

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE TONIC AND Stomach and Liver Cure

The Most Astonishing Medical Discovery of the Last One Hundred Years.

It is Pleasant to the Taste as the Sweetest Nectar.
It is Safe and Harmless as the Purest Milk.

This wonderful Nervine Tonic has only recently been introduced into this country by the proprietors and manufacturers of the Great South American Nervine Tonic, and yet its great value as a curative agent has long been known by a few of the most learned physicians, who have not brought its merits and value to the knowledge of the general public.

This medicine has completely solved the problem of the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia, and diseases of the general nervous system. It is also of the greatest value in the cure of all forms of failing health from whatever cause. It performs this by the great curative powers upon the digestive organs, the stomach, the liver and the bowels. No remedy compares with this wonderfully valuable Nervine Tonic as a builder and strengthener of the life forces of the human body, and as a great renewer of a broken-down constitution. It is also of more real permanent value in the treatment and cure of diseases of the lungs than any consumption remedy ever used on this continent. It is a marvelous cure for nervousness of females of all ages. Ladies who are approaching the critical period known as change in life, should not fail to use this great Nervine Tonic, almost constantly, for the space of two or three years. It will carry them safely over the danger. This great strengthener and curative is of inestimable value to the aged and infirm, because its great energizing properties will give them a new hold on life. NERVOUS DISEASES.

As a cure for every class of Nervous Diseases, no remedy has been able to compare with the Nervine Tonic, which is very pleasant and harmless in all its effects upon the youngest child or the oldest and most delicate individual. Nine-tenths of all the ailments to which the human family is heir are dependent on nervous exhaustion and impaired digestion. When there is an insufficient supply of nerve food in the blood, a general state of debility of the brain, spinal marrow, and nerves is the result. Starved nerves, like starved muscles, become strong when the right kind of food is supplied; and a thousand weaknesses and ailments disappear as the nerves recover. As the nervous system must supply all the power by which the vital forces of the body are carried on, it is the first to suffer for want of perfect nutrition. Ordinary food does not contain a sufficient quantity of the kind of nutriment necessary to repair the wear our present mode of living and labor imposes upon the nerves. For this reason it becomes necessary that a nerve food be supplied. This South American Nervine has been found by analysis to contain the essential elements out of which nerve tissue is formed. This accounts for its universal adaptability to the cure of all forms of nervous debilitation.

CRAWFORDSBURG, IND., Aug. 23, '86.
To the Great South American Medicine Co.:
DEAR GENTLEMEN—Please excuse me for troubling you, but I have suffered for many years with a very serious disease of the stomach and nerves. I tried every medicine I could hear of, but nothing done me any appreciable good until I was advised to use the Great South American Nervine and Stomach and Liver Cure, and since using several bottles of it I must say that I am surprised at its wonderful power to cure the stomach and nerves in the system. If everyone could know the value of this remedy as I do you would not be able to supply the demand.

A SWORN CURE FOR ST. VITAS' DANCE OR CHOREA.

CRAWFORDSBURG, IND., June 22, 1887.

My daughter, eleven years old, was severely afflicted with St. Vitus' Dance or Chorea. We gave her three and one-half bottles of South American Nervine and she is completely restored. I believe it will cure every case of St. Vitus' Dance. I have kept it in my family for two years, and am sure it is the greatest remedy in the world for Indigestion and Dyspepsia, and for all forms of Nervous Disorders and Failing Health, from whatever cause.

INDIGESTION AND DYSPEPSIA.

The Great South American Nervine Tonic

Which we now offer you, is the only absolutely unfailing remedy ever discovered for the cure of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and the vast train of symptoms and horrors which are the result of disease and debility of the human stomach. No person can afford to pass by this jewel of incalculable value who is affected by disease of the stomach, because the experience and testimony of many go to prove that this is the ONE and ONLY ONE great cure in the world for this universal destroyer. There is no case of unalloyed disease of the stomach which can resist the wonderful curative powers of the South American Nervine Tonic.

HARRIET E. HALL, of Washington, Ind., says: "I had been in bed for five months from the effects of an exhausted stomach. Indigestion, Nervous Prostration, and a general debility, causing me to give up all hope of getting well. Had tried three doctors with no relief. The first bottle of the Nervine Tonic improved me so much that I was able to get up and about, and I believe I am entirely cured. I believe it is the best medicine in the world. I can not recommend it too highly."

No remedy compares with South American Nervine as a cure for the Nerves. No remedy will at all compare with the Great South American Nervine. My system was completely shattered, appetite gone, was coughing and spitting blood. Am sure I was in the first stages of consumption, an inheritance handed down through several generations. I began taking the Nervine Tonic, and continued its use for about a month, and I am entirely cured. It is the greatest remedy for nerves, stomach and lungs I have ever seen."

It gives me much pleasure to testify to the merits of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a great boon to the aged and infirm. Do not neglect to use this precious boon; it will do you more good than any other medicine.

South American Nervine is perfectly safe, and very pleasant to the taste. Delicate ladies do not fail to use this great cure, because it will put the bloom of freshness and beauty upon your lips and in your cheeks, and quickly drive away your disabilities and weaknesses.

GAVE UP FORTUNE TO REST

John Dupee, Commission Man, Surprises Chicago by Retiring.

The philosophy of John Dupee, head of the firm of Schwartz, Dupee & Co., the heaviest dealers in grain and stocks west of New York, astonished Chicago recently, says the New York World. Mr. Dupee says he abandons a profit of $200,000 a year to get a rest. Chicago cannot understand a vacation on those terms.

"I should have stopped ten years ago," said Mr. Dupee. "I would rather have a year in the woods than $200,000. That is all I have to say. The time to stop is when philosophy tells a man he has enough. It depends upon how a man lives. I had enough years ago, but my friends kept me in. I recognize there is something in life besides money making. I love nature, and to nature I go for stimulation and rest."

John Dupee has been famous in Chicago and in Wall street for years as a commission man, an adept in forming influential connections, in getting at the facts as to great financial deals and in making his people money. His own great wealth and the magnificence of his entertaining have been factors. He is fifty-eight years old.

Mr. Dupee has acquired a fortune of several million dollars and a taste for spending his summers at his beautiful home at Oconomowoc, Wis., rather than in business. His relations with the Moores and with high railroad officials have given his house high prestige.

The postmaster gives to each player the name of a city or a town and then blindfolds the postman and places him in the center of the room. The postmaster himself stands where he can overlook the players.

Everything being ready, the postmaster begins the game by saying, for example, "I have sent a letter from New York to Boston." The moment he has spoken the players representing New York and Boston respectively get up and move quickly to change places. It is the object of the blindfolded postman to catch one of them as they run or to take possession of one of their chairs. If he succeeds in doing either, the player he has caught or whose chair he has taken has to become postman.

The postmaster is not changed unless he becomes tired. If you get a good one, keep him, for much depends on the readiness with which he calls the mails between the cities.

This is the jolliest kind of game, and there is just enough romping in it to do boys and girls a lot of good.

Novel Criticism of a Book.
Here is an amusing bit of criticism which I saw recently in an Italian newspaper, writes William S. Alden in the New York Times book review: The "First Jungle Book" has been translated into Italian under the title of "Il Figlio dell' Uomo" ("The Son of Man"), and the editor in reviewing the book says that "Kipling's art is rough and rude, but that he may in certain respects be compared to Poe." This is delightful, and it shows that translations from English into Italian are sometimes as bad as translations from Italian into English. In what possible way the "Jungle Book" reminds one of Poe is probably known only to the man who finds Kipling's art rough and rude.

Murders in England.
Seven in every 10,000 people who die in England are murdered.

Home of the Cholera.

The marshy ground of the Ganges delta, with its vast masses of vegetation decaying under a tropical sun, is the native home of the cholera. In that pestilential region the cholera and plague are found every year and all the year round.

Perfumes.
The first alcoholic perfume made in Europe was Hungary water, made from rosemary in 1370.

Big Spiders.
In the jungles of Sumatra large spiders are found. Some of the larger specimens measure 8 inches across the back and have 17 inches of leg spread.

Baking Powder.
A good baking powder is made by mixing a quarter of a pound of ground rice, a quarter of a pound of carbonate of soda and three ounces of tartaric acid. Sift through a fine sieve to make sure all lumps are out and keep in a dry place in an airtight tin.

Cuban Railroads.
Cuban railroads are compelled by their charters to carry mails free.

A Ton of Oysters.
There are 14,000 oysters in a ton of the bivalves, but in a good season when banquets are in order it does not take much time to get away with that measure of the prince of marine food, as some are disposed to regard oysters.

Greenland Dogs.
The Greenland dogs are harnessed four to ten to a sledge and laden with four or five heavy seals. They sometimes cover sixty English miles in a day. A courier once performed a journey of 270 miles in four days. When dogs are used, two and two are driven abreast, with the leader in front. They are tractable unless the whip is too freely used, when they will fall to worrying each other. The dogs are trained to hunt seals and the polar bear, and they fight to the death even among themselves. They swim well too. When they sleep, they make a bed for themselves by excavating the snow with their paws and nose, after which they bury themselves in the hole, leaving nothing but the nose exposed.

The Day After Thanksgiving.
Said little Willie to little Millie: "What did you do on Thanksgiving?"

"Oh, I had the loveliest time! I was helped four times to turkey."

"So was I."

"And I had half a mince pie and three dishes of ice cream and a lot of cranberry sauce."

"So did I."

"Then I had nuts and raisins and oranges."

"So did I."

"And a box of candy."

"So did I."

"And the next day I had the doctor!"

"So did I."

Doing Much Good.

The London school board has opened the first of a series of schools for cripples. The children are taken from their homes to school in an ambulance and afterward taken home by ambulance. The school curriculum includes a substantial midday meal. The plan enables poor little lame boys or girls to get a good schooling and is without doubt doing a great deal of good.

Bit of History.

My mamma took a piece of cloth—

A lot of yards, I guess;

She cut it out, and she sewed it;

And she made herself a dress.

She wore that dress a year or two—

Perhaps she wore it three—

Then turned it on the other side;

And made it up for me.

A long, long time it served me for

Till it got old and raggy;

Then mamma washed it clean and made

A coat for Baby Maggie.

And when the baby grew too big

To wear that any more;

We cut out little carpet rags

And wove it for the floor.

So, in our new rag carpet here

That purple stripe you see

Is made out of the Sunday clothes

Of mamma, Max and me.

FOR THE CHILDREN

The Game of Postman.

Boys and girls of every age will find the game of postman immensely entertaining. The only thing to prepare for it is a list of cities and towns equal to the number of players. One of the players is selected as the postman. Having removed as much of the furniture from the room as possible, arrange chairs around the walls and have the players occupy them. There must be no empty chair. This is essential.

The postmaster gives to each player the name of a city or a town and then blindfolds the postman and places him in the center of the room. The postmaster himself stands where he can overlook the players.
