it so.

A horrible accident occurred to an express train on the Michigan Central railroad on the morning of the 10th inst. The train was behind time and was running very fast to make up, when, near Jackson, it collided with a switch engine, telescoping three of the cars and piling the remaining cars on top of the others. Twenty or twenty-five persons were killed and about as many injured, most of whom were emigrants. The employees of the company were using the main track thinking the express delayed.

When crops failed and hard times prevailed to an alarming extent all over this broad land, democratic speakers and democratic newspapers labored hard to persuade the people to believe that a republican administration was responsible therefor. This season, when the farmers are blessed with a bountiful harvest and peace and plenty again vouchsafed to the people, we are gently informed by these apostles of "reform and good government" that Providence is entitled to the credit for returning prosperity. No one doubts this last proposition, but look at the absurdity of their reasoning. The republican party responsible for drought, failure of crops, and consequent hard times—Providence responsible for abundant harvests and good times. Oh, consistency, thou art indeed a jewel!

Full returns from the Ohio election have not been received. We suppose, however, the radical majority may be placed anywhere between 5,000 and 10,000.—Democratic Sentinel. How exceedingly modest you are in announcing a republican victory! How lightly you touch upon the subject! Why don't you tell your readers the whole truth about the matter? Why didn't you say that the republicans scooped you by 20,000 majority and wrested the legislature from the control of the democracy, insuring the election of a republican to the United States Senate to succeed Senator Thurman? And there is Iowa, which held her election on the same day that Ohio held hers. Too modest to even speak of that. Come, now, Mc., tell it all. Don't keep anything in the shape of news from your readers. If they don't learn the real facts through the Sentinel they will through THE STANDARD or some other reliable source.

Michigan City Enterprise: Four prisoners guards have resigned and some half dozen other heads come off in the winnowing out process. It's always thus when new rulers are on deck. A few heads in the basket, their places supplied by others less spiritually minded and more competent, would be a right step in civil service reform and a benefit to the public.
