Come again, March, when you can't stay so long.

So long as the $100,000 corruption fund in Kentucky lasts "confessions" in the Goebel assassination case will be forthcoming.

The organization of the proposed Cincinnati, Richmond & Muncie railroad was completed yesterday. Everything looks favorable so far.

People who think the world is all going wrong may console themselves with the fact that it has been going the same way for thousands, perhaps millions, of years and has not run off the track either.

The efforts of the awfully independent papers to use Gen. Harrison as a wedge to split the Republican party are becoming nauseating. We suggest that they turn their attention to something more practical—the question, for instance, whether there is a woman in the case of "the man in the moon."

We note that our Christian Science friends will discuss the question tomorrow whether "sin, disease and death are real." Persons who happen to have such severe cases of March rheumatism that they are not able to attend the services will perhaps come to the conclusion that disease at least is real, without hearing the discussion. The "phone" would have to be brought into requisition to convince such persons of their error.

The discourtesy shown Senator Beveridge by other Republican senators at the delivery of his last speech was certainly inexcusable from any outside standpoint. It is not at all probable however that their action was on account of the fact that he differed from them on the Porto Rican question. These same senators listened respectfully to speeches of other senators who are even more vocal in their opposition to free trade for Porto Rico than Mr. Beveridge.

The contention over the Porto Rican tariff bill has furnished the Democratic managers the opportunity they have long desired of diverting attention from their own condition as a party. They are making as much noise now as they are able, in the expectation that they will be able to divide the Republican party on a comparatively unimportant question and lead a portion of it into the Bryan camp. Indianapolis Journal.

Exactly. And some so-called Republican papers are assisting the Democratic managers in making the noise that is expected to divide the Republican party—and all about a "comparatively unimportant question."

ANNUAL BANQUET.

The Tourists Have An Enjoyable Time at the Westcott Last Night—The New Officers.

The Tourist club gave their annual banquet at the Westcott last night and it was largely attended by the members and a few invited guests. The forepart of the evening was devoted to a reception and social time in the parlors, and music formed an attractive feature.

At the short business session the following officers were chosen: President—S. S. Stratton Jr. Vice-President—Mrs. E. P. Trueblood. Secretary—Miss Marchant. Treasurer—Howard A. Dill. The banquet itself was all that could be asked for and the menu consisted of all the good things of the season served in elegant style. The following toasts were responded to in a happy manner:

"Chronicles," Mrs. John H. Nicholson.
"Our Needs," Howard A. Dill.
"Chips," Prof. E. P. Trueblood.
"Wheels," Dr. C. S. Bond.
"A Decade With the Tourists," Mrs. H. T. Lemon.
Horace Starr also entertained the club with some of his good stories.

The club has been in existence ten years and was never more prosperous than now. Its membership is large and the regular meetings are always well attended and interesting.

AMUSEMENTS.

"FOR FAIR VIRGINIA."

"For Fair Virginia," one of the most successful and thoroughly meritorious of American plays will be seen at the Gennett theatre tonight with the author in the star part. The piece deals with domestic life in Virginia during war times, but it is in no sense a melodrama; indeed Mr. Whytall appears in a comedy character. The emotional work is in the hands of such well-known people as Miss Mabel Knowles, Miss Angelina S. Pullis, Mr. C. H. Geldart, Mr. Charles Halton, Mr. Jos. Dingdon, Mr. James Melville, Mr. Alex Stewart, Mr. Geo. W. Walters, Mr. Claude H. Cooper, Mr. Maynard Starin, while that remarkably gifted child actress, Little Isabella Barriacall, is a conspicuous figure.

Monday evening, April 2, manager Julius Howe will present at the Gennett the brilliant comedienne, Corinne, in Edgar Smith and Louis DeLange's merry creation, "The Jolly Little Host," with the aid of a supporting company which is in point of artistic merit far superior to any that has appeared with this clever star. The individual fame of R. E. Graham, Louis DeLange, John J. Rafael, Arthur Villars, Ruth White, Genevieve Reynolds and Emily Francis, all of whom are assembled in this remarkable organization, should be sufficient in itself to draw large audiences everywhere. Since Miss Corinne's last tour through the southern states, she has made a departure from the field of extravaganza, successfully entering upon a higher plane as an artist. The instantaneous success which attended her first attempt in the class of work in which she is now engaged, made manifest the fact that her future success lay in the field of modern comedy, and as a result this sumptuous production and excellent supporting company was provided for her.

Prices lower floor 50 75c $1. balcony 50 and 75c, gallery 25c.

Friend to Friend.

It is not so much what the newspapers say, as what neighbor says to neighbor, or friend to friend, that has brought Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy into such general use. It is as natural for people to express their gratitude after using this remedy as it is for water to flow down hill. It is the one remedy that can always be depended upon, whether a baby be sick with cholera infantum or a man with cholera morbus. It is safe and reliable. Have you a bottle of it in your home? Positive Facts For Women.

All the world knows of the wonderful cures which have been made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, yet some women do not realize that all that is claimed for it is absolutely true.

If all suffering women could be made to believe that Mrs. Pinkham can do all she says she can, their suffering would be at an end, for they would at once profit by her advice and be cured.

To all doubters Mrs. Pinkham can furnish the most positive and convincing proof of these facts.

First—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound holds the record for the largest number of absolute cures of any remedy for female ills ever known in this country.

Second—Mrs. Pinkham has on file millions of letters from women who have been restored to health by the use of her Compound, and all that she claims can be verified by an examination of her records.

Third—All letters addressed to her at Lynn, Mass., are received, opened, read, and answered by women only. This is a sacred confidence never violated. No testimonial ever published without the writer's full and free consent in writing.

How Mrs. Bougher's Life Was Saved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved my life and gave back a loving mother to eleven children, which was more than any doctor could have done or any other medicine in the world. My trouble was child-bed fever. The third day after my babe was born I took a chill, which was followed by a high fever. I would perspire until my clothes were as wet as though dipped in a tub of water. The chills and fever kept up for three days. My daughter got me a bottle of your Compound. The fourth dose stopped the chills, and the fever also disappeared. My life was saved. My age at this critical time was forty-nine."—Lydia E. Bougher, Etta, Pa.

No medicine in the world has a greater record of cures for female ills than LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND.

IN PALESTINE.

Jaffa, Ancient Joppa, Where Two Ex-Richmonders Were Found Running a Hotel—Visit to the House of Simon, the Tannar—Letter Number 24.

ON BOARD NEW ENGLAND, March 9, 1900.

At Cairo the paths of the tourists became divergent and the Richmond party was no exception. The Misses Robinson, Mrs. Yeo, Miss Goddard and Miss Stigleman all went on up to Luxor and Thebes, and returned with such glowing accounts of what they saw as to make us wish we had some with them. They reported also some sense of discomfort the first night on the "sleeping cars," but that kind of experience is to a tourist what a breakdown is to a sleighing party.

As for the rest of us, we had thought the allotted time was none too much for us to do Cairo and its surroundings and we were kept busy there. All came out on the 23rd of February 23, and again we diverged, meeting twelve days later at Caifa. Benjamin Johnson, the Misses Robinson and Mrs. Yeo stopped in Jaffa a day and a night at the first, and an equal time at the last of that period of time, the interim being spent at Jerusalem. All the rest went on at once to Jerusalem and stayed later S. C. Cowgill, Miss Stigleman, Miss Goddard and the writer took the horseback tour through Samaria and Galilee, the others spending their time in and around Jerusalem.

At Jaffa, (ancient Joppa) noted for its extremely difficult landing, we had the calmest landing of all thus far experienced, the waters being as quiet as those of a small lake. On landing, we were taken at once to the house of Simon the Tannar by the sea-side, here Peter lodged. This we found to be a stone building containing two rooms, and by a stone stairway on the outside we went to the top, where Peter went to pray. From here we walked through the narrow, crooked streets, and frequently climbing steps, until we came to a place where vehicles were in waiting to carry us to the station. And there we found a neat stone building, with a fenced enclosure, and differing from the usual order, only passengers were admitted through the gate, and visitors and ladies were obliged to remain outside the fence, and we were left to choose the distance between us and them. But the finest oranges are raised at Jaffa, and we were supplied up to the fence and purchased the tempting fruit, at low price, till all were loaded with it.

Here we met two brothers, James and Daniel Hall, who some of the Richmond people will remember, the former having been once an employee of Benjamin Johnson, and the latter a student in Ephraim. Both of them hold naturalization papers, and are proud of their citizenship in the United States. Daniel said, "the most beautiful picture to me is a United States postage stamp on an envelope containing my address." They are proprietors of a hotel in Jaffa, and when the German Emperor visited the Holy Land, they were the only hotel which he stayed at, which he stopped. When he asked them how they learned to manage a hotel so successfully, they replied, "By having been in America." Next year they will start a hotel in Jerusalem and will especially be glad to receive Richmond people.

Speaking of these men, let me say that in Cairo we met another Earlham student, Mr. Narsen Arbeeby, who is a practicing dentist in a popular center of that large city. A visit to his place of business gave proof that he is a most successful practitioner in that art. His father, Joseph Arbeeby, now dead, will also be remembered as an Earlham student, both of them being native Syrians.

Also at Cairo we had the great pleasure of meeting Dr. Besbarra Manasseh, wife and daughter, Maria Feltham and Helen Clayton, all of them having been many years in the Medical Mission at Brumana, near Beyroot, the family of Dr. Manasseh being natives, and the two ladies residents of England. We are to meet all again at London. Later, at Beyroot, we met a brother of Dr. Manasseh, who is also a doctor, and Theophilus Waldmeier and family, whose names are familiar in America, and concerning whose work I shall probably speak in another letter.

Palestine kept us so busy there was no time to write, and now that we have returned to the "New England" it is especially prized as an opportunity for a retrospective view of what we have seen. Already our clocks are being turned backward, and we realize that we have turned homeward. We have reached a point as far east as to have eight hours difference in time. As we went eastward, breakfast came a half hour earlier each morning. Now it comes a half hour later, and those who eat at second table look wishful before their time comes.

What Would You Give

To be cured of catarrh? If you or your friends have this disease you know how disagreeable it is. Its symptoms are inflamed eyes, throbbing temples, ringing noises in the ears, headaches, capricious appetite, and constant discharge of mucus. Fortunately its cure is not a question of what you will give, but what you will take. If you will take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great constitutional remedy, which thoroughly purifies, enriches and vitalizes the blood, you may expect to be completely and permanently cured. The good blood which Hood's Sarsaparilla makes, reaching the delicate passages of the mucous membrane, soothes and rebuilds the tissues and ultimately cures all symptoms of catarrh.

Dr. Wood's Nigra Pin's Sarsaparilla cures coughs and colds, down to the very verge of consumption.
