

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE TONIC

AND Stomach and Liver Cure

The Most Astonishing Medical Discovery of the Last One Hundred Years.

It is Pleasant to the Taste as the Sweetest Nectar. It is Safe and Harmless as the Purest Milk.

This wonderful Nervine Tonic has only recently been introduced into this country by the proprietors and manufacturers of the Great South American Nervine Tonic, and yet its great value as a curative agent has long been known by a few of the most learned physicians, who have not brought its merits and value to the knowledge of the general public.

This medicine has completely solved the problem of the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia, and diseases of the general nervous system. It is also of the greatest value in the cure of all forms of failing health from whatever cause. It performs this by the great nerve tonic qualities which it possesses, and by its great curative powers upon the digestive organs, the stomach, the liver and the bowels. No remedy compares with this wonderfully valuable Nervine Tonic as a builder and strengthener of the life forces of the human body, and as a great renewer of a broken-down constitution. It is also of more real permanent value in the treatment and cure of diseases of the lungs than any consumption remedy ever used on this continent. It is a marvelous cure for nervousness of females of all ages. Ladies who are approaching the critical period known as change in life, should not fail to use this great Nervine Tonic, almost constantly, for the space of two or three years. It will carry them safely over the danger. This great strengthener and curative is of inestimable value to the aged and infirm, because its great energizing properties will give them a new hold on life. It will add ten or fifteen years to the lives of many of those who will use a half dozen bottles of the remedy each year.

IT IS A GREAT REMEDY FOR THE CURE OF

- Nervousness, Nervous Prostration, Nervous Headache, Sick Headache, Female Weakness, Nervous Chills, Paralysis, Nervous Paroxysms and Nervous Choking, Hot Flashes, Palpitation of the Heart, Mental Despondency, Sleeplessness, St. Vitus' Dance, Nervousness of Females, Nervousness of Old Age, Neuralgia, Pains in the Heart, Pains in the Back, Failing Health,
- Broken Constitution, Debility of Old Age, Indigestion and Dyspepsia, Heartburn and Sour Stomach, Weight and Tenderness in Stomach, Loss of Appetite, Frightful Dreams, Dizziness and Ringing in the Ears, Weakness of Extremities and Fainting, Impure and Impoverished Blood, Boils and Carbuncles, Scrofula, Scrofulous Swellings and Ulcers, Consumption of the Lungs, Catarrh of the Lungs, Bronchitis and Chronic Cough, Liver Complaint, Chronic Diarrhoea, Delicate and Scrofulous Children, Summer Complaint of Infants.

All these and many other complaints cured by this wonderful Nervine Tonic.

NERVOUS DISEASES.

As a cure for every class of Nervous Diseases, no remedy has been able to compare with the Nervine Tonic, which is very pleasant and harmless in all its effects upon the youngest child or the oldest and most delicate individual. Nine-tenths of all the ailments to which the human family is heir are dependent on nervous exhaustion and impaired digestion. When there is an insufficient supply of nerve food in the blood, a general state of debility of the brain, spinal marrow, and nerves is the result. Starved nerves, like starved muscles, become strong when the right kind of food is supplied; and a thousand weaknesses and ailments disappear as the nerves recover. As the nervous system must supply all the power by which the vital forces of the body are carried on, it is the first to suffer for want of perfect nutrition. Ordinary food does not contain a sufficient quantity of the kind of nutriment necessary to repair the wear our present mode of living and labor imposes upon the nerves. For this reason it becomes necessary that a nerve food be supplied. This South American Nervine has been found by analysis to contain the essential elements out of which nerve tissue is formed. This accounts for its universal adaptability to the cure of all forms of nervous derangement.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, IND., Aug. 20, '96.
To the Great South American Nervine Tonic Co.,
Dear Gentlemen:—I desire to say to you that I have suffered for many years with a very serious disease of the stomach and nerves. I tried every medicine I could hear of, but nothing done me any appreciable good until I was advised to try your Great South American Nervine Tonic and Stomach and Liver Cure, and since using several bottles of it I must say that I am surprised at its wonderful powers to cure the stomach and general nervous system. If everyone knew the value of this remedy as I do you would not be able to supply the demand.

A SWORN CURE FOR ST. VITUS' DANCE OR CHOREA.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, IND., June 22, 1887.
My daughter, eleven years old, was severely afflicted with St. Vitus' Dance or Chorea. We gave her three and one-half bottles of South American Nervine and she is completely restored. I believe it will cure every case of St. Vitus' Dance. I have kept it in my family for two years, and am sure it is the greatest remedy in the world for Indigestion and Dyspepsia, and for all forms of Nervous Disorders and Failing Health, from whatever cause.

INDIGESTION AND DYSPEPSIA.

The Great South American Nervine Tonic

Which we now offer you, is the only absolutely unfailing remedy ever discovered for the cure of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and the vast train of symptoms and horrors which are the result of disease and debility of the human stomach. No person can afford to pass by this jewel of incalculable value who is affected by disease of the stomach, because the experience and testimony of many go to prove that this is the one and only one great cure in the world for this universal destroyer. There is no case of unmalignant disease of the stomach which can resist the wonderful curative powers of the South American Nervine Tonic.

HARRIS E. HALL, of Waukegan, Ind., says:
"I owe my life to the Great South American Nervine. I had been in bed for five months from the effects of an exhausted stomach, indigestion, nervous prostration, and a general shattered condition of my whole system. Had given up all hopes of getting well. Had tried three doctors, with no relief. The first bottle of the Nervine Tonic improved me so much that I was able to walk about, and a few bottles cured me entirely. I believe it is the best medicine in the world. I can not recommend it too highly."

No remedy compares with South American Nervine as a cure for the Nerves. No remedy compares with South American Nervine as a cure for the Stomach. No remedy will at all compare with South American Nervine as a cure for all forms of failing health. It never fails to cure Indigestion and Dyspepsia. It never fails to cure Chorea or St. Vitus' Dance. Its powers to build up the whole system, to restore the young and the aged, is a great friend to the aged and infirm. Do not neglect to use this precious boon; if you do, you may neglect the only remedy which will restore you to health. South American Nervine is perfectly safe, and very pleasant to the taste. Delicate ladies, do not fail to use this great cure, because it will put the bloom of freshness and beauty upon your lips and in your cheeks, and quickly drive away your disabilities and weaknesses.

DECIDED BY HIS WIFE.

Gov. Shaw Accepts Treasury Portfolio on Her Advice.

"I GUESS MAYBE WE CAN STAND IT"

So Says New Cabinet Member's Wife, but She Thinks Mr. Gage Spent Too Much Entirely— "I Don't Want to Make Mr. Shaw Kind Up," She Says.

The appointment of Governor Leslie M. Shaw as secretary of the treasury has occasioned scarcely more interest in Des Moines, Ia., than the attendant elevation of Mrs. Shaw to the social prominence of the wife of a cabinet officer, says the New York World.

Five years ago Governor Shaw was not known outside the little town of Denison, in which he was chiefly noted for activity in the Methodist church. Up to that time Mrs. Shaw's social life was only that of a popular woman of comfortable means in a town of 2,000 population. Prior to her marriage she was Miss Alice Crewshaw. Her stepfather was a farmer near Clinton. At the time of the marriage Mr. Shaw was poor.

Upon her removal to Des Moines as the wife of the governor Mrs. Shaw won popularity because of her guilelessness and affability. She went forward to her prospective social activity at Washington with the utmost pleasure, though she has little conception of just what will be expected of her and is more or less bewildered at the outlook.

"I've always done my best wherever I've been," she said, "and I'm not at all frightened. I now they say Mr. Gage spent $100,000 more than his salary, owing to the demands of society, but that seems to me needless and a trifle foolish. Mr. Shaw told me Senator Allison assured him we would be able to go out in society all that is necessary on $5,000 a year more than his salary, and I guess maybe we can stand that for a few years. I don't want to make Mr. Shaw hard up, and I shall not, but you know I've always borne my share of society work, and I expect I shall in Washington. They say it nearly wrecked Mrs. Gage's health, but I shall not be alarmed on that account, as I'm so well and strong."

"When Mr. Shaw went to Dubuque to see Senator Allison, he didn't make any promises until he could see me. When he got back again, he said to me he didn't want to go anywhere his wife and children could not go with honor and comfort, and he left the decision to me. Yes, I practically had the deciding voice. I didn't much like the idea of changing our plans after having made all arrangements to return to Denison next month and spending $2,500 in making over our house, but I realized it was too great an honor to decline and so I decided he should accept."

"But, really now, is it quite sure he's going to get the place after all? He's never yet received any notice from President Roosevelt direct and was only asked through Senator Allison if he would accept if it was offered. It seems to me it might yet fall through. Don't you think so?"

"Well, well, I suppose it's just a woman's foolish notion. Men, and politicians especially, know much more about such things. Perhaps this is the usual way of going about making an appointment."

Mrs. Shaw declares she will depart as soon as the governor does, taking the family and the household effects. She does not expect this to take place, however, until after the inauguration of Governor Cummins, Jan. 16. She spent the day visiting the best local modistes, but says she will wait until she reaches Washington to have her best gowns made.

Pistol Practise

is becoming more popular among women. The reason given is that a woman should know how to use the pistol for self protection. The theory should be carried farther. Where a woman is in danger from assault once she is in danger from disease every day of her life. Women have not only to live, but to run the risk of diseases which threaten husband, brother, and son, but they have also to guard against diseases which are peculiar to womanhood.

From these diseases Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will effectively defend women. The use of this medicine preserves as well as restores the womanly health. It corrects irregularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

"I cannot say enough for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,'" writes Mrs. Ida M. Tutt, of 60 Franklin Street, Crawfordsville, Ind. "I could hardly walk alone or do my housework when I heard of your wonderful medicine. I used five bottles of each and several vials of 'Pleasant Pellets,' and can say I am a well woman. I thank Dr. Pierce for his advice for he helped me to live. May many thousands of women take my advice and when in poor health or suffering from any female trouble take Dr. Pierce's wonderful medicines."

Sick women, especially those suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

HAIR HEALTH

is a healthful hair food, restoring youthful color to gray and faded hair. Removes dandruff and stops falling and breaking of the hair. Is not a dye and does not discolor the scalp, hands or clothing, and the use cannot be detected.

LARGE 80c. BOTTLES AT DRUG SHOPS. MARFINA SOAP. Best for scalp and hair. Makes hair soft and clear complexion.

UNIQUE IN JOURNALISM.

New York Times' Candid Admission of a Serious Error.

CONCERNING GERMAN WAR SCORE

Unqualified Disclaimer of Views Contained in One of Its Special Dispatches From Washington—No Attempt Made to Extenuate the Seriousness of Its Mistatement.

The New York Times published on Sunday, Dec. 29, a special dispatch from Washington in which was strongly suggested the imminence of war with Germany over the Monroe doctrine in its special applicability to the situation in Venezuela. The correspondent responsible for the dispatch stated with a positiveness calculated to carry conviction that the United States government fully appreciated the situation and was both "alert and prepared."

A day later the New York Journal criticized the Times' dispatch, and the New York Evening Post also took exception to the suggestion contained in the "information" from Washington. Then followed on the part of the Times an example of candor and frank thought dignified self abasement probably unparalleled in American journalism. There was no effort to set itself partially right by demonstrating that some contemporary was even more wrong. The fault or mistake was fully acknowledged, and there was no advancing even of mitigating circumstances.

This is the editorial which the Times published conspicuously in its issue of Tuesday, Dec. 31:

The publication in the Times on Sunday of a foolish and unwarrantable dispatch concerning the possibility of trouble between the United States and Germany over the attempt of the Germans to collect with warships money owing them by Venezuela has called forth the following comment from our neighbor the New York Journal:

On the first page of the New York Times yesterday appeared a Washington dispatch headed, "Possibility of a War With the German Empire." The alleged possibility rested on the disturbances in Venezuela. It was asserted that our government had the chances of a clash with Germany constantly in mind and was preparing for it.

Journalism may be either good or bad. It appears to us that this is distinctly sensational journalism of the bad kind. The statement that we are contemplating the possibility of a war with Germany can be productive of nothing but mischief. Of course it is well to make all European powers understand that none of them can acquire territory in America without fighting the United States. A thorough understanding of this general principle must promote peace, but there is no excuse for singling out Germany, as if the Monroe doctrine were invented expressly for her.

These observations are judicious and sensible. The censure which they convey is fully deserved by the Times. It is not the policy or the practice of the Times to give place to baseless and mischievous reports, to which category the Washington dispatch in question clearly belongs. The conductors of the Times endeavor faithfully to use due diligence to exclude false news and noxious trash from its columns. By one of those accidents or oversights which sometimes baffle the intentions of finite men this Washington dispatch about Germany got into the columns of the Times. For the harm it has done we feel more regret than we can express. As our neighbor The Evening Post justly says: "It is not creditable to a respectable newspaper that it should publish a dispatch from Washington, as the Times did yesterday, representing that there is danger of war between Germany and the United States over the complications in Venezuela. There is an utter lack of evidence to support such a sensation." The Times does not willingly or with intent do things not creditable to it or likely to impair its reputation or diminish the confidence of its readers in the correctness of its news and the conservatism of its principles.

We accordingly declare that it is within the knowledge of this newspaper that the relations between Germany and the United States are wholly amicable and that the belief in their continuance is based upon reasons of unusual validity. The procedures of Germany in her preparations to compel Venezuela to keep faith expose her neither to reproach nor to suspicion on our part. They have not been taken in disregard of precedent or of the accepted principles of international law. Not only has she done nothing in contravention of the Monroe doctrine, but it may be said that her courteous and friendly communications to our government advance that doctrine one step further toward universal acceptance as a part of the unquestioned law of nations. We have no reason to regard Germany save as a good friend, and the Times wishes to make its disclaimer of the unfortunate Washington dispatch to which we have referred as broad and unreserved as language can make it.

Lipton's Heart Set on America's Cup. J. Frederick Tams, a yachtbroker, who has been in Holland, Belgium and England since Oct. 30, arrived at New York on the St. Paul recently. He said he had a half hour's conversation with

Sir Thomas Lipton in London. "Sir Thomas told me," said Mr. Tams, "that he would challenge for the cup until he either won it or was convinced that it could not be won. I certainly think Sir Thomas is sincerely in earnest and that his desire to win the cup comes from sporting motives only. I wanted to get him to talk about something else, but his heart is set on that cup."

NEW JOURNALISM IN JAPAN

Christian Daily at Tokyo Will Reform Oriental Ideas.

U. Kawari, a Japanese newspaper man, is in St. Joseph, Mo., buying part of a newspaper plant, which is to be shipped to Tokyo to form the nucleus of a great property for a Christian daily, the first in that part of the world, says the Philadelphia Press. He has just consulted the Rev. Charles Sheldon of Topeka, receiving that gentleman's ideas on the subject. He will complete his other purchases, including typesetting machines, in Chicago and in eastern cities.

"The journal will bear in mind," said Kawari, "the great interests of humanity and will endeavor to remove the prevailing narrow conceptions of patriotism and nationalism and implant instead a broad, brotherly sympathy for the whole world."

A Poet to His Friends.

Many of the friends of Mr. Arthur Stringer, the Canadian poet, received just before Christmas postal cards on which was written the following clever quatrain:

If thoughts of yez all were cranberry sauce
An' wishes were turkeys this day,
Y'd be 'tatin' a gobbler the lenth av a horse,
With trimmin's the seize av a shay.

It Was a Dream.

When a certain divine was a younger man and chaplain at the University of Pennsylvania, like other ministers who filled that position he was much troubled over the apparent lack of attention from the students during the morning exercises in the chapel.

The exercises hardly ever continued for more than fifteen minutes. Some of the students were in the habit of taking their books into the chapel and studying there during the services to make up for their tardiness of the night before in not preparing their lessons.

The young chaplain was desirous of breaking up the habit, so one morning preceding his customary five minutes' address he spoke as follows:

"Young gentlemen, last night I dreamed I was here in the chapel addressing you. And as I spoke I saw every eye fixed upon me, every man attentive, while in all the chapel there was not a book opened, and then I knew it was a dream."
