The Nation Hears the Glad News That the President Will Live.

NOW OUT OF DANGER

The Physicians Say That Only An Unlooked For Complication Can Give Him a Setback.

Food Was Given the Distinguished Patient Through the Mouth Today For the First.

Buffalo, Sept. 11.—The corps of eminent surgeons and physicians in attendance upon the wounded president have committed themselves without reservation to the opinion that their patient is out of danger and that only the possibility of complications threaten his life. They have not given an assurance of his recovery collectively over their signatures in an official bulletin, but they have gone a long way toward it individually and separately. Each of them has placed himself squarely on record, not privately to the friends of the president, but publicly through the agency of the press, and that the danger point has passed and that the president would survive the attempt upon his life.

"Of course we will all feel easier when a week has passed," said Dr. McBurney, the dean of the corps. who returned today to New York. "We would like to see every door locked and double-locked, but the danger from possible complications is now very remote." The little piece of lead in the muscles of the back is giving the physicians no concern whatever. Unless it should prove troublesome to the president later on, he will probably carry this grim souvenir of the anarchist with him to the end of his days. The doctors say that once encased, it can do no harm. The X-ray machine is ready for instant use, however, and if there is the slightest inflammation or pain in the vicinity of the bullet an operation will be performed.

The vice president, members of the cabinet, Senator Hanna, and the other distinguished friends of the president who have remained here to await the issue, have accepted the verdict of the physicians as practically conclusive, and there was an exodus of those who considered their presence no longer necessary. Vice President Roosevelt left last evening for his home at Oyster Bay; Senator Hanna returned to Cleveland on business, to be gone two days, and Controller Davies went back to Washington last night. Abner McKinley, the president's brother, will remain a few days longer, but his family have returned home and Mrs. Duncan and several other relatives of the president have gone. Judge Day, long and closely associated with the president, returned to Canton yesterday afternoon. The five members of the cabinet still here will remain a few days, rather as friends who have been intimately associated with the president for several years, than as public officials.

The president's physicians have been impressed with his remarkable recuperative powers and the rapidity of his improvement. Ordinarily an incision for such an operation as was performed upon the chief executive should heal within three weeks, but in the president's case he may be strong enough to be moved a little sooner. The president will be taken direct to Washington as soon as it is safe to move him.

Within the sickroom many evidences of the president's improvement were apparent. The president himself began to show confidence in his ability to care for himself, and from time to time he would carefully turn himself to get a more restful position. Yesterday he took the precaution to ask if he might be permitted to move, but today he changed his position on his own volition, without difficulty. The nurses naturally observed with care these evidences of growing strength and courage, and were ready to see that there was no undue tax on the president's strength or straining of the wound. These slight movements from side to side are all that he has attempted thus far, and it is too early yet to think of his sitting up in bed or of any other marked use of his muscles.

Food was administered to the patient today by the mouth. Not since the shooting had a morsel of food been given to the president by natural means, but the drain on his system was met by dissolved foods administered by injection. This gave a period of four days of fasting from ordinary means of nourishment. The importance of this feeding by the mouth is that it will restore the normal action of the stomach for the first time since that organ had both its walls pierced by a bullet. The doctors were satisfied today that the time had come to renew these normal functions, the time which has elapsed since the wounds in the stomach were closed giving every assurance that the sutures are sufficiently healed to allow nature to resume her sway.

The dramatic phase of the situation here is rapidly disappearing. Plans overthrown by the assassin's bullet are being restored, and matters are rapidly assuming normal conditions. Indiana Bay at the exposition, set for Saturday of this week was indefinitely postponed when the president was shot, but the original program was restored yesterday at the suggestion of Senator Fairbanks, who says such a course would not have been thought of were there any doubt of the president's recovery. The exposition has suffered severely in attendance since the tragedy, and the managers are now organizing for a great thanksgiving celebration, which they expect not only to prove a great aid for the fair, but which they hope will be made a day of national rejoicing.

IT RESTS WITH SHAFFER

Amalgamated President Authorizes to Settle Strike.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 11.—President T. J. Shaffer and his advisers in the general office of the Amalgamated association hold the power by authority of the general executive board of the organization to settle the steel strike. Mr. Shaffer and his advisers apparently allowed yesterday to lapse, after this authority was vested in them without closing any settlement. On Monday it is said the executive board directed President Shaffer, together with Secretary-Treasurer John Williams, Assistant Secretary M. F. Tighe, and Ben L. Davis of the advisory board to settle without delay on the best terms obtainable. Since then there has been no action developing anything to further a settlement, but it is said that President Shaffer is seeking to re-open direct negotiations with the United States Steel corporation in hope of getting better terms than those submitted to the Amalgamated executive board, as the result of the endeavor last week in New York of the representatives of the national Civic Federation, headed by President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor. The terms secured by the National Civic Federation were neither accepted nor rejected by the Amalgamated board. Instead a resolution was passed directing President Shaffer, with the aid of his immediate advisers, to secure the best possible settlement in the least possible time. The terms submitted provided simply for a signing of scales for all union plants of the tin plate, sheet, steel and steel hoop companies, except such as had been started since the strike began.

COURTS OF INQUIRY

Not only here, but all over the civilized world, especially in naval circles, there is intense interest in the Schley court of inquiry, which opens in Washington on Sept. 12. Almost every individual in this country at least is familiar with the facts of this great naval controversy, but few civilians have any idea of the power and duties of a court of inquiry or how one is conducted.

Although courts of inquiry were held in this country previous to 1800, the United States did not legally recognize the wisdom of holding them until April of that year, and the laws as to their powers have not undergone the slightest change since then.

To ascertain facts in any case that is complicated and "for the information of superior authority only" is the purpose of a court of inquiry. It may be convened to fix any responsibility, which is merely a preliminary proceeding to a trial by court martial. The main purpose of the Schley inquiry will be to clear up matters of public welfare, and, believing himself aggrieved, the rear admiral stands in the legal sense of demanding exculpation for something he did or did not do. He has the privilege of demanding the presence of any witness he chooses and may be represented by counsel either in the navy or out, but is cut off absolutely from all connection with the court except as chief witness for himself.

The Schley court of inquiry will record, sift and methodize the information gleaned, but will not have the authority to convict. Its report alone will determine if further action is necessary. To summon witnesses, administer oaths and punish contempt are the powers of a court of inquiry. It cannot fix punishment and is unlike a civil court in that respect because its power is only temporary, being dissolved by the authority which ordered it to convene.

In a word, the full scope of a court of inquiry of the Schley order is "well and truly to examine and inquire"—that and nothing more. Its members can only state facts and seldom give an opinion unless commanded to do so by the order convening the body.

A small fortune will be spent by the navy department in this inquiry. Officers have been summoned from all over the world, ten of them coming from the Asiatic station. This will amount to quite a sum, as the naval regulations provide that officers traveling under orders in the United States shall be allowed 8 cents per mile while so engaged in lieu of their actual expenses, and officers traveling to the United States from a foreign station receive subsistence pay at the rate of from 50 cents to $1 per day if traveling on a Stock Market Tips.

Does it ever occur to those who follow journalistic tips on the stock market that they are written by men who find it worth their while to follow an arduous and moderately remunerated profession and that therefore the tipster obviously cannot trust to his tips for a livelihood?

Is it conceivable that any one whose judgment of the movements of securities was sufficiently trustworthy to make even the majority of his shots bullishes would waste his time by composing paragraphs for newspapers? Would he not rather spend half an hour or so in the morning at the end of a telephone instructing his broker to buy and sell and devote the rest of his day to the graceful consumption of the boundless fortune that his knowledge and acumen would, ex hypothesi, inevitably provide?

And tips from stockbrokers come under the same suspicion, for it is not reasonable to suppose that one who really had tips worth following in his possession would utilize them as baits for clients who reward his efforts with a beggarly half crown per cent.—Cornhill.

Deer Live to a Great Age.

Romance has played a prominent part with regard to the longevity of deer. What says the highland adage?

True the age of a dog is that of a horse.

True the age of a horse is that of a man.

True the age of a man is that of a deer.

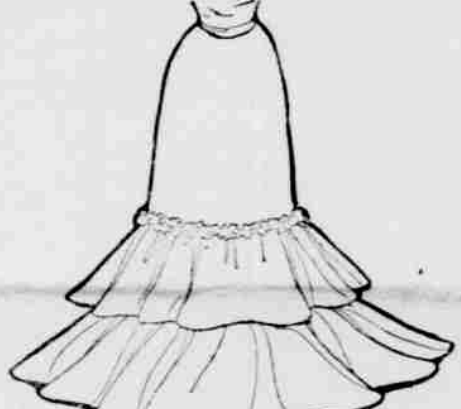

True the age of a deer is that of an eagle.

True the age of an eagle is that of an oak tree.

This is to assign the deer a period of more than 200 years, and the estimate is supported by many highly circumstantial stories. Thus Captain McDonald of Tulloch, who died in 1773, aged 86 years, is said to have known the white hind of Loch Tieg for 50 years, his father for a like period before him. So in 1826 MacDonald of Gengarry is reported to have killed a stag which bore a mark on the left ear identical with that made on all the calves he could catch by Ewen-Maclean-Og, who had been dead 150 years. Analogous stories, it may be noted, are told in countries on the continent of Europe, where deer are to be found in any number.—Chambers' Journal.

round the hips down to the shaped volants, which can be either cut in one with the upper part and left loose or put on separately under the ruching. The under flounce is cut separately and attached to the foundation.

The Bicycle in Paris.

It is said that the pawnshops of Paris are filled with bicycles and that when the wheels are put up at auction it is hard to get a good bid for them. "What a change has come over the scene in a few years," says a Paris paper. "And may not a prophecy regarding automobiles be safely risked? It seems to be only a question of time with most fads and fancies."

Vice President Roosevelt will not leave Buffalo until the physicians of the president issue a bulletin or give an opinion that the president will positively recover.

When the lungs are diseased, physical weakness soon begins to show itself and the active outdoor life is given up. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the lungs and other organs of respiration. It cures obstinate, deep-seated coughs, bleeding lungs, emaciation and other conditions which if neglected or unsatisfactorily treated may find a fatal termination in consumption.

"After using about five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery my boy seems to be all right," writes Mr. J. W. Price, of Oak, Monroe Co., Ohio. "He was very bad when I commenced to give him the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' The doctors claimed he had consumption and we doctored with them until he was past walking. It has been ten months since he stopped taking your medicine and he is in good health. We are very thankful to you for saving our son."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood, and lungs. Substitution means a little more profit for the dealer but a loss for you.
