

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE TONIC AND Stomach and Liver Cure

The Most Astonishing Medical Discovery of the Last One Hundred Years.

It is Pleasant to the Taste as the Sweetest Nectar.
It is Safe and Harmless as the Purest Milk.

This wonderful Nervine Tonic has only recently been introduced into this country by the proprietors and manufacturers of the Great South American Nervine Tonic, and yet its great value as a curative agent has long been known by a few of the most learned physicians, who have not brought its merits and value to the knowledge of the general public.

This medicine has completely solved the problem of the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia, and diseases of the general nervous system. It is also of the greatest value in the cure of all forms of failing health from whatever cause. It performs this by the great nerve tonic qualities which it possesses, and by its great curative powers upon the digestive organs, the stomach, the liver and the bowels. No remedy compares with this wonderfully valuable Nervine Tonic as builder and strengthener of the life forces of the human body, and as a great renewer of a broken-down constitution. It is also of more real permanent value in the treatment and cure of diseases of the lungs than any consumption remedy ever used on this continent. It is a marvelous cure for nervousness of females of all ages. Ladies who are approaching the critical period known as change in life, should not fail to use this great Nervine Tonic, almost constantly, for the space of two or three years. It will carry them safely over the danger. This great strengthener and curative is of inestimable value to the aged and infirm, because its great energizing properties will give them a new hold on life. It will add ten or fifteen years to the lives of many of those who will use a half dozen bottles of the remedy each year.

NERVOUS DISEASES.

As a cure for every class of Nervous Diseases, no remedy has been able to compare with the Nervine Tonic, which is very pleasant and harmless in all its effects upon the youngest child or the oldest and most delicate individual. Nine-tenths of all the ailments to which the human family is heir are dependent on nervous exhaustion and impaired digestion. When there is an insufficient supply of nerve food in the blood, a general state of debility of the brain, spinal marrow, and nerves is the result. Starved nerves, like starved muscles, become strong when the right kind of food is supplied; and a thousand weaknesses and ailments disappear as the nerves recover. As the nervous system must supply all the power by which the vital forces of the body are carried on, it is the first to suffer for want of perfect nutrition. Ordinary food does not contain a sufficient quantity of the kind of nutriment necessary to repair the wear our present mode of living and labor imposes upon the nerves. For this reason it becomes necessary that a nerve food be supplied. This South American Nervine has been found by analysis to contain the essential elements out of which nerve tissue is formed. This accounts for its universal adaptability to the cure of all forms of nervous debility.

DEAR GENTLEMAN.—I desire to say to you that I have suffered for many years from a very serious disease of the stomach and nerves. I tried every medicine I could bear, but nothing done me any appreciable good until I was advised to take the Great South American Nervine and Stomach and Liver Cure, and since using several bottles of it I must say that I am surprised at its wonderful powers to cure the stomach and general nervousness. If everyone knew the value of this remedy as I do you would not be able to supply the demand.

J. A. HARDEE, Ex-Treas. Montgomery Co.

REBECCA WILKINSON, of Brownsville, Ind., says: "I had been in a distressed condition for three years from Nervousness, Weakness of the Stomach, Dyspepsia, and indigestion, until my health was gone. I had been doctoring constantly, with no relief. I bought one bottle of South American Nervine, which done me more good than any $50 worth of doctoring I ever did in my life. I would advise every weakly person to use this valuable and lovely remedy; a few bottles of it has cured me completely."

I consider it the grandest medicine in the world."

A SWORN CURE FOR ST. VITAS' DANCE OR CHOREA.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, IND., June 22, 1887.
My daughter, eleven years old, was severely afflicted with St. Vitus' Dance or Chorea. We gave her three and one-half bottles of South American Nervine and she is completely restored. I believe it will cure every case of St. Vitus' Dance. I have kept it in my family for two years, and am sure it is the greatest remedy in the world for Indigestion and Dyspepsia, and for all forms of Nervous Disorders and Failing Health, from whatever cause.

INDIGESTION AND DYSPEPSIA.

Purchased Valuable Real Estate For Railway Company.

About thirty years of age, tall and handsome, with a wealth of black hair, large eyes and a mouth that is perpetually smiling; a fine figure, dressed in a stylish tailor made suit of black, with a waist of cream colored silk trimmed with lace—that is a pretty picture of Miss Ella G. Connard, a stenographer employed by the Title Guarantee and Trust company at 140 Broadway.

Acting as the agent for the Pennsylvania Railroad company, she has succeeded in acquiring titles to the land in West Thirty-fourth street to be used as the site for the terminals of the Long Island and Pennsylvania roads and has arranged for the payment of several millions of dollars for the land in a manner that met with the most thorough approval of her employers.

Miss Connard, besides being a stenographer, also acts as a "searcher" for the Title Guarantee and Trust company.

When the Pennsylvania railroad wished to acquire the land on West Thirty-fourth street at as small a cost as possible, it was determined to have the negotiations made by some one whom the property owners would not suspect as being identified with the corporation.

Queen Wilhelmina of Holland is another born actress. A few years ago she had a little theater built for her own use at Het Loo. There plays were performed by herself and her friends in the leading roles.

Queen Amalie of Portugal is the only royal M. D. in the world. She entered a medical college and pursued the entire course most faithfully and passed the required examination to secure her degree. She was actuated by desire to be able to personally treat the king, who is in poor health.

Princess' Care For Wounded.

At one time and another nearly a hundred wounded soldiers from the front have been in residence at Rosemeath inn, the beautiful little hostel owned by the duke on the Gareloch estate of the Argyll family, which was rebuilt after the Elizabethan style from Princess Louise's own designs.

The duchess bears the whole cost of the upkeep of these invalids.

Their food, which is of the best quality, is supplied by the local shopkeepers, and there is a matron in charge, with a female cook and servants of all work, says Home Chat.

It is understood that Princess Louise intends in future to make Rosemeath House her principle country residence, and to that end a number of workmen have lately been employed in altering and renovating the mansion, which is in the Italian style, but has never been completed. The place has been let for many years past, the princess staying from time to time at the picturesque Rosemeath inn.

Pistol Practise

Is becoming more popular among women. The reason given is that a woman should know how to use the pistol for self protection. The theory should be carried farther. Where a woman is in danger from assault once she is in danger from disease every day of her life. Women have not only to run the risk of diseases which threaten husband, brother, and son, but they have also to guard against diseases which are peculiar to womanhood.

From these diseases Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will effectively defend women. The use of this medicine preserves as well as restores the womanly health. It corrects irregularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

"I cannot say enough for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' writes Mrs. Ida M. Tutt, of 401 Franklin Street, Crawfordville, Ind. I can hardly live alone or do my housework when I hear of your wonderful medicine. I used five bottles of each and several vials of 'Pleasant Perfume' and can say I am well recovered. I thank Dr. Pierce for his advice for he helped me to live. May many thousand women take my advice and when in poor health or suffering from any female trouble take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."

Sick women, especially those suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

tion, by eager seeking in books and magazines, begin reading, always getting as near your main object as possible at first. For example, by autobiography you can sooner get in touch with any character than you can by general historical sketches and works even more ambitious. And if you are interested in an author read first what he wrote and know all he wrote well before you begin to read about him. Next to his books read his life and letters, so that you will be well acquainted with him before you meet his friends and contemporaries.—Ada C. Sweet in Woman's Home Companion.

The Story of Jennie Wade.

It may not be amiss to recall the story of Jennie Wade at the battle of Gettysburg, to whom there has recently been erected a monument in the cemetery at that place. The home of Miss Wade was a little farmhouse on the battlefield, and while the conflict raged around her had remained bravely at her accustomed round of household duties, adding thereto, as occasion offered, the care of the sick and wounded. It was while engaged at home in domestic duty that she fell a victim to the stray bullet of a Confederate sharpshooter. The ball passed through two doors and pierced her breast, killing her instantly. The dead girl was laid away in a rudely constructed coffin intended for a Confederate colonel, but which had fallen into the hands of the Union soldiers. Miss Wade had a lover in the Union ranks, Corporal Skeily who was killed at Winchester, Va., a few days before her own death, and the news had not reached her. They were to have been married when the war was over.

Queens Who Are Gifted.

There are a number of women of the royal households in Europe possessed of accomplishments by which they could earn a good living if there were need.

The Grand Duchess Serge of Russia, the czarina's elder sister, is an amateur actress of ability, and good judges who have seen her perform declare that but for her royal birth she might have won fame and fortune on the stage.

Queen Wilhelmina of Holland is another born actress. A few years ago she had a little theater built for her own use at Het Loo. There plays were performed by herself and her friends in the leading roles.

Queen Amalie of Portugal is the only royal M. D. in the world. She entered a medical college and pursued the entire course most faithfully and passed the required examination to secure her degree.

Before the real estate dealers of the city realized what was on foot this modest, unassuming young woman had driven most of her hard fisted bargains and successfully negotiated for the expenditure of millions of dollars in a way to bring the blush to many a man of a score of years of business experience.—New York World.

Winter Reading For Girls.

What is needed first is a settled plan or programme along which mental effort may run. Most persons are more readily interested in people than in events. Girls, especially, like to take some one man or woman and study the life and times of that one individual until they become thoroughly acquainted with everything relating to him.

Carrina Fascinating.

There is a most wonderful fascination about the czarina, and to English people she will always prove an object of interest, for was she not the grand daughter of our late queen? The empress of Russia is an extremely beautiful woman, and we cannot but admire the way in which she, a mere girl took up her position and its responsibilities in a foreign land and at once made her presence felt at the court over which she reigned as empress consort, says Woman's Life.

Foreign Women Getting Ahead.

Women are supposed to have more freedom in America than in any other country, but in some respects that is a mistaken impression. The recent decision in France to admit women lawyers into the courts applies to all France, while in America there are some states where this is the case and others where it is not allowed. I do not know of any American women that have the influence in affairs that some English women have, and the movement in Germany for higher education for women is beginning on a legal basis that will eventually admit them to the position for which their education fits them. Therefore, while progress in this direction has seemed more rapid in America, it may be surer in some other countries.—Mary M. Patrick in Leslie's Weekly.
