

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1879.

—Oats are said to be jointing.

—Circuit court convenes Monday.

—Corn is growing on the cob in the fields.

—Old papers for sale at THE STANDARD office.

—Fall turnips are surprised at their own growth.

—Corn, oats, beans and melons have taken a new growth.

—Capt. C. A. Edmunds returned to Milwaukee, Tuesday.

—Hazel nuts sold in this place last week for $1 per bushel.

—A heavy rainfall visited this section of country Sunday night.

—The Monticello paper will furnish employment for forty hands.

—David J. Thompson returned last evening from a visit to friends in Ohio.

—Mr. Simon Phillips and a brother from Xenia, Ind., are visiting friends in Illinois.

—Farmers are improving their time gathering and cribbing the immense corn crop.

—P. H. Lally, Sam. Bowman and Dave Bates, of Remington, were in town Friday.

—Calling and visiting cards, large new stock just received at THE STANDARD office.

—A drizzly rain set in Thursday night, followed by clear and cooler weather yesterday.

—Get what you need in the jewelry line now for Orwin is going away and will sell goods cheap.

—Splendid quality of low and eligible lots for business are cheap in Rensselaer and its vicinity.

—Five carloads of grain came over on the narrow gauge, Monday, from Rensselaer. —[Delphi Journal.]

—There is plenty of work for Rensselaer mechanics, and of course they are correspondingly happy.

—Mr. Craft, formerly editor of the Delphi Sun, honored THE STANDARD office with a call Wednesday.

—Ho, ho! Everything cheap at W. S. Orwin's. Call and see for yourselves, if you don't believe it.

—Will Price, of Carpenter township, made a stirring speech at the temperance meeting last evening.

—Twenty-five handsome calligraphic cards, with name neatly printed, for ten cents, at THE STANDARD office.

—Strawberries are in bloom. A plant brought to this office has on it three buds, one bloom and a berry.

—Scarlet fever and diphtheria of malignant type is reported at several points in the neighboring country.

—The young ladies of Monticello have organized a society for the promotion of civility. Males are excluded.

—Not dead yet! Business is lively at W. S. Orwin's. He is bound to sell. Give him a call before he leaves.

—Lettie C. Grant is having a blacksmith shop fitted for his use on Van Rensselaer street, west of the court house.

—Mr. John Bitters and wife and Mrs. F. Remington, of Rochester, attended the funeral of Freddie Bitters, yesterday.

—Mrs. J. M. Hopkins is preparing to do stamping for ladies' needle work. All work warranted. Call and see her patterns.

—We are safe in saying that as hot a spell of weather of equal length, at this time of year, was never known in this latitude.

—S. P. Thompson and J. F. Borroughs, Rensselaer attorneys, favored the Herald with a call Tuesday. —[Monticello Herald.]

—The contract has been let for the building of a warehouse, store and postoffice at Yeoman station, between Monticello and Delphi.

—A new brewery is to be built at Crown Point of stone and brick, which, when completed, will cost in the neighborhood of $5,000.

—Assistant postmaster, A. W. Cole, is enjoying a solid week's vacation. Good-natured Lin. Martin shuffles the papers while he is absent.

—Allen Catti's two-story frame dwelling house, corner of Division and Ransom streets, is not least among the improvements now in progress.

—Mr. Frank L. Cotton has sold a half interest in his lumber yard and grain elevator to Mr. Alfred McCoy. We wish the new firm success.

—The legless calf on exhibition at the Rensselaer fair this evening is a Newton County production. It was born near Morocco. —[Goodland Herald.]

—Ad. Seward, the "boss" harness maker of Pilot Grove, Newton county, has thanks for a "boss" fly brush of his own manufacture. It is a beauty.

—The poles are set ready to receive the telegraph wire that is to bring Rensselaer into instantaneous communication with the whole civilized world.

—Farmers having hay to sell will learn something to their advantage by calling upon Hon. L. D. Dunn, before disposing of the same. His press will be in operation shortly.

—The finest stock of visiting and calling cards ever opened in Rensselaer may be found at THE STANDARD office. Call and leave your order.

—Sorry, but we didn't get to use our complimentary to the Rensselaer fair. Quite a number from this place attended, and report the fair a complete success. —[Goodland Herald.]

—Mr. Ridenour, a representative of the Indianapolis Journal, peeped at the fair one day last week. He authorized F. W. Babcock to act as agent for one of the best daily papers in America.

—Wheat in Jasper county is looking remarkably well, and should nothing happen to blight the prospect there will be an abundant yield. There was a larger acreage sown this season than there was last.

—A telegraph line is being put up along the narrow gauge running into Jasper, and flashes of lightning and peals of thunder will soon be seen and heard from that enterprising little city. —[Remington Reporter.]

—Dr. Spencer and Uncle Johnny Lear, of Monticello, were in town Monday. They are stalwart republicans, and favor the nomination of Hon. Chas. Kahlo, of Logansport, to represent the Tenth district in congress.

—Dr. Maxwell, of Remington, was in town Tuesday. Jimmy Spencer, of the same place, was in town Wednesday. They belong to the respectable fraternity of editors, which has several members in Jasper county.

—Ten miles of gravel road built westward to tap the Beaver Prairie region of Newton county will do more to increase the trade of Rensselaer and the narrow gauge railroad than any other enterprise that can be suggested.

—Wanted, to buy or trade for small farm of 80 to 120 acres, in Jasper county. Good location desired. Will not object to small incumbrance. Will pay part cash. Call on or address Wright & Keefe, real estate brokers, Rensselaer, Indiana.

—The contemplated branch of the New Albany railroad will connect with the C. & C. at St. Ann, instead of via Kentland, as stated in last week's Herald. But its connection anywhere is not an assured fact by any means. —[Goodland Herald.]

—Farmers fear that the prolonged season of warm weather will cause wheat to grow too rank and cause it to joint and make it worable for attack of the fly. But then the season is ripening the late corn, and one crop at a time is enough to look after.

—Major Bitters, late editor of the Spy, started with his family and household effects for his new home at Rensselaer on Monday. They leave many warm friends at this place who wish them success in the new field in which they have gone to labor. —[Rochester Sentinel.]

—George Grauel, at the livery shop 'round the corner, took the premium on fine double harness at the fair last week. George is one of the best harness makers in the state, and the awarding committee paid him a deserved compliment in according him the premium on fine work.

—Elder N. F. Ravlin, of Chicago, will preach at the Christian Church in this place, Sunday, October 26th, at 10:30 a. m. He will continue his meetings over the following Sunday, preaching each evening during the week. Mr. Ravlin is an able and eloquent talker. Let all hear him.

—The Secretary reports the receipts of the county fair at something rising of $2,000. Enough to pay the premiums in full, all expenses incurred for holding the fair, and leave a small surplus in the treasury. Therefore, he says the fair was a success, considering from a financial point of view.

—Strayed or stolen from the pasture of the undersigned, just east of Rensselaer, two three-year-old steers; one a dark red, rather chunky build; the other a light red, with heavy horns; both branded with the letter "T" on the left horn. A liberal reward will be paid for their recovery.

JACOB EISENBERG.

—The sad misfortune which has so suddenly and unexpectedly overtaken Major Bitters and family in the death of their little boy, it is hoped, will be sufficient excuse for the non-appearance of their paper this week. It will be issued regularly hereafter, no preventing providence.

—Sheriff Robinson has decided not to resign his position here to take charge of the estate which he received notice had been left him by a deceased aunt in Missouri. He has, however, employed Capt. Edmunds to look after the matter and agree to give him a snug little "slice" of the fortune for his services.

—County Commissioner L. D. Dunn will establish a hay press at Rensselaer. His machinery is now on the ground. This is number two. Mr. Vose, of Francesville, will manage it. Two hay presses and a grain elevator are among the new business improvements made in Rensselaer this year. It looks as though business was beginning to boom here.

—Live stock, horses of all classes, apples and vegetables made an excellent exhibition at the fair last week. The apples and vegetables were as fine productions as any shown at the state fair this year, and the yearling Jersey bull, exhibited by Messrs. Perkins & Son, Goodland, carried off the sweepstakes premium for that class and age at the state fair.

—Friends of the Indianapolis, Delphi & Chicago road are much encouraged, visits to towns on the proposed line between Delphi and Indianapolis show a willingness on the part of the citizens to aid the enterprise. Several townships have already voted financial aid to the project and other townships in Hamilton county hold elections next week. —[Indianapolis Journal.]

—Rensselaer contains 1,200 inhabitants. A three-story brick hotel, two established banking houses in operation and a third to be opened, three newspapers, a fine opera house in process of erection, a first-class graded public school, four church edifices, dry goods stores, grocery stores, clothing stores, drug stores, filled from floor to ceiling—indeed prosperity of the permanent kind is visible on every hand. It is one of the most desirable towns in the state for business locations.

—Barney Patton, of Remington, keeps the best hotel between the town and Rensselaer. Barney is proprietor of one of the best regulated livery stables in Northern Indiana, and has it stocked with the best of teams and rigs. Persons desiring to take a trip across the country from Remington to Rensselaer will find Barney always ready and willing to bring them over as speedily and comfortably as the roads and weather will permit. Charges always reasonable. Give him a call.

—The directors of the Jasper County Agricultural Society are a set of happy men. The society has over one dollar in the receipts of their fair last week will pay every premium in full—no scaling—all the expenses of repairing grounds and improvements will be paid off promptly on presentation and adjustment of claims—and there will be money left in the treasury. This is a splendid condition for a new organization to find itself at the conclusion of its first fair.

—That mysterious mark on the countenances of many, causing a look of melancholy and dejection of spirits, that slow and feeble step, and downcast look, that general debility and loss of appetite, can all be cured with the use of Liebig's Fever and Ague Cure. We could furnish you with the testimony of hundreds of druggists and thousands of individuals, who know of the wonderful effects of this medicine; cures seemingly miraculous. Try it and know for yourself. Sold by W. J. Ives, druggist.

—Dr. Bruce of Chicago, who was killed for Remington on the 2nd instant, put in an appearance at the state time. Dr. B. is very fine looking and gentlemanly appearing, and as a patient doctor is probably much above the average; but the people of Remington and vicinity have nibbled at this kind of bait and got picked up on a pin hook so often that they have learned not to countenance any swindle of this kind, and the doctor was compelled to leave completely whitewashed. —[Remington Reporter.]

—Little Freddie, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Major Bitters, died Thursday morning, of diphtheria, after a brief illness. Freddie was an exceedingly bright and intelligent little fellow—the pride of the family—and his affectionate disposition and winning ways won for him the love of all with whom he came in contact. The funeral was held from the house yesterday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Wood conducting the services. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the bereaved ones in this their time of sore affliction. May they feel that their loss is Freddie's gain, and that God doeth all things well.

—Warsaw Republican: Our democratic exchanges are anxious to know what the republicans can find in the Maine election to crow over. As near as we can get at it is an increase in the vote of 12,670. That's worth crowing over.

—Mrs. Moses Tuteur and Miss Bertha Tuteur, of Rensselaer, were visiting in this place over Sabbath, and we may add that we understand that the latter will become a resident of Kentland in due time, when Cupid shall have finished the work so auspiciously begun. —[Kentland Gazette.]

—A couple of cars of the narrow gauge train bound north, last evening, jumped the track, about three miles south of Bradford, doing considerable damage to the cars, and making it necessary to come into town with only the engine and one or two box cars. There were only two or three passengers on the train. No one hurt.

Tom Ewing, Dan Voorhees and a fellow called Rice, a scoundrel, voluble, And a scoundrelous trio, Concocting that cackling Was convincing and nice, Conquered a croaking campaign in Ohio. They raised a great din, Called on Tilden for tin, Did this terrible, turbulent And truculent trio, They yelled like the devil, They spouted like sin— And were sat on By the sensible folk of Ohio.

County Clerk Price makes an efficient president of the temperance meetings.

The board of county commissioners will convene in special session Monday to make settlement with the township trustees.

Mr. Cal. Spencer, of White county, and Messrs. Lewis L. and Daniel Daugherty, of this county, all horny fisted sons of toil, gave THE STANDARD office a pleasant call yesterday.

LET GO! LET GO!

We have taken the sole agency for the above brand of plug chewing tobacco, warranted by the manufacturers to relieve anything aye brought before the tobacco consuming public. At Tuteurs', sole agents.

NOTICE.

All person indebted to us will take notice that there has been an unexpected overtaken Major Bitters and family in the death of their little boy, it is hoped, will be sufficient excuse for the non-appearance of their paper this week. It will be issued regularly hereafter, no preventing providence.

Also recorded five mortgages, three chattel mortgages, one oath and one soldier's discharge.

REMINGTON POT-POURRI.

[From our special correspondent.]

A rumor is prevalent that another brick block for business houses is soon to be erected upon South Ohio street.

The news from Ohio and Iowa makes the few national and their allies, the democrats, look as though they had been the victims of a 1st of April sell.

Charley Steward was over here engineering the dam on Wednesday night, and covered himself with "immortal glory and undying fame." He was as happy as a clam at high tide.

The latest advices from F. R. Donnelly indicate that the old gentleman is as happy as the generality of convicts. The only shadow upon his career is that he was sent there for voting the democratic ticket.

Remington indulges in the luxury of a marshal at $30 per month. It would seem that our sidewalks and stray stock ought to be pretty well looked after for that price. But are they? Who knows? Echo answers no.

Had the last half of September panned out such weather as the first half of October, many thousand bushels of corn would have been added to the crop of Carpenter township. A great deal of the late corn is damaged materially.

Wednesday evening was a big day for Remington and vicinity. First of the event was a dance in Remington, rather slimly attended. About half past nine the barn upon the farm of Burger & Butler, 2 1/2 miles east of town, was discovered to be on fire. The fire had gained too much headway to admit of anything being saved. Three horses, one wagon, a buggy and 8,000 bushels of corn were consumed. The loss will reach $2,000 to $2,500. The heaviest of it falls upon L. Luckey, who lost his team and wagon, very nearly his life. A couple of Logansport officials got off the train that evening and made a raid upon Black-Oak, 7 or 8 miles northeast of here, in quest of a cattle thief named Critzer, a former resident of Jasper county, whom they found, bagged, and took to Logansport on the Thursday morning train. GARR.
