"Will you walk into my parlor? said the spider to the fly." That is the correct paraphrase of the invitation a handful of pretended independent Democrats are extending to Republicans to vote the independent ticket next Tuesday.

The defeat of Zimmerman for the mayoralty would be heralded all over this country as a Democratic victory in a Republican stronghold, and that is just what it would be. No matter what the intention of the movers were the independent movement is simply in the interest of the Democratic nominee.

The most noteworthy example of a Republican allowing himself to be used by Democrats and a sprinkle of dissatisfied Republicans to defeat the fairly nominated candidate of his own party was that of poor old Horace Greeley. The fact that he was so overwhelmingly and ruinously defeated showed that the Republican party was founded on principles and not on men. He was one of the founders of the party, loved and revered by all its members. He had educated them in the truth that Republicanism meant something more than mere individual choice of candidates for office, and it was in vain, at the pitiful close of his hitherto grand career, he tried to persuade them to follow him in his apostasy.

For the comfort of those who enlist and their mothers, wives and sweethearts we quote the following from the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, which is probably a pretty correct guess as to the nature of the service the boys will be called on to perform:

The 125,000 volunteers called out will hardly see Cuba before the late autumn, after the danger of yellow fever is removed. They will go into pleasant and salubrious camps in the south and be thoroughly trained in company and battalion formations. The war can not be one of heavy marching or fighting on land. Perhaps there are 60,000 Spanish troops in Cuba, but they are without lines of supply, and it is needless to waste strength in assaulting their fortified lines. A steady pressure and close blockade will compel their surrender. To all appearance our army in this war will have a comparatively easy time, and will look back upon it as in the nature of a long encampment.

We will add our opinion to the above that not one-third of the 125,000 volunteers will ever be sent outside of the United States or come within a hundred miles of a battle. The marches the boys will have will be the merest picnic compared with those of the war of the rebellion.

THE MOVEMENT ON CUBA.

There is no doubt that the movement by land forces on Cuba is about to be inaugurated. An Associated Press dispatch from Tampa, Florida, in this morning's papers says:

The news of the bombardment of Matanzas forts by Admiral Sampson reached here this afternoon and soon afterward Colonel Melville A. Cochran, commanding the first provisional brigade of Tampa division, received a telegram from Washington instructing him to hold his command in readiness for immediate departure, with rations for thirty days. This is the first authentic information regarding the future movements of the troops here.

The Tampa division, embracing the troops at this point and at Port Tampa, has been divided into brigades. Colonel Cochran, the senior ranking officer in the camp, has been appointed commander of the first brigade, and Colonel John Polan, the next ranking officer, to the second brigade. The first includes the fifth, sixth, ninth and thirteenth regiments. The second brigade is composed of the fourth, seventh, eighth and twenty first regiments, these being what are termed provisional brigades.

Although no definite orders as yet have been received, it is expected the second brigade will receive a similar message from Washington within a few hours.

Officers here expect that all the troops now stationed at Chickamauga will be here in a few days. These troops consist of 3,600 cavalry, ten batteries of artillery of five hundred men and 2,500 infantry, or a total of 6,600 men. On the arrival of the troops it is quite likely that they will be organized into brigades and regiments for transfer to Cuba.

THEIR FIRST DEFEAT.

The East Enders are Defeated by the Richmond Last Night.

The East Enders were defeated last evening at the Monarch bowling alley for the first time in their existence as a club, by the Richmond in a well played, record breaking game. Ever since bowling became a fad in this city, the East Enders, the oldest club in the city, have had every thing their own way and have defeated all comers. Those who do not believe in having things remain one sided too long, were intensely delighted when it was found at the close of the last game that the Richmond had won by twenty-two points and cheer after cheer was given by the Richmond "rooters." In the second game the record of the town was broken by both clubs, each making a total of over 700, the former record. The Richmond not only won in the number of games but also in pins, making the victory still more decisive. The score of the totals, by games, is as follows:

RICHMONDS.
Strattan—102, 108, 146, 132, 114.
Hutton—124, 138, 157, 148, 138.

RICHMOND WORK

That Goes a Good Piece Away From Home—The Clark Thread Cases.

It is not known to many persons in this city who have been all their lives accustomed to seeing the little cases of drawers labeled "Clark's O. N. T." that a Richmond firm is now making these cases for the thread company away off in Westerly, Rhode Island. Louck & Hill are furnishing those cases, and have been doing so for some time. That a Richmond firm should secure so prominent a contract for such a distance from home is a considerable compliment to home skill and enterprise.

CLOSING DANCE.

THE ZENDA CLUB CLOSING A SUCCESSFUL SEASON.

A Large Crowd and a Jolly Time—The Atlanta Social Club—Other Delights of Gay Society.

The closing dance of the popular Zendia club was given last night at I. O. O. F. hall and was an elaborate affair in every way and was a most fitting ending of a successful year. The crowd was congenial and never did a body of young people more thoroughly enjoy themselves than last evening. The hall was tastefully decorated with flags and bunting and the work was certainly a credit to the designer, Albert Yo. us and Fred Bloise. The Cuban flag was given a prominent place and the American colors were scattered about the hall in an artistic manner. Range's orchestra, of ten pieces, seemed to be inspired by the sight of "old glory" and never did they play to a better advantage. Supper was served at 11 o'clock in the large dining hall under the direction of Weber & Buttzell, and all the appetizing delicacies of the season were served in style. Toasts were responded to by the president, John Kipler, vice-president S. F. Auder, secretary and treasurer Will Foster of Anderson, and others and all made appropriate remarks. After supper dancing was resumed until a late hour this morning. The floor managers were Ed Linder, Howard Grottenieck and Chris Lichtenfels. Those present were: Misses Nina Courtney, Erin Connell, Mamie Connaughton, Elma Tennie, Kate Fitzhugh, Emma Mercer, Sadie Tangeman, Rhea Maag, Eva Lichtenfels, Bertha Boppert, Alma Knollenberg, Katie Elstro, Pearl Dye, Josie Kennepohl, Kate Madden, Anna Mitchell, Florence Dempsey, Mamie Brooks, Lizzie Thomas, Mabel S. epman, Esther Sitloh, Fannie McKers, Agnes Mitchell, Lizzie McGreevy, Flora Kline, Lida Whelan, Alice Heckman, Ella Hawekotte, Kate McKone, Mae Darwin, Minnie Jenkins, Louise Wabler, Maggie Collins, Alice Collins, Clara Thomas, Virginia Fleisch, Ida Harper, Anna Kenley and Daisy Courtney.

CAMP MOUNT.

What is Going on Among the Indiana Boys at Indianapolis.

Camp Mount, at the fair grounds in Indianapolis, is now a central point of interest and the eyes of the state are fixed on the 5,000 young men who are now in camp there waiting for the call to go to the front.

General McKee issued his first general order yesterday. It christened the grounds on which the National Guard has been assembled "Camp Mount." It was followed by a second order establishing the camp routine, as follows:

Reveille, 5:30 a. m.
Mess call, 6 a. m.
Drill call, 6:35 a. m.
Guard mounting, 8:15 a. m.
First call for drill (battalion), 9:25 a. m.
First sergeants' call, 11:30 a. m.
School call, 1:15 p. m.
Drill call, 2:30 p. m.
First call for parade, 5:40 p. m.
Adjutants' call for formation of regiments, 6 p. m.
Mess call, 6:20 p. m.
Lecture, 7 p. m.
School, 8 p. m.
Tattoo, 9:32 p. m.
Taps, 10:15 p. m.

The camp is now fully established, and from this on every time will march with military precision. The quarter master's department has finally come up to the demand upon it, and no one was complaining today of lack of anything.

Governor Mount has received word from the war department that the United States government is to bear the cost of maintaining the camp. A good many of the men in camp are wondering what pay they are to get, and there is a dispute on that point. Adjutant General Gore has asked the attorney-general for a written opinion on the subject. The law governing the national guard allows the privates $1.50 a day and subsistence, and non-commissioned officers $2 a day and subsistence, and the commissioned officers the pay of the regular army. During the state encampments the troops are paid $1 a day for the present be ascertained. The cost of an encampment is about $30,000 for ten days, but there are at least 2,000 more men in camp now than have ever been at any encampment. During the A. R. U. strike the cost of maintaining the guard was about 29 cents a day for each man.

SMITH'S COMPANY.

STILL NEEDS SOME EIGHTY MEN.

To Be Completed Tomorrow Evening—People Coming From Centerville to Enlist—Prospects of a Big Meeting at G. A. R. Hall.

The meeting tomorrow evening at the G. A. R. hall promises to be a rouser. Arrangements should be made if possible to hold the meeting at some place where more people can be accommodated. The house will no doubt be crowded to overflowing, and the capacity of the hall mentioned at the meeting place is such that it will not accommodate more than two or three hundred persons even if the standing room were utilized. There will be plenty of enthusiasm, and enough of a crowd to fill the hall Ella Hawekotte, Kate McKone, Mae Darwin, Minnie Jenkins, Louise Wabler, Maggie Collins, Alice Collins, Clara Thomas, Virginia Fleisch, Ida Harper, Anna Kenley and Daisy Courtney.

Masses F. S. Anderson, Clarence Brown, Harry Brokamp, Fred Bloise, Will Foster, Adolph Bartel, John Collins, Floyd Campin, Ed Green, Carl Houts, George Haseoster, Horace Hadley, John Kipler, Will Kenley, Will Kinkie, Keisel, Charles Lichtenfels, Edward Linder, Scott Markley, Frank McKone, Frank Puthoff, Charles Range, George Rannels, John Simson, Vern Simson, Ed Torbeck, Fred Taylor, Ed Voss, Charles Weter, John Young, Albert Young, Will Young, Roy Mason, Howard Grottenieck, Harvey Brooks, John Bailey, George Shute and Walter Ford.

A number of persons will be here from Centerville to attend, and there will no doubt be a number of enlistments from that place tomorrow evening, and the local drum corps and bugle corps will also be in full blast.

The usual Saturday evening crowd will be swelled to witness and participate in the enthusiasm. Turn out.

THAT WOMAN.

She Was About the Smoothest Article That Ever Came Down the Pike.

The woman mentioned exclusively in yesterday's PALLADIUM as having yielded the railroad men on a small scale, was about the smoothest article on record. The men were badly disgusted when they learned the truth, not over the fact that they had been induced to produce certain portions of their worldly wealth, but because their confidence had been so grossly abused. One of the men who was bitten stated that the story was the most effective and plausible swindling story he had ever heard, that the woman had broken down and cried real tears in relating the tale of her starving children, and that when she ended the recital of her woes he himself had a lump in his throat and was really sorry she didn't want more money. A number of the boys, however, got "onto" her game before she left the city and stood out and waived their hands at her as she got on number 11 for Indianapolis. It is to be presumed that she made a harvest at Indianapolis among the railroad boys.

She worked railroad men with a story that she had lost a husband and a child in the service. She caught several firms in the vicinity of the depot. She gave her name as Caldwell, and the charity pass had the name "Mrs. Caldwell."

Edward Shaw Celebrates His Eighty-third Birthday Anniversary.

Edward Shaw, one of the best known residents of this city, is today celebrating the eighty-third anniversary of his birth, at his home on north fifteenth street. He was born in Cincinnati in 1815 and has for many years been a resident of this city. At the present time he is engaged in selling Shaw's Liniment, a remedy manufactured by himself, and copyrighted many years ago and he daily visits many places in and out of the city, sometimes taking long drives through neighboring towns where he has many friends. Mr. Shaw is a bright Quaker and is prominent in all kinds of religious work. He is still hale and hearty and bids fair to live several more years. He is probably the oldest man in the county that is still actively engaged in business.

Insane.

Harry Mitchell, the young man who was some time ago declared insane, was placed in the county jail today, and is to be admitted to Easthaven as soon as a place can be arranged for him. He is in such a condition that he demands the best of medical attention, and should be secure that sort of treatment he would perhaps improve. Each treatment he cannot receive at the jail, and his chances for improvement in that place will not be encouraging.

Expert Opinion on "Tattling."

Do school children of the present day hold in less aversion the "tattletale" or "tattletale" than did those who a quarter of a century ago traveled the master's rod rather than tell? The question is suggested by the report of a test made in the schools of Utica by Superintendent George Griffith. At his prompting 3,000 children were asked to give their written opinion, anonymously, it is supposed, as to whether one pupil should testify against another. Voluntarily telling or "tattling" was not named in the test, but only 15 per cent of the children noted the distinction, so that the result may be accepted as the children's opinion of the "tattler." The question asked was whether it was worse to write or to tell. The boys told more robust views (judged in the remembrance of old school days) on the matter than did the girls. Of the 2,824 who answered the question 494 boys, or 38 per cent, and 375 girls, or 25 per cent, considered it right to tell, the larger percentage of both regarding it as wrong.—New York Post.

History of the Leather Purse.

The organ of the German leather trade, Der Ledermarkt, regrets that last year was not fully observed as the "jubilee of the modern pocket leather purse." The older folk among us will remember some of the predecessors of the "portemonnaie." The most popular of these was a kind of tube or pipe, closed at each end, with an opening on one side and provided with two metal slip rings. The neat and handy portemonnaie was the invention of a German locksmith's apprentice in America, Karl Hene by name, and his novel purse first came into the market in the year 1847. The inventor neglected to patent his new leather portemonnaie with a steel clasp, and it was quickly imitated all over the world, otherwise Hene would probably have become a very rich man. Since that date the portemonnaie has undergone a series of evolutions in form, material and completeness, but the young Hene, according to Der Ledermarkt, provided the germ out of which all our modern pocket purses have been developed.—London News.
