

SYRUP OF FIGS

NEVER IMITATED QUALITY.

THE EXCELLENCE OF SYRUP OF FIGS is due not only to the originality and simplicity of the combination, but also to the care and skill with which it is manufactured by scientific processes known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. only, and we wish to impress upon all the importance of purchasing the true and original remedy. As the genuine Syrup of Figs is manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. only, a knowledge of that fact will assist one in avoiding the worthless imitations manufactured by other parties. The high standing of the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. with the medical profession, and the satisfaction which the genuine Syrup of Figs has given to millions of families, makes the name of the Company a guaranty of the excellence of its remedy. It is far in advance of all other laxatives, as it acts on the kidneys, liver and bowels without irritating or weakening them, and it does not gripe nor nauseate. In order to get its beneficial effects, please remember the name of the Company—

THE estate of the late Major Dorey is estimated at $700,000.

WASHINGTON correspondents report that Secretary Long expects interesting news from Sampson today or tomorrow.

THE French vessel, Lafayette, which was captured while trying to run the blockade at Havana, has been released. The seizure was due to a mistake.

THE Enquirer's dispatch boat which was sent by telegraph or balloon to Manila to carry the news of Dewey's victory to Hong Kong has not yet arrived at the latter place.

DISPATCHES from London state that the Pope has again appealed to Spain to stop her hopeless war with the United States by making the necessary concessions. The Queen Regent is very anxious to act on his advice, but dare not urge the matter on her ministry for fear of revolution.

BUT where shall wisdom be found? And where is the place of understanding? Man knoweth not the price thereof; Neither is it found in the land of the living.

The depth saith, It is not in me; And the sea saith, It is not with me. It cannot be gotten for gold.

Neither shall silver be weighed for the price thereof. It cannot be valued with the gold of Ophir.

With the precious onyx, or the sapphire. The gold and crystal cannot equal it. And the exchange of it shall not be for jewels of fine gold.

No mention shall be made of coral, or of pearls: For the price of wisdom is above rubies.

The topaz of Ethiopia shall not equal it; Neither shall it be valued with pure gold.—Job.

Promoted for Merit.

J. L. Smith, for some time local assistant superintendent of the Prudential Life Insurance company for the Richmond district, has been promoted for signal merit in his line of work in the regular branch of insurance. He has been made assistant superintendent at Indianapolis, with improved chances for promotion. His record here was one of the very best made by any insurance agent in any line or for any company. He assumes his new duties on Monday next. Mr. Smith and his family are among our very best citizens, and while Richmond is sorry to lose them, their friends are also glad of whatever is for the best interests of so worthy a family.

JAY COUNTY.

A Wayne County Girl's Experience and Impressions Across the Border.

Correspondence Richmond Palladium.

PORTLAND, Indiana, May 6th, 1893.

This beautiful spring morning, as I sit few moments looking out at the open window across the beautiful country, now clothed in its fresh green attire, my mind wanders in reverie back to the scenes of my childhood, and then to the familiar faces, which I until recently saw around me. And with this memory picture comes the impulse to write to the friends and acquaintances who care to give a few moments' time to the perusal of a short letter, in which I give an account of matters of general interest which came to my notice since my arrival here.

We, sister Madge and I, came to Jay County, which is to be our future home, a little over two weeks ago. Everything being new to us, we, of course, felt much interested in noticing the country and people about us.

We are located about five miles east of Portland, and in driving home from that place we were greatly impressed by the fact that hills seemed to be unknown. We drove the entire distance without so much as passing a slight elevation in the surface of the ground. And, indeed, we were more thoroughly convinced of the fact, when a few days later we were driving to the neighboring town of Ellettsburg, the way were directed to "go straight ahead until you reach a hill, then turn right to your right." Well, needless to state, we "drove ahead" looking far in front to discover the all important hill, but in vain. At last we decided to ask again, and were amazed to be told that we had traveled about three miles too far on the turning point. Turning around we traced our way until we came to the point indicated by our guide, and behold! there was the hill! A slight elevation which we had not noticed in our search for the hill.

Traveling here, because of the levelness, is very easy. People seem to think a drive of eighteen miles and back quite an average drive, and you will notice vehicles in passing always in a hurry. Even horses pulling loaded farm wagons go trotting past. A few days ago I was amused to see a race between a horse hitched to a hayrack and a team pulling a heavy load of hay. I suppose this isn't the common way of racing, but at any rate it was quite a novel way.

This seems to be a great market for cattle, timothy hay. Almost every day from six to twelve loads of hay pass, en route to Portland or to Fort Recovery, Ohio, which is also five miles from here. The latter place is of historical interest, being the scene of an Indian battle in which General Wayne bore a prominent part. A part of the old fort still remains and citizens are making an effort to persuade congress to make an appropriation to build a monument. The place continues to show its patriotism by sending a large number of soldiers to the war now in progress. Almost daily the glad news of a new victory is proclaimed by the boom of cannon stationed at the fort.

The town is quite a pretty one, having all the modern improvements of a large city. There are many other smaller towns near to us. Many of these are railroad centers. The entire country is thickly settled.

One is impressed by the number of churches in the little town of Ellettsburg, a place about the size of Boston, Indiana. I counted five churches, and do not know how many more there are. Think the place ought to be named "Village of Churches." There are many country churches.

On Sunday evening you can hear the chime of bells from every direction. All denominations are represented, but U. P. churches seem to predominate.

St. Mary's, a town east of us, is entirely of Catholic inhabitants. The "Grand Revolver" is just eight feet long. Many people of the neighborhood drive over for fishing, and then home again the same day. We have planned to join a party of young people for a fishing excursion at that place in the near future.

Portland is a city of about four thousand inhabitants. It is a very busy place at all times, being quite a railroad center and manufacturing place, natural gas helping the latter industry.

The eastern Indiana Christian Endeavor convention met there several days of last week. We attended during the entire session, and by so doing were enabled to judge of the social qualities of Portland's people.

We were entertained by one of the wealthy and influential families of the place, at one of the most beautiful houses in the place; and, although we were comparatively strangers to them, and they were of a church denomination usually uninterested in Endeavor, we were treated with the utmost courtesy, and every member of the family seemed to make it his personal study to make our stay among them one of comfort and pleasure. And, by the way, this social quality seems to be general throughout the county. One cannot help noticing the hearty welcome which strangers receive, upon entering the community, and the true hospitality of the citizens toward one another.

The convention was held in the First Christian church, of which Rev. St. Venour, well known by you all, is pastor. The session was well attended and very interesting.

Many ministers, for the number of which Portland is justly noted, took part and helped make the program an interesting and instructive one. A number of delegates, from various places, read papers or took part in the discussions.

Among the delegates present I noticed Mrs. Lanta A. Hines of Wayne County and three persons from Union county.

We were all sorry when the time came to say good bye. But the time came—as all such times do come—too soon. So the convention closed, and delegates went to their homes in various parts of the state.

We were glad to be able to join the Portland Endeavorers in the march to the city of Ellettsburg, and in parting farewell to our co-workers, and to add best wishes for their safe journey and welcome to their home.

After their departure we marched silently back to the church, each carrying a little lonely after so many pleasant associations.

With the memory of these farewells fresh in mind, readers, I will bid you good bye. Trusting that we may all have a pleasant and profitable summer, I remain,

Yours with best wishes,
MINNIE BENNETT.

Women's Reliance.

Miss Ella Dunbar, singing and dancing, and a variety of other amusements, will be given at the "Only a Bit of Southern Comfort" on Monday night.

and whose permanent address is care of W. P. Kondek, 110 La Salle St., Chicago, Ill. It affords me great pleasure to write this. I suffered untold torture from asthma and rheumatism for several years, but could find no relief until I took your special for the above diseases. I never got relief so quickly from any remedy as I tried, although I had used electric baths and all kinds of liniments and plasters. I was so bad I could not even turn myself in bed. After using Munyon's Remedies I was entirely relieved of both asthma and rheumatism.

I separate cure for each disease. At all druggists, mostly 25 cents a vial. Personal care to Prof. Munyon, 1506 Arch Street, Philadelphia, Pa., answered with free medical advice for any stick.

STICK, BOYS, STICK!

(Dedicated to the Richmond Light Artillery.)
Say boys, I read in the Journal that some who went away from home to join the army ain't got the nerve to stay. They boarded ashore in camp there—Camp Mount it is called I believe—till they got a spell of homesick. Then they had to leave!

Can't you believe it, youngsters. Don't say it could be so. That a Hooper volunteer ain't got the nerve to stay. That some of them ain't so pious. Well, all agree, but then it's better some than Valley Forge. Where Wash'ton kept his men.

Now, boys—your boys of Richmond have got an 'unlike order. They can't stand cold no' hunger. But march! in a line. Can't be they're "feather-bedders." But march! in a line. What's come of the nation who can't stand a little cold?

BUSINESS.

Business Has Improved Under the Stimulus of War.

NEW YORK, N. Y., May 3.—R. G. D. & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says today: A state of war was so greatly dreaded by those who have not anything like it for more than thirty years that its coming has hurt less than its apprehension. Especially since the victory at Manila, which indicated the superiority of the American navy, gun for gun, expectations that the war will not last long have influenced all markets and stocks have advanced, the average of prices for railroads $2.79 per share. The general condition of business is materially improved. One day's work by the officers and men at Manila has given many days' work to thousands of people at home of whom they knew nothing, and has set all American industries and interests on a stronger footing for any conceivable future.

The fact that gold is not used almost exclusively by the treasury and the hoarding habit indicates the entire freedom from apprehension about the currency or public credit.

Miss Ing $100 Check Turns Up

A mail sack, thrown from an east bound train at Dublin a few days ago, was drawn under the wheels and cut in two. In the sack was a letter containing a check for $100, and the letter, in a mutilated condition, was found, but the check was missing. Yesterday some of the letters were strewn along the track a half mile distant, and with them was the check, entirely unharmed.

Discovered by a Woman.

Another great discovery has been made and that, too, by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were determined to die. Death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery by purchasing a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, and was so much relieved on taking the first dose, that she slept all night and with two bottles has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz, of Shelby, North Carolina. Trial bottles at A. G. Luken & Co.'s drug store.

Regular size 50 and $1.00, every bottle guaranteed.

THE EYES.

Regulations for Candidates for Commissions in the Army and Navy as Regards Vision.

A local optician said today: Applicants must be able to read at least 120 with each eye separately without glasses. (Snellen's test, cards, used standard.) and this must be capable of correction with glasses up to 20-20 in one eye, that is, at a distance of twenty feet the eye is able to determine the line marked to be read at twenty feet, the far point of the eye is normal or eye where rays are parallel, and 20-40 in the other. He must also be able to read number 120 with the eyes together or both eyes without the aid of glasses.

Sight, color blindness, or any other disease of the eye renders the candidate ineligible for the commission. In the navy, the regulations are much more strict, as a candidate must be able to read 20-20 with each eye and the near type at the distance for which it is made without glasses.

Color-blindness, squint, or any disease of the eyes disqualifies also for naval service.

Twenty-five Volunteers for a Starter.

Ed H. Yaryan of Liberty, Indiana, who served in the civil war, retiring with the rank of captain, is organizing a company for the war with Spain. So far twenty-five volunteers have signed the roll.

State Medical Society's New Officers.

The State Medical society closed yesterday at Lafayette and the new officers are: President, J. C. Sexton, of Rushville; vice president, George C. Keiper, of Lafayette; Secretary, F. C. Heath, of Indianapolis; assistant, G. H. Grant, of Richmond, and treasurer, A. E. Bulson, of Fort Wayne.

The next meeting will be at Indianapolis.

Yellow Jaundice Cured.

Suffering humanity should be supplied with every means possible for its relief. It is with pleasure we publish the following: "This is to certify that I was a terrible sufferer from Yellow Jaundice for over six months and was treated by some of the best physicians in our city and all to no avail. Dr. Bell, our druggist, recommended Electric Bitters, and after taking two bottles I was entirely cured. I now take great pleasure in recommending them to any person suffering with this terrible malady. I am gratefully yours, M. A. Hogarty, Lexington, Kentucky." Sold by A. G. Luken, druggist.

What Shall Be Done

FOR THE DELICATE GIRL.

You have tried iron and other tonics. But she keeps pale and thin. Her sallow complexion worries you. Perhaps she has a little hacking cough also. Her head aches, and she cannot stop it. Give her

Scott's Emulsion

The oil will feed her wasting body; the glycerine will soothe her cough, and the hypophosphites will give her new power and vigor to her nerves and brain.

Never say you "cannot take cod-liver oil" until you have tried Scott's Emulsion. You will be obliged to change your opinion at once. Children especially become very fond of it; and infants do not know when it is added to their food.

50c and $1.00; all druggists.

PATRIOTIC BISHOP.

Prayers to Be Said in the Port Wayne Diocese While the War Lasts for the Cause of Souls Who Die in War.

HARTFORD CITY, Indiana, May 6.—Right Rev. Bishop Rademacher of Port Wayne today sent out to all priests in his diocese the following instructions on account of the war:

"You are hereby directed to substitute for the oratio 'Pro Papa' the prayer of the mass 'Pro Pace' when the rubrics will permit. The change is to remain in effect until the close of the war. After the mass you will say with the people 'Our Father' and 'Hail Mary' for the same intention, and especially for the eternal repose of the souls of those who have given up their lives in this war, including the unfortunate victims of the Maine disaster. 150 of whom were practical Catholics and 150 monthly communicants. With the sincere hope and earnest prayer that the Almighty may bless and protect our beloved country in this momentous crisis; that He may guide and direct our rulers in the faithful discharge of their responsible duties; and speedily restore to us an honorable and lasting peace, we say, as ever, yours sincerely in Christ.

"JOSEPH BADENACHER, Bishop of Port Wayne Diocese."

Father Charles Due of this city has applied to the governor to enter the service as chaplain. He served three years as chaplain with the French army before coming to America.

THAT TRAIN.

Only Three Cars of Raw Recruits Passed Through Here Yesterday.

The train of volunteers that passed through the city yesterday afternoon, did not come up to the expectations of the small sized crowd that was waiting at the station to greet the boys. There were only three car loads of men, when it was expected by the railroad company that there would be at least seven. It is probable that the remaining troops went to Indianapolis from Fort Wayne by some other route.

The three cars, which contained about 200 young men, were switched off at this point and attached to a special engine which was waiting on a siding and as soon as possible the train was sent to Indianapolis. The men appeared to be mostly raw recruits, only a few of them were uniformed. They were enthusiastic and gave a number of yells from the car windows. The smallness of the crowd at the station is explained by the inclement weather and the fact that the coming had been very meagerly advertised, but as it was there were about seventy-five men and boys who stood in the rain and thanked their lucky stars that they were not going to Camp Mount on such a night.

The three cars were attached to the regular afternoon G. R. & I. passenger train, drawn by a large freight engine, and by nearly an hour late arriving in this city.

Mr. Nafziger's Popularity.

The Rev. L. J. Nafziger is in demand as a speaker, says the Muncie Times. He has been extended and has accepted the invitation to deliver the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating high school class. He has also been invited to address the Winchester high school assembly May 17, and also to deliver the Memorial day address at Pennville. He has the last two invitations under consideration.

Indians at Churcho.

The two local tribes of Red Men, Osceola and Hokenadqua, will attend church at the Second English Lutheran, across the river, tomorrow morning. They will assemble at their hall, at 9 o'clock, and will then make arrangements for the attendance. All members of both tribes are urged to be present.

How's This?

We offer one hundred dollars
