WEDNESDAY, JUNE 19, 1901.

The death of Hazen S. Pingree removes a unique figure from American politics. His career would make an interesting study.

According to the news from Kansas City a third party, with Mr. Bryan at its head, is about to be organized out of Populistic, Free Silver and Socialistic odds and ends. If this movement materializes it will seriously enmesh the Democratic party.

But one week more remains of the art exhibit at the Garfield school building. Those of our citizens who have not availed themselves of the opportunity to visit it should not miss the chance of doing so during the coming week. Many persons have gone hundreds of miles to see a less interesting and instructive exhibition. What has been said in the local papers about it gives a meagre idea of its merits.

According to a census bulletin just issued there are three cities in the United States with over 1,000,000 population each. There are three with populations between 500,000 and 1,000,000. Ten years ago there was but one of this class. New York, which now includes Brooklyn, has a population of 3,437,002, and is next to London, the largest city in the world. St. Louis, Boston and Baltimore have passed the half million mark in the past ten years. Chicago has a population of 1,698,515, being 394,878 more than that of Philadelphia.

Council did the proper thing in holding the salary ordinance over for further consideration. It is very doubtful whether any increase in salaries is warranted at this time. The correct way to fix official salaries is to gauge them by salaries paid in general business for services of equal value. To put official salaries above this standard is to take from the many and give to the few. The taxpayer who works in a shop, at a desk or behind the counter has a right to complain if a city employee is paid higher wages than he gets for services of equal responsibility and length of time.

Obituary.
Myrtle Estella, daughter of John and Malissa Bond, was born at Lancaster, Pa., November 15, 1880. As a child she was dutiful and obedient, never giving her parents the least trouble. She was affectionate and kind to every one, ever willing and ready to speak a word of cheer or do some deed of kindness.

She was a member of the Friends church at Greensfork and lived a noble and pure life. She believed in a Higher Power and when in trouble was known to go to Him in prayer, fully believing that He would make all things right. She often spoke of the 21st chapter of the Bible, "It gives me so much comfort and happiness to think God has a home where sorrow never comes to all who labor for Him."

READY FOR SIGNAL
Western Homeseekers Await the Word Which Will Open Public Lands.

A NEW PLAN ADOPTED
By a More Practical Method of Filing Claims Annoying Incidents Will Be Prevented.

Description of the Reservation Lands
Which the Government Will Throw Open Soon.

Oklahoma City, June 18.—The Kiowa, Comanche and Apache reservation lands, which the government is about to throw open to settlement, is so well known to explorers, surveyors and cattlemen, and has been so thoroughly advertised that thousands of homeseekers are turned toward it now. Thousands of people line the borders ready to make the run.

The reservation probably will be the best bet for the homeseeker, and the government for public settlement for many years. The remarkable development of Oklahoma since its opening has proved the adaptability of Indian territory land for settlement. Oklahoma is dotted with cities and towns, where a decade ago there was a wilderness, and the rolling prairies are now a vast area of excellent farms, producing everything that the north can produce, in the way of grain products.

Roughly, the new reservation is bounded on the south by Red river, on the east by the Chicago River, on the west by the Red river, and on the north by the Washita river. The reservation comprises 3,000,000 acres. The Kiowa reservation, slightly northwest, is a watered land from whence the numerous creeks and small rivers flow into the Red river and the Washita river. For the most part the land is rolling, well watered and well drained.

The northern half of the country is fairly well wooded, the variety of trees consisting of cottonwood, butternut, hickory, pecan, oak and hackberry. The southern half is a prairie, an extension of the great plains of Texas. Grasses grow in abundance, the winters are mild, and the breezes prevent oppressive heat in summer.

Settlers who go into this territory will probably not be subjected to annoyances such as attended the opening of Oklahoma, for a more practical method of filing claims will be employed. This will prevent the litigation over title which has troubled the courts during the first few years of the opening of Oklahoma.

Alleged Wife Murderer Remanded.
Holton, Kan., June 18.—William H. Kinsinger, the farmer accused of murdering his wife, was remanded to jail today on a recommendation made by a grand jury in a bench trial. Kinsinger was brought here from Topeka yesterday, where he had been held to prevent lynching, and given a preliminary hearing. Kinsinger was immediately returned to Topeka.

Kennedy is Out
After Two Failures to Convict He is Admitted to Bail.
New York, June 18.—Samuel J. Kennedy was released under $10,000 bail yesterday afternoon and was cheered by a crowd of 600 men and boys as he walked to his counsel's office in his home. An hour after he went to Staten Island and took the boat for Staten Island on his way to his home at New Dorp, which he has not seen for 34 months.

Dr. Kennedy was walking through the streets, and when they turned into Broadway about 600 people joined in "Three cheers for Kennedy" and made the response "He's a good fellow." The two men went directly to Mr. Moore's office. Mrs. Kennedy was waiting for her husband in Mr. Moore's office with her and with a sob in her voice, said: "How do you feel, Sam?"

"I have now a supply of anthracite coal coming. Please give me a call and I will give you the prices for June delivery low as the lowest."

DISGUSTED SPORTS
Chicago, June 18.—The flight of the polo team had the effect of closing the betting at Harlem yesterday, and when spectators reached the track they saw the following notices posted everywhere: "No selling of pools, betting or gambling on these premises."

It was meant, and although the track was considerably handicapped, betting about the ring, it was not with the sanction of the management, and track policemen scurried about and stopped this betting if they saw it. The result, naturally, was a tame afternoon's sport and a disgusted crowd. It is not believed the crusade will stop the American derby, but it may interfere with racing at Washington Park after Saturday.

Closed the Track.
Chicago, June 18.—The Harlem track last night decided to close its track for the rest of the week on account of the crusade against betting. There is no racing today.
